

In solidarity with the Global March to Jerusalem and with Palestine Land Day, Boston says:

Free Palestine!

No war on Iran! | Boycott Israel!

30 March 2012 | Copley Square | 6pm

Speakout and then march to Park St.

Right now, people of conscience from Asia, Africa and Europe are headed to Jerusalem to stand in solidarity with Palestinians suffering under Israeli apartheid and colonialism.

The historic day 30th March marks Palestine Land Day in Palestinian national memory. The march's aim is to mark it as an international event to demonstrate solidarity with Palestinians and to protect Jerusalem.

The march will demand freedom for Jerusalem and its people and to put an end to the Apartheid, ethnic cleansing and policies affecting the people, land and sanctity of Jerusalem.

Since 1948, Israel has steadily eaten away at Palestinian communities and replaced them with Israeli colonial entities.

To this very day, Israel expels Palestinians from their homes, demolishes homes, and colonizes whole neighborhoods. East Jerusalem is under attack from right wing settlers supported and protected by the government. It is slow but steady ethnic cleansing.

Join us in Boston to stand in solidarity with this global effort to bring justice to Palestine and to end US and Israeli aggression against Iran.

Sponsored by Boston Coalition for Palestinian Rights, Boston United National Antirwar Coalition (UNAC), the International Action Center (IAC), the Palestine Task Force of United for Justice with Peace, and Veterans for Peace, Chapter 9, Smedley Butler Brigade | gm2j.com for more info

Labor donated