In November of 2012, Niara was sentenced to 25-50 years in prison after she plead guilty to robbing and killing a john of hers and setting his motel room on fire. Niara, who also goes by Peaches, had to defend herself against transphobic violence in the prison system and has only been punished and put in solitary after fighting off men trying to abuse her, like many other gay and gender-variant people trapped men's prisons. Some prisoners, especially those who are not explicitly "political" prisoners, do not receive much in the way of communication. Show Niara that people out here have her back!

To Write:

[address the envelope to Herman Burton, but the letter to Niara or Peaches!]
