

FROM THE FREEDOM SUMMER TO FERGUSON

Reflections on the 50th Anniversary of the Freedom Summer and the Struggle Today

The 50th anniversary of the Freedom Summer is an opportunity for us to reflect on the historic struggle against racism, and learn from the achievements of a previous generation of organizers.

This event aims to bring the lessons and experiences of first hand participants in the Freedom Summer into dialogue with struggles unfolding today. From Ferguson to Oakland, the wisdom generated from past struggles is central to understanding our contemporary struggle for liberation.
