Laura Lamb Memorial Scholarship

The Laura Lamb Memorial Scholarship was established in 1992 by Cindi Lamb in memory of her daughter, Laura Lamb. It was first awarded in 1993. The scholarship is a $1000 award open to full or part-time undergraduate or graduate students with a disability. Applicants must submit documentation of their disability. Applicants may be current TU students, transfer students or incoming freshman. The minimum cumulative grade point average must be 2.50. The recipient may reapply for the scholarship the following year(s).

DSS is accepts applications for the Laura Lamb Memorial Scholarship from January 1 - February 1.

Instructions to apply for the scholarship:

1. Complete the Laura Lamb Memorial Scholarship application.

2. Write an essay that is approximately 2 double-spaced pages in length. Please tell us about your background, important influences in your life, and any achievements of which you are particularly proud. You may also address your education and career goals and how your disability has impacted you.

3. Provide documentation of your disability that is complete and up-to-date. The type of documentation needed depends on the nature of your disability. (Specific "Documentation Guidelines" are provided on the DSS web site in the Student Guide.)

4. If you are an incoming freshman or transfer student you must submit a copy of your admission letter from Towson University's Admission Office and a certified transcript from the school you are currently attending.

5. Send the completed Laura Lamb Scholarship application packet to:
