

United Associations

HOME WOMEN'S GROUP,

ROOMS NO. 2 AND 3

SIXTH FLOOR

CHALLIS HOUSE

MARTIN PLACE, SYDNEY

President:
LINDA LITTLEJOHN

Vice-Presidents:
JESSIE STREET, B.A.

E. I. PROUD
L. H. GAPP

Hon. Secretary:
ANN OUTLAW, O.B.E.

Hon. Treasurer:
AUDREY CAMERON

Organising Secretary:
WINSOME JENNINGS, B.A.

For centuries women have used their strength and energies to bring happiness and comfort and well being into the lives of those around them. The influence of women in this direction is, and always has been, acknowledged by all. Until recently the influence of women was limited to their families, they had no direct power as they had no vote. Now they have the vote and it is essential for them to realise that the vote gives them the power to play a direct part in making the laws of the country.

Woman's point of view is not the same as man's. Her sense of values is different, she places a greater value on human life, human welfare, health and morals. The changed attitude of people to these questions which has taken place in countries where women have the vote is attributed to the more direct influence of women. It behoves women to use their power to the fullest extent possible to bring greater security and happiness into the lives of the community. This can best be done by forming themselves into an organization in which they can confer with each other and through which they can bring pressure to bear to give effect to their decisions.

Women working individually are like voices crying in the wilderness. Women united will be able to use their brains, sympathy, intelligence, energy, foresight, economy and all the qualities which they possess for the public good, for the good of their country as well as for the good of their families.

It does not matter to what political party you belong, you can still be a member of a group which exists to organize and make effective the power possessed by women to promote social well-being.

The United Associations is setting out to form such an organization, will you help us organize women's strength by joining the Home Women's Group of the United Associations?

The following facilities are available to the members of the Home Women's Group:--
Use of the rooms of the United Associations, Challis House, Martin Place, consisting of a Club Room, a Board Room and Office (Light Lunches and teas are available by arrangement).
Reading Library where a number of overseas women's papers may be read.
There is a general meeting every Thursday afternoon at which addresses on topics of general interest are given which are followed by discussion.

Members of the Home Women's Group may attend all meetings and functions of the United Associations. Annual subscriptions for Home Women's Group, 5/-.

YOU ARE INVITED TO BECOME A MEMBER.