Jorge Cornell, or King Jay, is a member of the North Carolina Almighty Latin King and Queen Nation, and along with other members is facing federal racketeering (RICO) charges. The NC ALKQN is a street organization dedicated to community empowerment & self-determination and black & brown unity. Members have participated in community organizing efforts across North Carolina related to policing, immigration and prisons. Jorge called for a gang truce in the city of Greensboro, worked with the Guilford County Schools to help resolve gang related conflicts in local schools, ran for City Council, was organizing a non-profit to help people with criminal records obtain employment, and along with others filed a Civil Rights complaint against the Greensboro Police Department for racial discrimination. The RICO prosecution is clearly a retaliation for the ALKQN's community organizing, especially because of their focus on corruption in the Greensboro Police Department. He has been held without bail pending trial since December 2011. Please remember that he is pre-trial, and that references to the ALKQN or Latin Kings should be avoided in mail.

Send a birthday card to these political prisoners. It's an easy way to help remind these freedom fighters that they aren't forgotten. If you make one, remember - don't use anything like white out, stickers, tape or glitter on it. We also recommend that you put your name and address and their name and prisoner number on the card, lest the authorities "lose" the envelope and forget where it is going.

If you would like to add a birthday or sign up for our poster mailing list, email us at ppbirthday@riseup.net.
