

William Loren Katz

BLACK INDIANS

A HIDDEN HERITAGE

In New Orleans last week Gail and I were able to go to the Backstreet Cultural Museum, while there the director told of events happening the next night with the Black Indian Parade Pre celebration. The next night in the streets of New Orleans we were able to be a part of the Second line and to experience the spirit and connection to the Native Americans who helped to free many slaves. Got to see the Big Chief, Big Love to the Black Indians.

Photos by Billy X

