Understanding Psychological Projection
 Robert A. Johnson

Robert A. Johnson, bestselling author of He, She, We, and other psychology classics, shares a lifetime of insights and experiences in this easy-to-read explanation of psychological projection – seeing traits in others that are, in fact, our own. Drawing on early Christianity, medieval alchemy, depth psychology, and the myths of The Flying Dutchman and The Once and Future King, he also explores the subjects of loneliness, fundamentalist religion, and the spiritual dimensions of psychology.

“The healing power of Robert’s writing is palpable.” — Marion Woodman

DISSENT: Voices of Conscience
Government Insiders Speak Out Against the War in Iraq
 Colonel (Ret.) Ann Wright and Susan Dixon

Foreword by Daniel Ellsberg

On the eve of the Iraq War, Army Colonel (Ret). Ann Wright resigned from her State Department post, telling Secretary of State Powell that without UN authorization the invasion and occupation would be a disaster. In Dissent: Voices of Conscience, Wright and coauthor Susan Dixon of UH-Manoa tell the stories of two dozen government insiders and active-duty military personnel who also spoke out, leaked documents, resigned, or refused to deploy in protest of the Bush administration’s war policies.

Nation Within
The History of the American Occupation of Hawai'i
 Revised Edition

Tom Coffman

America’s long century of imperial adventures began with the occupation of Hawai’i. As the nineteenth century waned, missionary descendants and America’s representatives incessantly pressured the royal government for ever-greater control, eventually overthrowing Hawai’i’s monarch. In Nation Within, journalist/historian Tom Coffman uncovers long-buried evidence of Hawai’i’s five-year resistance to annexation, both in Washington and Honolulu, and the role of Theodore Roosevelt and others fueling America’s drive to become a global power.

The Nation magazine called Coffman’s seminal work “the single best book on annexation.” The revised edition will include textual updates and a new introduction.

Tom Coffman was political bureau chief for the Honolulu Star-Bulletin. He is author of Catch a Wave on Hawaii politics and The Island Edge of America.

“Nation Within is a refreshing new look at a Hawaii known to most Americans for Pearl Harbor and beautiful beaches. This book gives us the untold story, the history we were not given in school, placing Hawaii inside the larger picture of U.S. expansion into the Pacific. What we learn is sobering, and fascinating.” — Howard Zinn, author of A People’s History of the United States

“Tom Coffman reveals for the first time the full array of events and shifting international forces that led to the overthrow and annexation of the Kingdom of Hawai’i.”
 — Herb Kawainui Kane, artist/historian

“Essential reading for anyone who wants to understand how the U.S. became what it is today.” — Stephen Kinzer, Author of Overthrow: America’s Century of Regime Change from Hawaii to Iraq

“By far the best introduction to the long subversion and eventual destruction of the independent kingdom of Hawaii.” — Elinor Langer, author of the Hawai’i special edition of The Nation magazine

The Wisdom of Sustainability Buddhist Economics for the 21st Century Sulak Sivaraksa

The Wisdom of Sustainability takes off from E. F. Schumacher's Small Is Beautiful, and emphasizes small-scale, indigenous, sustainable alternatives to economic globalization, from a Buddhist viewpoint. Sulak Sivaraksa is one of Asia's leading social thinkers and activists. His wide-ranging work includes founding the International Network of Engaged Buddhists and dozens of other grassroots organizations and authoring more than 100 books in Thai and English, including Seeds of Peace: A Buddhist Vision for Renewing Society.

He was nominated twice for the Nobel Peace Prize and in 1995 received the Right Livelihood Award ("the alternative Nobel Peace Prize.")

"Sulak is one of the heroes of our time, offering deep wisdom and refreshingly sane alternatives to the earth-destroying religions of consumerism, greed, and exploitation"
— Joanna Macy, author of World as Lover, World as Self

"Like Gandhi, Sulak offers great inspiration to a civilization that has lost its way."
— Jack Kornfield, author of The Wise Heart

Under Maui Skies, and Other Stories Wayne Moniz

Maui writer and playwright Wayne Moniz has penned seven tales of his island home, each of a different period of history and written in a different genre: a Western set in upcountry Maui, an adventure story of the last eruption of Haleakala, the Lahaina love story of Princess Nahienaena and Prince Kauikeaouli, a detective story in 1930s Wailuku, a war story set near Kihei's Kalama Park, a riveting science fiction tale in east Maui, and a ghost story in 1950s Iao Valley. He received the 2005 Cades Award for Literature, Hawaii's most prestigious writing prize.

"Wayne Moniz gives us a refreshing new twist to Hawaiian history from a local point of view, through hands-on experience, in-depth research, an exceptional sense of humor, solid writing, and keen insight." — George Kahumoku, Jr., Grammy Award-Winning Slack Key Guitar Master and author of A Hawaiian Life
