

Join Bay Area Coalition for Our Reproductive Rights and New College's Activism and Social Change Program to welcome...

Lakota Elder,

Madonna Thunder Hawk

Tuesday May 30, 2006

6:30 PM

New College of San Francisco
Valencia Street (between 19th and 20th)

Madonna is a veteran of every modern Native American struggle from the occupation of Alcatraz to the 1973 siege of Wounded Knee. She is also a long-time community organizer with a range of experience in American Indian rights protection, cultural preservation, economic development, environmental justice and Lakota social reclamation. Thunder Hawk helped organize the Black Hills Protection Committee (later the HeSapa Institute) whose goal is to protect the many sacred sites within the region's treaty lands.

Madonna will speak to ongoing efforts in South Dakota to secure women's reproductive rights. Her work serves as an inspiring model for committed reproductive rights/justice activists in the aftermath of South Dakota's disastrous decision to ban abortion and in the face of ongoing attacks on ourselves, our rights and our bodies.

For more information, contact BACORR at bacorr@riseup.net.

Co-Sponsored by New College of California's Activism and Social Change BA/MA Program.
For more information, contact activism@newcollege.edu

Join Bay Area Coalition for Our Reproductive Rights and New College's Activism and Social Change Program to welcome...

Lakota Elder,

Madonna Thunder Hawk

Tuesday May 30, 2006

6:30 PM

New College of San Francisco
Valencia Street (between 19th and 20th)

Madonna is a veteran of every modern Native American struggle from the occupation of Alcatraz to the 1973 siege of Wounded Knee.
She is also a long-time community organizer with a range of experience in American Indian rights protection, cultural preservation, economic development, environmental justice and Lakota social reclamation. Thunder Hawk helped organize the Black Hills Protection Committee (later the HeSapa Institute) whose goal is to protect the many sacred sites within the region's treaty lands.

Madonna will speak to ongoing efforts in South Dakota to secure women's reproductive rights. Her work serves as an inspiring model for committed reproductive rights/justice activists in the aftermath of South Dakota's disastrous decision to ban abortion and in the face of ongoing attacks on ourselves, our rights and our bodies.

For more information, contact BACORR at bacorr@riseup.net.

Co-Sponsored by New College of California's Activism and Social Change BA/MA Program.
For more information, contact activism@newcollege.edu