

Email Aliases Guide and Gmail

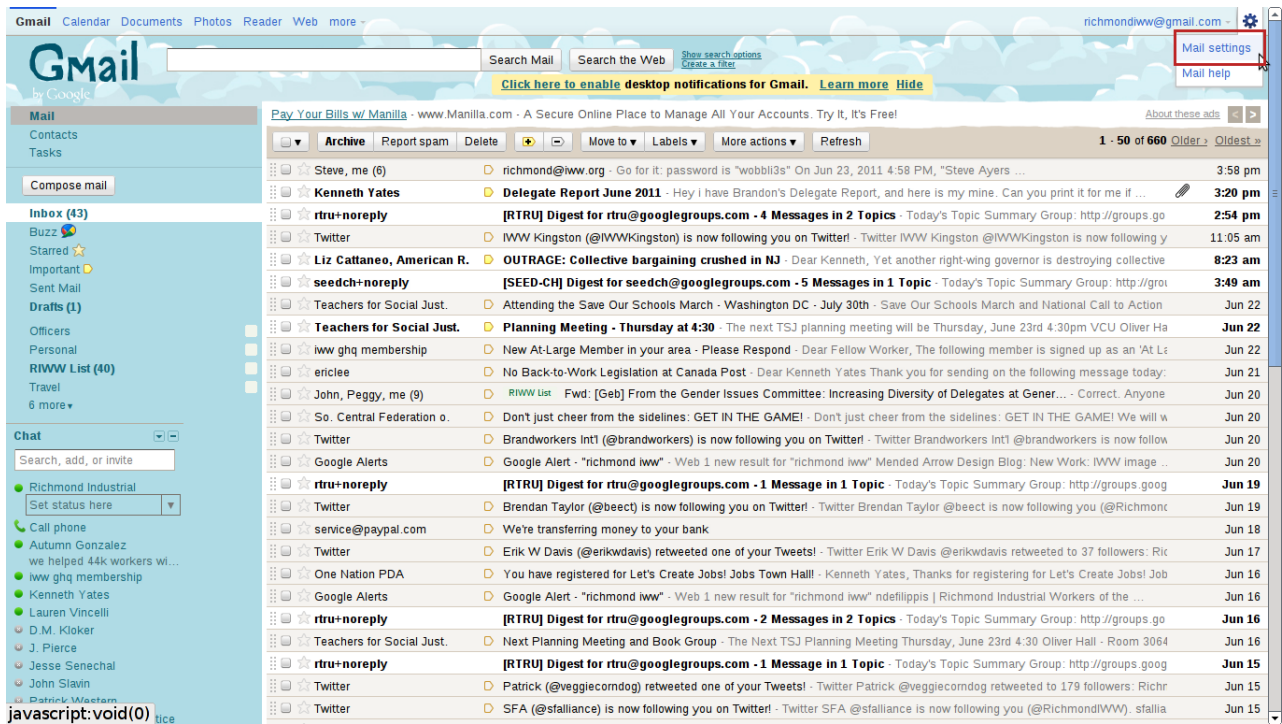

All labor involved in the production of this pamphlet was DONATED by
Red Rose Press IU 450
Joliet, IL

Introduction

The IWW provides email address through email aliases. Email aliases forward email from one account to another. Example: Email sent to `mr.block@iww.org` is forwarded to `mr.block@gmail.com`. Gmail has a feature to send emails as an alias, so Fellow Worker Block may send email from his gmail account, and it appears to have been sent from `mr.block@iww.org`

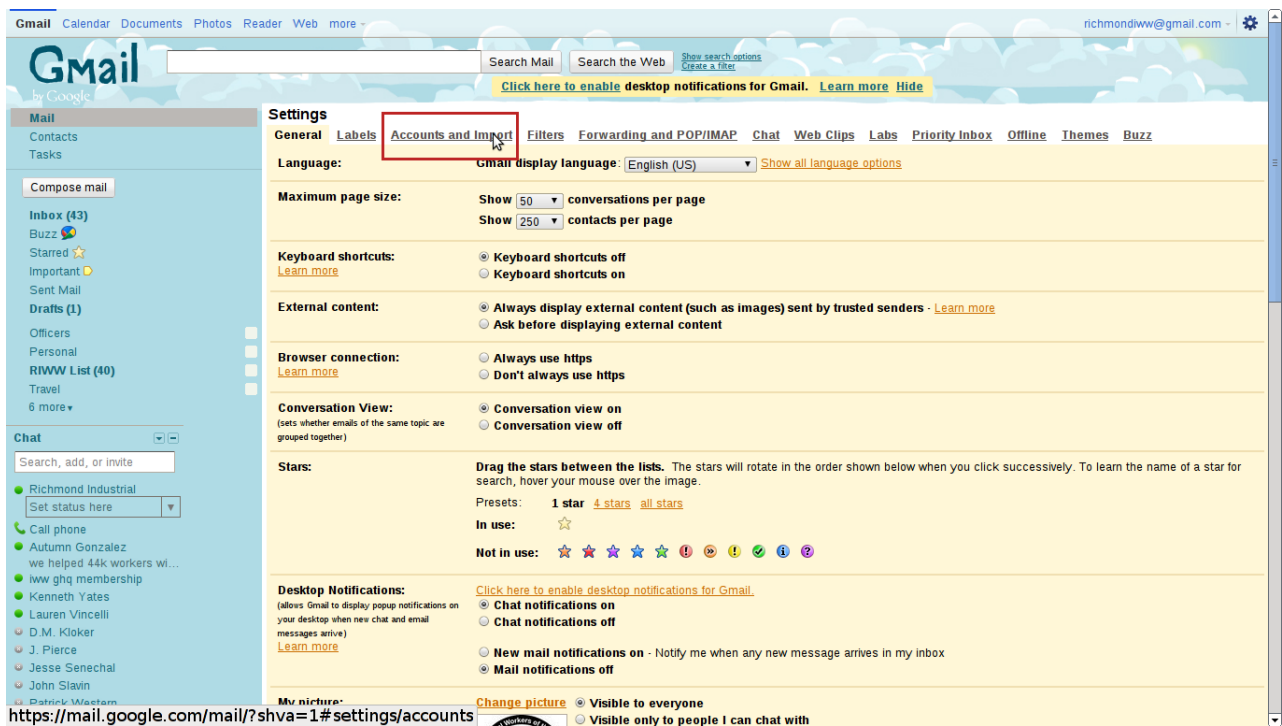

What follows is a brief tutorial on how-to configure Gmail to use email aliases.

1 Settings

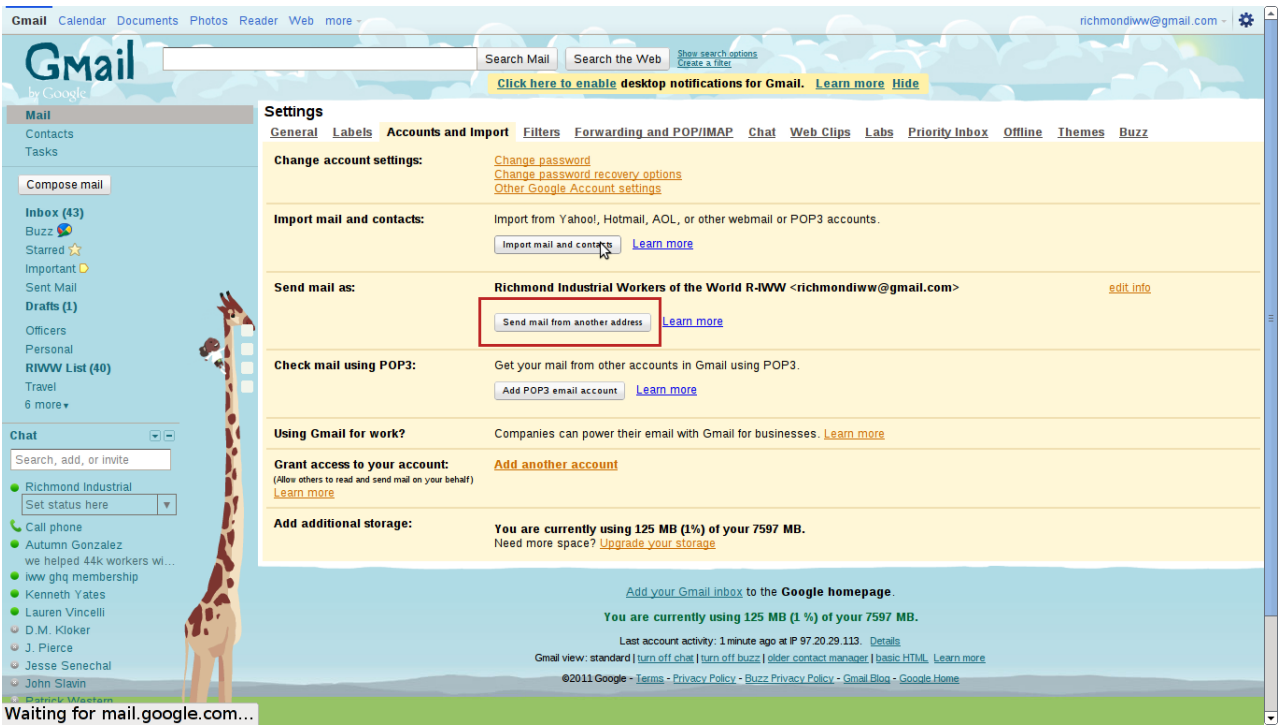

Select "Mail Settings" from the top right corner.

2 Accounts and Import

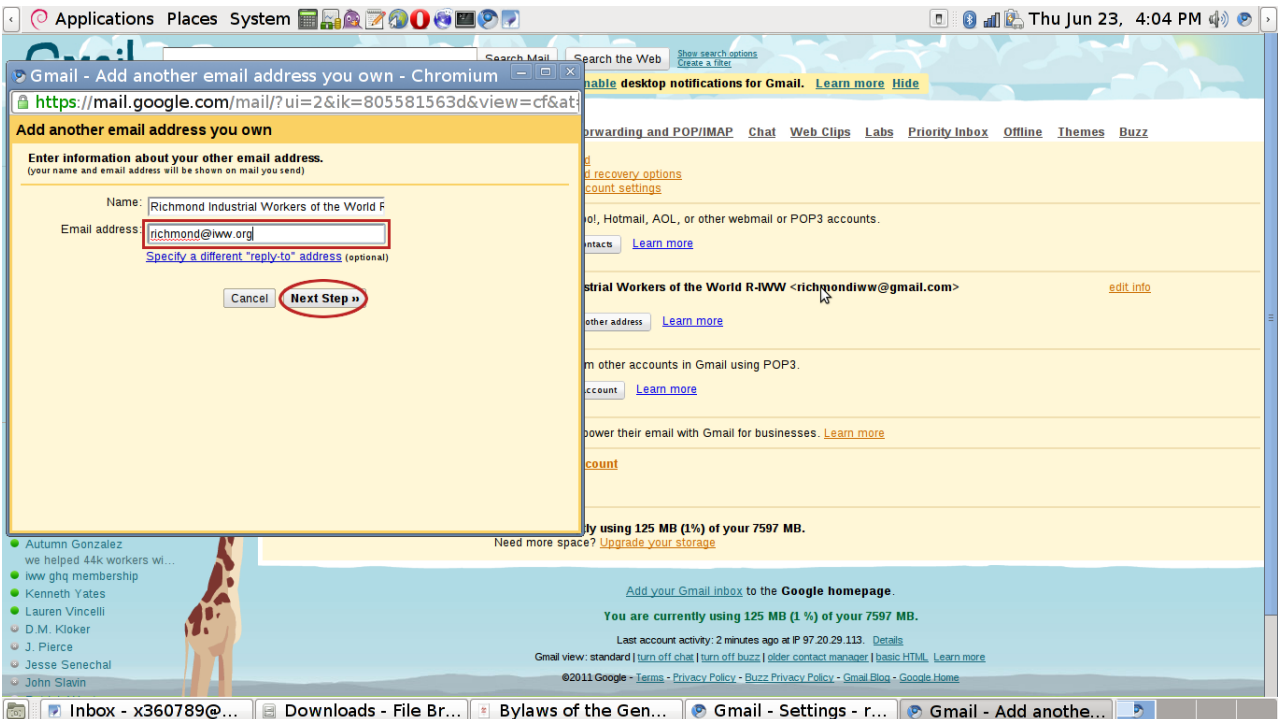

Select "Accounts and Import" from the top menu.

3 Send mail from another address

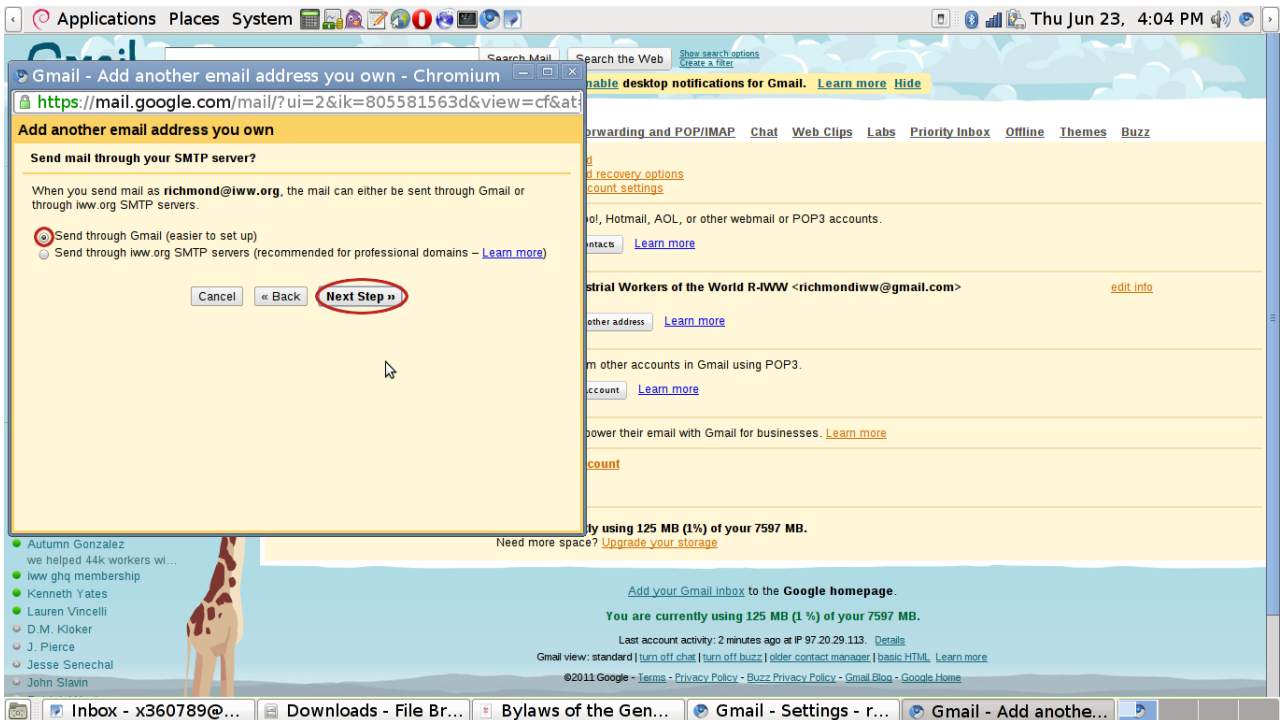

Click "Send mail from another address".

4 Enter Alias

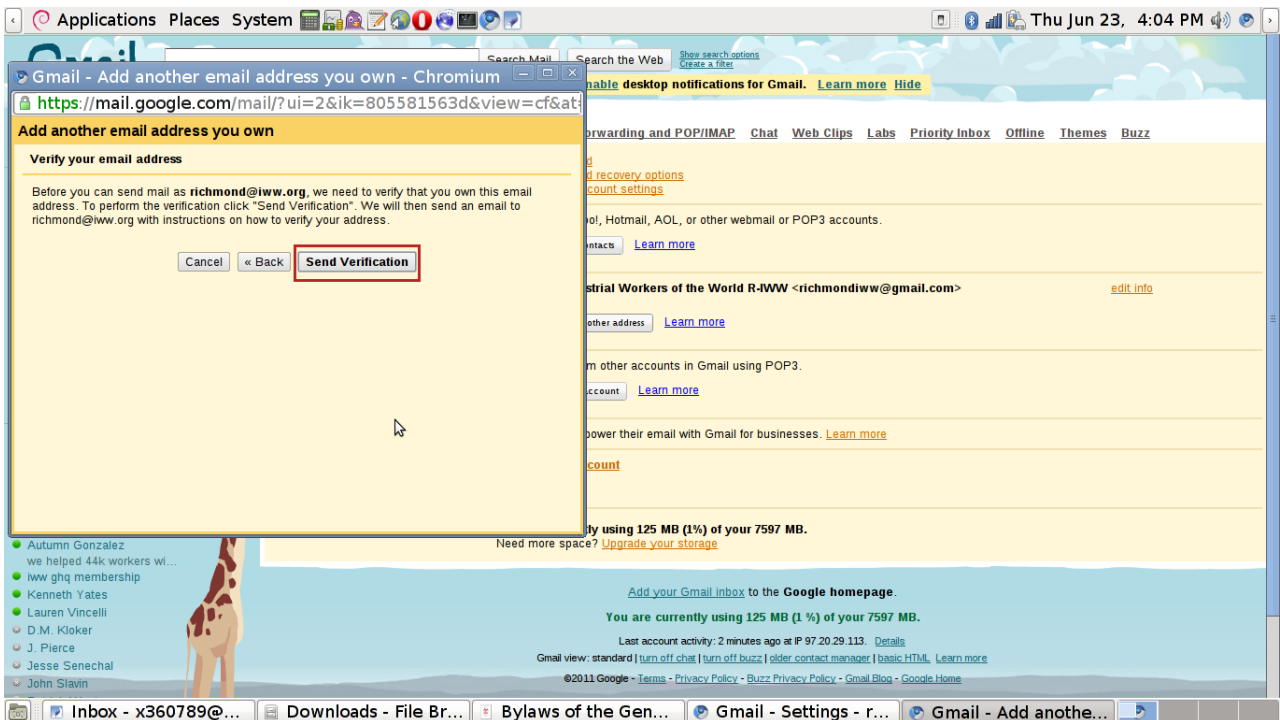

Enter your email alias.

5 Send through Gmail

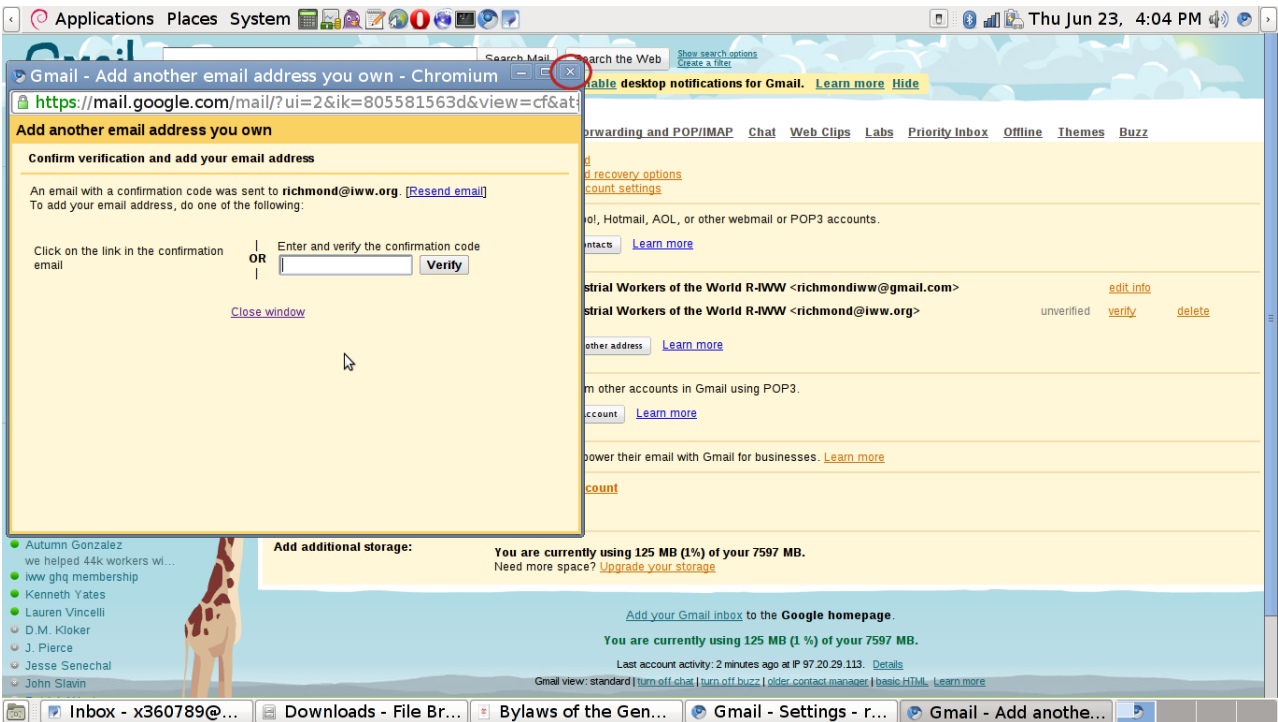

Ensure "Send through Gmail" is select, and click next.

6 Verification

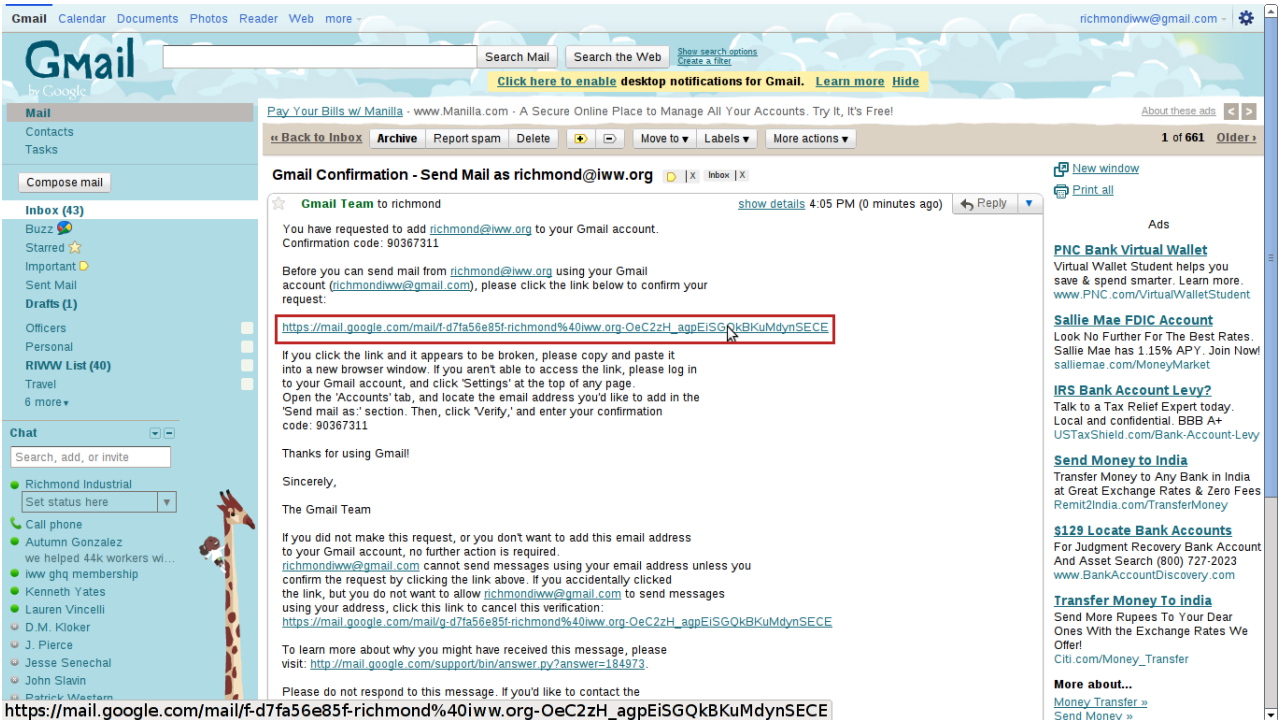

Click "Send Verification".

7 Check Your Inbox

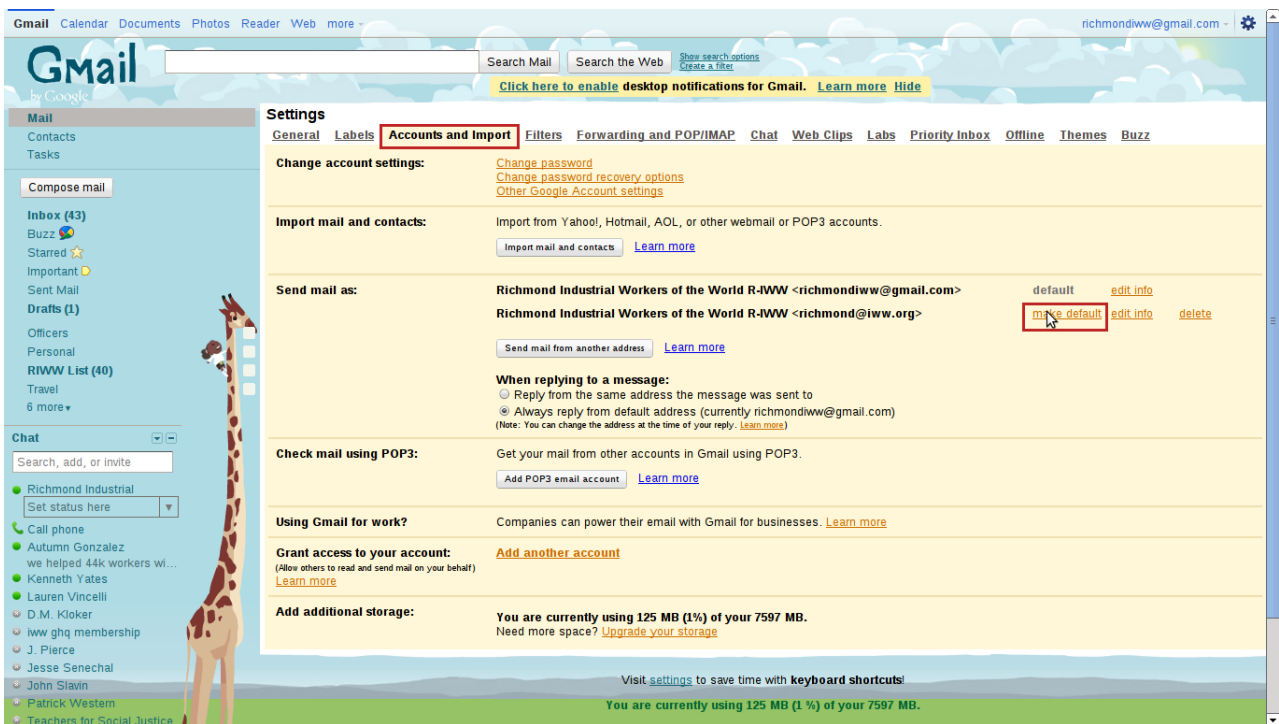

Close the window, and check your inbox.

8 Confirm

Click the link to confirm.

9 Make Default (Optional)

If you would like Gmail to send emails as your alias by default:
Click "Accounts and Import", and click "Make Default" next to your alias.