EQUAL PAY

can be achieved if you —

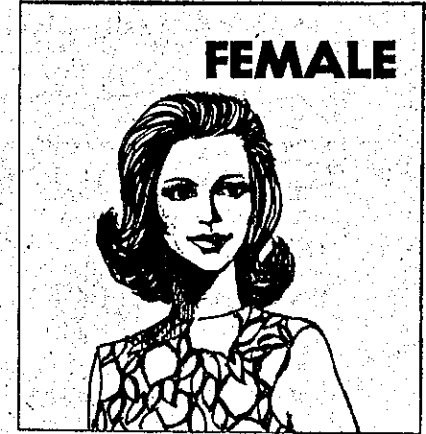

- Support Trade Union applications to eliminate the lower wage differential for women.
- Oppose the inordinate delay in granting this just claim.
- Demand wage justice for women.
- Justice delayed is justice denied.

Actively support continued public enlightenment with pressure on individual employers for equal pay under the auspices of the ACTU and its State Branches.

Authorised by H. J. Souter, Secretary A.C.T.U., Lygon Street, Carlton, 3053.

EQUAL PAY WHICH IS IMPORTANT

To WORKING MEN

- Equal Pay gives job security.
It discourages the employment of cheap labor.

To WORKING WOMEN

- Equal Pay is Social Justice.
It provides Equal Remuneration for work of Equal Value.

To EMPLOYERS

- Equal Pay will lift our living standards and stimulate the economy.

Other Countries have Equal Pay—
Why not Australia?

EQUAL PAY WITHOUT DISCRIMINATION OF SEX

In New South Wales women covered by the Equal Pay Act, 1958, reached Full Equal Pay on January 1, 1963.

EQUAL PAY WAS APPLIED TO:

- Women Teachers.
- Women Hospital Cooks.
- Women Petrol Sellers.
- Municipal and Shire Employees (Cashiers).
- Female Clerks (Public Service).
- Medical Officers and Technologists.
- Draughtswomen and Geologists.
- Female Shop Assistants (15 categories).

There is no logical impediment to the Commonwealth Government and other States to apply Equal Pay now to their own employees.
