

Social Science Information

Call for Papers

Editor: Anne Rocha Perazzo, Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales, Paris, France

Collaborating Editor: Nora Scott, France

Social Science Information is a major international forum for the analysis and debate of trends and approaches in social science research and teaching.

Publishing articles in both English and French, the journal offers a unique window on research currently taking place internationally and in collaboration with the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme in Paris.

"What I particularly value in Social Science Information is its sheer range, high-quality eclecticism and unpredictability. You can count on it to take you into new by-ways and across disciplines in a spirit of rigorous intellectual generalism."

Professor Philip Schlesinger, Director, Stirling Media Research Institute, University of Stirling, UK

Call for papers

SSI invites submissions of original research in the following fields:

- Digital Humanities
- Environmental Studies (global climate change)
- Migration studies
- Studies of science.

Special issues related to the above topics are also welcome: please contact the Editor in Chief Anne Rocha Perazzo at <mailto:arocha@msh-paris.fr> prior to submission. Please submit your manuscript at Sage Track at: <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/ssi>.

4 times a year: March, June, September, December
ISSN: 0539-0184

<http://ssi.sagepub.com>

Find out more and order online at www.sagepub.co.uk

