Notes:

1. Categories of reform

- No longer an NDPB (or where appropriate non ministerial department or public corporation) - subject to the spending review and, where appropriate, to impact assessment and consultation these bodies be abolished or change status. Some bodies will be abolished and their functions discontinued. For others, functions may be devolved or transferred, or a new status, such as charity or private firm, will be explored.
- Merge – merge with another public body.
- Retain – retain current status and functions
- Retain and substantially reform – retain current status and substantially reform current functions and/or governance arrangements
- Under consideration – part of an existing wider review, including the spending review, or under specific consideration as part of public bodies reforms. The four categories above represent the range of options considered by each of these reviews

2. Scope of list

- The term “Public body” here refers to executive and advisory Non-Departmental Public Bodies (NDPBs), plus the Non-Ministerial Departments, Public Corporations and bodies with statutory functions that were covered by this review. All bodies covered by the review are listed here.
- This announcement summarises and builds on earlier announcements by this government to reform public bodies, and plans announced but not implemented by the previous government.
