

The Airhead ezine (www.theairhead.co.uk) is created on the concept of goodwill and sharing amongst fellow Airhead owners. There are no hidden agendas; no-one tries to take advantage of others' hard work and we all work towards building a great airhead community. The ezine is just one year old and has gone from strength to strength based on this concept, with subscribers from over twenty countries.

My offer of a free sample was made in the spirit of the ezine. Unfortunately, there are always some idiots who constantly try to abuse the system and others suffer as a result. That is the case now. Due to mis-use of this free sample and an attempt to undermine the ethos on which it is based I have decided to withdraw the R90S sample.

Apologies to those of you who consider yourself the good guys. You're the people we want to encourage and would ask you to consider subscribing to The Airhead. To the rest of you: we don't want you – go crawl back into your holes and let true Airhead enthusiasts pursue their hobby unsullied by you.
