First of all, if you were one of the 790* Greene County patriots who bothered to turn out to vote for either of our two qualified candidates for President last week, I thank you. And I thank you for several reasons: foremost of which you took your responsibility as a citizen seriously. Thanks too to Gary Lowe and Nancy Rodland for working the polls with me in Stanardsville and Ruckersville including our individual efforts (et al.) to also collect additional signatures for several of our U.S. Senate primary candidates to be on the ballot for June 12th.

But where were the rest of you? I know that there were only two of the four remaining candidates still in the race for the Republican Presidential nomination still on the ballot. I know that in some cases you may have thought neither of those two names were who you may have wanted to chose from to be your next President, but the bottom line always is, when it comes down to a choice of "the lesser of the two evils", you still have to choose "the lesser of two evils" in order that, at least in this year's case, we may yet be able to do change this outcome not only in our upcoming district and state convention, but also in a brokered national convention in August as well.

On the other hand, can you imagine how deludedly thankful President Obama and his campaign team are today to see such a lack of interest in the GOP candidates in the Virginia primary March 6th? Or do you agree with the most recent central Virginia polling that appears to indicate that such a low Republican primary turnout actually reveals that there is now a new majority of Greene County voters who actually love this President's over spending and regulating of our nation's weak economy, and who want to keep him in the White House spending away any hope of a financial future for our children along with the continued complicity of those dim witted Republicans now leading the House of Representatives no less.

No, believe me, I do understand why many of you who have historically identified with the Republican Party and the Republican creed did not bother to vote March 6th. But I also recognize that if you do not even vote, there are fewer ways we can even hold our leaders accountable if we do not even do that. For only as we individually unite behind our creed can we even begin to replace as many of our current Republican Party leaders from the top down who others who will uphold the six core principles we still believe define who we are.

How many times must we watch almost helplessly from our homes and businesses our party representatives vote for innumerable bills in both Congress and the General Assembly that continue to flaunt not favor the "fiscal responsibility" or "budgetary restraint" we hold so dear ever increasing the national or state indebtedness? Only you can determine our future by becoming involved today.

And in addition to attending our next two business meetings, on March 19th and April 16th you can also join me on Saturday March 31st to begin our newest outreach to reclaim Virginia for our Republican values of limited government, free enterprise, faith and family. So please consider committing at least two to three hours of your weekend to make a difference in your neighborhood. Or join us at one or both of our next two informative GCRC Alive events on Monday March 26th and April 23rd as well as at our upcoming Mass Meeting April 26th when we must reconstitute the whole unit for the next two years.

Finally if you are so inclined, I hope you will consider joining hundreds of your fellow central Virginia friends and neighbors traveling by bus to either the Virginia Tea Party Federation rally to overturn Obamacare on Saturday March 24 or American's for Prosperity Tuesday March 27th Hands of My Healthcare Rally outside the U.S. Supreme Court. Also consider celebrating liberty at the Chesterfield Fairgrounds near Richmond on April 14th with members of the Richmond Tea Party. ★

When comparing the leadership and principled courage of our esteemed Attorney General Ken Cuccinelli in contrast to the DO-NOTHINGS who call themselves conservative republicans sitting on their pantaloons in the U S House and Senate, it is enough to consume a true conservative with anger and disgust.

We have a GOP controlled House led by John Boehner and Eric Cantor who profess to be conservatives. I have been monitoring their activities and see nothing resembling my concept of conservatism.

To wit: we are now facing the MOST LAWLESS and UNCONSTITUTIONAL BEHAVIOR of any administration in my lifetime. We see government sanctioned illegal international gun running into Mexico resulting in the murder of a Border Agent; we see thugs wielding clubs outside voting precincts; we see the NDAA (National Defense Authorization Act) bill passed by large votes in both parties to authorize the government to snatch away and hold in secret, any citizen suspected of terrorism to be imprisoned indefinitely and incommunicado, without a judge's order or access to a lawyer; we see executive orders flowing out of the White House like water from a fire hose which bypass congressional authority; we see orders and directions to various Agencies and Departments which authorize amnesty to certain categories of illegal's; and so on and on it goes with no end in sight.

‘In My Humble Opinion’ by Jerry Gore

These terrible actions are occurring under the noses of: Mitch McConnell, the GOP Senate leader, John Boehner the GOP House Speaker and Eric Cantor the GOP House Majority leader.

Yet these inept and maladroit leaders have demonstrated NOTHING, are demonstrating NOTHING, are doing NOTHING, are fighting for NOTHING, they are standing for NOTHING, except to authorize the spending of more money we don't have (42 cents of every dollar they spend is borrowed) and increasing our debt. Every indication is that they will tolerate and accept any assault, any violation, any obscenity, to the enforcement of our laws, our conservative CONSTITUTIONAL principles of limited government and our nation's fiscal health.

In 2010 we sent a new 5th district freshman congressman named Robert Hurt into the HOUSE to stand up for WE THE PEOPLE on these vital issues, for which there is no room what so ever for compromise. How well do you all think he has performed?

In my humble opinion, he has not measured up, nor has the vast majority of the GOP House, especially the freshmen; they do not and are not holding their leadership accountable. It must STOP! If they will not stand and fight they must leave the field of battle. No military general, from Washington, to Lee, to Patton, would ever tolerate such weakness--the futures of our children and their children are at stake!

We must have a wholesale replacement of these useless, business-as-usual party elites—they define precisely what the word “hack” implies. We need new blood with backbone, a fighting spirit with fire in their belly, who are coherent, articulately outspoken and above all intelligent and courageous—we need men and women cut from the same red, white and blue cloth as our own 1st Governor Patrick Henry and our Attorney General, and soon to be Governor, Ken Cuccinelli! ★

Ponch K. McPhee

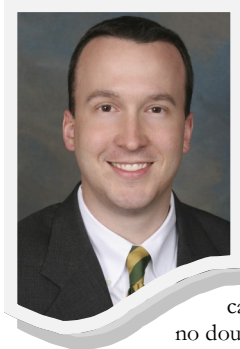

To Further our Conservative cause as an active unit ~ Ponch Keith McPhee will have for his guest on Freedom Watch on March 26th ~ Chairman Buddy Webber of the Charlottesville City Republican Committee. Tune in to Freedom Watch at 91.1 FM WTJU Charlottesville Va. Every Saturday morning 5:30 ~ 6:00 AM for informative substantive views on exploring freedoms that enrich our lives.

Thank You, Greene County Republicans! by Peyton Knight

I want to thank Roger, Jerry, Shelly, Ponch and everyone at the Greene County Republican Committee for such a warm reception last month. I can't tell you how inspiring it was to be surrounded by so many fellow constitutional conservatives! The strong, positive influence you all have in your community, the Fifth District, and our broader Commonwealth cannot be understated.

I want our Virginia Republican Party to be a strong, principled voice for everything that we believe in – limited government, low taxes, low spending, pro-life policies and family values. And I'm convinced that the only way we can achieve this goal is to surround our Party leaders with more constitutional conservatives on the State Central Committee...and that's why I'm running to be one of your Fifth District representatives on the Committee!

We know that our ideas are the best ideas, and that our philosophy is the best philosophy. We should never shy away from that, and always seek to advance the principles of constitutional liberty whenever and wherever we can. If we do this, there is no doubt in my mind that Virginia will be the freest, most prosperous state in the union – and that our success will spread nationally, as other states seek to emulate Virginia's model!

Thank you again for your wonderful hospitality, and please, send me an email at peyton- knight@gmail.com or call me anytime at (703) 786-0943 if you have any questions about my campaign.

This election will take place at a Fifth District Convention at Hampden-Sydney College on May 19. In order to attend the Convention and vote, you must first register to become a delegate from Green County. Your wonderful Greene County GOP Chairman, Roger Schweikert, will have more information on this soon. And if you send me an email, I'll be sure to alert you with any new details as well. ★

God bless you all, and thank you again!

Sincerely,
Peyton Knight

Returning the Republic to the People by Ponch K. McPhee

The challenge before us is very clear. Creating a blueprint for winning back the Senate and retaining the House, along with defeating the President is our party's mission. We must return the Republic back to the people.

Significant inroads are being achieved each day though hard work remains before us every single moment. Our ground game with grassroots support is paramount to total victory in November.

Together we can meet these goals by communicating between our respected committee's statewide as well as nation wide. We must not waver for a single hour of a single day.

This President can be defeated because he has a paper trail that is deafening to the ears.

It speaks loudly in volumes on what his intended plans are should he acquire 4 more years to toil within our midst.

Therefore, We must not fail ~ We the people must prevail ~ For there is a terror upon the land and tyranny is grasped within it's left hand ~ Let us not be forsaken ~ for We shall never relinquish our sword as we defend freedom & liberty.

In the words of Thomas Paine - "I am confident that in the end freedom and democracy will prevail over terror and tyranny" ★

Is Barack Hussein Obama America's Most Biblically-Hostile U. S. President?

Millions believe that he in fact is. You must decide for yourself.

Note: dates and Specificity Below:

April 2008 – Obama speaks disrespectfully of Christians, saying they “cling to guns or religion” and have an “antipathy to people who aren't like them.” ¹

February 2009 – Obama announces plans to revoke conscience protection for health workers who refuse to participate in medical activities that go against their beliefs, and fully implements the plan in February 2011. ²

April 2009 – When speaking at Georgetown University, Obama orders that a monogram symbolizing Jesus' name be covered when he is making his speech. ³

May 2009 – Obama declines to host services for the National Prayer Day (a day established by federal law) at the White House. ⁴

April 2009 – In a deliberate act of disrespect, Obama nominated three pro-abortion ambassadors to the Vatican; of course, the pro-life Vatican rejected all three. ⁵

October 19, 2010 – Obama begins deliberately omitting the phrase about “the Creator” when quoting the Declaration of Independence – an omission he has made on no less than seven occasions. ⁶

November 2010 – Obama misquotes the National Motto, saying it is “E pluribus unum” rather than “In God We Trust” as established by federal law. ⁷

January 2011 – After a federal law was passed to transfer a WWI Memorial in the Mojave Desert to private ownership, the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that the cross in the memorial could continue to stand, but the Obama administration refused to allow the land to be transferred as required by law, and refused to allow the cross to be re-erected as ordered by the Court. ⁸

February 2011 – Although he filled posts in the State Department, for more than two years Obama did not fill the post of religious freedom ambassador, an official that works against religious persecution across the world; he filled it only after heavy pressure from the public and from Congress. ⁹

April 2011 – For the first time in American history, Obama urges passage of a non-discrimination law that does not contain hiring protections for religious groups, forcing religious organizations to hire according to federal mandates without regard to the dictates of their own faith, thus eliminating conscience protection in hiring. ¹⁰

August 2011 – The Obama administration releases its new health care rules that override religious conscience protections for medical workers in the areas of abortion and contraception. ¹¹

November 2011 – Obama opposes inclusion of President Franklin Roosevelt's famous D-Day Prayer in the WWII Memorial. ¹²

November 2011 – Unlike previous presidents, Obama studiously avoids any religious references in his Thanksgiving speech. ¹³

December 2011 – The Obama administration denigrates other countries' religious beliefs as an obstacle to radical homosexual rights. ¹⁴

January 2012 – The Obama administration argues that the First Amendment provides no protection for churches and synagogues in hiring their pastors and rabbis. ¹⁵

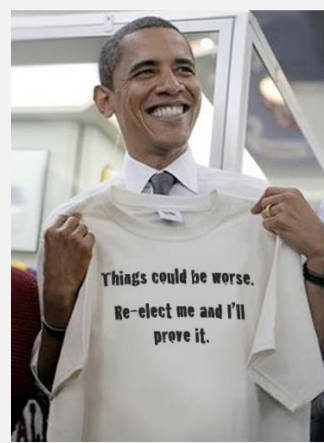

February 2012 – The Obama administration forgives student loans in exchange for public service, but announces it will no longer forgive student loans if the public service is related to religion. ¹⁶

September 2011 – Air Force Chief of Staff prohibits commanders from notifying airmen of programs and services available to them from chaplains. ¹⁹

February 2012 – The U. S. Military Academy at West Point disinvites three star Army general and decorated war hero Lieutenant General William G. (“Jerry”) Boykin (retired) from speaking at an event because he is an outspoken Christian. ²³

February 2012 – The Air Force removes “God” from the patch of Rapid Capabilities Office (the word on the patch was in Latin: Dei). ²⁴

February 2012 – The Army orders Catholic chaplains not to read a letter to parishioners that their archbishop asked them to read. ²⁵

Rallying Against the Living Wage: UVa Conservatives Thwart Leftist Initiative

by Peter A. Finocchio

Last month, Living Wage protestors at the University of Virginia went on a “hunger strike” in an attempt to garner attention and support for their demand of a “living wage” for all University employees. The “Wagers” used a lot of emotional rhetoric, painting University employees as hungry underpaid victims and anyone opposing their demands as immoral and heartless. Relentless ad homonyms were levied not just against conservative critics, but also against our entire student government, University administration, and even our very own University President, Theresa Sullivan, who was accused of being deliberately dishonest about the living wage. In reality, it was the Living Wage Movement that was being dishonest about the living wage, whether or not it was deliberate.

The problem with implementing a “living wage” is twofold. First, despite economically soundless claims to the contrary, forcing salaries up also forces unemployment up. Seventy-nine percent of economists agree on this. Not a single professor in UVa’s Commerce School or Economics Department signed on to the Living Wage’s faculty petition. A “living wage” would result not in the firing of prominent professors, but in the letting go of a significant number of the University’s unskilled workers- the very people Living Wage advocates set out to help. Moreover, greater costs to the University are inevitably transferred to students. Northwestern University testified that “the additional annual cost in room and board rates for those living in residence halls” as a result of a living wage mandate “would be at least $1,000” per student, plus higher tuition. Living Wage protestors at UVa touted our University’s large endowment as proof that UVa could afford to implement the policy without additional costs to anyone, but they failed to understand that most of the University endowment is earmarked for specific long-term purposes and cannot be spent on employee salaries or benefits. Like other liberal idealists, the Living Wage enthusiasts refuse to acknowledge that their policies come at a price.

A few weeks ago the Living Wage Movement attempted to have our Student Council pass a resolution stating that the Council was in full support of the protestors and their goals. They thought the resolution would pass without question, but by combating vitriol with facts, a small handful of conservative students managed to block its passage. The debate lasted two meetings. At the conclusion of the first meeting, the resolution was tabled by the Council, to be picked up again the following week. At the end of the second meeting, when the resolution’s defeat was imminent, its sponsor withdrew it, rather than take the greater defeat of total failure.

Standard procedure for our Student Council’s representative body is to table a resolution the week it is introduced for the first time, so that it is not rushed through and so that student representatives have ample time to do their own research on the issue and gauge the opinion of the student body. However, the Living Wage supporters thought that their special cause deserved exemption from the rules, and were, to use a word one of them was fond of saying at the meeting, “appalled” when they didn’t get their way. During the week between tabling and defeat, Living Wage supporters did their cause no help by lambasting the very body whose support they would need if they hoped for their resolution to pass. A shameful opinion piece by one Living Wage activist in our University’s main student publication, the Cavalier Daily, accused our Student Council of corruption and immorality

(<http://www.cavalierdaily.com/2012/02/22/broken-leadership/>). My rebuttal, warmly received by the Student Council and published conveniently one day before the final vote on the resolution, can be found at this address

(<http://www.cavalierdaily.com/2012/02/27/if-it-ain%E2%80%99t-broke/>). I recently wrote a blog for UVa’s rising new right-leaning student publication, the Virginia Advocate, summarizing and explaining the resolution’s defeat (<http://virginiaadvocate.wordpress.com/2012/03/06/conservative-victory-studco-style/>). There have been several other blogs in the Virginia Advocate addressing the Living Wage from a rightward angle, and first-year student Wendy Morrison wrote an excellent “Smithian Appraisal” of the Living Wage in the March issue of our magazine (<http://virginiaadvocate.files.wordpress.com/2011/09/vaadvocate-issue-two.pdf>). The Virginia Advocate is nonpartisan and does not aim to influence public policy; it exists as a forum for those ideas and issues directly pertaining to the University which are not always addressed in the more dominant student newspaper.

The Living Wage wanted their resolution rushed through at the first meeting so that when the Board of Visitors met the next day, the Living Wage protestors could claim that the voice of the students was on their side. Undoubtedly they were surprised to encounter any opposition at all. A few years earlier, a previous Student Council unanimously passed a resolution in support of the Dream Act. Why didn’t this liberal initiative follow the same trajectory as its predecessors? The reason is quite simple. Conservatives spoke out this time. We may not be the majority at our University, but when we engage in the conversation, when we talk to our fellow students, when we have even just a handful of conservatives on our student government, we are able to win the day. And that is exactly how the Student Council Living Wage Resolution was defeated here at Mr. Jefferson’s University. ★

The political season is hot, no matter where you go, look or see it is all about who will win the White House, the Senate or retain the House in Washington. The left leaning media is loaded with both barrels aimed at the GOP. We have an enormous hurdle to overcome and we shall as long as we remain focused and set aside all distractions intended to mislead us.

Unraveling the left is an easy task as long as you understand the game rules. They have positioned themselves to be touting taking down Osama. They are also proclaiming an improvement with unemployment numbers based on their facts that we are headed in the correct direction. In addition to these points, they are saying they were unable to do more because they were prevented by congress. This is complete nonsense and nothing more than liberal window dressing.

The evidence is as clear as the driven snow, this President has spent more, deprived more, ordered more, mislead more, regulated more than any President in our country's history.

Our game plan should remain specific and untarnished, tell the truth, point out what he has done and is not doing and provide follow through substantive answers for the American people to embrace and stand behind.

Unraveling the left is what we are doing, but we must do more. Winning from the right will take a lot of work and with more voter turn out and with more independents turning our way we will achieve total victory in November. Having a principled game plan based on the very blood that was shed for the United States Constitution will allow us to repeal Obamacare, undo the regulations that he has imposed upon our Republic, stop the corruption and steer this great nation like a reformed sea worthy naval vessel like the world has never witnessed since our Revolution.

Therefore Winning from the right will unravel the left and we shall retain our sovereignty, as it should be, as it will be for We the people.

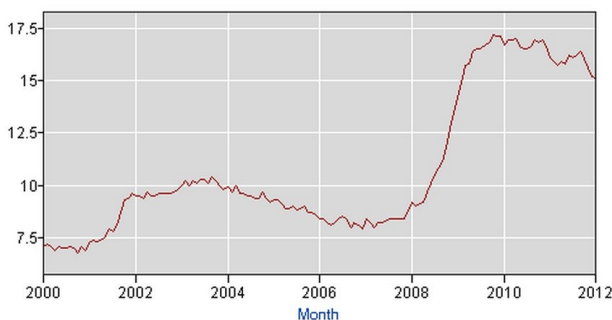

May God bless the United States of America. ★

Political Action Against Islamic Infiltration by Martha Dudley

An Islamic authority will discuss the infiltration of Sharia law and the Muslim Brotherhood in the U.S. into our political and educational institutions at the March 20th meeting of the Madison County Republican Women, 6:30-8:30 PM. The Southside Virginia Act! For America Chapter Leader will give a PowerPoint program on militant Islam in America from the driving ideology to accommodation of the Muslim Brotherhood by the highest levels of government. The speaker has taken intensive classes from the Strategic Engagement Group, attended seminars and presented this program for several years in Virginia and New England.

The program reviews the Qur'anic background, Sharia law and the Muslim Brotherhood in the US and updates its infiltration into our political and educational institutions. This is a legal threat that we need to counter with political action at the local and state levels. It is not a matter of religion.

A case in point is the pro-Islamic discrimination in our K-12 schools, where children are being indoctrinated in the superiority of Islam over all religions and special Sharia dispensations are demanded for Muslims. While most people are generally aware of overt terrorism, they often are not acquainted with the underlying driving ideology. This program fills that void and points to local action in the public schools.

The meeting will be held at the Madison Presbyterian Church, 1236 Fishback Road, Rt. 722 at the north traffic light. Everyone is invited to attend this informative meeting. The club will be serving corned beef and cabbage, boiled potatoes, carrots, Jell-O salads, and other types of salads and dessert. Dinner: $7. For additional information please call 923-4300 or 547-2156. ★

Whitehouse Watchdog by The Editor

On the circumference of the very being of our Republic ~ Within this time now in history that we etch skillfully with our hands, second by second, hour by hour, day by day.

We have before us a challenge to remove an ideologue unlike anything world history has ever witnessed or recognized.

An individual who has come to power within a Nation which yields it's strength over the entire world.

An elected leader who shuns biblical praise, handicaps economic ability, disrespects the honor of earned military might.

In the coming days and weeks ~ we the people must come to grasp as a common force, our very soul's, that our future as a sovereign nation is indeed at risk.

If every single individual that you know, would contact 25 other individuals ~ we can make a difference that will be heard across the Commonwealth and in Washington.

The ultimate task for the people is to remain vigilant and aware ~ that the government, their government is out of control, and this moment, this opportunity, must not be forsaken, must not escape us, for we shall not have any coarse but armed revolution should we fail with the power of the vote in November ~ This Republic cannot survive for 4 more years underneath this political socialist ideologue. ★
