The CTC will provide academic courses that prepare students for future analysis and investigations in the field. The CTC's 20 hours of instruction will cover four days and will focus on understanding the origins of Islam, the development of Sunni Islamism and associated extremist groups, the development of Shi'i extremism and associated groups, methods of terrorist radicalization, and understanding Diaspora communities.

Audience: Mandatory part of New Agents Training for all new Special Agents coming through the FBI Academy.

Summary:

Class went well with no significant problems. The students were engaged and asked questions during every presentation. Some instructors commented that this was one of the best classes they have seen. Field Counselor did not spend significant time with the class, and did not assign student escorts to Ops Officer. Part of 08-17 time was spent consolidating all CTC-FBI materials into one storage location and conducting an inventory.

Notes:

Logistics

1. Despite Field Counselor's reassurances, AV only had projector and computer set up once out of four days. Ops Officer needs to personally call AV in advance of the class instead of relying on Field Counselor. [REDACTED]
2. Embedded videos did not work in [REDACTED] lectures. He had to click out of the PowerPoint to play original video files. [REDACTED] used his own flash drive, so his videos worked. Need to fix video embedding and test on Windows PC [REDACTED]
3. 08-16 students did not all receive textbooks until the last day of class because of materials shortage. FBI-CTC Materials were stored in two or more rooms. Neither CTC nor FBI staff had an exact picture of how many of each product was on hand. Ops Officer consolidated materials into one room and conducted inventory. Future shipments of all materials should be entered into an inventory tracker to predict future shortfalls. [REDACTED]
4. Field Counselor should be told exactly what materials should be handed out to class one week before start date. Should not assume there is a protocol in place. [REDACTED]

Course Material

5. Recommend putting the internet lecture closer to the radicalization lecture. There is some repetition between presentations, and the subjects would flow together well. [Bill, [REDACTED]]
6. Recommend that Shia presentation include video of Ashura gathering. Something like: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lks9DDdlluE>
7. CTC website URL should be on every class syllabus. [REDACTED]
8. FBI Class number and dates should be on every syllabus. This helps identify outdated materials in supply area. [REDACTED]
9. Recommend putting the Muslim Brotherhood Slide entitled "The Brotherhood Today" at beginning of lecture. Class seemed confused about relevance of MB until they got to this slide, which was halfway through the lecture. [Bill, [REDACTED]]
10. Recommend numbering slides for easier revision coordination. ("x of x" on bottom right of every slide) [REDACTED]
11. "%20" on the Egyptian Muslim Brotherhood slide should read "20%" [REDACTED]
12. Recommend changing title "AQ Case Study" to "Investigating AQ". Dan Coleman's presentation is not a case study and should not be treated as one. The strength in this block is Coleman's investigative experience, not his historical knowledge of AQ. [Bill, [REDACTED]]

b6
b7c

b6
b7c

13. Strongly recommend softening the language on syllabus description for Muslims in America lecture. Particularly the sentence "...will cover issues concerning the community in North America that has both wittingly and unwittingly provided safe haven for terrorist and criminal networks..."
14. Strongly recommend changing "Muslims in America" title to "Islam in America". We should focus on the religion and groups, but not individuals. [Bill,
15. Titles in syllabus don't all match titles on slides. Ex: AQ Post-9/11 should be changed to AQ 1988-2008 in syllabus.

Summary:

Class counselors were extremely cooperative and sat through all four days of training. Class materials that had been organized in FBI conference room had been moved and hidden underneath student bags. Secured closet in conference room for all CTC materials to be stored and distributed. Most frequent comments on student feedback were about Dan Coleman and [redacted] Coleman only made it to his third slide by the end of two hours, and [redacted] got some criticism for his description of Hezbollah. Vahid Brown and Bob Fromme were the most popular presenters.

Notes:

Logistics

1. Need to print sign and description/distribution list for CTC materials in new storage closet so that future Class Counselors will know exactly what students need. [redacted]

b6
b7C

Course Material

2. Some instructors have asked about feedback from previous classes. Recommend we discuss ways to pass along instructor-specific feedback on a frequent basis to help them improve their blocks. [All]
3. Recommend we include quantitative data on public opinion in the Muslim community. Vahid suggested this in responding to a student who requested "real data" to show Muslim opinion on America and al Qa'ida. [All]
4. Recommend we add a Pakistan map to [redacted] first slides [redacted]
5. Alex Gallo and [redacted] discussed feasibility of presenting one page EXECSUM at the end of every block of instruction in the slidebooks. This would allow students to take away more detail than just the slides and their notes in a precise format. [All]
6. Recommend we discuss including feedback surveys in the back of the slidebooks. This would allow students to keep them throughout training and ensure that they would not have to keep track of a single piece of paper for all four days. [All]

Summary:

Field counselors were involved on all four days of training. Both had previously received regional CTC training and noted that it was well received and helpful to their work. CTD has decided to place an LNO at Quantico on Mondays and Fridays to assist CTC Operations Officer with logistics of NAT. CTC materials will be transferred to CTD offices in Quantico and distributed to each new class ICW CTC Ops Officer. All new materials sent to Quantico will eventually be sent to this new LNO instead of individual class supervisors.

Course Material

- Consider including smart card on keyring profiling major Jihadist thinkers ("Top 10 Jihadist thinkers"). Agents and trainees have noted that something like this would help when they encounter reading material in the field.
- Need to switch last two of Vahid's presentations in the slidebook and syllabus. The order he presents in is Islamism and Militancy, then Varieties of Sunni Activism. He confirmed that this is the most appropriate order and that the syllabus should be updated to reflect this.
- Suggest removing last line of "Objective" section of syllabus that reads: "...understanding Diaspora communities as a safe haven for crime and terrorism." This implies that all Diaspora communities provide sanctuary for terrorism.
- "Federal Bureau of Investigations" in Dan Coleman's bio should read "Federal Bureau of Investigation" without the s.

Summary:

This large class was cooperative and mostly engaged, but seemed to lose attention easily at certain points. Coleman's Q&A session lost track at times because students asked questions about modern developments unrelated to the investigation ("How important is UBL operationally today", etc.). This could indicate that they do not feel there is another time to ask about current events specifically related to AQ. CTD LNC [Redacted] sat in on Day 4 and helped transfer old materials out of supply area to CTD offices.

Comments:

- Excellent training and information sessions
- Day 1 – I appreciated Mr. Brown and [redacted] knowledge and expertise. However, too much information for these blocks. I tell you right now, I don't remember 75% of the instruction. My suggestion – don't try to ram-rod as much information as possible in the allotted time. Tailor the instruction for future special agents, not future PhD candidates. Day 4 – Great guys, great approaches. They used operational experience and tied it to ideology (you need more of this).
- All instructors were very professional and impressive. I truly wanted to learn as much as I could from this rare opportunity of specialized training. I was disappointed that we had to cram all this incredible, relevant information in just 4 days. It would be nice to have more frequent visits from the CTC.
- Vahid Brown – Informative and Interesting. [redacted] – Solid lecture. This lecturer clearly did his homework. [redacted] – Simple lecture, disappointing. Bill Braniff – Don't remember. [redacted] (radicalization) – Common explanation. [redacted] – Good perspective, engaging, kept everyone awake. Dan Coleman – Dry, disappointing. Bob Fromme – Very well done (but we previously studied this case).
- Bob Fromme gave one of the best presentations of the Academy. Very interesting material. It touched on all the applications/techniques taught in ITO. Overall, this training was very useful. All of the presenters were extremely knowledgeable. The background information on different groups will likely serve us well in the field.
- This was fantastic training! I've never understood the history of the schism between Shiites and Sunnis. I feel like I have a much better understanding. All of the classes and instructors were terrific.
- Very well done presentations. Informative and useful.
- Too much information that is so useful and interesting but can't take it all in at once in so short amount of time. I wish it could be spread out a little and give us more time to absorb the info.
- Good information but if there was a way to be more interactive (instead of straight lecture), I think the class would gain more from the information. I greatly appreciated the level of knowledge each instructor had.
- [redacted] over-talked information.
- An understanding of where Islamic fundamentalists find in their readings or studies information about the virgins given to martyrs. What about female suicide bombers? [How do motivations differ?] More information on how to flip a radical.
- Excellent training. A ton of information in a short period of time, but very, very useful. The history portion is critical for a basic understanding – not my favorite section but it gave me a basis to work from. [redacted] was very informative – I found his talk very interesting. Operation smokescreen – excellent war story. Most useful to me: how to talk with those in Muslim community [redacted] Talking with Muslim females, etc.

- Overall training was excellent. The instructors were clearly experts in their subject matter conveyed information extremely well. Breaks were timely and time was carefully monitored. This block of instruction was one of the best at the Academy. Dan Coleman – Extremely interesting subject, but would also like to see a brief powerpoint presentation covering an overview.
- These blocks were very informative. I am very pleased that this is included in the curriculum seeing as many, including myself, had little knowledge of the topics.
- Great familiarization course. The application of the information on how you can use it in CT and criminal investigations is extremely helpful. All of the instructors were very knowledgeable. Start every block with "Dirty Kuffar".
- This is a lot of info to absorb in a short period of time. It seems as if things are rushed in order to fit so much in during the allotted time.
 - I would have liked to hear more about the groups, like was done during the Operation Smokescreen presentation. I feel that will assist me more on the job. Knowing their MO rather than focusing on history is more effective.
 - While the history was important to learn to understand the culture, it seemed like a lot was redundant. Day 3 especially. I would have rather heard about the groups because we already learned about culture on Day 1.
 - I gave Dan Coleman a "3" because I felt more of his knowledge could have been worked into this week. I do not feel as if I learned anything during his 2 hours that could have been done better. The question/answer time for that class was not helpful because a lot of the questions that were asked were about what is going on currently which he could not answer. Investigative techniques would have been more useful.
- Great information, presented well. Thank you.
- This is a lot of material to cover in 4 days. If possible, and since terrorism is the top FBI priority, the CTC should have a much more pronounced presence in the Academy syllabus. It should be spread over a greater period of time with more instruction on specifics of each key player, their motives, and current events.
- The history lessons of both Islam and geographic region were extremely helpful.
- The two real case studies on Day 4 were extremely useful in truly understanding the roles. Amazing levels of knowledge from all instructors made it easy to ask questions knowing that you were going to get a well articulated, knowledgeable answer. Very well done!
- Instructors need to be more interactive with the class. 8 hours of straight lecture is not a good approach. Incorporate practical exercises of break groups. Use more videos and make it a little more fun. The students are not going to remember the information from just a powerpoint lecture. Also lecturing right until noon or after is not the way to inspire the mind of the students. The information put out during that time is not getting absorbed. Day 4 case studies were excellent -- great instructors.
- Overall, great week of instruction.

Summary:

Some instructors noted that this class was "difficult". During certain blocks, the class was willing to engage in lively discussion. On others, the class lost attention easily. They usually took over the allotted 10 minutes for breaks, and took longer than usual to quiet down for instructors. Field counselors, while friendly, did little to organize class while under CTC instruction. Only one stayed relatively consistently through all four days.

Class Survey Comments:

- Found it all extremely interesting and a useful backdrop to working CT cases in the future
- Islam was a religion I knew little to nothing about and these past four days have been extremely helpful and informative. The only reason some of the above are not given a "1" is because the speaker – not necessarily the content – was not always as engaging as the other speakers were. The information in the lectures can become kind of dry so it is important to not get too monotone and to be aware of when the speaker is losing the audience.
- There seemed to be a lot of repetition on early Islam history. If there was less repetitive history and more on more modern issues, it would be more helpful. I just feel I'd be better equipped with knowledge if more modern issues/concerns were included. Now, though, I understand more of what I see and hear in everyday life.
- Excellent training, (if possible) it would be good to spread the training out because it is hard to absorb all the information in four straight days. i.e. Day 1 one week, Day 2 another week.
- I think the Arabic name portion of this training should be taught and would be one of the most practical parts of the course. Much can be told about the make-up of Arabic names. Excellent course.
- Excellent program.
- [redacted] Terrorist groups and the Internet – Need more discussion/research here.
- [redacted] Islam in America – More please.
- [redacted] – Disjointed; not as good flow as the other presentations. Delivery was very soft and monotone.
- The Shiite block was repetitive of the lectures before in terms of history. The Lebanese block was skewed and really didn't emphasize the dangers of the group.
- All presenters very knowledgeable.
- Decent basic overview of Islamic Terrorism.
 - Do not call this course International Terrorism, because it isn't. This course should be called International Islamic Terrorism.
 - You would be better served if you discussed Islamic terrorism as a piece of the international puzzle. What about narco-terrorism? FARC? IRA?
 - [redacted] Hizbollah and Islam in America – Do not give me your opinion. Give me the facts. I will draw my own conclusions.
- The information you provide is great. The problem is it's very difficult to sit through hours of presentations without mentally drifting away. I don't know what the fix is, but breaking this block up might help.

b6
b7c

b6
b7c

- There is too much information presented to digest all at one time. With most of the presentations it would have been helpful to have some prior recommended reading including the Looming Tower.
- Hour after hour after house loses the attention of your audience when those hours are filled with powerpoint slides.
 - The information is important and relevant, but why 1400 years worth of history? Hit the high points and let us know why it is important.
 - More case studies. I learn more by seeing how connections are made (within a case) than by watching 300 powerpoint slides go on and on and on.
- Overall excellent, but may want to include a few more videos to break things up.

Class Survey Comments:

- Impressive instructors with amazing experiences and knowledge. Those with first hand experience on the topic/group were most helpful. Best instruction was from [redacted] [redacted] Vahid Brown, Dan Coleman [redacted] and Bob Fromme because most were confident, engaged the students, spoke of personal experiences, and projected their voices at the students.
 - Multimedia was helpful for various types of learners. Introductions from instructors are extra-interesting – although we can read it in the book – it is engaging and drives home credibility.
 - It was difficult to read the text on the slide thumbnails – i.e. newspaper articles. Larger print please for future review.
 - Excellent ending!
- Great block of instructions. The Academy would benefit by breaking course content into certain blocks and include or make this class material part of the student schedule on a bi-weekly basis.
 - The instructors provided by the CTC are absolutely fantastic and display an amazing command for the material in which they are responsible for teaching.
- Excellent historical background. It would be useful to include a block or two on true ground tactics, i.e., what do we as agents look for and how to handle what we do see.
 - Day 4 – Operation Smokescreen best presentation at the Academy.
- It was a very helpful overview. Thanks. Dan Coleman – Great!
- Awesome training – best blocks we've had. Vahid Brown and Dan Coleman were particularly excellent. Would like more time with Coleman too, as well as Mr. Fromme. Case studies were very useful. Thanks!
- Origins of Islam – Awesome. Terrorist Groups on the Internet – a little light on detail. Investigating AQ – a little light on detail.
- Operation Smokescreen – great case study, information, presentation.
 - All instructors were extremely knowledgeable, lots of information.
 - Books are a great tool to look back on after sorting through the information.
- See some terrorist internet sites. More on Hezbollah and how it relates to our terror threats.
- Adding a history on the creation of the state of Israel would be useful.
 - As part of our ITU class we actually read the Hammoud indictment [Operation Smokescreen], which provided great context for Fromme's talk.
- Day 3 Hezbollah presentation lacked depth, pertinence to FBI investigations, Hezbollah MOs.
 - Overall outstanding CT base training for new agents.
- All instruction is excellent – would like more hours, or at least additional training for those of us going CT. Instructors could talk about their background a little more.
- It would be helpful to get the review sheet on the first day of class.
- This should be a longer class. 4 days is not enough time for such an important subject.

- Vahid Brown – Very interesting. [redacted] – Difficult to understand. Speaker mumbled a lot. [redacted] – Could be better if Q&A, not powerpoint. Dan Coleman – Unfocused. Bob Fromme – Awesome.
 - Great content, good quality speakers. However, it was very difficult to sit and listen to a powerpoint presentation for a solid 8 hour day. It would be beneficial to incorporate alternate educational techniques to lecture. Speakers need to be aware of the other speakers' presentations. There were some gaps of information and there was some redundancy as well.
- I don't think the presentations had "too much" information. The instructors were definitely subject matter experts. The handouts and the booklet will be a good reference in the future. We should have Mr. Fromme speak during our Investigative Techniques Unit block.
- Excellent set of classes/information.
- [redacted] – hard to understand but great material.
- This was sincerely the best block of instruction I have received of the Academy. Very well done and informative.
- My only suggestion is to make the presentations more lively – eg: add video clips, jokes, etc. The material in the powerpoint slides can be dry after a while, and it was hard for me to stay focused.
- Very well done. Great info. Some of the instructors need to "liven up" their presentations.
- I thought the material was excellent. However, I do wish we had more than 4 days to cover it. The information was amazing! I feel like I have a much better background on Islam, Middle East history, Jihadis and the main players in terrorism. Thank you so much!! Very well organized, well done!
- [redacted] – [Rated "Average"] only because I had difficulty hearing the content and thus did not learn as much.
- To the extent there was some repetitive info in the presentations, I found it very helpful because the material is new to me and the repetition will help me remember.
 - Some presenters didn't write out names of some of the key people or terms about who/which they were talking and this made the presentation more difficult to follow.
 - This was a great unit. I would also love to get a list of recommended reading materials for further background and education.
- [redacted] – Great presentation, but somewhat difficult to understand with accent.
 - Great academic presentations. Possibly add more videos and/or subject matter expertise-type audio, such as from the media, NPR, and the academic world. Also, maybe a lecture about recruiting sources in the Islamic world should be added. Overall, I think new agents should get more of this type of training.
- Great training! I learned a lot and enjoyed the broad topic range.
- [redacted] – Didn't come across confident based on delivery and content. Appeared he read the info a week before teaching. Dan Coleman – Didn't answer questions. Had good info if you stuck to past job experience. [redacted] - Knowledgeable, candid. Didn't answer complete questions. Don't know if this was due to language barriers.

- o Most info taught could be found in a book. Would like to see more relevancy to our jobs as agents.

Notes:

Course Material

- Put a "Contents" page at the beginning of slidebook [redacted]
- Put dates on Sunni/Shia history slide [redacted]
- Anyone teaching the Shia block should be required to sit through the first four hours of Islam to they do not overlap too much. [Bill]
- Suggest placing roster and contact info of all SME instructors in back of book, not just the ones teaching each class. [redacted]
- Need to fix typos and raise resolution on color cover of slidebook [redacted] - need POC from [redacted] or [redacted]
- From now on, we should place the survey in the back of the slidebook so students have them throughout all four days of training. [redacted]
- Should mention learning point during Operation Smokescreen that even though we have taught that Hezbollah is not a direct threat to the US, you still may encounter them and they still may be breaking the law. [redacted]

Class Survey Comments:

1. Best block of instruction at the Academy.
2. Great block of instruction.
3. Very insightful. I am designated CT career path and all the blocks of instruction were very educational. Fromme was entertaining.
4. Instruction was overall very good. Instructors are very knowledgeable. A lot of historical instruction was interesting, but with the limited time allotted for this course we may be better served with more focus on practical, investigative-based instruction.
5. Great knowledge and very useful.
6. [More on] how law enforcement is affected or interacts with cell structure of terrorist organization.
7. Thank you. The CTC block of instruction was the most organized presentation here at the Academy. It was excellent. I think it would have been more beneficial for NATs to have more time with [redacted]. His lecture was a little disjointed due to time and various questions asked. His story is imperative for us to understand and we could really benefit from more time.
8. [redacted]. Need to allow for more time.
9. [redacted] – Give him more time to talk about it.
10. Somehow figure out how to get [redacted] in for 2 hours. Would like to hear more of his perspective.
11. Excellent training! We should have gotten more practical “how to interact with Muslims” from [redacted].
12. [redacted] block was educational, but I think it could be much better if he spoke more about his experiences in the US and abroad; specifically in regards to Muslim perceptions of US Law Enforcement, US culture, etc. Also, how does the Muslim community see itself integrating into US culture long-term?
13. Great history lesson and background info. Would like more on culture/traditions. More with [redacted].
14. Excellent information clearly communicated. [redacted] block should be restructured to be more of a Q&A and should focus on how FBI interviews can create comfortable (relatively) environment for questioning. Mr. Coleman's block should have greater focus. I felt like the format did not allow us to adequately tap into his knowledge base and investigative experiences.
15. Next time [redacted] comes, have him do more of a Q&A type forum. He spent most of the time looking at slides, so there was not enough time for the students to ask questions.

16. It's a ton of information to effectively absorb in a very short amount of time. The material and instruction is excellent but more time should be allotted. [redacted] was excellent – I wish he didn't teach any material. He was great just to ask questions. Needed more time to talk to him. Overall I thought the training was outstanding. Shia Islam block [redacted] was given more like a college lecture than a "FBI Academy" type lecture, but it was still very good.

17. Needed more time for [redacted] Coleman's presentation and delivery needs some work. Fromme – Great case, we read it for a white collar crime class. Some confusion; I thought we heard that Hezbollah really didn't have the US in its sights. Mr. Fromme's discussion (case experience) suggested otherwise. Just could be one instance.

b6

18. [redacted] Dan – More interactive sessions. Possibly use videos or more graphic presentations to make lectures more active and engaging.

19. All were excellent. The Dan Coleman presentation could have had more structure.

Summary:

There were two unforeseen challenges in 09-04. The day before he was scheduled to instruct Iranian Revolution and Lebanese Hezbollah [redacted] notified us that he had contracted Laryngitis and would not be able to teach. [redacted] who was present on Day 1 and normally teaches these blocks, agreed to substitute. If [redacted] had not been available, it is unlikely we would have found a substitute on such short notice.

b6
b7C

On Day 4, Dan Coleman failed to show. When contacted, he acknowledged that he had thought he was scheduled to teach on Friday (it was Wednesday). This is the first class in months that did not schedule Day 4 on a Friday, which explains the confusion. To adjust [redacted] and [redacted] conducted an impromptu 50-minute verbal feedback session with the class from 0800 to 0850. [redacted] started his presentation an hour early at 0900, and the class was released at 1100 instead of 1200. The class was extremely participative during the feedback session, offering immediate insight rarely seen in written surveys.

[redacted] ran his block as a pure Q&A session, using slides only as backup. The class seemed to run out of questions after around 35 minutes, after which [redacted] began to present key slides. Explanations for this are found in verbal feedback below. [redacted] and [redacted] asked questions to direct the discussion throughout.

b6

For the Hamas, block [redacted] showed the 50-minute documentary Hamas: Behind The Mask, followed by Q&A. When asked, the class agreed that this was a valuable video, noting that it helped break up the 8-hour Day 1, and taught valuable lessons on Hamas and the Israel/Palestine conflict. The documentary covers all the main points covered in the powerpoint.

Notes:

1. Create SOP and background for all new instructors. Consult with regular instructors for input. [redacted] ICW Vahid [redacted]
2. Create SOP for operations officer. [redacted]

Class Survey Comments:

[Note: Class participated in a 50-minute verbal feedback session. Most comments were captured then and are copied first below.]

Verbal Feedback:

- Students would like to receive the reading list further in advance. In this case, they only received it days before the class. They received the textbook months before class. They would like to receive both at the same time.
- Would love to have executive summaries of every block, much like the book summaries. The book summaries are an excellent take-home tool. They are much more likely to be read than anything else.
- When asked if we should keep the slide notes in their books, every class member said yes. Class was unanimous, and emphatic, in support of keeping them because they are an aid in note-taking. When asked if they would take notes on lined paper instead, most said no.
- Training offers a great history of Islam, but they would like to see more on modern terrorist operations. More operational training, more tactical structures of terrorist groups, more communications, travel, and financing instruction.
 - This is great historical instruction, but we want to know more about today. Now what can we do?
- Would like to see some sort of network analysis of terrorist groups. Maybe a map with pictures of individuals linked with arrows, etc.
- This is the only CT training we get. Don't assume any level of knowledge.
- Place the Shia block on Day 1. It was confusing having the Sunni and Shia blocks so far apart. Would have liked to have known the main differences earlier.
- Repetition is good because it helps reinforce new material. Keep it that way.

- More graphical detail on the Sunni/Shia split, maybe including differences with other religions. Make this a more comprehensive flow chart including links to modern day groups. Current slide in slidebook on this is not detailed enough. More like the East Africa cell flowchart.
- More on relations between criminal gangs and terrorism.
- More time with [redacted]
- Recommend students are asked in advance to prepare two anonymous questions for [redacted] Ensure they understand these are questions about culture, and not about Iraq War, politics, etc. Ensure they understand that [redacted] has no bad feelings toward the FBI.
 - One student said she felt she couldn't ask questions of [redacted] because he seemed scared of the FBI.
- Would like more time on Shia Islam.
- Would like more time with the CTC overall. 20 hours not enough.
- Add something on South America, tri-border region.
- Please add a block on terrorist financing.
- This training needs to stay together. Unanimous consent from students that it should not be broken up over four weeks. If we did this, they would forget previous lessons.
- Multiple speakers breaks the monotony.
- Eliminate the 8-hour day in favor of 5 half-days.
- Connect reading material to class more effectively.
- Provide maps of the region.
- Consider adding 3-hole punch to slidebook for use in binders.
- Documentary gave good overview of Israel/Palestine issue, but could add a page in slidebook about this.
- Add more on current events. For example, is FARC working with AQ?
- More detail on terrorist cells, like the East Africa cased. More case studies with interaction with the class.
- Show us how you would attack a terrorist group as an FBI Agent.
- The cell typology flow chart was one of the most helpful tool of the training, both in terms of engaging the class interactively and demonstrating a real-world example.
- Add more documentaries on the CD in the textbook. It is much more realistic to ask students to watch a video before the class than to read chapters before class. Students have access to internet in labs and coffee shop, so it is possible to provide a URL of a documentary online. Could add these recommendations to the reading list.

b6

- Less detail on the Muslim Brotherhood block.
- Add something on prison radicalization.
- More flow charts on the board!
- Do not, under any circumstances, use break-out groups for training. By this late in their training, the students' are admittedly unlikely to do any significant work if they are sent outside the classroom.
- Perhaps walk through a case study after teaching the ideology block on Day 1. Put students in the role of a terrorist group. Ask them how they would utilize various themes from Ideology to conduct recruiting and operations.
- Add a smart-cart to the take-home materials with a glossary of basic terms, a map, and some basic Arabic phrases.

Written Feedback:

- Our course block instruction was excellent. It would be very helpful to receive instruction on the signs/activities of possible terrorist activities that would prompt investigation.
 - The take home materials were great! It would have been more helpful to receive our reading assignments earlier prior to our classroom instruction.
 - Make class more engaging by showing videos displaying the activities of terrorist cells/activities. Also how terrorist cells formulate their activities, their planning process, leading up to their activities being disrupted, detected, and/or prevented would be very valuable.
- Try to keep videos until after lunch due to after-lunch coma. Keep instruction in the morning. Suggestion:
 - History of Sunni Islam
 - History of Shia Islam
 - Differences/Similarities and also differences/similarities with Christianity
 - Hizbollah
 - Hamas
 - Prisons/Radicalization
 - Islam in America
 - Cultural differences (what offends them in the US)
 - Terrorist money movement
 - Sleeper cells
 - Portland 7-type stories
- As discussed, additional tactical info → how cells communicate, channel $, train, etc.
 - More time. Excellent instructors. Some of the most knowledgeable subject matter experts we've had.
- Would like executive summaries of each instructor's 1-hour block so we can read them ahead of time.
 - There should be one, two-hour block condensing Origins of Islam, Sunni Islam, and Shia Islam. This would make more time for things we suggested to add.
 - The Hamas video was great! Maybe more video/maps/flow charts.
- Bring in case agents to discuss terrorism investigations like Portland 7.
 - Materials were helpful. Update handouts to match slides.

- The laminated note cards were great.
 - Remember your audience. Some of us have little or no background in this subject matter. This can be a little overwhelming.
- Great class – pieced all the different parts I've learned about Islam together. Would like more time to cover things we talked about (operations, finance, current events).
 - Good materials. Give reading list to us when we get CT book so we have time to focus on particular sections.
- The History of Islam was great! I never knew any of the history.
 - The language (names) were very foreign and a little hard to keep track.
 - Please include a map of the area.
 - I've gathered everybody is fighting Israel...no one talked about Israel.
 - The flash cards [Big 3] were great.
- More blocks of instruction on Cell Typology
 - Please add full-sized maps to take-home materials
- Very knowledgeable. Documentary was good.
 - Materials were helpful.
 - Would like to see some terrorist financing history.
 - I would like to know various places in the US and abroad where terrorist cells have been located. I would like to know if certain cities are breeding grounds for cells and why they are drawn to certain cities. Also, if there could be a little more on characteristics of cells in the US (i.e. surveillance, tactics, communication habits).
 - Could there be a couple more "flow" charts that give good overviews of the different types of religions?
 - Overall, excellent training. Good job!
- [redacted] lecture: Do a powerpoint on the culture/cultural awareness. Include Do's and Don'ts. Allow class to submit questions anonymously in writing and have [redacted] review questions and answer.
 - Dry take-home material. More visual learning aids. Better maps. Historical timeline. Simplified overviews.
- Shia Islam was a repeat of [redacted]
 - More time for [redacted]
 - Need more on this subject. Great material and information. Great course overall! Thanks and great job!
- Excellent! Great training!
- This is excellent training. More operational aspects would be helpful.
- Not having exposure to this material prior to this session, I thought it was great. However, I felt some of it was too in-depth and detailed. Some of the material could be condensed, allowing for terrorism financing blocks, etc. I would like to know more about the terrorist groups and how to best combat and infiltrate them.
 - The textbook was dry and somewhat confusing, but I learned a great deal in these blocks – much more so than in the reading materials.
 - I love the videos and real-life examples. I think current event situations and case studies are the most effective learning tool.
 - I would like more information on terrorist networks, their practices, methods, communications, etc. This information would be useful because it would allow us to think through how to exploit and take down these groups.

b7c

- I was a bit disappointed with [redacted] He seemed somewhat hesitant to talk to us.
- Connect the reading material to the class.
 - More info on how cells work/operate.
- Because we received the reading materials late I was unable to find the time to read.

Date of Report: May 6, 2009
Class: 09-05
Training Dates: April 29-30, May 1-4, 2009
Class Supervisor: [redacted]
Field Counselor(s): [redacted]
Class Size: 46
CTC Operations Officer/Author: [redacted]

b6
b7c

Summary:

Class 09-05 was engaged for the first three days of instruction, asking numerous questions of every instructor and generating discussion in a number of blocks. On Day 4, a Monday, they were much more subdued. Their field counselor did not attend any classes.

[redacted] integrated case vignettes from the recent curriculum review into his block on the Muslim Brotherhood. They mostly related to rapport building with members of the MB.

b7c

In the second half of Day 1, the students were given a recent LA Times article describing fallout between the FBI and the Muslim community of Orange County because of an informant placed in a mosque and at local gyms. During the last 15 minutes of the radicalization block on Day 2, the class discussed a number of points raised in the article, and how they relate to the community outreach and counter-radicalization issues taught during that hour. [redacted] facilitated this discussion, but the conversation was almost entirely amongst the students themselves. SA [redacted] participated, offering her insight. Recommend that, as often as possible, we integrate current events into classes to facilitate discussion like this.

b7c

In the last five minutes of Day 2 (after the radicalization block), the class was asked to write down one question on a piece of paper about Muslim/Arab customs and culture. This recommendation came from class 09-04, who agreed that some people did not ask questions because they might be embarrassing, or potentially offensive to [redacted]. Over 50% of the class wrote questions, which were later copied and organized into a Word document for [redacted] block on Day 3. During his presentation, [redacted] presented slides for roughly 30 minute, after which he answered questions directly from this document.

At the end of Day 3 (Friday) Field Counselor [redacted] pointed out that Day 4 was scheduled from 1300-1700 instead of the normal 0800-1200. Since our Day 4 instructors were not able to teach in the afternoon, CTC called NATU Unit Chief [redacted] who was able change training back to the regular morning session.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Break up classes so they aren't 3 or 4 days in a row. When it is all clumped together it is harder to retain info.
 - a. Dan Coleman would go off on tangents that didn't seem relevant.
2. Excellent course. Very informative. All of the instructors were awesome.
3. Vahid Brown was an amazing presenter. Excellent information. I enjoyed [redacted] [redacted] expertise and useful information re: Islam in the US. Information good in Afghanistan/Pakistan section but presenter [redacted] was a bit too quiet (hard to hear, understand). By far this is the best block of instruction we have received.
4. Vahid Brown was Excellent. Islam in North America should be 3 hours.
5. More time about communicating with Muslims [redacted] would be beneficial.
6. Islam in North America [redacted] was great – I wish it were longer.
7. More time for Islam in North America [redacted] would be helpful.
8. More time (perhaps up front) with [redacted] for Muslim customs and culture and interaction would be excellent.
9. [redacted] received a "3" because it seemed like he was nervous which hampered his ability to relay great info. I think the longer he is here the better he will be.
10. An excellent introduction to Islam, extremism, etc. This needs to be an expanded course of study here at the academy – not testable, but for our own knowledge. These instructors have been very knowledgeable, humble – truly experts.
11. The instruction was outstanding! All of the instructors were extremely knowledgeable and professional in their presentation. I learned a ton throughout this course!
12. Great instruction, very knowledgeable presenters. Also, very useful and well-made products.

Summary:

09-06 was a relatively large class that seemed engaged across all four days of instruction. Recommend against placing Day 4 on a Monday in the future, as it seemed that some of the context preceding the case studies was lost over the weekend. Having this material fresh in the student's mind helps inform both case studies on Day 4.

For the first time, students also commented on noise from personnel in the back of the classroom. There were more observers than usual for this class from CTC and FBI on all four days. Recommend limiting this number in the future to avoid distraction, and restricting conversation to outside the classroom.

Class Survey Comments:

1. The CTC instructors were by far the best National Security instructors we have had. They were absolutely outstanding. However, the constant movement and side conversations by CTC personnel in the back of the classroom were a huge distraction. Some of the conversations were conducted in full voice, and all were inappropriate in a classroom setting. Otherwise, I was very impressed with the CTC instruction.

2. Too much noise (phone, talking, in and out of room) during presentations. Recommend those not teaching stay outside of room.
3. Very well organized instruction! Good group of speakers and great information and handouts.
4. This was an excellent block of instruction. One of the best we've had while at the Academy.
5. Excellent curriculum. Phenomenal training. Thank you.
6. Great instruction.
7. Very good block of instruction.
8. Very good overall presentation. Great background information. Better than anything I ever received in the Army.
9. Really good interesting training, but so much lecture makes it really hard to maintain focus. Making it more interactive would be helpful. Group activities?
10. Should be broken up over a span of time like other instruction at the academy instead of being packed into 4 days.
11. Providing the feedback forms earlier would allow us to provide more substantive feedback.
12. It may be helpful to provide the survey on day 1 and have us fill it out as we go, since we may forget who provided the lesson.
13. The instruction and material were both very good. It was difficult to get all of the information in such a short amount of time.
14. Overall, it was a great experience! The 8-hour block was long, but it was nice to learn the historical facts regarding the Muslim culture.
15. Very good training and very informative. But the 8-hour blocks are very long. It is hard to digest all the info in one day.
16. It felt somewhat like drinking from a fire hose. Excellent, relevant, and valuable training. I wish we could have spread it out over a couple of weeks. Also, the days of 8-hour lectures were challenging. Even though the material and presentations were top notch.
17. Wonderful training. Wish it could have been broken down over a few days b/c it is a lot of information to process. (esp. day 1)
18. The history of the religion and the political revolutions is incredibly relevant.
Recommended topics:
 - a. Terrorist Banking and Finance (as they don't "bank" like westerners)
 - b. Terrorist Travel – false passports, etc.
 - c. Brief overviews of some other terror groups – JI, HOA groups, AQIM, ASG, AQ cells in Europe.

19. The knowledge, ability, and professionalism of Mr. Brown is second to none. This is the type of instruction that is needed in the Academy.

a. The CTC, by far, has offered some of the best instructors I have received while here at the Academy. Thank you! Keep this going!

20. - A bit soft spoken.

Summary:

Class 09-07 was focused through all four days of instruction. This was an extremely bright group with various questions to each instructor and of particular interest to the class was the Islam in America Culture & Customs block where they asked many great questions. Field Counselor [redacted] was present all four days of instruction.

On Day 3, during the Islam in America block [redacted] facilitated discussion from the back of the room with questions to the instructor on culture and customs from a previous NAC. This helped to answer many questions the class had in mind as well as new ones that came up as the discussion went on. There was not enough time to answer all questions on Day 3 and on Day 4 one student brought a typed set of questions to be answered by [redacted] on culture and customs. The student will distribute the answers to his classmates once the questions are answered.

On Day 4, Investigating Al-Qaida block was led by Coleman as a Q&A session. Agent [redacted] was also present and contributed to the discussion as well.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Need a class solely on how to interview/talk to Muslims without offending them. More details on proper etiquette in mosques and homes.
2. Great lectures. If more interaction or examples of personal experiences can be shared, the more meaningful the training can be. Coleman- Interesting information but no structure. Better organization on topics presented could be more beneficial.
3. Charismatic instructors, but the lectures are challenging to follow (foreign names, terms, etc.) Incorporate different media (for example video, audio, etc.) into the long PowerPoint presentations. [redacted] need more/longer breaks b/c the presentations are long. b6
4. Great class with extremely knowledgeable staff! However, eight hours a day of anything is overboard. Keeping these classes to four hours a day would have held my interest more.
5. [redacted] went far too long. b6
b7c
6. Origins of Islam should be longer (including breaks), but include Q&A sessions.
 - a. Why focus on Sunni first
 - b. Why females are looked down upon
 - c. Modern customs & traditions as overview level

Islam in America needs to be longer and situated earlier in the day. I believe we can benefit from a class on personal interaction with Muslims.
7. Content was great. It can be difficult to absorb all the information presented during days of 8 hours of classroom lectures. Lectures on specifics of Islam were very informative, but I would have liked a larger focus on proper interaction with devout followers of the faith (i.e. do's and don'ts, best practices, etc.) This could be expanded to include the variations of Islamism from other regions of the world such as Southeast Asia.
8. Shorter blocks of training over more days instead of large blocks in fewer days.
9. Too much lecture. The class is falling asleep but the topic is interesting. I would use some videos of experts discussing a terrorist event. Most people are visual learners and a good video breaks up the lecture but is also a good learning aid. Very knowledgeable but needs better presentation skills. You need more speakers like Fromme or let him give all the lectures.
10. Too much information in a short period makes it hard to follow.
11. Need more interaction, less lecturing.
12. [redacted] good speaker, good topics but too much information to digest at once. b6
b7c
 [redacted] good knowledge on topics but not a lot of interaction with the students.
 [redacted] very knowledgeable on topics, but no interaction with the students and the lectures were monotone. 2nd day was better, more energized.

UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO

Coleman- lectures were not interactive, voice was monotone. Not sure how his stories related to Investigating Al-Qaida.

Fromme- awesome speaker, very knowledgeable.

13. Instructors were very knowledgeable but did not engage the audience very well. It was for the most part straight-up lecture. [] did a great job with his Q&A. [] had a decent Q&A as well.
14. Presentations need more audio/visual clips/interaction. Most presentations just lectured without much interaction. More case study info would be helpful. Need to get the video clips to work. Less lecture and more interaction.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.24. NAC 09-08 was a moderately sized class that remained engaged throughout all four days of instruction. The class asked questions consistently throughout the week; however, participation was at its lowest during the afternoon of Day 1 (probably attributable to the eight-hour day). The Class Supervisor and Field Counselors were rarely present.

Braniff provided an introduction on Day 1 and facilitated lectures on Days 3 and 4, sitting in the front of the classroom to help stimulate questions and involvement. This seemed well received by the class, and the instructors, and will serve as the basis of the 'senior instructor model' that the CTC will institute for the majority of the blocks of instruction moving forward.

Primary Critiques

- Too much information for time allotted
- Presentations sometimes difficult to follow
- Not enough emphasis on connecting (historical) material to FBI work/current environment
- Public speaking needs improvement
- Dry/disorganized lectures, need more focus

Additions Suggested by Class

- Historic and current maps for reference (in workbook)
- More time on terror on the internet
- More focus on domestic terrorism
- More focus on Mecca v. Medina, and on Shiite - Sunni split
- Media (perceptions and the role of)

Class Survey Comments:

- Day 1: All sessions were excellent but Tenets of Hamas was just too much information to process in one sitting.
- Day 1: Good instructors/good introduction day. Maybe include full-page maps in the book as reference pages (same comment for Day 2 also) – historic and current day versions. Day 2: [redacted] was sometimes difficult to understand, fast speaker but good material. Same for Day 3 [redacted] also. Day 4: Fromme was a great presenter – held the audience's attention.
- Excellent instructors. Their depth of knowledge was impressive. I wish we had more time – I understand we are scratching the surface. The PowerPoints gets somewhat cumbersome, but are effective. The "dighad" videos were great – it's a scary thing that hit home.
- Good information, but it was too much in too little time. Very difficult to follow at times. Islamic Culture class was very useful, especially coming from an instructor with first hand knowledge. Very interesting talking to Mr. Coleman with his extensive knowledge on al-Qa'ida. Mr. Fromme was a very dynamic and knowledgeable speaker. Operation Smokescreen was excellent!
- I believe there should be more time geared towards Terror/Terror cells on the networks on the internet. The FBI should be more involved on Domestic Terrorism which is largely spread via the internet.
- Day 2 [redacted] Very hard to follow and maintain concentration. Though knowledgeable, his presentation of information is difficult. Voice tone, fast speaking, mumbling. Day 3 [redacted] Same comments.
- I think it would be useful to have a more in-depth examination of the Prophet Mohammed's time in Mecca versus his time in Medina. The speaker that taught the Afghanistan/Pakistan blocks [redacted] was clearly extremely knowledgeable however his teaching style is very dry and the presentation was a little confusing and seemingly disorganized. The Shia blocks were very good and again, the speaker obviously is extremely knowledgeable but the presentation needs to be more focused because of the short timeframe. Overall, great information, great presentations, I just think the presentations need to be more focused and more organized.
- Shiite Islam/Islam in North America [redacted] Very good! The Iranian Revolution/Lebanese Hizballah [redacted] Very dry. Operation Smokescreen/Fromme: Very good! Very helpful!

9. Afghanistan/Pakistan: Overall a 5, but relevance a 3-2. South Asia: Overall a 4, but relevance a 1 and delivery a 5. Day 1: Emphasize the Sunni-Shia split. This is my 4th class on Islam and I am finally able to articulate the difference. [redacted] was really good. Day 2: [redacted] is very difficult to follow. He seems incredibly intelligent, but the 4 hours of instruction weren't fulfilling because of his delivery. Though the slides were good (although no mention was made of Ahmad Shah Massoud's assassination) there was a lot of time spent on pre-1970s issues, when the important interactions didn't really occur until the 1970s. The important info thereafter suffered because it wasn't fully explored as it could/should have been. Day 3: Let [redacted] have the whole day. Encouraging the class to ask questions resulted in the best discussions. Islam in America was the best class, and should have a lot more time allotted (less time on historical discussions that don't provide as much practical knowledge). Smokescreen was much better than I expected. Investigative techniques part was the most useful. I hope I get to work with "Po'lice" like Bob.
10. Much of the training was too in-depth. It was as though a four-year degree was crammed into four days. With only four days to learn, I would recommend a more basic curriculum. The above topics, which I rated as a 1, were covered at a reasonable level [Origins of Islam, Sunni Islam, Varieties of Sunni Islamist Activism, Islamism and Militancy, Shiite Islam, Islam in North America, Investigating al-Qa'ida, Operation Smokescreen] while the higher ratings were too complex. Also, I felt that Dan Coleman's presentation was excellent.
11. I would have liked a brief discussion of the crusades and their importance to modern Jihadists during [redacted] historical portion. [redacted] talked very fast, hard to follow at times. Propaganda videos in radicalization block were good in demonstrating points about imagery and radicalization. Talks by [redacted] were excellent, learned a lot about Shiism. A third hour with Coleman would have been nice, more questions. Smokescreen part was great discussion of investigative techniques.
12. Day 1 AM Blocks: [redacted] very good. However, not sure material is relevant. To FBI counterterrorism investigations. History of Origin of Islam does not connect current terrorists purposes/ideology.
- PM Block: [redacted] Great block! [redacted] Information provided acceptable but did not tell class anything they didn't already know. It's common knowledge that terrorists use internet to recruit and communicate. Perhaps case studies would have emphasized importance to CT investigations.
- Day 2 AM Blocks: Information continued to progress and develop into elements acceptable to CT investigations. Cell Typology: Instructor provided examples and added investigative techniques (i.e., capabilities of a-cell – trade drugs for explosives). Expanded outlook for CT investigations.
- Day 3 AM: [redacted] class very informative. Lebanese Hizballah [redacted] practical and informative, great class.
- Day 4 AM: Dan Coleman – informative and practical.
- Overall course informative. However, I believe more case studies would emphasize practical applications for information collectors. Too much information regarding the History of Islam. Much of the early course not relevant for casework. Make history introduction streamlined and more concise.
13. Very informative. Operation Smokescreen was in-depth and very interesting in relation to how terrorists are working in the US.

15. Operation Smokescreen: Excellent speaker and presentation!

16. Afghanistan/Pakistan and South Asian Terror Groups: Not a good speaker. Shiite Islam: Not a good speaker. Information is good, public speaking needs improvement, especially [redacted]

17. At first I thought history was overdone but things came together with [redacted] lectures and definitely [redacted] lecture. More focus/time should have been spent on Islam in North America.

b7c

18. Hammas: Had trouble following the lecture a bit, missed the big picture [redacted] was a bit dry and monotone. Didn't seem to be interested in teaching. His lectures were a bit confusing.

Thank you for a great session. I learned so much about terrorism and feel armed with new knowledge to do my job. I'm on a criminal career path but all material very relevant.

19. [redacted] Able to emphasize important points.

[redacted] Clear and good communicator.

[redacted] Good communicator.

[redacted] Very dry, not able to connect with audience.

[redacted] Very dry, not a good speaker. Seemed tired, mumbled a lot. Was not clear and was not loud. Speaks too fast, doesn't stop and emphasize important info.

b6
b7c

Braniff: Energetic, able to communicate.

[redacted] Bad communication skills, takes too long to make a point.

Coleman: Excellent all around.

Fromme: Excellent all around.

Should include in materials/teachings the recruitment element of foot soldiers and media perception/info that low-level foot soldiers of group get their info from and how they form their opinion (i.e., clips from local news). Should teach how money is generated and moved to terrorist organizations and list of suspected/bad banks and charities (link criminal activity to terror). The best thing about the class was the video clips and footage of how these people think and propaganda used against West. All speakers had a very good knowledge about the subject and were able to answer questions posed.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.30. NAC 09-09 was a 47-person class that remained engaged throughout the week. 09-09 was the first class during which a 5-day model was implemented, which proved beneficial. New Agent Trainees asked questions consistently throughout the week, with a handful approaching each instructor at every break with additional questions and for further detail. Several New Agent Trainees requested contact information, in addition to inviting an instructor to lunch for follow-on discussion.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Great Training!
2. Brown was great. [redacted] and [redacted] good. Day 5 was the best. More investigative tactics tied to material.
3. [redacted] should caution himself when speaking with New Agent Trainees regarding the actions of the FBI's background check into his personal life. Often his cultural concerns, and difficulties working with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, are portrayed as whining and discontent with an agency that has employed him.
4. In general, all the instructors were very experienced and knowledgeable. Mr. Fromme in particular was not only knowledgeable but extremely engaging in his speaking. Mr. Coleman was obviously very experienced. Mr. Brown and [redacted] were very knowledgeable and really helped tie everything together. Felt as though [redacted] was very knowledgeable but made little attempt to engage group in his instruction.
5. Vahid Brown is very knowledgeable on Islam. He is an excellent instructor. I am thoroughly impressed with CTC instruction. [redacted] was also very knowledgeable in the subject matter he taught. The only comment I have is that without prior to knowledge of Islam and etc., this is a lot of information to try and process and understand. Would be great to learn more about the naming conventions.
6. Vahid Brown added humor to a long lecture which is appreciated. Translation/word key would be helpful to understand/follow the lectures (for those of us with a basic background). Because of the long days/lectures, a ten minute break after a 50 minute lecture would better keep the NAT's more alert and attentive during each session.
7. Brown is extremely knowledgeable. His style of teaching is awesome. [redacted] is also amazing. [redacted] cleared up misconceptions I had about the Middle East and their current positions/conditions. He answered questions clearly. [redacted] very understandable and valuable. Coleman I have heard him before, and he is still perfect at presenting this. Very practical. Fromme very entertaining. I had some knowledge of Operation Smokescreen, and he filled many gaps for me. Presentation flowed well. Overall very professional, well prepared. Q&As - great answers.
8. Excellent training. Thanks!
9. [redacted] needs to realize this is a different culture then his homeland and not show his irritation or anger better. [redacted] was great. Brown was great. Coleman was great. Fromme was superb.
10. Quality and knowledge of speakers were overall excellent. History and content was tough at times to sit through. Timely release (11:50) would be appreciated. Fromme was the best, most applicable, exciting speaker discussing a real case - got most out of his section.

11. The Smokescreen case brief was excellent. Everything else, while interesting, did not pertain largely to the LE curriculum.
12. The FBI's main priority is terrorism. However, we only get 5.5 days of lecture on terrorism. I wonder how Congress will feel about this type of irony! Your instruction to us is paramount in our fight against terrorism. The instruction should be at least a month long. Very good instruction. Thank you and God bless.
13. [redacted] is hard to understand and follow.
14. [redacted] was difficult to understand.
15. Case studies were excellent. Brown was my favorite instructor – knowledgeable and passionate. Had hard time understanding [redacted] as well as relating to how to use his information except traditions that are typical for Muslims in the U.S.
16. It would be helpful to have information on practical tips (including cultural differences) for extreme believers, casual believers, etc. A handout would be helpful. List of additional resources would be helpful – naming convention info, etc.
17. The context you provide is badly needed as we combat terrorism. The Islamic culture is foreign to me, so I need this understanding to do my job.
18. Very good overview of topics discussed. I am glad this training is incorporated into Academy. Hard to gain thorough understanding of material in short timeframe and to cover thousands of years of history, but topics covered were relevant and done so in an effective manner. 11:50 break for lunch!
19. Instructor [redacted] is difficult to understand because of a slight language barrier. His instruction was hard to follow due to the barrier and I missed some of the content of his lecture. Doing the readings before class greatly assisted my understanding during the lecture.
20. History and religious training was excellent and helps with understanding motivations and activities. Need more information on terrorist cells recognition in the U.S. Information on infiltrating Middle Eastern U.S. society would be helpful. The presentation on Day 4 by [redacted] was not useful. It was already covered by Mr. Brown. Moreover, it's not wise to give New Agents who've just completed 17 weeks of investigative training advice on how to conduct investigative interviews and which venues to pick to conduct interviews in clearance process for which the subject applied.
21. The instructors were very knowledgeable in their subject matter.
22. Very interesting. I appreciate all the reference material provided by the CTC. I plan to take it to my F.O. and review it again later. The instructors provided a lot of information in a short period of time.
23. Very interesting and I learned a lot. It would be helpful if the instructors could let us out at scheduled time for lunch which is 11:50 AM. Every day we were let out at 12 PM or 12:05 PM which makes it difficult for us to eat lunch. Otherwise an excellent course and very informative.

3. Very helpful Harun Fazul case study. Iranian Revolution: Fantastic. Hizballah: Great. Case Study: Smokescreen, a good block to end the training on, brings it together.
4. A few articles were mentioned through the training. If those articles could be provided as a part of the material that would be a good addition. (Reference to CTC publications/reports.)
5. Enjoyed presentations history/culture – would have liked more of a combination of history/culture with more case studies involving modern groups/prosecutions/investigations.
6. Thank you all for this block of instruction! I was truly looking forward to it. I learned a great deal. While I thought that all of the classes were relevant, I do feel that [redacted] presentation on Islamism/Militancy, etc. was tainted. There was one point when [redacted] claimed that a certain group was non-violent, and the worst they would do is throw rocks and molotov cocktails. That sounds fairly violent to me. It seemed that [redacted] was not accurately painting some of these groups, and that he was trying to put a more positive spin on them. I truly enjoyed Mr. Braniff's and Mr. Fromme's presentations. I learned a great deal and feel that their material was very applicable. Thank you.
7. Excellent instruction and first rate instructors. I have very little knowledge in the area of terrorism and the Middle East and the instructors made it interesting and captivating. [redacted] was a very good instructor and explained the subject matter well.
8. Thought instructors were incredibly knowledgeable but some were not able to effectively relate to the class. Loads of information, but would have liked to have been shown more practical applications.
9. Day 2: Mr. Braniff was especially helpful in summarizing the first two days and adding the political dimension to the religious perspective provided by [redacted]
10. [redacted] tenets of Hamas: Assumes we have prior knowledge. [redacted] internet: Very quick. Shiite Islam: Really hard to follow.
11. Great training. Best terrorism training I've had in 8 years of DoD, Gov Service! Thanks.
12. [redacted] was ranked lower than the other speakers because I felt he was downplaying a lot of actions of terrorist organizations. Rather than hear unbiased facts about things, it was consistently about social services provided, relief efforts, etc. Islam may not be a violent religion, but how can we ignore the actions of groups like Hamas? He more than any of the other speakers seemed to have an agenda to convince everyone that all Islamists are peaceful. It is great to hear the moderate stance, but we can't turn a blind eye. All other presentations were great.

Primary Critiques

- Long 8-hour day
- Too great a focus on historical context

Additions Suggested by Class

- Breaking the material up into smaller blocks/spreading it out
- More case studies/real world anecdotes

Class Survey Comments:

1. While I understand the importance of having a historical background to Islam and terrorism, the amount of historical background presented was overwhelming to say the least. A shorter and more concise historical overview would be more effective in the retention of material. Mr. Fromme's presentation was excellent. More presentations like his during Days 1-3 would be very helpful.
2. While all topics covered are quite relevant, the ratings are indicative more of the quality of instruction (or lack thereof) [associated ratings range from 1-3].
3. All around great job ... thanks!
4. Need much more time on Islam in America. The History of Islam needs to be presented in a more basic way, a lot of stuff was too unfamiliar to understand on a fast and deep level.
5. I thoroughly enjoyed the CTC presentations. I believe they are of high value to New Agents and wish we had more time and exposure to the CTC instructors.
6. The training was very informative and well presented. I would suggest breaking it down into smaller courses spread out through the entire academy as opposed to such a concentrated block.
7. Why spend 3.5 days on history and origin of the religion and only 1/2 day on Investigating Al Qaeda and Operation Smokescreen which apply to our positions and are far more interesting. This course could have been much more focused toward our field/investigations.
8. [redacted] very knowledgeable but too quiet.
9. Cut down slides. Tell us more about your personal experiences and/or your interaction with specific groups of people in the Islamic society. You all have very interesting backgrounds and experiences ... I'd like to hear about them. PowerPoints seem to numb my brain more than stimulate learning. I really enjoyed my time with you all though, I appreciate your efforts. Less History, more current state of the Middle East. Less PowerPoint, use video – current documentary (there is plenty available). Mr. Coleman/Mr. Fromme = awesome.
10. [redacted] Outstanding subject matter expert. [redacted] A bit repetitive. Fromme: Great. Best POV.
11. [redacted] though highly intelligent and educated about the subject matter, were very hard to listen to for 2-4 hour blocks. [redacted] and Fromme had the best teaching style and were easy to listen to and thus the best communicators of their lessons.
12. We need further discussion time for Operation Smokescreen and Investigating al-Qaida.
13. Growth of the Muslim Brotherhood: Content was average. For How Terror Networks Use the Internet, specific examples would teach better. More case studies. Smokescreen class was the most beneficial because it brought it all together.

14. The only concern that I have is that the CTC focus a larger block of instruction on Islam in North America. Being the last class before lunch, we were cut short of time. Talking with other classmates, this block of instruction triggered the largest amount of questions.
15. Overall, great course. One of the top courses we have received here at the Academy. Thank you.
16. It would be helpful to spend additional time on interacting with the Muslim community and their customs/habits/rituals. Also, the second and third generation Muslim sentiments in the US.
17. The 8 hour day was very long. Have you ever considered making this a required class during the 20 week training? When I say required I mean a class like our legal class, one that goes for 20 weeks.
18. [] Speak louder and slower. [] Hard to understand.
19. Hours of PowerPoint/lectures difficult to absorb. Perhaps there are opportunities to make this CTC block more interactive?
20. [] provided excellent material from an interesting perspective. However, the presentation was, at times, hard to follow. He seemed too restrained to the PowerPoint and not free to ad lib. Fromme's presentation was "dumbed down" and geared just for new agents. Not only was it a great terrorism-related case study, but it was also very helpful in understanding the basic investigative process.

- The only concern that I have is that the CTC focus a larger block of instruction on Islam in North America. Being the last class before lunch, we were cut short of time. Talking with other classmates, this block of instruction triggered the largest amount of questions.
- Overall, great course. One of the top courses we have received here at the Academy. Thank you.

b7c

Fromme's presentation was "dumbed down" and geared just for new agents. Not only was it a great terrorism-related case study, but it was also very helpful in understanding the basic investigative process.

Class Survey Comments:

1. I thought it was all extremely informative and interesting. Thank you.
2. Coleman: Just seemed distracted. Very intelligent and on point once questioned.
3. Would have liked more time with Mr. Fromme on Operation Smokescreen.
4. The 8 hour block was a bit too long.
5. [redacted] Very knowledgeable! Willingness to answer questions with educated answers also helped our greater understanding of the subject. [redacted] Excellent block of instruction. [redacted] Excellent instruction and solid knowledge. Fromme: Best presentation of the four days.
6. The instructors were all very knowledgeable on the materials. The only think that I think would make the class better would be to have more videos.
7. [redacted] MB: Seemed very one-sided on whether they were involved in terrorist activity even though some links have been shown to Hamas and getting money from organizations such as that. Coleman/Investigating Al-Qa'ida: Great information but very sporadically given out, seemed to be no given plan to the information, so was somewhat hard to follow. Fromme/Operation Smokescreen: GREAT info and presentation! Probably the best presenter all session.
8. The book has not been updated to match presentations [CTC has revised for 09-13.] It was nice not to go through a PowerPoint presentation during Mr. Coleman's lecture. [redacted] [redacted] slam in America: I really wanted to hear [redacted] thoughts without frequent interruptions by other instructors.
9. Excellent.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall instructor rating was 1.19. Based on feedback from the pilot of this training event, CTC refined both the Power Point Presentations used for this training as well as the educational products. A glossary of vocabulary used by the Salafi-jihadi on-line community was developed and included in the student notebooks, a video detailing the dissemination of jihadi propaganda on-line was developed, and the presentations were tailored to meet the demands of the ITOC-CITU audience. Specifically, CTC made a point of highlighting useful references for practitioners who are new to the field of cyber-jihad. CTC will continue to refine its products based on feedback from this survey. Overall, this class was very engaged, inquisitive, and very appreciative of the educational products and allusions to reference materials.

Regarding the feedback captured below, CTC included the comments from the ITOC-CITU feedback form as well as from the CTC's survey form, resulting in some duplication of the open-ended feedback.

Class Feedback:

1. Review for me but still good to pick-up something again.
2. Extremely complex issues, difficult to explain in a short period.
3. Best IT content/presentation I've seen.
4. Very knowledgeable and class could be very helpful if it was longer. And more background could be covered especially for people who don't have the language and cultural background. Very good info and very well presented.
5. Instructor covered basic tenets of Islam providing a firm foundational knowledge of the thinking that guides radical Islamists. Great advice on the do's and don't's of operating as an OCE.
6. Great job.
7. Extremely helpful to get a foundational grasp of context. Very well presented.
8. Braniff presented a clear understanding of a complex subject.
9. The presenter was able to strike the perfect balance of discussing a religious topic in a secular way. Very useful and informative.
10. More time with topic of Islam – not the basics, but more on Takfiri ideology would be helpful. Reference materials look particularly helpful, thank you for that.
11. Excellent. Nice intro to CTC and functions. Good overview of Islam. Provide 15-20 minutes for questions. Many in audience need to ask questions – encourage dialogue. I like the slide indicating Mongol challenges and response and how that relates to now. Recommend that message get out that many Muslims don't see history as time dependent. "What happened in history is relevant today."
12. Fantastic presentation. Enjoyed classroom-like dialogue. Very impressed with how complicated subject matter was condensed into a 2 hr presentation. Particularly effective: point made about life in Palestinian refugee camp, i.e lack of prospects as catalyst for radicalization. Excellent. Particularly appreciated diagram of key players as well as relevance to FBI mission. Really appreciated references to actual cases and consequences thereof. Emphasis on "trajectory" vs. "snapshot" particularly instructive.
13. Honestly can't write all the good things about this block, but please give it more time! So many questions. Excellent content and presentation. Awesome! Braniff is an interesting presenter. Bill mentioned questions to ask a Muslim to get an idea of where they stand politically. I would like to see a list of these questions to use in my work. Second part of Extremism and the Internet was disjointed; hard to follow. Presenter was not a good communicator. Towards the end, he demo'd some online sites that were pretty interesting, but he had trouble "bringing it home" to us. Overall, the second presentation didn't look prepared.

14. Very essential block of teaching. Great refresher on the basic tenets of Islam. Braniff did a great job in teaching the basic tenets of Islam and digging a little deeper into the mindset of radical Islamists. You can never get too much of this type of teaching.
15. Excellent block of instructors. Would be very good for people who do not have a large background on Sunni Fundamentalism. The block could be longer especially for those who do not have a background in Arabic language of the Arabic culture.
16. Make session longer.
17. Braniff presented a good, detailed lecture about Islam with clear and good explanation. He seems to have good knowledge and background of Islamic issues. Very good presentation.
18. Wow...awesome brief. Fantastic overview of Islam and what it means to be a Muslim. I have seen many presentations on this topic and Bill was by far has been the best I have seen. Great second day. I have come away with a clear understanding of how knowing "the enemy" is different than what is practiced by main stream Islam. The block of instruction should be given to all NAC at the Academy.
19. Excellent presentation and very knowledgeable Bill. Excellent.
20. Very informative assessment of history, thought, and Islamic political movements. A necessary background.
21. Great presentation, captivating and insightful. Excellent content. Useful. Braniff was able to strike the perfect balance between religion and facts. Very beneficial.
22. Great details on what to look for on various websites.
23. Good background on Islam will provide a crucial understanding toward those who are embracing militant Islam. Explanation of Sharia was very beneficial. Hadith reference to coding of messages online very useful information.

Class Survey Comments:

1. I feel there was too much time spent on the history, geography, politics of other countries, etc. and not enough time spent discussing Islam in America and how to use the info we learned in future investigations.

2. [redacted] Seems very knowledgeable and is well spoken. But please stop saying "um" so much! We counted 46 times in one lecture! The cell typology was pretty boring as well, even though it is an important concept to grasp.

[redacted] Very informative. However, came across as very arrogant. He needs to know his audience (i.e. political remarks assuming Obama will have a second term isn't appropriate, nor does it have anything to do with the origins of Islam). Plus, he hedged answers on several questions. It was interesting though.

b7c

[redacted] Very interesting and enjoyable. He came across very unbiased and informative. Tip - if you don't give us a break, we won't listen to what you have to say!

3. The information and presentations were very good. It is just a lot of information and hard to absorb and follow at times.

Fromme: Smokescreen case study was great.

4. More time should be allowed for Operation Smokescreen (Fromme).

5. I thought the presentation on interacting with Muslims in America was excellent and useful. [redacted] were really helpful in providing insight into other cultures, the history behind underlying causes of terrorism. Mr. Fromme's presentation was also informative and interesting. He was an excellent presenter.

b7c

The brief on Internet jihad/branding was not very helpful. [redacted] I really enjoyed the insights and perspectives provided by [redacted].

6. [redacted] Very knowledgeable instructor and excellent presenter; however, he did a very poor job of keeping his personal political beliefs from interfering with his message. Many in the class may have tuned out because of this.

Coleman: Very impressive knowledge/experience base, but not a strong instructor/lecturer. Perhaps look to change the format of his block. He is an incredible resource however.

7. Good historical overview. Could cover more general history of Middle East to include other non-alliance countries, i.e. Egypt and Syria.

Coleman: Good info but very disorganized.

8. Great training overall! Very knowledgeable staff. It got dry at times, so it would help if the speakers kept things more interesting by injecting personal stories and humor.

9. Excellent training overall. Class by class scores are for minor differentiation only. I would gladly go through a set of courses twice as long. Top notch instruction, good introductory curriculum.

10 [redacted] and Mr. Fromme were very good instructors because their deliverance was very effective. Thank you!

b6

11. Stay focused. Many of the presenters were all over the board with their presentations. At times, it was difficult to follow. The notebook was helpful, but seldom matched with the presentations in any way.

12. Fromme: Great presenter.

13. A lot of information.

14. I would have appreciated [redacted] briefings more if he was not so political/partisan.

15. [redacted] Great instructor.

b7C

There seems to be a presumption that the majority of the class knows and understands the terminology, geography, organizations, etc. Many students have never heard of Hamas, PLO, differences between al-Qa'da and Taliban. To define these before classes or talk to them during would be a great benefit.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Excellent stuff.

2. Braniff consistently interrupts speakers and goes off on a tangent with detached side-stories. This confuses the topic and makes the information hard to follow. It also eats up a lot of time and causes the speaker to have to rush to finish.
3. Great course. However, the course presented too much information in a limited time. Main presenters (instructors) kept getting interrupted by other instructors and this limited the ability to follow the main presenter and his/her instruction. I would wait to the end for other instructors in the classroom to interrupt or add information in case it is needed. This will save time and the students will be able to get all of the information in time allowed.
4. Some of the training, particularly the discussions/examples of FBI cases, would be better presented by FBI personnel (case agents and/or analysts) who have actually worked the cases and not just heard of them/read about them indirectly. This would allow for a more practical approach to the training and exemplify how it can be applied on a daily basis in the life of a FBI case agent (investigative techniques, interaction with other entities, etc.) from an FBI perspective.
5. Horn of Africa/Braniff: Good connection, why we need to know. Never mention Afghans use of force and women. Overthrow of France as colony. What role do you think they play in current role? Afghan – Pakistan heavy. Madrassa only schools in Afghan during Taliban?! Role of refugee camps in networks and training. Warlords – or organizations – Massod, HIG-Gulbitin [sic]. Suggestion – bring in a map of Afghanistan/Pakistan so you don't have to switch slides so much. AQ camps in Afghanistan during Taliban – leading to franchise in Europe, W. Africa, U.S., Canada. Overall focus on what we will deal with here more. History is good, help with how to relate it. Overall – very good, well-educated instructors. How does this relate to what we do and what we may deal with? There was some connection but could be more.
6. One of the best overview courses I have received. Would recommend more time for question and answer sessions to both cover the material and have discussions. I felt we were running low on time so I held back some questions. The Afghanistan-Pakistan [redacted] lecture was very academic; however, I don't think it was tied in to contemporary issues in Afghanistan today, namely U.S. policy relating to the future of combating terrorism in both Afghanistan and Pakistan. Overall, this was the best block of instruction at the Academy and I hope to maintain contact and use CTC as a reference throughout my career.
7. We should have the Islam in North America [redacted] class first. Very important information, especially how to conduct interviews. I loved Operation Smokescreen/Fromme. Real world operation.
8. The slides should have more of the lecture so they can be used for future reference. They are helpful during lecture but do not stand alone. The case presentation was the highlight of the lecture series.
9. The instructors were very good and the information was very useful. The instructors were extremely knowledgeable and well-spoken. Also, they were great about allowing us to ask questions without fear of offending.
10. One of the few blocks of instruction where the instructors are experts and could speak to issues with a very high degree of authority. I would expect nothing less from a group representing West Point.

11. Great instruction from a knowledgeable staff. Each instructor was an expert and conveyed their material very well. Would like more references for further reading/classes to take.
12. Overall, the training was excellent. I think it would also be beneficial to have the FBI Agent to discuss some more historical examples of terrorist investigations and techniques or some ideas of things we should look for. Any trends of criminal activity? Tips on handling sources? Up and coming threats? What's the forecast for targets? Lessons learned in terrorist investigations.
13. The training was very thorough and well put together.
14. Islam in North America [redacted] was excellent. Felt that the lecture provided the most impactful information to us in the immediate future once we get out in the field. Could even spend an entire four-hour block on that subject alone. Overall, very good week of training, very valuable, learned a lot.
15. The presenters were all excellent and their knowledge and insight is extremely valuable, interesting, and will be a great resource.
16. Exceptional insight into the terrorist and Muslim world. This training was some of the best I have received in both the military, college, and FBI. I appreciate the accessibility of the instructors outside of class as well as their willingness to answer questions in depth.
17. Day One: All the presenters on the first day were excellent! The presenters provided excellent information and were all charismatic in their presentation style. Very good and knowledgeable presenters.
18. Awesome job. Keep doing what you are doing. Operation Smokescreen/Fromme: The best.
19. By far the best speakers. Very knowledgeable.
20. Cover as much current events as you can.
21. Islamic Extremism and the Internet [redacted] An intro is useful, but exploration of a specific site or how to find the sites and what specifically to look for would be helpful.
22. I knew nothing about these topics in the beginning, so maybe "dumb" parts down a little. Overall, it was great and I did learn.
23. Excellent training. Instructors were very knowledgeable and professional. Many classes tended to go over on time. Also some instructors tended to go off on a tangent and the main focus of the class would be lost or end up taking time of the next class.
24. Maps on PPT are difficult to read – too small. Also miss main points because of black and white, no color slides (in book). Fantastic information! Thank you.
25. The instruction was excellent and the instructors were obviously experts in their area. I learned a lot but wanted the instruction to tie into what's going on today and how it directly affects work at the FBI.
26. The course really helped my understanding of the Islamic culture. Overall, I thought the course was very helpful. However, frequent interruptions from instructors not instructing became annoying.

b6
b7c

b7c

27. Did not like the constant interruption from instructors in the back while main instructor for the block was speaking. Prevented us from having enough time for block and made it harder to concentrate on main speakers. Favorite speakers were [redacted] Made it very easy for me to understand Islam religion and Muslim culture. They were able to explain it from their personal experiences and everything was said in a way that was easy to follow. Wanted a lot more time on Islam in North America [redacted] block because most important for our interactions with Muslims, the constant interruptions prevented us from getting more info from the important slides. One of the best classes in the Academy. Great portion on investigative case Operation Smokescreen/Fromme. Very enlightening! Fromme was a great speaker.
28. Distraction from frequent interruptions from instructors in the back!! Recommend some hands-on practical exercises. If Islam in America [redacted] is the most important class, recommend making it two hours.
29. Other instructors need to stop interrupting the lead instructor, it is annoying and causes confusion. Thanks for the great course.
30. The background info on Islam and regions (i.e. historical) was incredibly useful but possibly too detailed. The contemporary information was much more useful. Would have liked more info on current political/socioeconomic situation throughout the region and why that leads to recruitment of terrorists. Islam in North America [redacted] was very good – need more on “homeland” as we are a domestic force. Outstanding POIs overall!!
31. Islamic Extremism and the Internet [redacted] Great content. Interesting modern tie in to all the historical lessons. Radicalization/Braniff: Useful. The Horn of Africa/Braniff: Useful. The Iranian Revolution [redacted] Applicable? Operation Smokescreen/Fromme: Awesome class, ties stuff together. Overall: Great class!! Afghanistan-Pakistan and South Asian Terror Groups [redacted] This block was confusing to me. I didn't think it was explained well. [redacted] and Lt. Fromme were fabulous! Thanks.

Class Survey Comments:

1. The training is fast and it covers tons of info. Some time should be devoted towards other groups besides Hamas, Hezbollah, Al Qaeda.
2. The Operation Smokescreen briefing was very interesting and informative. It would have been nice to have more time for Islam in North America and more specifically more time and focus on the significance of different types of clothing and other significant indicators in a person's appearance and items of their possible radicalization level.
3. Highly knowledgeable. Good interaction with the class. Can we have a class on interacting with these individuals in a law enforcement setting (i.e. interviews, witness v. suspect/victim, female law enforcement interaction with male suspects, etc.); also, more on cultural views that would assist in building rapport.
4. The quality of instruction was excellent. I did not understand the relevance of much of the material. I felt that much of the material was designed to point out what the common understanding of "terrorism" is with historical and practical information without identifying the point of making such a distinction. Also, I felt that much of the material simply explained common generalizations in "terrorist" terminology. It does not help one identify terrorists simply by calling an activity that everyone does terrorism. More effort should be made to identify what terrorism is and why our learning is important.
5. Islam in North America block could have been longer and maybe placed more early on. Overall very informative.
6. Allowing for more time for [redacted] to explain Muslims, their faith, customs, view on war, etc. Overall, very informative/important analysis, thorough, helpful despite our career tracks.
7. More time with [redacted]
8. This should be a regular course with more time to digest the info. I thought the information presented was invaluable.
9. I didn't understand what [redacted] does and why it is important. Becoming familiar with the symbols of extremist groups was about the only useful information from the block. I think the Hizballah block could have been stronger and more tailored to Hizballah in the U.S. This doesn't pertain to any block in particular, but I would have liked to see an entire block on UBL and al-Qaida. There's plenty of reading provided and books available, but a step by step presentation on UBL would be cool. Mr. Coleman is clearly the authority on UBL but his presentation was more on how the FBI dealt with AQ and bounces around on things AQ were involved with.
10. Great training! I thought it was great to hear from people that had practical experience in regards to working terror cases (Coleman and Fromme).
11. [redacted] - Thank you for proctoring this, it was very educational. I have a deep respect for your knowledge and experience. My one suggestion would be when you lecture, you say "umh" very frequently. This is something I am working on as well and that is why I notice it. The speech on Islam in N. America should be given more time, I found that to be one of the most important lessons. An in depth description of how to interact with Muslims in America would be very helpful and useful. Overall the lessons were informative, especially for me because I had very little prior knowledge. I also thought the Terror/Internet presentation could have been more in-depth – how do they find the sites, if they find info on sites, what do they do with it?

12. Fantastic course – best we've had in the Academy. The instructors were all experts in their fields and it was evident. I would have liked to have also seen the Sunni perspective in Islam in America. Thanks.
13. Overall, very good course – among the best blocks of instruction we've received at the Academy. Day 3 was very boring however. [redacted] was a poor presenter and not very interesting. On Day 3 the interesting stuff was presented last and was too rushed. Please be respectful of our time. In the real world, our attention span is less than 50 minutes. At the Academy we have so many competing demands and often use our breaks/lunch to make calls, attend appointments, etc.
14. This was one of the top 3 blocks of instruction I have received while at the Academy. It was a lot of information to take in in such a quick amount of time. It would be better broken up over 5 days with a 4 hour block every day. If possible from 10-12 and 1-3 so there's a lunch break in between to have a mental rest to stay focused. This was very valuable information that I would like to learn more about. I was in the military for 5 years prior with 3 deployments to Iraq and 1 to Afghanistan. I wish I would have had this training for myself and my soldiers prior to those deployments.
15. I learned a lot. Thanks.
16. Maybe more time devoted to teaching how to handle everyday interactions with Muslims and/or how to ... [comment was not finished]
17. [redacted] seemed very uncomfortable presenting which detracted from his presentation. Overall content was exceptional. Operation Smokescreen – best presentation.

THIS WAS ONE OF THE TOP 3 BLOCKS OF INSTRUCTION I HAVE RECEIVED WHILE AT THE ACADEMY. IT WAS A LOT OF INFORMATION TO TAKE IN, IN SUCH A SHORT & QUICK AMOUNT OF TIME. IT WOULD BE BETTER BROKEN UP OVER 5 DAYS WITH A 4 HOUR BLOCK EVERYDAY. IF POSSIBLE FROM 10-12 AND 1-3 SO THERE'S A LUNCH BREAK IN BETWEEN TO HAVE A MENTAL REST TO STAY FOCUSED. THIS WAS VERY VALUABLE INFORMATION THAT I WOULD LIKE TO LEARN MORE ABOUT. I WAS IN THE MILITARY FOR 5 YEARS PRIOR WITH 3 DEPLOYMENTS TO IRAQ AND 1 TO AFGHANISTAN. I WISH I WOULD OF HAD THIS TRAINING FOR MYSELF AND MY SOLDIERS PRIOR TO THOSE DEPLOYMENTS.

Overall, very good course - among the best blocks of instructions we've rec'd at the Academy. Day 3 was very boring however. [Redacted] was a poor presenter and not very interesting. On day 3 the interesting stuff was presented last and was too rushed.

Please be respectful of our time. In the real world, our attention span is > 50 min. At the academy we have so many competing demands and often use our breaks/lunch to make calls, attend appointments etc.

FANTASTIC COURSE — BEST WE'VE HAD IN THE ACADEMY. THE INSTRUCTORS WERE ALL EXPERTS IN THEIR FIELDS & IT WAS EVIDENT. I WOULD HAVE HAD LIKED TO HAVE ALSO SEEN THE SUNNI PERSPECTIVE ON ISLAM IN AMERICA.

THANKS.

Thank you for providing this, an excellent educational. I have a deep respect for your knowledge & experience. My one suggestion would be when you lecture you say "umh" very frequently. This is something I am working on as well & that is why I notice it.

The speech on Islam in N. America should be given more time, I found that to be one of the most important lessons. An in-depth description of how to interact w/ muslims in America would be very helpful & useful.

Overall the lessons were informative, especially for me because I had very little prior knowledge. I also thought the terror/internet presentation could have been more in-depth - how do they find the sites if they find who on sites -> what do they do w/ it? 21

- o I didn't understand what [redacted] does and why it is important. Becoming familiar w/ the symbols of extremist groups was about the only useful information from the block.
- o I think the Hizballah block could have been stronger and more tailored to Hizballah in the U.S.
- o This doesn't pertain to any block in particular, but I would have liked to see an entire block on UBSL and al Qaida. (There's plenty of reading provided and books available, but a step by step presentation on UBSL would be cool.) Mr. Coleman is clearly the authority on UBSL but his presentation was more on how the FBI dealt with AQ and bounced around on things AQ were involved with.

The quality of all instruction was excellent. I did not understand the relevance of much of the material. I felt that much of the material was designed to point out what the common understanding of "terrorism" is with historical and practical information without identifying the point of making such a distinction. Also, I felt that much of the material simply explained common generalizations in "terrorist" terminology. It does not help one identify terrorists simply by calling an activity that everyone does terrorism. More effort should be made to identify what terrorism is and why our training is important.

- Can have a class on interacting with these individuals in a law enforcement setting (i.e. interviews; witness v. suspect/victim; female law enforcement interaction with male suspects, etc.); also more on culture pieces that would assist in building rapport

The Operation Smokescreen briefing was very interesting and informative. It would have been nice to have more time for Islam in North America and more specifically more time and focus on the significance of different types of clothing and other significant indicators ~~of~~ in a persons appearance and items of their possible radicalization level.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.61. Instruction took place over 4 days, beginning with 8 hours on 12 November. Training began with a 50 minute opening block that introduced the subject of terrorism in order to establish underlying principles before specifically discussing Islamic terrorism. This block was taught by Braniff as [redacted] was sick. A new instructor to the CTC, LTC Steven Oluic, PhD. piloted a case study on Balkan Muslim Diaspora communities in the United States on Day 3.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Thank you! The class was excellent.
2. [redacted] Non-interactive. Pretentious. Didn't appreciate the interruptions by [redacted] model of instruction requires facilitation by proctor]. Fromme: Absolutely the best.
3. We need more time for the amount of information that we are given. Other than that it was very useful and well presented. I know as a CT tasked individual that it will help me in my investigations.
4. [redacted] while extremely knowledgeable, does not encourage an interactive class.
5. Need more interaction – videos, pictures, charts, graphs. Too much history, not enough of modern day information.
6. Braniff did an outstanding job.
7. Day 1: Lots of good information. First half very good. Second half was good to average. Appeared to be more of a lecture than an opportunity to form and ask questions. Day 2: Good information. Good job by instructors. Day 3: Lots of information to digest but good info and good instructors. Day 4: Great job by both instructors. Very useful information.
8. Day 1: Both instructors gave very good information and were obviously very knowledgeable. Braniff was more engaging and a better promoter of discussion. [redacted] asked for questions but didn't seem to entertain them as well. Day 2: [redacted] was very knowledgeable of the topics and obviously excited to teach. [redacted] did a good job of giving good background on the history of the area and was easy to understand. Day 3: Olucic was knowledgeable and excited to present. Feel he gave some topics I was interested in a short-shift. [redacted] took a little while to get going, his structure was pretty haphazard and it was a little hard to follow at first.
9. Need more emphasis on Islam in North America to include day-to-day interactions, customs, behaviors, etc. to allow a better understanding of their way of life. Instructors should use only their allotted time so that other instructors can have enough time to present their material.
10. Good presentation. Used too many names, causing me to get lost. Overall good. Nice to get Shi'a view.
11. Day 1: [redacted] was very confusing and spoke well above our education level on the subject matter. Also thought it was a sales pitch for his book. Way too much detail for an introductory class. Would not recommend. I also don't appreciate being called a "cheap bastard" for not buying his book. Day 4: Mr. Fromme did an excellent job. Highly recommend.
12. Very informative, important information. [redacted] was difficult to follow because she said "um" so much it distracted greatly.
13. Braniff/Internet: Video with explanation was excellent. Day 1: So much information presented in strictly lecture/PPT format is just brutal. The instructors are exceptional – very knowledgeable – but it is nearly impossible to stay engaged with a topic that is presented with no variation in teaching techniques. Videos, photos – any kind of media variation would be immensely helpful to help us absorb the material and stay engaged. Day 4: [redacted] is an excellent speaker and transferred an enormous amount of information very well in a short period of time. Lt. Fromme is also a wonderful speaker. Very entertaining and informative. Overall – please try to incorporate video!

b6

14. Braniff: Good presentation skills, very engaging. [redacted] Way too advanced, needs to be simplified and taught at a non-PhD in Islam level.
15. Please devote more time to the "Islam in North America" block because this information is very relevant to an FBI Special Agent. Instructors Braniff and [redacted] did an excellent job of delivering their material in a manner which was easy to follow and interesting.
16. The instructors are very knowledgeable, it is impressive. The only problem is having to sit through hours and hours of PowerPoint and lecture. I do understand there is really no other way to teach it though. The video was a nice break up. It was a ton of information in a short amount of time.
17. [redacted] needs to move out from behind the podium to keep our attention better. It also seemed like he was speaking down to us because we didn't know who he was. [redacted] has done a very good job keeping the presenters on track and connecting them to what we will be doing. Mr. Braniff was very energetic and entertaining, which was necessary for the material covered.
18. Break up Day 1 up into two days. Content was great, but tough to focus in afternoon. Too many names for the intro to Shia Islam. Great topic, just a little confusing. The Balkan presentation seemed a little disjointed although I did learn quite a bit.
19. Too much history and not really enough relevance to the terrorist organizations today. Overall very good except for too much history. Operation Smokescreen presentation was very interesting.
20. More videos! Operation Smokescreen presentation was excellent, great job Bob.
21. Fantastic course and integral to our CT training. A little too detailed at times but very enlightening. Generally, reduce the overall history and incorporate more present day instruction (like Fromme's).

Day 1 - Both instructors gave very good information and were obviously very knowledgeable. Braniff was more engaging and a better promoter of discussion. [redacted] asked for questions but didn't seem to entertain them as well.

Day 2 - [redacted] was very knowledgeable of the topic and obviously excited to teach. [redacted] did a good job of giving good background on the history of the area & was easy to understand.

Day 3 - Olujic was very knowledgeable & excited to present. Feel like he gave some topics I was interested in, short-shrift. [redacted] took a little while to get going, his structure was pretty haphazard and it was a little hard to follow at first.

The instructors are very knowledgeable, it is impressive. The only problem is having to sit through hours + hours of powerpoint and lecture. I do understand that there really is no other way to teach it though. The video was a nice break up. It was a ton of information in a short amount of time.

FANTASTIC COURSE & INTEGRAL TO OUR CT TRAINING.

A LITTLE TOO DETAILED AT TIMES BUT VERY ENLIGHTENING.

GENERALLY, REDUCE THE ^{OVERALL} HISTORY AND INCORPORATE MORE RECENT HISTORY AND PRESENT DAY INSTRUCTION.

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.31. Instruction took place over 4 days, beginning with 8 hours on 25 November. Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, class began at 6AM on the 25th. Training began with a 50 minute opening block that introduced the subject of terrorism in order to establish underlying principles before specifically discussing Islamic terrorism. [redacted] taught a two our block on the Horn of Africa and Somalia. 09-17 was enthusiastic and inquisitive and remained engaged throughout the week of instruction, despite a holiday break and closing on the same day as scheduled afternoon shooting qualifications.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Excellent training particularly the Shia and Sunni schism and the tobacco investigation was great.
2. Improve time management of presentations. Several times the most important information was at the end of the presentation and was forced to be glossed over because too much time was spent at the beginning with the background information that isn't going to be as useful to our jobs. Information was extremely well researched and there is no doubt the instructors are extremely knowledgeable about the subject matter. I think we would benefit from more "so what" analysis and how it applies to us, and less emphasis on a historical lesson.
3. Braniff/Varieties of Sunni Activism and [redacted] Muslim Brotherhood: Went too fast and too in-depth for the average listener.
4. Day 1: Very informative, great information. However it was a little overwhelming and hard to grasp the information for 8 hours straight. If possible, it would have been nice to have some of the information presented on a different day. Day 4: The Al-Qaida case study was informative. However, wish it would have been more organized. We seemed to jump from one topic to the next.
5. CTC needs about 15-20 minutes more time per speaker. Each course felt like 1.5 hours crammed into 1 hour.
6. The Day 3 Intro Shi'a Islam block was a little hard to follow. There was so much information to be put out and the structure of that info was confusing. It seemed as if [redacted] jumped from topic to topic. More time for this block may be helpful to differentiate between Shi'a and Sunni beliefs. Excellent training. I wish more time was available for this subject.
7. Coleman: Very knowledgeable but not enough structure to gain anything from the presentation. Overall [week] a very useful block of instruction.
8. For instructors who are knowledgeable but are not skilled or comfortable in a lesson-style class [redacted] Coleman), suggest that classes are told these will essentially be Q&A sessions based on specific readings. Overall, excellent curriculum.
9. Great sessions, instructors did a great job explaining a difficult and complex topic.
10. Spend more time on Islam in North America. This would be a good 1st hour class so there is adequate time for questions and for the presenter to elaborate on certain customs.
11. [redacted] Horn of Africa and [redacted] Cell Typology: A bit too much bias, be more subjective. [redacted] Radicalization: Very good! [redacted] Iranian Revolution: Very informative. [redacted] Hezbollah: Excellent. Coleman/AQ: Informative but disjointed and slow. Fromme/Operation Smokescreen: Awesome. Braniff: Very energetic and knowledgeable. [redacted] Very educated. Topic of Brotherhood was a bit general. Less history and more practical application would be useful. [redacted] Islam in America: Lacked focus. Too much personal experience, we need more how FBI/Muslim Interactions play out, of best practices for communication.
12. Great training – thanks for your time.
13. Great instruction and the caliber of instructors were amazing. Greatly appreciated and cannot be understated how important this block of instruction is too us.

14. Need more time dedicated to training. This training is invaluable to our mission.
15. Braniff: Very extensive knowledge. [redacted] Great presenter, knowledgeable. [redacted]
A genius in his field, what a nice person. [redacted] Very positive approach to material. All generally good. Fromme: Excellent!
16. Very good presentations, I learned a lot. The only suggestions I have is to improve those areas I rated lower [2s and 3s] by relating the topic more to us in our job, helping us to understand how the information being taught will improve my investigations.
17. More on interacting with Muslims would be helpful.
18. Fromme: Excellent above and beyond.
19. [redacted] and Coleman had good stories but just didn't have a clear idea of what they were trying to convey. The result was rambling and disjointed presentations that didn't convey much value.
20. I would have liked to hear more about the course "Islam in North America."
21. If the videos are shown to have us listen and learn from the audio – please stop talking all the way through them. Hizballah and Islam in North America – Hizballah ran long and cut time from the next lecture. I believe we would have benefited more from having Islam in America first in the day and let it run longer if need be. [redacted] should have shared more about this topic and not used as much time on his own FBI interviews, as unfortunate as it may have been, we need to hear more about the topic. Day 4: Very good!
22. Coleman came unprepared and did not have anything to present. He did better once he began the slides but even then was unable to present a coherent/well reasoned argument.

Very good presentations, I learned alot. The only suggestions I have is to improve those areas I rated lower, by relating the topic more to us in our job, helping us to understand how the information being taught will improve my investigations.

 I believe we would have benefitted more from having the * first in the day & let it run longer if need be. [Redacted] should have shared more about this topic & not used as much time on his own FBI interview, as unfortunate as it may have been, we needed to hear more about the topic.

Summary:

09-18 was an engaged class that consistently asked questions throughout each block of instruction and demonstrated a great deal of interest in the material. Class Survey Comments:

1. I really enjoyed this Islam in America section. Wish there was more time for practical, real world stories in this block.

2. Fromme's case study presentation was very well put together and delivered. [redacted] insight was really unique and interesting. Braniff's knowledge was pretty extraordinary. Everything was very professional. b6
3. More videos are needed to help capture our attention. Too much PowerPoint.
4. Do not read PowerPoint slides line by line: we can do that, please just talk about the slides and expand. Braniff did well keeping the class involved (humor, tone, pace, and using the white board). [redacted] knows his stuff but needs to spice it up more with more direct questions and class involvement and not so much bullet by bullet reading; too many "uhm's" [redacted] did great, but read her notes a lot; good use of board and videos; too many "uhm's". [redacted] did a great job; good humor and stories. [redacted] was very knowledgeable. He needed to relate his lecture to us a little more so it is not all from a socio-political angle. Coleman could talk about the case more and less about his bio that doesn't pertain to AQ. He didn't talk about "The Looming Tower" nor have time to answer real questions. Fromme was very engaging, great detail and presentation. b6
5. Mr. Fromme was by far the best instructor. He had an uncanny ability to use humor for entertainment, but to also make his points.
6. All instructors are clearly experts in their fields of study. I'm grateful to have instructors that care about what they do. Instructor [redacted] is very good, but after lunch, it was hard to stay awake because he just talked the whole time. He could write on the white board, show more movies, something to help keep us awake. Excellent instruction. I wish all instruction was that good. b6
7. Needed more time for Islam in America. It started late to begin with and there was no time to ask questions (or finish the slides). There was no structure to AQ Case Study and I don't know what I was supposed to get out of it. It certainly was not a case study of AQ (which would have been interesting).
8. The instructors were extremely knowledgeable. Mr. Braniff is a very good lecturer. I found the instruction to be relevant and good at providing the proper background for people with little knowledge on the topic. I thoroughly enjoyed Mr. Fromme's presentation. It was informative and had good takeaways from an investigation.
9. Great instruction! Thanks, guys!
10. The Islamic Extremism and Internet class did not have the same PowerPoint slides as in the book.
11. Time management: especially regarding PowerPoint. If questions/tangents develop, some instructors still cite every slide. Better to have/know the high points to better stick to the schedule – skipping secondary points. All speakers were very good.
12. A specific thank you to [redacted] for talking with us about his perception of our agency and how we can improve relations with the Muslim community. I am quite grateful for his service for us. The case study Operation Smokescreen was a very good presentation. This CTC training was a great component of the New Agent Training. b6
13. The Islam in North America lecture should have been longer. This seems most pertinent to our actual duties. There was too much detail in the Iranian Revolution and Hizballah lectures. I got lost a bit and didn't want time taken away from the next lecture.
14. Hope to have a timeline of Islam.

15. Excellent training.

16. This is excellent and valuable training. I hope it stays permanently as part of New Agent training for all classes.

17. Braniff was great, very knowledgeable, very interactive with the class and answered questions. [redacted] is very knowledgeable, but I would like more opportunity for interaction and discussion with him on the material. [redacted] had good information and presentation. [redacted] had a good presentation and good grasp of the material and showed how it applies to us. [redacted] was very good. I wish there was more time in his section. Great info. [redacted] was a good presenter and very knowledgeable. He gave a good overview in his lecture. Very helpful and interactive. Coleman had good overall advice for us. Very helpful, but no case study. Fromme's class was great and very interesting and informative. Very good presentation, he made it very enjoyable.

- DO NOT READ PPT SLIDES LINE-BY-LINE: WE CAN DO THAT, PLS JUST TALK ABOUT THE SLIDES & EXPAND.

- BRANIFF DID WELL KEEPING CLASS INVOLVED (Humor, TONE, PACE & USING WHITE BOARD).

[Redacted] KNOWS HIS STUFF BUT NEEDS TO SPICE IT UP MORE W/ MORE DIRECT QUESTIONS, CLASS INVOLVEMENT, NOT SO MUCH BULLET-BY-BULLET READING; TOO MANY "UHM's"

[Redacted] DID GREAT, BUT READ HER NOTES A LOT; Good USE OF BOARD & VIDEOS; TOO MANY "UHM's"

[Redacted] DID A GREAT JOB; GOOD HUMOR & STORIES

[Redacted] WAS VERY KNOWLEDGEABLE - TRY TO RELATE IT TO US A LITTLE MORE SO IT'S NOT ALL FROM A SOCIO-POLITICAL ANGLE

- COLEMAN COULD TALK ABOUT THE CASE MORE & LESS ABOUT HIS BIO THAT DOESN'T PERTAIN TO AQ; DIDN'T TALK ABOUT "LOOMERS TOWER" NOR HAVE TIME TO ANSWER REAL QUESTIONS

- FROMME WAS VERY ENGAGING, GREAT DETAIL & PRESENTATION

All ~~from~~ instructors clearly experts in their field of study. I'm grateful for instructors that care about what they do. Instructor [Redacted] is very good but after lunch it was hard to stay awake because he just talked the whole time. He could write on the white board, show more movies, something to help keep us awake.

① Need more time for this class. It started late to begin with and there was no time to ask questions (or finish the slide show).

② There was no structure to the class and I don't know what I was supposed to get out of the class. It certainly wasn't a case study of Al-Qaida (which would have been interesting)

The instructors were extremely knowledgeable. Mr. Braniff is a very good lecturer. I found the instruction to be relevant and good at providing the proper background for people with little knowledge on the topic. I thoroughly enjoyed Mr. Fromme's presentation. It was informative and had good take-aways from an investigation.

If questions/tangents develop, some instructors still cite every slide. Better to have/know the high points to better stick to schedule - skipping secondary topics.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Would have liked to receive additional information regarding Muslims in America and their customs/beliefs, how best to interact with them, etc. Overall, the CTC block has been extremely interesting and useful.
2. Great organization of materials and references. Speakers were excellent!

3. Try to get more time from leadership, this information is so relevant and interesting, I would have loved more of it. Most of our training is so obvious but yet so much time is spent on it. I would have loved to have at least 20 more hours of this. Overall, this training was amazing, all the instructors were so insightful!
4. More videos would help with driving home points re: terrorist groups, incidents.
5. Excellent, clear cut practical knowledge. Invaluable for new investigators in the CT fight.
6. Perhaps we can have a block on other terrorist groups: (i.e.) IMU, Abu Sayaff, Jemah Islamiyah. But great job!
7. Great lectures. The instructors are very knowledgeable and made lectures interesting. Would have liked more info on how to deal with Muslim Americans.
8. Include a larger block of instruction regarding Islam in North America.
9. Sped through a lot of material. Would benefit from more time on these topics, specifically the Islam in the US block.
10. CTC Intro could be cut out to give more time for Islam in America.
11. The Islam in North America block was particularly relevant/helpful. If possible, this block should be expanded in time. Outstanding program overall.
12. Too little time spent on Islam in North America. This quite possibly could have been the most important block. Speaker was great and well informed just not enough time.
13. [redacted] You should spend more time on Arabs/Muslims in the U.S. This is very important and it was barely touched on.
14. All instructors appeared to have expert knowledge in their areas of concentration. This came across in their lectures and made learning easier and engaging.
15. Islam and Militancy: Great historic lineage. Tenets of Hamas: Great linkage. Islam in North America: Not enough time, jumpy. [redacted] Introduction of your background. [redacted] Great information, slow down. Very knowledgeable of topic, alter briefing style to better engage audience. Add a class on the naming convention of Islamic languages.
16. [redacted] I thought he did an outstanding job of presenting material, new to most members of the class, at a level that we could understand. He did a great job of expanding on important issues so as to ensure a complete understanding of the topic. Braniff: Great job of covering a large amount of information while trying to keep it more informal. I would have liked to see more on the long-term vision of Hamas and the Muslim Brotherhood. Particularly the role of Hamas in government. If they take over the government, they will no longer be able to just fill in the gaps of social services. Wouldn't they be faced with the faltering economy just as the PLO was? If this is the case, will Hamas just keep a minimal role and continue to build support through filling in the social service gaps? [redacted] He brought a more recent point of view of a very volatile area. His recommendation to break up meetings with special visa awardees in order to make it more comfortable for them and to build a foundation for a relationship _____. I would have liked it if he had a section covering either upbringing in Iraq, or a basic generalized overview of an upbringing in Iraq. For many people in class they have no idea of life in a country where there is a Sunni-Shia split, I think discussing this friction would be very beneficial. This was by far the best training we have obtained since arriving at the Academy. I wish there was more time allowed to expand on each of these areas further.

I know it is not in your control, but I wish this class was broke up a little more and had reading assignments in between classes. I think having a few days in between classes would allow for some of the information to be fully absorbed and understood. Great job by all of the presenters, thank you very much!

17. Good introductory information on the history and geography of the Middle East. I'm sure that many people (including myself) have a very limited knowledge of the area. The entire course presents information in a clear, easily understandable way that helps demystify the origins, ideologies, and differences of various religious groups and terrorist organizations. More time could have been spent talking about dealing with Muslims in America.
18. [redacted] was great, insightful and very beneficial. Thank you for your courage. I do wish we had more customs training and explanations, i.e. gestures, clothing, and practices.
19. Very well organized. Highly intelligent, knowledgeable and interesting array of speakers. Well rounded view of the topic. One of the best blocks of instruction we have had. Only suggestion, maybe a little more time on how to bridge the gap between Muslims in America, especially immigrant Muslims in America, and law enforcement. Otherwise, great job, thank you.
20. I really enjoyed the vast level of expertise shown by all instructors.
21. Extremely useful block of instruction.
22. The Cell Typology block was very redundant – not the instructors fault, just how the material was ordered. Would have liked more time on Dan Coleman's presentation. Loved the Smokescreen presentation.
23. This was the best training the academy has provided.
24. This type of training should be scheduled throughout the 21 weeks. It is by far the best training received to this point. All instructors were extremely knowledgeable and professional. The opportunity to hear and speak to an Iraqi immigrant was very valuable. Mr. Coleman's briefing was excellent and very valuable as well. Lt. Fromme's presentation also very informative and presented well.

But great job!

[Redacted] I thought he did an outstanding job of presenting material, new to most members of the class, at a level that we could understand. He did a great job of expanding on important issues so as to ensure a complete understanding of the topic.

Bill Braniff Great job of covering a large amount of information, while trying to keep it more informal. I would have liked to see more on the long term vision of Hamas and the Muslim Brotherhood. Particularly the role of Hamas in government. If they take over the government they will no longer be able to just fill in the gaps of social services, they will be responsible for all ^{b6} _{b7c} social services. Wouldn't they be faced with the faltering economy just as the PLO was? If that is the case, will Hamas just keep a minimal role and continue to build support through filling the social service gaps.

[Redacted] He brought a more recent point of view of a very volatile area. His recommendation to break up meetings with Special Visa Awardees in order to make it more comfortable for them and to build a foundation for a relationship. I would have liked it if he had a section covering either his upbringing in Iraq, or a basic generalized overview of an upbringing in Iraq. For many people in class they have no idea of life in a country where there is a Sunni/Shia Split, I think discussing that friction would be very beneficial.

Good introductory information on the history and geography of the middle east. I'm sure that many people (including myself) have a very limited knowledge of the area. The entire course presents information in a clear, easily understandable way that helps demystify the origins, ideologies, and differences of various religious groups and terrorist organizations. More time could have been spent talking about dealing with Muslims in America.

very well organized. highly intelligent, knowledgeable & interesting array of speakers. well rounded view of the topic. one of the best blocks of instruction we have need. only suggestion, maybe a little more time on how to bridge the gap between muslims in America, especially immigrant muslims in America, & law enforcement.
 otherwise, great job, thank you.

This type of training should be repeated scheduled throughout the 21 ~~months~~ ^{weeks}. It is by far the best training received to this point. All instructors were extremely knowledgeable and professional. The opportunity to hear and speak to an Iraqi immigrant was very valuable. Mr Coleman's briefing was excellent and very valuable as well. Lt Fromme's presentation also very informative and presented well.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.56. Instruction took place over 4 days, with 8 hours on Day 1 (January 11th). Training began with a 50 minute opening block that introduced the subject of terrorism (modern terrorism, goals, strategies and motivations) in order to establish under-lying principles before specifically discussing Islamic terrorism. The class was engaged throughout the week and asked numerous questions; however, they vocalized feeling distracted on Day 4 due to shooting qualifications scheduled to take place in the afternoon.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Good instructors with lots of knowledge. Would have liked to learn more about the Islamic culture today rather than so much time spent on history. More case examples would be helpful, as well as more videos such as recruiting and propaganda. Overall, it was a good block of information.

2. [] I was very impressed and will use this info in a practical on Friday. Fromme: Very good, great presenter.
3. [] Varieties of Sunni Activism – Very fast. Could have spent more time.
4. [] provided an excellent insight on Shia but I would have followed along easier if he was a little more organized or followed the slides.
5. Presentations were not dynamic enough. Despite my interest in the topics covered, I could not stop from falling asleep. Consider the use of videos or more interaction. [] The Afghan/Pakistan block was incredibly dry. Where is the classified information? I previously worked in the intel community and know for a fact there is a wealth of classified info on these topics out there that would exponentially better the presentations. [] was a fantastic presenter. Well presented. Very knowledgeable. Fromme's presentation was an A+.
6. Very good information. 8 straight hours on day one is a bit much though. It would be great if there was a way to spread it out. The case studies were very good. Fromme: Hizballah/Cigarette case study – fantastic presentation (material and presentation).
7. Thank you – very helpful and useful info!
8. Too much repetition of info between lectures that made it longer and more drawn out than necessary.
9. Good info but hard to retain and keep up with. [] Shia block – Complicated, assumed we had prior knowledge. Overall training: Good info, retained little. It may be effective to pick out a few areas and discuss in more detail. It all looks important but it's difficult to grasp with so much information. Overwhelming and very little retention. A basic vocabulary list would be helpful. This class felt like an advanced foreign language class.
10. The first day is too long. It should/needs to be broken up with something else. Assumption that we have a higher level of previous knowledge of this topic. This assumption is incorrect. Very dry and boring.
11. [] intro was great but might want to distribute a "caveman" outline. Too much of the pre-reading was overly academic for general consumption given the particular nature of the FBI academic environment. [] and [] information was excellent yet dry – difficult to engage upon without relating the material to FBI case work. Though it is a good foundation, it is too academic, excepting the internet block which was contemporary and relevant. I retained more from Three Cups of Tea and military presentations that were less nuanced. [] Intro to Shia was a solid course that reinforced basic tenets, but was haphazard in presentation. [] was excellent, relevant and a good presenter. Day 4 was arguably the best – Fromme: Operation Smokescreen was the most relevant and practical presentation from an investigations perspective.
12. [] First block (Shia) was very informative, though bounced around from slide to slide, difficult to follow. Second block (Muslims in America), personal experience/perspective extremely valuable. All instructors used fillers ("uh" or "um") to the point that it became distracting and annoying. Instructors seemed extremely knowledgeable about subjects ... seems as though you found the right people to teach.
13. Overall, a great course, jam-packed with tons of great information. I wish we had more time with []

14. Lots of great information, hard to digest it all. Thanks!
15. Overall, I tremendously enjoyed the 4 days of exposure to the CTC coursework. It was very well organized and executed. I've been researching the CT field myself for the last few years but a lot of concepts I hadn't really grasped properly were explained and clarified thoroughly. Great job. Please keep up the good work.
16. Wow. Lots of info. [redacted] Iranian Revolution – Great course. Fromme: Operation Smokescreen – Outstanding course.
17. Material needs to be de-conflicted better to avoid some of the repetition. [redacted] [redacted] need to work on presentation skills; too much material to give PowerPoint/academic lecture. Take some tips from Mr. Fromme. [redacted] says "um" about every 5 words. Very distracting. Excellent overall knowledge base of subjects. Excellent diversity of presenters. Great overall history lesson, but needs more "what does this mean to me?" (FBI agent) emphasis. Customs, culture, things we should know when interviewing, etc.
18. [redacted] The Extremism and Internet block didn't cover communications much. It stuck to use of websites and didn't have a lot of value added to our job. [redacted] Afghan/Pak block very dry. Hard to retain and didn't apply to our jobs. Also didn't reference timeframes in the history. I had no clue whether he was talking about the 1600s or 1800s during most of the lecture. Needs a revamp of lecture. [redacted] Great Shia Islam brief. Very interesting and presented well. Islam in North America was also good info when dealing with Muslims here in US. [redacted] Iranian Revolution block was good. Learned a lot. Applied it to our jobs well. [redacted] Cell Typology and Radicalization were great blocks applied to job well. Good advice. Fromme: Smokescreen was very good.
19. [redacted] only spoke of distrust of LE w minimal discussion of Shia.
20. Extreme detail caused me to lose focus at times during presentations. Valuable information so may want to simply some of the data (top-level) shared by academics.
21. Information is good. At times the presentation is not very interactive and tends to be very long. I really appreciated Mr. Coleman and Mr. Fromme's presentations. There was a lot of information given, but it was given in an animated way.

- THE AFGHAN/PAKISTAN BLOCK WAS INCREDIBLY DRY.

* - WHERE IS THE CLASSIFIED INFORMATION? I PREVIOUSLY WORKED IN THE INTEL COMMUNITY & KNOW FOR A FACT THERE IS A WEALTH OF CLASSIFIED INFO ON THESE TOPICS OUT THERE THAT COULD EXTENSIVELY BETTER THESE PRESENTATIONS.

- [] WAS A FANTASTIC PRESENTER. WELL PRESENTED. VERY KNOWLEDGABLE.

Very good information. 8 straight hours on day one is a bit much though. It would be great if there was a way to spread it out.

The case studies were very good.

Hezbollah/Cigarette case study → Fantastic presentation (material and presentation)

It may be more effective to pick out a few areas and discuss in more detail. It all looks important but it's difficult to grasp with so much information. Overwhelming & very little retention.

A basic vocabulary list would be helpful. This class felt like a ^{advanced} foreign language class.

The first day is too long. It should/needs to be broken up with something else Assumption we have a higher level of previous knowledge of this topic. This assumption is incorrect.

[] INTRO WAS GREAT BUT MIGHT WANT TO DISTRIBUTE A "CAVE MAN" OUTLINE - TOO MUCH OF THE PRE-READING WAS OVERLY ACADEMIC FOR GENERAL CONSUMPTION GIVEN THE PECULIAR NATURE OF THE FBI ACADEMIC ENVIRONMENT.

b7c

[] INFORMATION WAS EXCELLENT YET DRY -> DIFFICULT TO ENGAGE UPON WITHOUT RELATING THE MATERIAL TO FBI CASE WORK. THOUGH IT IS A GOOD FOUNDATION, IT IS TOO ACADEMIC, EXCEPTING THE INTERNET BLOCK WHICH WAS CONTEMPORARY + RELEVANT. I RETAINED MORE FROM "THREE CUPS OF TEA" + MILITARY PRESENTATIONS THAT WERE LESS NUANCED. INTRO TO SHIA WAS A SOLID COURSE THAT REINFORCED BASIC TENETS, BUT WAS HAPHAZARD IN PRESENTATION. MOLANI WAS EXCELLENT, RELEVANT, AND A GOOD PRESENTER.

DAY 4 WAS ARGUABLY THE BEST -> OPERATION SMOKE SCREEN WAS THE MOST RELEVANT + PRACTICAL PRESENTATION FROM AN INVESTIGATOR'S PERSPECTIVE.

Overall, I tremendously enjoyed the 4 days of exposure to the CTC courseware. It was very well organized & executed. I've been researching the C.T. field myself for the last few years but a lot of concepts I hadn't really grasped properly were explained & clarified thoroughly. Great job. Please keep up the good work.

material needs to be deconflicted better to avoid some of the repetition.

[Redacted] need to work on presentation skills; too much material to give powerpoint/academic lecture. Takes some tips from Mr. Fromme.

[Redacted] Says "um" about every 5 words. very distracting.

*Excellent overall knowledge base of subjects.
Excellent diversity of presenters.*

Great overall history lesson, but needs more "what does this mean to me?" (FBI Agent) emphasis. Customs, culture, things we should know when interviewing etc.

The 'Extremism and Internet' block didn't cover communications much. It stuck to use of websites and didn't have a lot of value added to our jobs.

Afgan/Pak block very dry. Hard to retain and didn't apply it to our jobs. Also didn't reference time frames in the history. I had no clue whether he was talking about the 1600's or 1800's during most of the lecture. Needs a revamp of lecture great Shia Islam brief. Very interesting and presented well. Islam in N America was also good, it's when dealing w/ muslim here in us.

Iranian Revolution block was good. Learned alot. Applied it to our jobs well Cell Typology & Radicalization were great blocks applied to jobs well. Good balance. Smokescreen was very good Extremic detail caused me to lose focus at times during presentations. Valuable information so may want to simplify some of the data shared by academics. (top level)

Information is good. At times the presentation is not very interactive and tends to be very long.

I really appreciated Mr. Coleman & Mr. Fromme's presentations. There was a lot of information given, but it was given in an animated way.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.23. NAC 10-01 was a large class that remained highly engaged throughout all four days of instruction. The class asked questions consistently throughout the week.

A change to the Day 3 curriculum was piloted: The material normally resented in the Iranian Revolution block was wrapped into the presentations on Shia Islam and Hizballah. This allowed expansion of the Muslims in America block to two hours, including approximately 20 minutes on Arabic naming convention. This change seemed well received by the class.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Fromme and Operation Smokescreen were very useful and informative.

2. Excellent!
3. The straight "1" rankings are legitimate, not out of laziness. This has been one of the most relevant and well-structured blocks we have had. Continue to bring in the real players, experienced individuals, and knowledgeable researchers who are on the cutting edge of current events. Excellent program!
4. Awesome – well worth it! Some of the best classes I've had at the Academy! Keep up the good work. Thanks.
5. All excellent presenters! Need more time for these topics.
6. Training is extremely good and valuable. All instructors were very prepared and very enthusiastic to teach the subject. However, I would recommend to go 30 minutes and break for 5 minutes, rather than going for 60 minutes or sometimes 65 minutes without a break. Going and talking for so long made it difficult to concentrate on the instructor and the focus of attention was usually lost. I would also recommend throwing more videos into the presentations, like the ones [redacted] presented during Radicalization and Cell Typology. Mr. Fromme and [redacted] were excellent. Tone of voice and teaching methods were great. On the other side [redacted] seemed a little bit unorganized and not prepared for the presentation. I would also try to focus the course more on the "present" rather than all the history. Not saying that history is not important but focus the course more on how these terrorists are affecting our nation and the FBI.
7. Fromme: Best Presenter. Great course, great info, great presenters. 4-8 hour blocks are just too long. Too much info to take in.
8. This has been some of the best instruction we've received. My only suggestion for improvement involves the timing of the suggested reading list. We were given the textbook about 3 months ago and were only told to start reading it. Then we were given the reading list and other materials the day before class started. I would have liked to have more time to properly prepare for the class. [redacted] Very knowledgeable but not very engaging. Fromme: Very engaging. Thanks!
9. Mr. Fromme was great!
10. The instructors were fantastic. They were very knowledgeable without any sense of arrogance. The training materials provided are well organized. I really appreciated this block of instruction and learned a lot.
11. Overall, the instruction and relevance were outstanding, great job! Outside of your control, it is a lot of material to digest in a little amount of time. [redacted] and Fromme both did a phenomenal job during their instruction also.
12. Great lectures. Some of the most interesting info we've received at Quantico. Thrilled that the FBI and CTC have established and maintained the educational relationship.
13. Very informative and not only gave a great overall picture, but enlightening specifics as well. Thank you for taking the time to do this, in this day and age information is invaluable. Overall, I found [redacted] presentation the most cohesive and informative.
14. Increase identification and highlighting of portions of instruction that's relevant to our role as Special Agents. Ensure the provided PowerPoint slides in book coincide with the ones presented in class. Overall the instruction was great, due to the quality of instructors – very knowledgeable and professional – especially [redacted] [redacted] Great realistic presentations by Mr. Coleman and Mr. Fromme.

b6
b7c

15. Include a class dedicated to dealing with Muslims as an FBI Agent to include dos/don'ts during an interview, a search, etc. Also some advice on running a Muslim, sources of good practices and bad practices taught by an FBI Agent. Overall, this is an excellent course for law enforcement to get a background of Muslim and terrorist organizations.
16. Mr. Fromme is an excellent speaker. More time should be dedicated to his lecture.
17. [redacted] is very knowledgeable; however, it was very difficult to stay focused during his lecture because it was essentially the audio version of a dry history book. It did not seem to have the historical relevance that the Islam lecture did. It should be focused on the actual S. Asian terror groups and how to investigate, interview, and interrogate them. As well as their structure, tactics, etc. I would also add videos to illustrate these points and increase interest. Four hours is a very long time to try to stay engaged in one day, so I suggest breaking the blocks into two-hour sessions over a longer period of time if necessary. Or, make the breaks longer.
18. Day 1 would have been better if more attention was paid to taking breaks every hour. More frequent breaks help us keep focused! Islam in North America [redacted] would have been more helpful if it was presented in purely discussion format without the lecture portion, maybe this block could begin with an interviewing scenario. We received our reading materials the day before our class started. If we could have gotten these a week before, then we would have been better prepared. I wish that we got the Operation Smokescreen [Fromme] lecture earlier, it was the best instruction that we received on an investigation so far! I appreciate [redacted] enthusiastic instruction style! She kept the course material interesting and exciting!
19. This is a lot of great information. Sometimes it is too much at one time but given the time constraints it is understandable. It was interesting to have discussions but sometimes seemed like too much PowerPoint. Open it up for more Q&A and spend those Q&A sessions in between the PowerPoint to help bring attention level up. Operation Smokescreen [Fromme] presentation was great!
20. Mr. Coleman should leave his political views of the Iraq war out of his presentation. It detracted from his instruction.
21. [redacted] Great instruction. Would rather follow book to be able to follow along. Easier to understand words when looking at them.
22. Overall excellent presentations and presenters. It would be nice to have more time with Mr. Coleman. Mr. Fromme's presentation was excellent!
23. This information is very useful. The presenters were awesome. I wish we had more time with your unit.

Training is extremely good and valuable. All instructors were very prepared and very enthusiastic to teach the subject. However, I would recommend to go 30 minutes and break for 5 minutes, rather than going 60 or sometimes 65 minutes w/out a break. Going and talking for so long, made it difficult to concentrate on the instructor and the focus of attention was usually lost. I would also recommend throwing more videos to the presentations, like the ones [redacted] presented during Radicalization and Cell Typology.

Mr Fromme and [redacted] were excellent. Tone of voice and teaching methods were great. On the other side [redacted] seemed a lil bit unorganized and not prepared for the presentation.

I would also try to focus the course more on the "Present" rather than all the history. Not saying that history is not imp. but focus the course more on how these terrorists are affecting our nation and the FBI.

This has been some of the best instruction we've received. My only suggestion for improvement involves the timing of the suggested reading list. We were given the textbook about 3 months ago and were only told to start reading it. Then we were given the reading list and other materials the day before class started. I would've liked to have more time to properly prepare for the class.

Thanks!

* [redacted] is very knowledgeable; however, it was very difficult to stay focused during his lecture because it was essentially the audio version of a dry history book. It did not seem to have the historical relevance that the Islam lecture did. It should be focused on the actual S.Asian terror groups and how to investigate, interview, & interrogate them. As well as their structure, tactics, etc... I would also add videos to illustrate these points and increase interest.

- Four hours is a very long time to try to stay engaged in one day; so I suggest breaking the blocks into two hour sessions over a longer period of time if necessary. Or, make the breaks longer.

- * ISLAM IN NORTH AMERICA WOULD HAVE BEEN MORE HELPFUL IF IT WAS PRESENTED IN A PURELY DISCUSSION FORMAT WITHOUT THE LECTURE PORTION. MAYBE THIS BLOCK COULD BEGIN WITH AN INTERVIEWING SCENARIO.
- * WE RECEIVED OUR READING MATERIALS THE DAY BEFORE OUR CLASS STARTED. IF WE COULD HAVE GOTTEN THESE A WEEK BEFORE, THEN WE WOULD HAVE BEEN BETTER PREPARED.

There is a lot of great information. Sometimes it is too much at one time but given the time constraints it is understandable. It was interesting to have discussions but sometimes it seemed like too much Powerpoint. Open it up for more Q+A and spread those ^{Q+A} sessions in between the Powerpoint to help bring the attention level up.

Operation Smokescreen presentation was great!

Mr Coleman should leave his political views of the Iraq war out of his presentation. It detracted from his ~~presentation~~ instruction.

FBI-CTC Collaborative
After Action Report
NAC 10-03

Date of Report: April 7, 2010
Class: 10-03
Training Dates: 2 April – 7 April 2010
Class Supervisor: [redacted]
Field Counselor(s): –
Class Size: 41
CTC Operations Officer/Author: [redacted]

b6

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.41. NAC 10-03 was a moderately sized class that was highly engaged throughout all four days of instruction. SA [redacted] attended much of the Day One training, and SSA [redacted] observed during the Radicalization block on Day Two. As piloted during 10-01, the Day 3 material normally presented in the Iranian Revolution block was wrapped into the presentations on Shia Islam and Hizballah, taught by [redacted]. This allowed expansion of the Muslims in America block to two hours, including approximately 20 minutes on Arabic naming convention. This modification seemed well received by the class.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Need more time so topics are not rushed through. Add time for discussion and clarification.

2. This has been the most informative training on terrorism I've ever had. Thank you! [redacted] [redacted] Need more time with this guy, very relevant to our mission. Fromme: Simply outstanding instructor.
3. [redacted] Great presenter, very knowledgeable [redacted] Great presenter! Fromme: Great presentation.
4. Need more info on the Taliban during the Afghanistan presentation. They are the current threat in Afghanistan, al Qaeda is a smaller player there. Given the fact that we do run missions in Afghanistan we don't need to overlook them. I've seen how they operate personal and they are a definite threat and still in existence with heavy influence on the local populace. Fromme: Best thing ever!!!
5. [redacted] Needs more time. Coleman: Excellent info, needs more structure. Fromme: Great instructor.
6. For someone that knew very little about the topic, I feel that I have learned a tremendous amount of information that has educated me and armed me with knowledge to use out in the field. All presenters were great and very knowledgeable about material being discussed. [redacted] Need more of this for our jobs.
7. [redacted] Needs more time.
8. [redacted] Muslim Brotherhood: This block of instruction was too long, more time needs to be given to Islam in America [redacted] Muslims in America: This was the most important block of instruction and it should have been longer. What we need to know as agents was addressed in this block.
9. Fromme/Operation Smokescreen: Fantastic block, best of course. Mr. Fromme was great.

Day 1+2 - The lectures are highly informative and the presenters are true subject matter experts. My only suggestion is to incorporate more visuals or video clips to change the rhythm, every now and then.

Day 3 - Well done. But careful not to show only the "violent" or confrontational aspects of Shi'a Islam, it, in fact it stands as a peaceful religion.

Day 4 - Operation Smokescreen may have been the most fascinating presentation of the FBI training experience. Great way to close a very informative week!

I thought it was a little distracting that people in the back of the room kept interrupting the instructor to make points of clarification that weren't always needed.

Also time management wasn't the best in some of the blocks of instruction.

On the whole, however, the course was good. I learned a lot that I am sure will be very beneficial.

much more basic.

• Add the English translations of the Islamist group names on your slides. For example, underneath "Al Takfir wal Hijra" put the English translation in parenthesis

• spell Al Qaeda differently on different pages

• [redacted] is very knowledgeable, but... with his accent, he speaks much too quickly, and assumes too much. His presentation is all over the place.

• Lower rank's need reworking. Many are great, but many are unclear

• Dan Coleman is a legend... just doesn't present well. Keep him on this however.

• Mr. Bob Fromme needs to spell U.S. Marine Corp(S) correctly on his slides.

Very informative blocks of instruction. Some were more disjointed than others and while relevant they didn't convey the information effectively. The blocks on investigative techniques were some of the best and most useful.

THESE COURSES WERE EXTREMELY CONDUCTED. I DON'T THINK MOST OF THE INSTRUCTORS KNEW THEIR AUDIENCE - TOO MANY DETAILS (DATES, NAMES, EVENTS) WERE THROWN AT US THAT IT WAS ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO RETAIN ANY OF THE INFORMATION. SOME OF THE INSTRUCTORS, ALTHOUGH EXTREMELY INTELLIGENT, WERE VERY HARD TO UNDERSTAND DUE TO THEIR THICK ACCENTS.

FROMME WAS AN EXCELLENT INSTRUCTOR - MUCH WAS LEARNED FROM HIS PRESENTATION.

NAC 10-03

Date of Report: April 7, 2010
 Class: 10-03
 Training Dates: 2 April – 7 April, 2010
 Class Supervisor: [redacted]
 Field Counselor(s): --
 Class Size: 41
 CTC Operations Officer/Author: [redacted]

b6

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.41. NAC 10-03 was a moderately sized class that was highly engaged throughout all four days of instruction. SA [redacted] attended much of the Day One training, and SSA [redacted] observed during the Radicalization block on Day Two. As piloted during 10-01, the Day 3 material normally presented in the Iranian Revolution block was wrapped into the presentations on Shia Islam and Hizballah, taught by [redacted]. This allowed expansion of the Muslims in America block to two hours, including approximately 20 minutes on Arabic naming convention. This modification seemed well received by the class.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Need more time so topics are not rushed through. Add time for discussion and clarification.

2. [redacted] This has been the most informative training on terrorism I've ever had. Thank you! [redacted] [redacted] Need more time with this guy, very relevant to our mission. Fromme: Simply outstanding instructor.
3. [redacted] Great presenter, very knowledgeable. [redacted] Great presenter! Fromme: Great presentation.
4. Need more info on the Taliban during the Afghanistan presentation. They are the current threat in Afghanistan, al Qaeda is a smaller player there. Given the fact that we do run missions in Afghanistan we don't need to overlook them. I've seen how they operate personal and they are a definite threat and still in existence with heavy influence on the local populace. Fromme: Best thing ever!!!
5. [redacted] Needs more time. Coleman: Excellent info, needs more structure. Fromme: Great instructor.
6. For someone that knew very little about the topic, I feel that I have learned a tremendous amount of information that has educated me and armed me with knowledge to use out in the field. All presenters were great and very knowledgeable about material being discussed. [redacted] Need more of this for our jobs.
7. [redacted] Needs more time.
8. [redacted] Muslim Brotherhood: This block of instruction was too long, more time needs to be given to Islam in America! [redacted] Muslims in America: This was the most important block of instruction and it should have been longer. What we need to know as agents was addressed in this block.
9. Fromme/Operation Smokescreen: Fantastic block, best of course. Mr. Fromme was great.

Best thing ever!!

-Need more info on the Taliban during the Afghanistan presentation. They are the current threat in Afghanistan. Al Qaeda is a smaller player there. Given the fact that we do run missions in Afghanistan we don't need to overlook them. I've seen how they operate personally and they are a definite threat and still in existence with heavy influence on the local populace.

 I feel that I have learned a tremendous amount of information that has educated me and armed me with knowledge to use out in the field.
 All presentors were great, and very knowledgeable about material

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.48. NAC 10-04 was a smaller class that remained engaged throughout the four days of scheduled instruction. During 10-04, a combined 90-minute Muslim Brotherhood and Hamas block was piloted. The intention was to then cover Arabic naming during the last 30 minutes of the day; however, the class asked a tremendous number of questions that filled the remaining time. For this reason, Arabic naming was instead covered during the Muslims in America block on Day Three.

Class Survey Comments:

1. The course on Shi'ism was excellent. Intro to Islam very well done. Case Studies closing great wrap-up.
2. Very informative, thoroughly enjoyed the instruction given. Well prepared and organized. I found the instruction/course to be very beneficial.
3. Thank you very much for such a wonderful block of instruction and tying it into our CT work on a daily basis – I so enjoyed it! I was in the Air Force for many years and feel much more knowledgeable in only one week with this course! I didn't really understand the message in the AQ Case Study block.
4. Day 1, The Muslim Brotherhood – too overwhelming. Too detailed in general ideology. Theory based, at times difficult to see direct connection to LEO. Need more specifics of how transport/money movement, weapons/arms, movement/training, etc. How do we “get” these guys in criminal terms...that is what we use against them.
5. Overall, very professional, top-notch instruction! Clear that subject matter expertise is there and appreciate the caliber of instruction during this block. Would recommend scheduling sooner in the curriculum. The subject is excellent, the audience may be waning because of the late timing in curriculum. Thank you for [bringing] your enthusiasm to CT study.
6. Thank you for your time!
7. More videos.
8. Phenomenal training. Very well organized with great instruction. Definitely keep this within the curriculum.
9. PowerPoint slides in book are too small – there is good info and can't read the maps/stats. Great class – thank you.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.44. NAC 10-05 was scheduled to take place as five, four-hour days rather than the typical four-day schedule with eight hours on Day One. Covering the material in half-day blocks appeared well received by the class, and 10-05 remained engaged throughout the week of instruction. Further, the Muslim Brotherhood and Hamas blocks were combined into a 90-minute block as piloted during class 10-04. This allowed approximately 30 minutes at the end of Day Two to present a brief overview of Arabic naming, which was previously covered during the two-hour Muslims in America block. This modification allowed more time for discussion and Q&A with the class.

Class Survey Comments:

- 1) It would be beneficial to have larger print outs of the Islam demographic maps. It would be nice to have all of the maps in the reference section.

- 2) Instructors placed several graphical representations on dry erase board to assist in depicting connections of people, groups. Having these graphical depiceters was helpful and it would be nice to have some of these in this manual.
- 3) Fascinating material. I wish the historical portions were longer. I didn't learn much during the Internet portion ~ don't know what specifically we needed to retain from that section.
- 4) Too much information in too short of time. Very little info will be retained after class is over. The class needs more interaction, too much lecture.
- 5) I felt we didn't address the issue from a law enforcement perspective. It was more of a history/politics/religion class.
- 6) We were issued the textbooks very early on, but the reading assignments (the four chapters) came much later - it would be helpful to get the reading assignment earlier.
- 7) Amazing wealth of information and scholarly effort. Great take-aways. Would like more visual learning methods/videos to keep attention of students.

After Action Report
NAC 10-06

Date of Report: June 4, 2010
Class: 10-06
Training Dates: May 25-June 1, 2010
Class Supervisor:
Field Counselor(s): --
Class Size: 40
CTC Operations Officer/Author: Bill Braniff

Summary:

On a scale of 1 to 5, with one being Excellent and five being Poor, the Overall CTC training was rated a 1.48. The students indicated that the historical focus of the organizations covered could be improved if more specific examples of terrorism were discussed in greater detail in addition to the historical, cultural, political, and theological context. CTC discussed this point in its recent curriculum development conference and will incorporate more specific examples of terrorism as mini-case studies where applicable. That being said, the CTC continues to invite positive narrative feedback, such as comment 17 below.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Good content and instruction

2. Expanding the notes so they can be used as a reference. PowerPoint's don't contain a lot of detail. Really enjoyed Operation Smokescreen.
3. The classes are great, but 4 hours in a row for a week is tough. If it could get broken up, it would be better.
4. Information was excellent, but the five 4 hour blocks prohibit proper retention. Fromme was excellent.
5. The lecturers were amazing and full of knowledge. The presentation of this knowledge could be improved, however. After 5 days of PowerPoint, we have viewed hundreds of slides and everything starts to meld together. Perhaps one or two of the lecturers daily should be without PowerPoint. The lecturers have so much to share that they shouldn't be bound by the slides. Our class seems to be more engaged when talking to us, not lecturing to us.
6. Four hour blocks are extremely long for students trying to grasp the concepts. I found the blocks very non-interactive, so with the duration of lectures, focus levels start to fail. PowerPoint is a great tool, unfortunately it loses its helpfulness/usefulness after a few hours. The macro view is one way of shaping the course, but as CT is the top priority of the FBI, we need to start slowly. The course needs to be extended, so training/concepts can be instilled. The instructors are well seasoned, high quality, and focus on relative items. Overall, I think the structure works.
7. This course has attempted to cover entirely too much information in too short a period of time. In my opinion this course should be taught at a much broader level and much less specific. The first day it was explained we would be looking at the 30,000 ft level but many in the class believe this has not been the case. Additionally, I would like to see much more text in the binder provided than PowerPoint slides. PowerPoint provides only a fraction of information where text is much more descriptive and can be understood months and years from now. Along those lines please try and teach some sessions without the use of PowerPoint. It can be a useful tool but 7,000 slides over 4 days is counter-productive. Mr. Fromme's brief was by far the best of the week. We should have more speakers like Mr. Fromme showing real investigations with real techniques.
8. Incredibly knowledgeable instructors, however, too much information, at too fast a pace, in too little time. The historical aspect of Islam is given far too much detail and generally did not seem to have any nexus to LEO's. Slow the course down and bring it to an appropriate level of complexity.
9. Instructors were very knowledgeable. However, the amount of information provided for those that don't have much background in this area was overwhelming at times. Presentations were lengthy without having a break from PowerPoint teaching style.
10. All of the instructors were passionate about the topics and well-prepared. I would recommend that as a course less detail be given. It was extremely overwhelming for those students who have no background in the material taught. Many students were lost early on and it was all downhill from there. Also, since there is so much lecturing, more videos/activities would help in the learning of the material tremendously.
11. The lecturers and lectures were some of the best, if not the best we've received at the Academy. I rate and compare the lecturers/lectures against each other. If rated against other lectures, they would all be 1's.
12. I learned a lot, thank you.

13. [redacted] was great, just not enough time was given to him. I would have liked to have more time dedicated to culture/interactions/customs.
14. This week of class was some of the most relevant instruction of the entire Academy. West Point is great.
15. Found the class more effective the last day when we went through actual cases and case studies. Should try to incorporate more real world investigations and investigative techniques throughout the course.
16. I could not follow [redacted]. He stayed behind the podium and went verbatim off the slides. There have got to be more examples that would make this section easier to understand.
17. Worked CT in the US Army for more than 10 years and this was by far the best CT training I have ever attended. Some of my training include [redacted] Arabic culture awareness training, etc.
18. [redacted] was an excellent speaker. All the instructors were very knowledgeable, and experts in what they taught, but quite often were just too hard to follow. Mr. Fromme was also great; he provided tons of useful information for investigations.
19. Show some more relevant videos – death by PowerPoint can be exhausting. More class involvement – ask us stuff during lecture – encourage discussion. Too much information at once. Fromme was great!
20. Day 5 was the best from my perspective.
21. A timeline with major events and dates for territories and /or groups would help – provide this on the 1st day. Also, it seems like some of the instructors avoided talking about particular terrorists and events and instead talked about a generalized history of religion/territory /ideology. Case studies on particular terrorists and/or events would provide better perspective and context. We're trying to fight these guys and dismantle these organizations, not write a thesis. You ask for questions and invite debate without providing much of a context that most of us are familiar with – perhaps if more mainstream events were incorporated into the lecture you'd have more students venture to ask questions and participate. Also, PowerPoint's aren't effective. We've been subjected to PPT's almost every day for 17 weeks. I liked the fact that at least the instructors weren't simply reading off the slides like we have had in many of our other classes, but if you made the class more interactive you might have more success. Present case studies and let the NAT's evaluate what would or would not be successful preventive measures. Would this be legal? Would it offend the person's culture? How could we do it better? There in no way CTC is going to teach us the entirety of Islamic history and culture in 5 days. However, you can teach us practical lessons we can apply to our investigations and interaction with people in these types of cases. Braniff's discussion of Mumbai on Thursday was awesome. Braniff rocks! Don't skip through the videos. If you're going to show them you should show them in their entirety; this would allow for more discussion about the video. Mr. Fromme was the best presentation out of all of them. His real-world experience coupled with the organized PowerPoint was great. He incorporated investigative techniques into the case study which was great for us as new investigators. He should be given more than 2 hours.
22. Great course! Great information! Great instructors! All the instructors did a great job of addressing student's questions. More time! This course could be 40 hours. It was a lot of material and although it was presented well, it would be nice to have a few more days to cover it.

23. This was the best training/classroom instruction we received on one of our career paths. The only thing I would ask for is more time.
24. I found the mention of "questions to ask during an interview" (example: who is your Marja, who is your hero) to be very beneficial. If possible, I think more of these/a list of "indicator" questions would be very beneficial to future students/Agents in the field. It was great to hear from [redacted] getting his perspective of the FBI and his interactions with us provided a very unique and important view point we all need to be aware of when we approach Muslims. The course overall was fantastic. I'm career tracked CT, and before this course I knew nothing regarding Islam. Today I feel I could have a basic conversation on its fundamentals and internal differences (Sunni vs. Shia), as well as know where to obtain additional information.
25. Perhaps including some practical's or readings would help to retain the information. While everyone was knowledgeable and presented the material well, 20 hours of pure lecture is difficult to retain a substantial amount.

I could not follow He stayed behind the podium and went verbatim off the slides. There have got to be more examples that would make this section easier to understand.

All of the instructors were passionate about the topics and well-prepared.

I would recommend that as a course less detail be given. It was extremely overwhelming for those students who have no background in the material taught. Many students were lost early on and it was all downhill from there.

Also, since there is so much lecturing, more videos / activities would help in the learning of the material tremendously.

Incredibly knowledgeable instructors, however; too much info, at too fast a pace, in too little time. The historical aspect of Islam is given FAR too much detail and generally did not seem to have any nexus to LEO's. Slow the course down and bring it to an appropriate level of complexity.

- This course has attempted to cover entirely too much information in too short a period of time. In my opinion this course should be taught at a much broader level and much less specific. The first day it was explained we would be looking at the 30,000 ft level but many in the class believe this has not been the case. Additionally I would like to see much more text in the binder provided vice power point slides. Power point provides only a fraction of information where text is much more descriptive and can be understood months and years from now. Along these lines please try and teach some sessions without the use of powerpoint. It can be a useful tool but 2,000 slides over 4 days is counter-productive

FUTURE TRAINING FEEDBACK: FOUR HOUR BLOCKS ARE EXTREMELY LONG FOR STUDENTS TRYING TO GRASP THE CONCEPTS.

I FOUND THE BLOCKS VERY NON INTERACTIVE, SO WITH THE DURATION OF LECTURES, FOCUS LEVELS START TO FADE.

POWER POINT IS A GREAT TOOL, UNFORTUNATELY IT LOSSES IT'S HELPFULNESS^{USEFULNESS} AFTER A FEW HOURS.

THE MACRO USE (30K FOOTWEAR) IS ONE WAY OF SHAPING THE COURSE, BUT AS CT IS THE TOP PRIORITY OF THE FBI WE NEED TO START SLOWLY. THE COURSE NEEDS TO BE EXTENDED, SO TRAINING/CONCEPTS CAN BE INSTALLED.

THE INSTRUCTORS ARE WELL SEASOEN, HIGH QUALITY, AND FOCUS ON RELEVANT ITEMS. OVERALL I THINK THE STRUCTURE WORKS.

The lecturers were amazing & so full of knowledge. The presentation of this knowledge could be improved, however. After 5 days of powerpoint, we have viewed hundreds of slides & everything starts to meld together. Perhaps one or two of the lectures daily should be w/out powerpoint. The lecturers have so much to share that they shouldn't be bound by the slides. Our class seem to be more engaged when talking to us, not lecturing at us.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.89. NAC 10-07 was scheduled to take place as five, four-hour days rather than the typical four-day schedule with eight hours on Day One. Covering the material in half-day blocks appeared well received by the class, and 10-07 remained engaged throughout the week of instruction. Further, the Muslim Brotherhood and Hamas blocks were combined into a 90-minute block as piloted during class 10-04. This allowed approximately 30 minutes at the end of Day Two to present a brief overview of Arabic naming, which was previously covered during the two-hour Muslims in America block. However, the class asked numerous questions, and there was little time to cover Jihadist Use of the Internet. For this reason, the key material from the Internet block was wrapped into various other presentations. CTC recommends returning to 50-minute blocks for both the Muslim Brotherhood and Hamas, incorporating a greater focus on the United States specifically, as well as on issues related to organizational financing. A new instructor [Redacted] taught the Shism and Hezbollah blocks for the first time during class 10-07. His presentations were well received and engendered beneficial discussion.

Class Survey Comments:

- 1) [] Didn't seem prepared. Coleman: Dry. Fromme: Great presentation. Overall: Excellent course. Please don't place too much (read "any") concern on the opinions of our class fool. Thank you for your time and efforts.
- 2) Slides for the Dan Coleman brief may have been beneficial.
- 3) Speakers say "um" and "uh" excessively. Not very engaging, energetic or interactive. Monotone. Have instructors been to the Middle East? Interacted with the culture? Expectation with the name West Point is high. It seems like much of the lecture is more "academia" based. Good concept, impressive knowledge of topics.
- 4) [] Needs more structure. Coleman: Needs more structure and energy. Too much unnecessary detail. The key points got lost in the vast amount of detail provided. The course was too much like a history or theory lesson instead of a lesson providing practical information that can be used in our investigations. [] seemed more concerned about protecting Islam than discussing terrorism.
- 5) Mr. Fromme did an outstanding job.
- 6) [] Very good presenter, engaging. [] Very knowledgeable but a bit dry – spread out info on PowerPoints (MB/Hamas). [] Better slides but could use more slides. Hard to follow, not very engaging (Afghanistan/Pakistan and South Asian Terror Groups). [] Very good presenter. [] Could use a bit more structure. Coleman: Could be more organized. Knows a lot but could present it better. Fromme: Fantastic!
- 7) Some great information but the presentation in general was very dry and hard to keep focused on. Better presentation to maintain focus would help.
- 8) Fromme: Excellent speaker. Mr. Braniff speaks in a monotone voice which makes it difficult to follow along with his presentation. [] does an excellent job during her presentations. She does a good job of keeping my attention.
- 9) [] is brilliant and knows his subject matter well, but I thought he could be a bit more interactive with the class, maybe by slowing down, using the whiteboard, or being more active in asking the class questions. The presentation was a bit bookish in contrast to [] and Braniff, who I felt were having more of a conversation with the class. I would say the same criticism could be applied to [] lecture. He seemed to be a bit detached from the class once he started his lecture. [] presentation might have been better if he had stuck to his slides. The question/answer session got the lecture off track and seemed to have no structure. But these comments aside, the course was spectacular. I appreciated that the information was relevant and interesting, and I thought it was one of the best courses we have had at Quantico. Thank you so much!
- 10) My understanding of Middle East politics, religion, culture, etc. is very limited. This crash course was overwhelming in places to someone who has a basic CNN news understanding of these topics. Perhaps a religious comparison to Christianity, a political comparison to the U.S. and basic concepts regarding Muslim culture would be more beneficial. Presenter [] was obviously knowledgeable, but did not present the information very clearly. His monotone lecture style also made the lectures difficult to keep interested in. I think there were videos supposed to be in the presentations but the A/V equipment wasn't functioning? That would have helped break up the monotony. I'm still struggling to know the differences between Sunni and Shia and all of the different subgroups. When I don't understand the basic tenets, terms, and structure of the current Middle East, a historical approach to conveying the information confuses and complicates. The propaganda videos and the corresponding lecture on radicalization was well presented. Day 4 cleared up some things about Shia v. Sunni [redacted] used comparisons to U.S./Christian culture which helped. [redacted] was difficult to understand at times and seemed somewhat disorganized and anecdotal. The Operation Smokescreen presentation was outstanding. The presenter was entertaining, clear, well organized.

- 11) Day 5 was the only day I was sure we were on the same side as the instructors. All the other instructors seemed to not want to say anything negative or call them terrorists.
- 12) I believe the material is extremely relevant. All instructors were impressive with their knowledge of the course material. My scores were based mostly on quality of instruction.
- 13) Loved it overall. Really like the handouts that were given. Would like more of it if possible.
- 14) It would be helpful for us to learn about the current U.S. stance, reaction, and differences [regarding] our policy concerning Iraq, Iran, and Afghanistan. [redacted]

[redacted] In getting us to understand Middle Eastern mindsets concerning different terrorist organizations (i.e. Hezbollah), quit understating their commitment to terrorism. By saying that only 10% of funds go to support terrorism and that they are more of a social group with a militant branch is simply not true. The whole presentation seemed to soften our stance on terrorism and muddle the waters on the intentions of different groups. I want to hear about political and social terrorism that is used to fund and support their goals. Everything should not be biased to tell us how geography and culture make terrorists commit atrocities. Lots of countries have a lot of history of border conflicts without killing each other or supporting terrorism and suicide. Never once did our presenter tell us that Hezbollah believes in death to the U.S. and is set up for the destruction of the U.S. It is very insulting that terrorism is portrayed in this way to agents. Dan Coleman is not a good speaker. Fromme is a phenomenal speaker and very informative. I learned the most from Fromme. [This student seems to have confused aspects of various presentations – most specifically, applying information provided in relation to Hamas to Hezbollah].

- 15) Fromme's presentation was very helpful!
- 16) Great information! Wish we could have more time with CTC here at the Academy!
- 17) Afghan/Pakistan brief very monotone and un-engaging. This material is very relevant and should be briefed in a manner to engage/interest audience. Need more post 9-11 effects of invasion – what are we facing now? etc. Brief seemed biased, i.e. what "Americans" are doing versus what "we" are doing. Lebanese Hezbollah – could have covered more detail with more time. Would have liked instructor [redacted] to teach more blocks, i.e. entire day. He had an excellent briefing style and knowledge. Instructor [redacted] did not seem to understand the mission of the audience and had trouble targeting his brief. [Coleman] Brief seemed drawn out. Would have liked a more instructional faster pace study on al Qa'ida and Taliban. [Fromme] Excellent! Very Useful. Overall – very useful and educational. This material is highly valuable and will make a difference.
- 18) Many of the teachers were experts in their field. However, there was a lot of bias to the point of inaccuracy.

b7C

19) [redacted] Talks too much. [redacted] Did not seem prepared. Coleman: Not very dynamic. Overall very good, however there was an overload of details. The phrase "if you want to teach them nothing, teach them everything" comes to mind. Maybe some of the historical details could be summed up a little more. More focus on present day situations and examples of situations would be nice.

b6
b7c

20) More case studies like Fromme had. Too much info in 5 days. [redacted]
[redacted]

21) Interesting material, however I think it could be narrowed to more specifically relate to how we as agents will utilize this information. Mr. Fromme was an excellent speaker, very interesting.

Some great information, but the presentation in general was very dry & hard to keep focused on. Better presentation to maintain attention would help.

Mr. Braniff speaks in a monotone voice which makes it difficult to follow along with his presentation. [redacted] does an excellent job during her presentations. She [redacted] does a good job keeping my attention.

[redacted] is brilliant and knows his subject matter well, but I thought he could be a bit more interactive with the class, maybe by slowing down, using the whiteboard, or being more active in asking the class questions. The presentation was a bit bookish in contrast to [redacted] and Braniff, who I felt were having more of a conversation with the class.

b6
b7c

I would say the same criticism could be applied to [redacted] lecture. He seemed to be a bit detached from the class once he started his lecture. [redacted] presentation might have been better if he had stuck to his slides. The question-answer session got the lecture off track and it seemed to have no structure.

But these comments aside, the course was spectacular. I appreciated that the information was relevant and interesting, and I thought it was one of the best courses we have had at Quantico. Thank you so much!

My understanding of Middle East politics, religion, culture, etc. is very limited. This crash course was overwhelming in places to someone who has a basic CNN news understanding of these topics. Perhaps a religious comparison to Christianity, a political comparison to the U.S., basic concepts regarding muslim culture would be more beneficial. Presenter [redacted] was obviously knowledgeable, but did not present the information very clearly. His monotone lecture style also made the lectures difficult to keep interested in. I think there were videos supposed to be in the presentations but the AV equipment wasn't functioning? That would have helped break up the monotony. I'm still struggling to know the differences between Sunni and Shi'a and all of the different subgroups. When I don't

Many of the teachers were experts in their field.

However, there was a lot of bias to the point of insecurity.

Overall very good however there was an overabundance on details. The phrase "If you want to teach them nothing, teach them everything" comes to mind. Maybe some of the historical details could be summed up a little more.
 More focus on present day situations and examples of situations would be nice.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 2.03. NAC 10-08 was a moderately sized class that asked questions during few of the blocks, with the exception of the Muslims in America and Investigating al-Qa'ida presentations. The presentations on the Muslim Brotherhood and Hamas were 50 minutes each, as the timing of the single 90-minute block proved difficult in previous classes (due to the volume of discussion surrounding these topics). However, [Redacted] used the time to increase the amount of information provided on the role of these organizations in the U.S. Arabic naming conventions were covered during the first 25 minutes of the Muslims in America block, which triggered beneficial conversation.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Force more conversation and make a little more interactive through readings, discussion and open dialogue. Great topic and relevant to all career tracks but need not be presented in an all lecture format. Professor [redacted] needs to concentrate on a single topic; his knowledge is incredible, but he is trying to present too much information in too little time. Would have liked to discuss more about current events (i.e. Iranian political issues). Mr. Coleman has a wealth of information, but his presentation skills were poor and choppy. He should attempt to gain the attention of the class and prevent the use of a monotone voice. Fromme: Outstanding. Excellent presenter. Great seeing.

2. There is a lot of information which is very interesting but very hard to retain because the instruction goes into too much detail for a 2.5 day class. Making the class interactive would help. Also more case studies could help to keep the attention of students. Because the instructors are so well versed on their topics I felt lost at times because the information was spoken about so quickly and didn't always coincide with the PowerPoint.
3. Less history. Less minute details that we will not retain. More relevant info pertaining to our ability to conduct investigations (such as the Arabic naming convention, customs, interactions/greetings, interviewing pointers (avoid offending interviewee)), etc.
4. Really enjoyed the insight and honesty that [redacted] provided. [redacted] was an excellent speaker and was clearly passionate on the topic. [redacted] is very intelligent on her topics, however this was overshadowed by her constant use of "um." The information she provided was important, but the "ums" became distracting. This is the only reason why I rated her a 4. Enjoyed [redacted] humor! Fromme is a wonderful speaker. His use of humor and briefing style really kept me engaged. Great information!
5. Very informative. Q&A sessions very informative. Sometimes too heavy on PowerPoint.
6. Although all instructors are clearly very knowledgeable, some who are purely from an academic background should understand their audience better for their presentations. The great majority of the class has significant first-hand experience in the Middle East and dealing with those citizens. To approach us and speak to a special agent class, who has significant background as a whole, as a group of college students is inappropriate. I would recommend more instructors with greater field experience, ex. Instructor Coleman.
7. A majority of the class has graduate level education and some of the material was a bit remedial and over simplified (specifically the radicalization block). Coming from the military and serving overseas a majority of the information was very basic and simplistic. Additionally some of the cultural interaction points seemed to be common sense due to my experiences.
8. Very good training for people who are interested. It would be good to see more real footage (pictures/videos). I feel those would help the subject matter, Thank you for the training.
9. I really appreciated having the Muslim perspective from individuals who are involved in the actual life style.
10. Good stuff, but death by PowerPoint puts people to sleep so no questions are asked. Make a list of common questions and have the instructor start with those.
11. The only improvement I can bring up is that this program didn't teach us to investigate terrorist groups. The wealth of knowledge between all the instructors was fantastic. It would have been helpful if they could have included what we should be looking for and how these groups work, as for planning and recruiting.
12. Mr. Coleman and Mr. Fromme were excellent.

b7c

13. Good presentations. A lot of information, but it would have been better if it were spread out over more time. Difficult to focus for eight hours straight.
14. Good speakers, especially Mr. Coleman. Particularly interesting information on Islamic names. I liked the real-world case scenarios discussed.
15. Too much, too late in training. Way too much just pure information. We need background, yes, but we need to be more involved than being just talked at. Most of us are respectful. Being told that we have to handle Muslims with kid gloves at all times gets ridiculous. Teach us differences and leave it at that. Again, the info was truly fantastic, just overwhelming.
16. Great info, excellent knowledge base but 4 or 8 hours at a time can be a lot to absorb at once.
17. Far too much information. Could have been significantly more effective if instructors kept information at a basic level. Coleman: Unstructured, difficult to follow.
18. By week 17, PowerPoint presentations put us to sleep! Though it's certainly easier to sit and zone out, it might be more beneficial to assign groups in the class to research a particular topic and come up with 5 questions to ask the speaker handling their topic. It's easy to disconnect when nothing is asked of us. The topics were valuable, but a lot of the info went in one ear and out the other. [redacted] - good use of humor. [redacted] extremely bright, but way too many "umms" very distracting. [redacted] very effective delivery of material. [redacted] - I appreciate your uncensored honesty. Re: USG personnel and perceptions. Fromme: Inspiring yet disconcerting.
19. The class had a lot of good information, but it was a bit of an overload. Hard to concentrate towards the end of the classes. I think that if the material were separated into more days, I would have had a better attention span during each class.
20. Overall, the presentations were excellent. I felt that all the presenters were knowledgeable and well versed in the material. However, the extreme focus on the history was far too drawn out. [redacted] appears to be and I am convinced she is very knowledgeable but the consistent use of "um" during the 2nd day presentation was quite distracting and affected the focus on the message. Yet, I did learn a great deal from the presentations.
21. The Muslim Brotherhood presentation could have been significantly condensed. Way too detailed. The instructor [redacted] is knowledgeable and very well spoken, but we weren't given any context as to why I should even care about the Muslim Brotherhood. I still do not know. Internet course was well taught but needlessly long and overly detailed. "Terrorist use the internet." That is effectively the course. No need to make the discussion so academic. Instructor [redacted] is very knowledgeable on the subject. Afghanistan/Pakistan course delved too deeply into subjects not terribly germane to what Agents need to know. [redacted] Could have focused more on Afghanistan in 1960s to present. Again, historical aspects were too detailed. Instructor obviously knows his stuff, but I feel he got too in to the weeds on some subjects. Enterprise level investigations - presentation comes off as a bit too "wonkish." [redacted] Also don't make a simple subject too academic (ex. "remittances from the diaspora"). Remember your audience. Instructor is very knowledgeable on the subject but loose the convoluted diagrams! Good material though.
22. I feel the blocks of instruction that provided real case examples as opposed to lectures were much more interesting. I do understand explaining the history of Islam and other earlier blocks will be lecture based. I just felt at times the discussion went from a very

b7c

b6
b7c

b6

basic overview to a very in depth, almost going into the weeds. Other than that, I am very pleased with the course and entire instruction blocks.

23. Needs to be less academic. A bit too historical. Too lengthy.
24. The instructors are amazing and highly educated. However, this course is way too in-depth for our need. There is far too much information. [redacted] speaks above the heads of students. He is very hard to follow. His blocks of instruction contain little relevance to our jobs. He knows his stuff though. [redacted] is very knowledgeable and made the information easy to follow. His block could have been cut down to include less information with more relevance to us. [redacted] has great topics and presents them very well. She was very distracting with her use of the word "umm." I understand the need for us to have a general knowledge of the Muslim history and culture but this course is too deep in the weeds for our needs. [redacted] was very helpful! Coleman's presentation is very relevant to us. Bob Fromme was a perfect presenter with very relevant information.
25. Some of the presenters spoke without visual displays. More videos and pictures should be used for a better understanding.
26. Overall I felt the training was excellent but sometimes felt like information overload. Would be better if training was spread out over more days. Instructors were all very knowledgeable and very responsive to questions.

There is a lot of information which is very interesting but very hard to retain because the instruction goes into too much detail for a 25 day class.

Making the class more interactive would help. Also more case studies could help to keep the attention of the students.

Because the instructors are so well versed on their topics I felt lost at times because the information was spoken about so quickly and didn't always coincide with the purpose.

- Really enjoyed the insight and honesty that [redacted] provided. [redacted] was an excellent speaker and was clearly passionate on the topic.
- [redacted] is very intelligent on her topics, however, this was overshadowed by her constant use of "um". The information she provided was important, but the "ums" became very distracting (one student counted 390 during the radicalization brief). This is the only reason why I rated her a 4.
- Enjoyed Ahmed's humor!
- Fromme is a wonderful speaker. His use of humor and briefing style really kept me engaged. Great information!

Although all instructors are clearly very knowledgeable some who are purely from an academia background should understand their audience better for their presentations. The great majority of the class has significant first hand experience in the middle east and dealing w/ those citizens. To approach us + speak to a special agent class who has significant backgrounds as a whole, as a group of college students is inappropriate. I would recommend more instructors w/ greater field experience, ex. Instructor Coleman.

- A majority of the class has Graduate level educations and some of the material was a bit remedial and oversimplified. (Specifically the Radicalization block)
- Coming from the Military and Serving Overseas A Majority of the information was very basic and simplistic. Additionally some of the cultural interaction points seemed to be common sense due to my experiences.

The only ^{improvement} ~~criticism~~ I can bring up is that this program didn't teach us how to investigate these terrorist groups. The wealth of knowledge between all the instructors was fantastic, it would've been ~~extremely~~ helpful if they could've included what we should be looking for and how these groups work, as far as planning, ~~operations~~ and recruiting.

Too much, too late in the training. Way too much just pure information. We need background, yes, but we need to be more involved than being just talked at. Most of us are respectful. Being told that we have to handle Muslims with kid gloves at all times gets ridiculous. Teach us the differences and leave it at that. Again the info was truly fantastic, just over whelming.

By week 17, powerpoint presentations put us to sleep! Though it's certainly easier to sit and zone out, it might be more beneficial to assign groups in the class to research a particular topic and come up with 5 questions to ask the speaker handling their topic. It's easy to disconnect when nothing is asked of us. The topics were valuable, but a lot of the info went in one ear and out the other.

[redacted] - good use of humor
 [redacted] - extremely bright, but way too many "um"s ; very distracting [redacted] - very effective delivery of material
 [redacted] - I appreciated your uncensored honesty re: USG personnel & perceptions

Overall, the presentations were excellent. I felt that all presenters were knowledgeable and well versed in their material. However, the extensive focus on the history was far too drawn out. [redacted] appeared to be very knowledgeable but the consistent use of "ums" during the 2nd day presentation was quite distracting and affected the focus on the message. Yet, I did receive a great deal throughout the presentations.

- The Muslim Brotherhood discussion could have been significantly condensed. Way too detailed. The instructor is knowledgeable and very well spoken but we weren't given any context as to why I should even care about the Muslim Brotherhood. I still do not know.
- Internet Course was well taught but needlessly long and overly detailed. "Terrorists use the internet". That is effectively the course. No need to make the discussion so Academic. Instructor is very knowledgeable on the subject.
- Afghan - Pakistan course delved too deeply into subjects not terribly germane to what Agents need to know. Could have focused ^{more} on Afghan in 1960s to present. Again, historical aspects were too detailed. Instructor obviously knows his stuff, but I feel he got too "into the weeds" on some subjects.
- Enterprise level Investigations: presentation comes off as a bit too "wonkish". Also don't make a simple subject too Academic (ex "remittances from the diaspora"). Remember your audience. Instructor is very knowledgeable on the subject. ~~about~~ Lose the convoluted diagrams! Good material though. 26

I feel the blocks of instruction that provided real case examples as opposed to lectures were much more interesting. I do understand explaining history of Islam and other earlier blocks will be lecture based, I just felt at times the discussion went from a very basic overview to a very in depth, almost going into the weeds. Other than that, I am very pleased with course and entire instruction blocks.

THE INSTRUCTORS ARE AMAZING AND HIGHLY EDUCATED. HOWEVER THIS COURSE IS WAY TOO IN DEPTH FOR OUR NEEDS. THERE IS FAR TOO MUCH INFORMATION.

[] SPEAKS ABOVE THE HEADS OF THE STUDENTS. HE IS VERY HARD TO FOLLOW. HIS BLOCKS OF INSTRUCTION CONTAINS LITTLE RELEVANCE TO OUR JOBS. HE KNOWS HIS STUFF THOUGH.

[] IS VERY KNOWLEDGEABLE AND MADE THE INFORMATION EASY TO FOLLOW. HIS BLOCK COULD HAVE BEEN CUT DOWN TO INCLUDE LESS INFORMATION WITH MORE RELEVANCE TO US.

[] HAS GREAT TOPICS AND PRESENTS THEM VERY WELL. SHE WAS ~~SLIGHTLY~~ VERY DISTRACTING WITH HER USE OF THE WORD "UMM". I UNDERSTAND THE NEED FOR US TO HAVE A GENERAL KNOWLEDGE OF THE MUSLIM HISTORY AND CULTURE BUT THIS COURSE IS TOO DEEP IN THE WEEDS FOR OUR NEEDS.

[] WAS VERY HELPFUL!
COLEMAN'S PRESENTATION IS VERY RELEVANT TO US.

BOB FROMME WAS A PERFECT PRESENTER WITH VERY RELEVANT INFORMATION.

Overall felt the training was excellent but sometimes felt like information overload. Would be better if training was spread out over more days. Instructors were all very knowledgeable and very respondant to questions.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.50. NAC 10-09 was engaged throughout the week and asked questions throughout the various blocks of instruction. "AQ and the Salafi-Jihadi Movement" was piloted in place of "Modern Jihadist Groups." Content remains largely the same; however updates were made to increase relevancy and incorporate a greater discussion of the domestic landscape. Additionally, a new instructor [redacted] lectured on the Muslims Brotherhood and Hamas. Finally, "Arabic Naming," which generally takes place during the first 20 minutes of the "Muslims in America," block filled an entire 50 minutes, suggesting a great deal of interest in the topic.

Class Survey Comments:

1. AQ case study [Coleman] was disjointed – was looking for something more dynamic and detailed. Good overall survey – some of the classes could have been shorter and more focused. Also, would like to have seen some tradecraft and methodology training – the Hezbollah case study [Fromme] was great for that, would like to see something more recent regarding AQ.

2. Day 3: Presenters [redacted] got off topic and were hard to follow sometimes, but info was generally good. Days 1, 2, 4 were great. Good info, presented very well. Loved the interaction. Very knowledgeable. Fromme was great. Smokescreen was a very interesting operation. Great to hear a Carolina accent again!
3. This block of instruction had the most knowledgeable group of instructors we have had since the academy began. I have a much better understanding of the "basics" of Islam. Even though this was a long block of instruction, it held my attention better than most classes.
4. Day 4, Operation Smokescreen [Fromme] was by far the best real world application of how to investigate and recognize how terrorist groups funnel money outside US. Thank you for your time.
5. The only thing that could improve the training is adding just a little more time in Q&A periods. Sometimes you don't formulate a question until after you have time to roll the information around in your head.
6. Mr. Fromme's presentation was superb.
7. The instruction was excellent and timely and will certainly benefit agents as they embark upon their careers.
8. [redacted] provided good information but should recognize and understand the audience he is speaking to. Furthermore, he should understand that our duties/responsibilities are as FBI agents. This may assist him in better understanding and trusting law enforcement officers and delivering his information.
9. The book provided by CTC is a great resource but very dense. Perhaps providing some materials that give a brief overview of the history of Islam (a lighter read) would help with participation. The instruction overall was great, but again, often times very dense and went over my head.
10. Impressive collection of expert presenters. Class blocks scheduled well and well prepared.
11. Too much PowerPoint, lecture needs to be broken-up with videos/real-world examples/class activity.
12. The case study given by Lt. Fromme was an excellent way to tie everything together.
13. One of the best blocks of training in the academy.
14. Too much material for the time allotted for most classes. Get reading assignments to students earlier. Lt. Fromme was a fantastic presenter!!
15. Overall the training was excellent. Some improvements can be made regarding the co-teaching (interaction) between [redacted] and [redacted] is very well-spoken, presents the material well. [redacted] would not allow her to interject. The material that was presented during that block of instruction (naming) is important to us as investigators. [redacted] needed to allow his instruction to incorporate [redacted] instruction as well.

16. [redacted] was very well organized, spoke very intelligently about topics, and was passionate about the information she presented. She is by far one of the best instructors I have had since I have been here at the academy. The information was relevant and even though I've spent a large amount of time in Iraq, I still learned a great deal about Muslim/Arab culture that I will be able to use as an agent. Her hard work and passion definitely show in her presentations! Mr. Fromme's account of the case study was outstanding. Very detailed and he presented in such a way that allowed me to see how I can use the techniques. What to do and maybe what not to do in my future cases. It was the best case study brief that I have had this far.

17. Greatest block of instruction at the academy. Should be longer, at least a week. 8 hours is tough and should be broken up. Instructors are great and extremely knowledgeable.

The only thing that would improve the training is adding just a little more time in QandA periods. Sometimes you don't formulate a question until after you have time to roll the information around in your head.

The book provided by CTC is a great resource but very dense. Perhaps providing some materials that give a brief overview of the history of Islam (a lighter read) would help with participation.

The instruction overall was great, but again, often times very dense and went over my head.

Overall the training was excellent. Some improvements can be made regarding the co-teaching (interaction) between [redacted] is very well spoken, presents the material well. [redacted] would not allow her to interject. The material that was presented during that block of instruction (namings) is important to us as investigators [redacted] needs to allow his instruction to incorporate [redacted] instruction as well.

[redacted] was very well organized, spoke very intelligently about topics, and was passionate about the information she presented. She is by far one of the best instructors I have had since I have been here at the academy. The information was relevant and even though I've spent a large amount of time in Iraq, I still learned a great deal about Muslim/Arab culture that I will be able to use as an agent. Her hard work and passion def. show in her presentations!

Mr. Fromme's account of the case was outstanding. Very detailed and he presented it in such a way that allowed me to see how I can use the techniques - what to do and maybe what not to do in my future cases. It was the best case study brief that I have had thus far.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.60. A new instructor, Seth Nye (formerly of the NYPD) taught the Afghanistan/Pakistan and South Asian Terror Groups blocks. These presentations were revised to include up-to-date information and case studies. Dan Coleman was unavailable for the "Investigating al Qa'ida" block on Day 4, and "Arabic Naming" was presented in its place.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Day 4 was excellent, especially Operation Smokescreen.
2. This was some of the best training I have had here.

3. Overlap in Arabic Naming and Islam in America blocks of Instruction.
4. The case study was great. The more case application, the better.
5. Day 4 was best and most useful day.
6. Islam in North America: Great job by gentleman from [redacted] Was a bit awkward how much the other guy stepped in and offered his opinion. Operation Smokescreen: Outstanding presentation! Some overlap and contradicting info on the naming conventions.
7. Enterprise Level Investigations for Counterterrorism and Radicalization: Both courses need a lot of work, too convoluted and in depth for the time and attention left at that point. Also, teaching investigations to investigators doesn't go over well.

Both courses need a lot of work, too condensed and in depth for the time and attention left at that point. Also, teaching investigations to investigators doesn't go over well.

[redacted] needs to dress more appropriately. low cut shirts are ridiculous here, and silky/satin fabrics are not professional. Nor is playing with one's hair throughout the presentation.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 2.32. Students had only received the CTC textbook prior to class; all other materials were received on Day 4 of 5. This was the second time instructor [REDACTED] lectured at Quantico but his first time presenting Origins of Islam, Islamism and Militancy, and Varieties of Sunni Activism. [REDACTED] continues to improve and provided his strongest lectures to-date. [REDACTED] presented the new Afghanistan/Pakistan and South Asian Terror Groups blocks for the first time (although this was the second time the revised versions have been delivered at Quantico). The substance of these new blocks has been greatly improved, although the presentation will likely require several iterations as significant changes have been made. One student had previously received the CTC block of instruction at a regional event in Atlanta. In a discussion with Bill Braniff, this student indicated that the course remained highly instructive and beneficial. Finally, the number of videos has been significantly increased; however, this seems to have engendered requests for even more videos. Overall, the class asked numerous questions and offered positive verbal feedback throughout the week.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Islam in North America course felt a little disjointed. I was hoping to have more practical information on how to have an interactive relationship with the Muslim community. I felt like I learned more complaints than solutions. Investigating Al-Qaida was totally interesting, but not very thorough.
2. Great material! Please continue to change the format from lectures to include different techniques such as group work, movies, out of class reading, etc. Not sure if it is possible, but is there any evidence or any items that can be brought into the class... is there anything relevant at the lab? Great job bringing subject matter experts. Very well-constructed slide decks and reference materials.
3. More videos would break up the PowerPoint's. The PowerPoint was good and each slide was set-up well. I understand that you have a ton of material to cover, but ending the class each day on time (class ends at 11:50) is essential. This was mostly an issue at the beginning of the training. Case studies are very interesting – more applicative of what we are learning would break up the lecture. Operation Smokescreen was great!
4. Good info, but it would be nice to have more focus on investigations rather than the histories of the various movements in the abstract.
5. Day 1 and 2: This topic is incredibly interesting and relevant. It is very important and could have been very enjoyable, but 20 hours of straight lecture without the use of any aids, loses the audience quickly. The speakers mostly ignored the few picture (s), map (s) and included few videos and did not engage the group at all. It was very disappointing. Further, while the history is important, relating its relevancy to the issues facing us today was not accomplished effectively. Illustrating the important points and emphasizing their importance and relevancy should be incorporated. In Day 3, Braniff did a much better job of presenting the material and explaining its relevancy, as well as making it more interesting. Day 4: This set of presentations was much better. The speaker was fairly dynamic, and much better organized. His lecture actually followed his PowerPoint presentation, which the previous speaker [redacted] did not do very well. Day 5: Mr. Coleman was very interesting and I appreciate him sharing his experience with us. Lt. Fromme was a very interesting speaker and the most dynamic speaker of the week. I really enjoyed his lecture, especially his delivery. Not only was he very informative, but entertaining. He did an excellent job. Overall, the information provided was good, but the presentation was very lacking. I would advise giving a brief history in bulleted points, giving major facts and their relevancy. Provide more pictures/illustrations on PowerPoint and less facts. Have the speakers talk about their slides, rather than showing them and talking about something else. This could be an excellent learning tool with some work, so the audience remains interested.
6. I have had this class before in Atlanta as a support personnel for the FBI. The biggest issue I have with this class is that there is a lot of history/background, which is obviously important, but there is little application of that history. You acknowledge the difficulty of PowerPoint teaching – to mitigate that put in more application of this for us. MB, AQ, Hamas, Internet, Afghan/Pak could have been really good, but instructor was lacking in a way to connect the material and show importance to the class. [redacted] - great instructor! Islam in America was a great block which finally gave us a practical application of interacting with Muslims as a LE officer. [redacted] was excellent.

Investigating AQ had potential to be a great course due to the instructor's knowledge, but his presentation struggled because of the tangents he took. Operation Smokescreen was the best block of instruction. The instructor was able to actively engage the class and the info was incredibly useful to us.

7. Mr. Braniff, thank you for your time and the time of your staff. You have a great team.
8. Speakers were good at knowing the material and not reading off of the PowerPoint. Speakers were engaging, however, it was a lot of information to take in. Difficult to take in 4 straight hours of lecture each day. [redacted] Q&A session was helpful.
9. Greater use of different media would be helpful. Day 2, lecture 2 (Hamas) was the first time a video was shown. Day 3, lecture 1 (Afghanistan/Pakistan) – lots of intersecting graphics/pictures in the PPT were not used; they were skimmed over quickly although they seemed to tie into the lecture. Day 4: Islam in America – little/no voice projection. Attention using device or self into would be useful. Slow/unstructured start. A fun activity to start off the class would be to look at an example family and determine names/ways of addressing each member. Dynamic of second instructor/facilitator standing in the back did not work well. She should walk to the side or front of the class when addressing the crowd. The personal insight in the last 40 min of the presentation was useful.
10. Very knowledgeable speakers and obviously a great deal of information.
11. If possible, try to include more videos. I feel that helps to keep the class engaged and interested. With such a complex topic and so many words that many of us are unfamiliar with (ex. Takfiri, irjabi), it is sometimes hard to follow the lectures, especially when the lecture is focused mainly around PowerPoint. When we watched a few videos on day 2, I felt it helped regain interest in the class. This is a very interesting topic and has a lot of potential to gain a greater knowledge of philosophy and strategy behind international terrorism. Another suggestion would be some more case studies and maybe engage us in some scenarios and how we could study them and analyze them (either made up scenarios or scenarios of the past and how they turned out). Day 3 had a lot more videos, much more interesting. [redacted] good explanations and good speaker. Like how [redacted] went over names/experiences (not just PPT).
12. I was formerly a Military Intelligence Officer for 7 years prior to joining the bureau. I have had numerous classes, courses, and presentations on terrorism and Islam. This is by far the best instruction I have had on Islam and terrorism. The instructors were excellent, highly credible, and very open to questions. The material provided was informative and useful. If terrorism is the number one priority of the FBI, then this instruction should continue to be a priority at the Academy.
13. The material is extensive. The presentations need to be more practical based information and more lively. A comparison of the various groups would be helpful. Mr. Fromme was outstanding.
14. The case studies and specific incidents help the learning experience. The amount of data/info on days 1 and 2 seemed to be a bit much.
15. Need to change structure so it's not continuous lecture (i.e. put videos in each hour, put Q&A in the middle). Include practical applications of how the topics will assist us in doing our job (i.e. during an interview the subjects will reference "xyz related to Origins of Islam" so this is how you can deal with that. Maybe do a 5 min role play to demonstrate).
16. Fromme – excellent.

17. I think it's completely ridiculous that we've spent three days getting a basic history lesson. I'm sure Al-Qaida operatives are sitting half way around the world learning about George Washington and the Revolutionary War, what a joke! No, they're plotting and planning the next attack on present-day America. So instead of us spending this time learning how we, as FBI Agents, will go out in the real world in three weeks and identify and disrupt these terrorists, we instead sit here for hours and are PowerPointed to death about the Origins of Islam hundreds of years ago. Teach us how to investigate cases and how to interact with these people. This entire block of instruction was a complete waste of time.

THIS TOPIC IS INCREDIBLY INTERESTING + RELEVANT. IT IS VERY IMPORTANT + COULD HAVE BEEN VERY ENJOYABLE, BUT 20 HOURS OF STRAIGHT LECTURE WITHOUT THE USE OF ANY AIDS, LOSES THE AUDIENCE QUICKLY. THE SPEAKERS MOSTLY COVERED THE FEW POINTS MADE + INCLUDED FEW VIDEOS + DID NOT ENGAGE THE GROUP AT ALL. IT WAS VERY DISAPPOINTING. FURTHER, WHILE THE HISTORY IS IMPORTANT, RELATING ITS RELEVANCY TO THE ISSUES FACING US TODAY WAS NOT ACCOMPLISHED EFFECTIVELY. ILLUSTRATING THE IMPORTANT POINTS + EMPHASIZING THEIR IMPORTANCE + RELEVANCY SHOULD HAVE BE INCORPORATED.
IN DAY 3 [] DID A MUCH BETTER JOB OF PRESENTING THE MATERIAL + EXPLAINING ITS RELEVANCY, AS WELL AS MAKING IT MORE INTERESTING.

Greater use of ^{different} media would be helpful. Day 2, lecture 2 was the first time (*) a video was shown.

Day 3 - lecture 1: ~~There~~ lots of interesting graphics/pictures in the PPT were not used; they were skipped over quickly although they seemed to tie into the lecture.

Re Day 4: "Islam in N.A." Little/no voice projection, Attention-unity device or self intro would be useful. Slow / unstructured start. A fun activity to start off the class would be to look at an example family and determine names/~~the~~ ways of addressing each member. Dynamic of second instructor / facilitator standing in the back did not work well... she should walk to the side or front of the class when addressing the crowd. The personal anecdote in the last 40 min of the presentation was useful.

Day 3 had a lot more videos much more interesting.
Good explanations & good speaker liked how went over names/ experiences (not just power point)

Your feedback helps us shape future training. Please include any specific thoughts you might have for the CTC Team.

If possible, try to include more videos. I feel that helps to keep the class engaged and interested, with such a complex topic and so many words that many of us are unfamiliar with (ex. takfir, irjabi), it is sometimes hard to follow the lecturer, especially when the lecture is focused mainly around powerpoints. When we watched a few videos on day 2, I felt it helped regain interest in the class. This is a very interesting topic and has a lot of potential to gain a greater knowledge of philosophy and strategy behind international terrorism. Another suggestion would be some more case studies and maybe engage us in some scenarios and how we could study them and analyze them (either made up scenarios or scenarios of the past and how they turned out).

I WAS FORMERLY A MILITARY INTELLIGENCE OFFICER FOR 7 YEARS PRIOR TO JOINING THE BUREAU. I HAVE HAD NUMEROUS CLASSES, COURSES, AND PRESENTATIONS ON TERRORISM AND ISLAM. THIS IS BY FAR THE BEST INSTRUCTION I HAVE HAD ON ISLAM AND TERRORISM. THE INSTRUCTORS WERE EXCELLENT, HIGHLY CREDIBLE, AND VERY OPEN TO QUESTIONS. THE MATERIAL PROVIDED WAS INFORMATIVE AND USEFUL. IF TERRORISM IS THE NUMBER ONE PRIORITY OF THE FBI, THEN THIS INSTRUCTION SHOULD CONTINUE TO BE A PRIORITY AT THE ACADEMY.

- Need to change structure so it's not continuous lecture (i.e. put videos in each hour, put Q & A in the middle)
- include practical applications of how the topics will assist us in doing our job
 C's. during an interview the subjects will reference "XYZ related to origins of Islam" so this is how you can deal with that. Maybe do 5 min role play to demonstrate.

I think it's completely ridiculous that we've spent three days getting a basic history lesson. I'm sure al-Qa'ida operatives are sitting half way around the world learning about George Washington and the Revolutionary war, what a joke! No, they're plotting and planning the next attack on present-day America. So instead of us spending this time learning how we, as FBI agents, will go out in the real world in three weeks and identify and disrupt these terrorists we instead sit here for hours and are power pointed to death about the origins of Islam hundreds of years ago. Teach us how to investigate cases and how to interact with these people. This entire block of instruction was a complete waste of our time.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.31. Three new instructors taught during the week: [redacted] (AQ and the Salafi Jihadi (formerly Modern Jihadist Groups)) [redacted] Islamic Extremism and the Internet), and [redacted] Afghanistan/Pakistan and South Asian Terror Groups). All three instructors were positively received by the class. Further, a Survey of Domestic Cases block was taught in place of Enterprise Level Investigations for CT. The two blocks include much of the same information, although Domestic Cases places greater emphasis on recent events within the United States. Class 10-12 was enthusiastic about the instruction and asked informed questions throughout the week.

Class Survey Comments:

1. It would be beneficial to spread this training out over a longer time. 20 hours over 4 days is a bit overwhelming.
2. Fantastic instruction. I wish there were more blocks on other regionally-based terror groups.
3. This is a lot of great training for a law enforcement officer. At times, the days were long, but that is a FBI curriculum issue. Mr. Fromme's case study was exceptional.
4. Very knowledgeable instructors provided a great deal of information. It was difficult to absorb eight hours of class in one day. The history of Islam was very good and will be beneficial.
5. Day One: Islam and Militancy was much too fast. Overall, best series we have had during training.
6. Very good introduction to Islam. More speakers that have targeted/investigated some of the groups mentioned above.
7. The material is informative and well-organized. The instructors were knowledgeable and informative.
8. The discussions were helpful but if it becomes a successful discussion, then the PowerPoint can be sacrificed more. Each speaker wanted questions but did not plan for them in the presentation. They should be able to think on their feet better. Fromme: Excellent!
9. Excellent course.
10. Course was excellent. Thanks!
11. Really enjoyed the instruction. Book was well put together and was helpful. Would've liked to hear more about coordination between CTC and FBI, if any.
12. The Day Four: AQ Case Study was very good information but the presentation needs to be structured better. The same goes for Islam in America: Culture and Customs.
 My main critique is that the CTC came to speak to us about terrorism and all of the presentations were about Islam. It is painting a skewed point of view on the other terrorists (not Muslim jihadis).
14. I think the course is right where it needs to be. May just be able to spread it out a little more.
15. Day One: Instructors are very knowledgeable about topics. Excellent speakers. Day Two: A lot of info but excellent instructors. Enjoyed lecture. Day Three: Very informative. Day Four: Interesting stories. Mr. Fromme was interesting. Good speaker.
16. These blocks were some of the most interesting blocks of instruction we have received.
17. I really enjoyed the class. Content and instruction was great.

b7E

b6
b7C

18. The presentations could use more videos; four hours is a long time to sit through nothing but PowerPoint slides.
19. More use of videos would be nice to go along with the presentations. The eight hour day was hard to handle. Four hours a day is max for learning one topic if it would be broken up that way. Instructors were very knowledgeable.
20. The first two days of lecture was a lot of information at a higher level (very in depth) which made it difficult to absorb and learn. All speakers knew their material well, but it was very detailed. A general overview would have been more helpful. Mr. Fromme did an excellent job with his presentation.
21. Day One: Too much stuff on board. The history of Islam should be on the PowerPoint slides. Operation Smokescreen is great, very thorough overview. AQ case study, a bit long, unstructured. Everything else is great. Islam Culture and Customs: There's such a diverse spectrum of Muslims in America. Speaker seems to have a narrow niche in his views and understanding of America.
22. The course provided an abundant amount of detail in a short amount of time. I think if the course was more spread out, the detail provided would sink in more so than it did. Overall, the instructors were very knowledgeable about the subjects discussed.
23. Historical overview very useful – related to current CT trends. Instructors/speakers generally did a good job of highlighting important facts that will be significant to us as investigators – "what's in it for me?"
24. Course materials good reference – appropriate length/detail.
25. Incredibly informative and interesting; however, moved rather quickly because I did not have a lot of prior knowledge. Lots of info thrown at you at one time, especially for those not working IT. 8 hours straight just creates information overload although it's extremely relevant and pertinent to FBI.
26. Way too much complicated information in such a short period of time. The information known by each of the speakers was amazing but too in depth for me and my criminal career path. For the future you may want to spend additional time explaining the plain and simple explanations before diving head deep into the complications of Islam and terrorism.
27. I appreciate the time and expertise of all of the speakers. Although at first all of the presentations seemed a bit overwhelming, as a whole, the information will be extremely beneficial to my career.

The discussions were helpful but if it becomes a successful discussion, then the power point can be sacrificed more. Each speaker wanted questions but did not plan for them in the presentation. They should be able to think on their feet better.

My main critique is that the CTC came to speak to us about terrorism and all of the presentations were about Islam. It is painting a skewed point of view on the other terrorist (not muslim) groups.

- MORE USE OF VIDEOS WOULD BE NICE TO GO ALONG W/ THE PRESENTATIONS

- THE 8 HR DAY WAS HARD TO HANDLE. 4 HRS A DAY IS MAX FOR LEARNING ONE TOPIC IF IT COULD BE BROKEN UP THAT WAY

- INSTRUCTORS WERE VERY KNOWLEDGEABLE

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the CTC received an overall rating of 1.78. Class 10-13 remained highly engaged throughout the week, with the most numerous questions occurring on Day 1 during the Origins of Islam, Islamism and Militancy, and Varieties of Sunni Activism blocks. The class also asked many questions of individual instructors during the breaks. As with the past several iterations, revised AQ and the Salafi-Jihadi Movement, Afghanistan/Pakistan, and South Asian Terror Group blocks were presented. These blocks have been updated to reflect current developments and shifts in the overall landscape.

Class Survey Comments:

1. The last session was very helpful towards how to conduct an investigation and very energetic presenter.

2. [] is very good and informative, but he says the word "right" too much.
3. Incorporate more lectures on closed cases. Go more in-depth of investigative techniques used. Overall good and informative course.
4. I thought it was great training regardless of what track (CT, Criminal, etc.) you've been designated. It provides a very good backdrop of the history/thinking of terrorism.
5. Some of the material was redundant.
6. Having the reference materials prior to class to review would have helped understand the material better. This is a lot of info (very good info) but a bit confusing due to the amount of info.
7. I enjoyed the historical value of the presentations, but the instructors should make the material more applicable to a case agent's investigation. []
[] The presenter who received a higher rating did a better job at this. Thank you.
8. The number of slides limited the interaction of the group. There were not a ton of slides, but each slide was talked in depth, and kept the class from participating. The class on Islam in North America was ok, but the speaker spoke very softly. Operation Smokescreen was excellent. Best class of the presentation.
9. I really enjoyed the training. If anything because counterterrorism is the #1 priority, I think we should have more training on this.
10. Some of the information was repeated over and over again by different presenters making it somewhat redundant. Overall, a lot of information to try and absorb in a small amount of time.
11. The training was very professional.
12. The second half of day 2 was a repetition of the elements and ideas presented on day 1. Day 1-3 had a lot of overlap and repetition of the same information provided. This made the classes difficult to maintain an interest in.
13. Day 1, amazingly smart, but presentation could be improved. Day 2, much better at time management and presentation. Still amazingly smart. Day 3, great. Day 4, very good.
14. [] was informative and information was interesting to learn. Varieties of Sunni Activism was taught too fast, others were too long. Day 1 was long. 8 hrs of straight lecture was a little much. Muslim Brotherhood and Tenets of Hamas was very boring and too many names, definitions, and dates. [] was very knowledgeable and kept everyone on track. Really good presenter. Went long on time. Getting out late from class is very unpopular. Day 2 was good information, but could have been condensed. A lot of info to absorb. Enterprise block was confusing and dry. A day and a half of straight lectures is way too much, you need to re-look at material, cut out, and get more engagement from class. Very informative day 3, however, not much class interaction. Monotone AQ Case Study. Interesting last class, good instructor.
15. Although you may have no control over this, but 4 hour blocks are too much for this subject, especially for those with no knowledge of this subject. 2 hour blocks each day would be perfect.

16. Excellent training. I understood basics of Arabic/Middle Eastern culture, but this was in-depth and gave me a far more comfortable feel of Islam.
17. Great training. Speakers had a wealth of knowledge and experience.
18. Fromme was great!
19. Afternoon of Day 1, almost all monologue. Very difficult without some forced (or requested) dialogue, video, etc. All speakers are very knowledgeable with great experience. Being effective doesn't always mean talking only "to" versus "with" the audience. Just getting through the material/slides seemed to trump facilitating discussion. I liked [redacted] He has on the ground recent Iraq experience. It was frustrating to have [redacted] stop questions she deemed political when it felt very relevant and [redacted] was engaged. Really liked Mr. Coleman and Mr. Fromme.
20. The course would benefit by assuming people in class know little to nothing about Islam. Overall, the course was very good and extremely helpful/important. Thank you.
21. Mr. Coleman was a nice man, but there are so many smart people with knowledge of UBL you should get a "teacher." Pick a person or 2 from [redacted] ops and analytical side and do a good job with this topic because it is important. [redacted] might be a reach but worth asking. Overall, good topics, but you need some new instructors, improve PP slides, add more pictures/videos [redacted] who have done it and have good stories/experience.
22. Information very involved. Instructors are highly educated and qualified. Too many PPT slides.
23. The history helped, but a little more interaction in many lectures would've helped greatly. How everything relates to investigations also would've helped. Operation Smokescreen was excellent and informative.
24. Having traveled extensively in the Middle East and working various CT missions, I considered this to be a great period of instruction for new agents. Great stuff!
25. AQ and Salafi Jihad felt like a TV on a difficult language channel with the volume set on high.

- The number of slides limited the interaction of the group. There were not a ton of slides, but each slide was talked in depth, and kept the class from participating.
- The class on Islam in North America was OK, but the speaker spoke very softly.
- Operation Smokescreen was excellent. Best class of the presentation.

- [redacted] very informative and information was interesting to learn. b6 b7C
- varieties of sunni Activism was taught too fast, others were too long.
- Day 1 was too long, 8 hours of straight lecture was a little much.
- Muslim Brotherhood & tenets of Hamas was very boring and too many name/definitions/dates
- [redacted] very knowledgeable and kept everyone on track, really good presenter, went long on time
- getting out late from class is very unpopular
- Day 2 was good information, but could have been condensed, a lot of info to absorb
- Enterprise block was confusing & dry.
- A day and a half of straight lectures is way too much, you need to relook at material, cut out, and get more engagement from class.
- very informative day 3, however not much class interaction
- monotonous AQ case study
- interesting last class, good instructor

- Afternoon of Day 2 --- almost all monologue. Very difficult w/out some forced (or requested) dialogue, video, etc.
- All speakers are very knowledgeable w/great experience. Being effective doesn't always mean talking only "to" versus "with" the audience. Just getting through the material/slides seemed to trump facilitating discussion.
- I liked [redacted] he has on-the-ground recent Iraq experience. It was frustrating to have [redacted] stop questions she deemed political when it felt very relevant & [redacted] was engaged.

The history helped, but a little more interaction in many lectures would've helped greatly. How everything relates to investigations also would've helped.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5, in which 1 is "excellent" and 5 is "poor," the overall CTC training score was 1.41 and the average instructor rating was 1.53. New Agent Class 10-14 was a quiet group, but responded well to a two-hour question and answer session which occurred on Day 5. The change occurred due to a last-minute cancellation by one instructor (Dan Coleman), who had to teach at another FBI venue not run by the CTC due to a schedule change. Students asked question for the entire first hour of the block, and the CTC operations officer facilitated discussion during the second half of the block using a jihadist video featuring Americans fighting in Somalia with a designated terrorist organization known as al-Shabaab. The most significant and consistent critique of the course is the 4 or 8 hours sessions coupled with use of power point. One student made an interesting suggestion of breaking the four hour sections over the lunch hour so that the CTC taught from 1000-1150 and from 1300-1500.

Class Survey Comments:

1. The instructors were excellent. It is a lot of information to absorb in four hour blocks.
2. Extremely helpful, whether you have knowledge on the subject or a vast background. Best classes were less PowerPoint and more discussion. I plan on using as a research tool in the future. Thanks.
3. Reference materials were helpful.
4. The training was excellent. The presenters were very knowledgeable. Mr. Braniff was superb!!! What really damaged the training was the "PowerPoint Jihad." PowerPoint presentations turn students off and stiffen the presenters. Plus presenters use them as a crutch unnecessarily. Mr. Braniff didn't use a single PowerPoint and was the best presenter. Also, too much time was spent on covering history. It was tedious and too detailed. It's more useful to us to learn about practical/tactical topics, just like the topics Mr. Braniff covered. Mr. Fromme's presentation was also excellent. Thank you so much!!! I enjoyed it and I learned a lot (just please no more PowerPoint!)
5. I really enjoyed day 5. Days 1-3 involved a lot of PowerPoint.
6. Really good training. The only drawback would be the presenter's use of PowerPoint. The instructors that didn't utilize the PowerPoint's were much more engaging and easier to learn from. While the instructors who utilized the PowerPoint's for their entire presentation were dry and more difficult to learn from. Overall, the instructors were very knowledgeable on their topics and it was a good course.
7. Level of instruction and quality of the instructors was extremely high.
8. Mr. Fromme is a great presenter. Please include him in more segments.
9. Operation Smokescreen was great, beneficial, and relevant. For someone going into a criminal career path like me, it was also the easiest to grasp. All instructors were extremely knowledgeable.
10. I was just assigned to work CT and was looking for a course just like this. I thought it gave an excellent overview.
11. A couple of suggestions would be to divide the 4 hour blocks into two 2 hour blocks. It seems that our attention becomes saturated after 2 hours. Also, in the history segments, flow charts and/or timelines would greatly facilitate the presentation of the material. As most names, organizations, etc were new and foreign, it was very difficult to keep track of it.
12. I thought all the staff had a very thorough knowledge of each subject. They also had a lot of energy while teaching which is a definite plus.
13. I thought this was great training. I learned an enormous amount of information. I think it would be more effective if it was broken up a little. Even though I loved it, I had a hard time maintaining focus.
14. Some classes go into extreme detail about history and culture that is useful, but often very dry and difficult to follow. Braniff did a good job of contextualizing information and making it actionable. Operation Smokescreen was excellent! Fromme is a very good presenter. Give more time to Operation Smokescreen.

15. This was very valuable training, but it was a ton of information in a short period of time. It would be helpful to perhaps break up the sessions to 2 hrs in the morning and 2 in the afternoon. It is clear that the presenters know their material.

A couple of suggestions would be to divide the 4 hour blocks into 2 2 hour blocks. It seems that our ~~attention~~ attention becomes saturated after two hours.

Also, in the history segments, flow charts and/or timelines would greatly facilitate the presentation of the material. As most names, organizations, etc were new and foreign, it was very difficult to keep track of it.

Some classes go into extreme detail about history and culture that is useful but often very dry and difficult to follow. Braniff did a good job of contextualizing information and making it actionable. Operation Smokescreen was excellent! Fromme is a very good presenter. Give more time to Operation Smokescreen.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Final day was great.

2. Islam in North America didn't seem to be focused on Islam in N. America. More clear focus on customs/traditions would be helpful. Best to keep presentation unbiased. Seemed like [redacted] was speaking badly of the FBI and what we do/have to do. Someone that has a lot of cultural background from different countries are able to look over the presented biases, but those without that background leave with mixed feelings.
3. We always got out late for lunch. I prefer a full lunch break.
4. If there is any way to spread out, 4 hrs is a little too much.
5. Some of the terrorist groups are difficult to understand if you don't know a little more about Palestinian history which was glossed over. A little more on that subject would have been helpful. The class on the Origins of Islam was very good when you consider how much history has to be discussed in so little time. The historical briefings were extremely helpful. Most of the classes seemed as if they didn't have enough class time allotted to them.
6. Mr. Brown utilizing the white board and providing a break-down of AQ operations and Nairobi US Embassy attack was helpful. Mr. Fromme's lecture was the best.
7. Please give us breaks every 45-50 min, not every 1 hr.
8. Overall, instruction was great. Tons of information in a short period of time make some hard to follow. Breaking the classes up more may help info retention.
9. Personal stories/experiences are helpful in illustrating different important key points. On day 3, the diversion from the PPT and focus on discussion (and use of multi-media) significantly helped the learning process (Brown). [redacted] seemed angry and did not encourage questions (given his attitude while responding to the few questions that were raised). This made it difficult to learn from him.
10. The slides need a little more info so that the verbal info provided can be recalled. In addition, the names and locations and/or individuals should be included on the printed slides. Real experience played a very important part of understanding the relevance of this block of instruction.
11. Excellent training. Vahid Brown was outstanding. LT. Fromme's case study was an excellent way to end the training. It was extremely beneficial to tie the training together. Thank you for the training.
12. It's a good block of instruction, just a lot of material to take in and retain over the course of just a couple of days.
13. Please include more videos and/or real life information/stories. It makes things more interesting, and relatable. The PPT's and straight lectures are very hard to concentrate for 4 hrs straight.
14. Day 1: lecture was informative, but a bit too academic. Instructors obviously very knowledgeable but I feel we were bogged down with too much detail. Day 2: Instructor is very good, but again, maybe too academic/detailed for what we need to know. Day 3: Second instructor (Brown) was very good – thanks for ditching the PPT and making the material interesting and interactive. Day 4: The info on Islam in N. America was very valuable, but the instructor seems to really dislike FBI Agents and sometimes appeared condescending when asked questions. Day 5: Operation Smokescreen is a great case study. Fromme is a dynamic speaker.

15. Do not ask to start class before 0800 and hold us over our lunch time. Also, don't ask to start early so we can go to lunch early and hold us late. If more time is needed, then work to get an extra day. Mr. Fromme was excellent.

16. [redacted] is very enthusiastic. [redacted] is very knowledgeable, but a very uninteresting, passive presenter. Says "like" too much. Nye is very informative. Nye is energetic and keeps our attention – very good. [redacted] was very good. Says "um, ah" too much. [redacted] is very suggestive of his personal views in how FBI Agents should and should not interact with Muslims. Told us not to be professional or ask direct questions. We may come across as having an agenda. Muslims, in his opinion, are already leery of FBI Agents. He did not like that he was interviewed by Agents two times and they took notes. He told us he told his wife not to drop his children off at the bus stop because people are looking at her funny. He said US is not accepting of him as an immigrant, and he does not like that. [redacted] is jaded.

Overall instruction was great. Tons of information in a short period of time makes some hard to follow. Breaking the classes up more may help into retention.

Personal stories/experiences are helpful in illustrating different important/key points.

On Day 3, the diversion from the powerpoint & focusing on discussion (& using multimedia) significantly helped the learning process.

[redacted] seemed angry & did not encourage questions (given his attitude while responding to the few questions raised). This made it difficult to learn from him.

Day 1: Lecture was informative but a bit too academic. Instructor is obviously very knowledgeable but feel we were bogged down with too much detail.

Day 2: Instructor is very good, but again, maybe too academic/detailed for what we need to know.

Day 3: Second instructor [Redacted] was very good - thanks for ditching the PPT + making the material interesting & interactive.

Day 4: The info on Islam in North America was very valuable. But, the instructor seems to really dislike FBI Agents & sometimes appeared condescending when asked questions.

Day 5: Operation Smokescreen is great case study. Fromme is a dynamic speaker.

[] is very enthusiastic. [] is very knowledgeable, but a very uninteresting, passive presenter. Says "like" too much. Nye is very informative. Nye is energetic and kept our attention - very good. [] was very good. Says "um, ah" too much. [] is very suggestive of his personal views in how FBI Agents should and should not interact with Muslims. Told us not to be professional or ask direct questions. We may come across as having an agenda. Muslims, in his opinion, are already leary of FBI Agents. He did not like that he was interviewed by Agents two times and they took notes. He told us he told his wife not to drop his children off at the bus stop because any longer because people are looking at her funny. He said US are not accepting of him as an immigrant, and he does not like that. [] is jaded.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5, where 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for NAC 10-16 was 1.44. This class engaged the instructors with challenging questions and responded well to the more interactive portions of the curriculum. Specifically, during the Domestic Cases discussion, the Islam in North America question and answer session and Arabic naming convention blocks. CTC intends to incorporate a greater degree of discussion by departing from the power-point based lecture model when appropriate.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Every instructor was extremely knowledgeable. Great topics and instruction. This is a lot of information to cover in these short blocks, but the training material provided helps as an aid to remember the topics covered.

2. Best instruction we have had yet. Thanks!
3. Day 1: the information is so much and so detailed. Would have been better to give presentation. Give us info so we can ask questions. Being told to ask questions is frustrating. The presenters are very well versed in their subjects, but overall, just too in the weeds for what we need. A macro version would be so much more helpful. Videos help break things up and explain in a different way. Too much of a focus on academic point-of-view.
4. Everything was excellent. 8 hrs in 1 day was a little too much because it's hard to stay focused all day.
5. Operation Smokescreen was an outstanding case. Ties everything together.
6. The training was excellent. I really enjoyed the use of the dry erase board vs. PowerPoint.
7. Make sure the PowerPoint is fully functional. Videos did not work. Q&A session with [redacted] very helpful.
8. Operation Smokescreen was very interesting and beneficial.
9. Everything was excellent!! Lectures that don't involve reading from the PowerPoint are the best. The Domestic Cases could have had more information. I did not learn about any new groups, but I understand more about how domestic terrorists think and operate.
10. I think more case studies on terrorist cases would be very beneficial.
11. Though the PowerPoint's were very informative, I enjoyed the Q&A sessions the best.
12. The reference section is very helpful. I enjoyed the class discussion and white board notation vs. the PPT only. Fromme is a great presenter.
13. The discussion type lectures were great. PPT's with endless words in them are highly counter-productive. The last PPT on day 4 was the best of them all. Lots of pictures and videos work very well when discussing new topics. When videos are included, please make sure they work. The history lessons were great. I now better understand the Islamic culture and the terrorist's mindset. Thank you for bringing [redacted] in the presentation. Operation Smokescreen was excellent. Great Speaker. Great case. Great finish to the briefing.
14. I learned a great deal of material thanks to the expertise of the instructors.
15. Very well done! Learned a tremendous amount of information.
16. Absolutely one of the best classes at this Academy.
17. The use of more slides would help this presentation. Staying on one slide for 10 minutes made it difficult to stay engaged.

Best presentation/Presenter!

Your feedback helps us shape future training. Please include any specific thoughts you might have for the CTC Team.

Day 1 - the information is so much and so detailed should have been better to give presentation, Give us info so we can ask questions.

Being told to get questions is restrictive.

The exercises are very well used in class. We need to get more exercises. We need to have more exercises. We need to have more exercises.

Videos help break things up and explain things differently.

Too much of a focus on Al-Qaeda and al-Qaeda.

Everything was excellent!! Lectures that don't involve reading from the powerpoint are the best. The domestic cases could have had more information. I did not learn about any new groups, but I understand more about how domestic terrorist think and operate.

- The discussion type lectures were great. Power Points with endless words in them are highly counter-productive. The last power point on day 4 was the best of them all. Lots of pictures and videos work very well when discussing ~~top~~ new topics. When videos are included, please make sure they work.
 - The history lessons were great. I now better understand the islamic culture and the terrorists' mindset.
 - Thank you for bringing in the presentation.
 - Operation Smokescreen was excellent. Great speaker. Great case.
- Great Finish to the Briefing!

THIS WAS ONE OF THE BEST OVERALL INSTRUCTIONAL BLOCKS AT THE ACADEMY. THE INSTRUCTORS PROVIDED TONS OF USEFUL INFORMATION.

THE ONLY REMAINING SUGGESTION IS FOR SOME OF THE INSTRUCTORS TO SPEND LESS TIME ON THE ENTIRE HISTORY OF TERRORIST ORGANIZATIONS, ESPECIALLY THE 1980's, AND MORE TIME ON PRESENT DAY ACTIVITIES. HITTING THE "WAVE TOPS" OF EARLY HISTORY WOULD BE ENOUGH TO CONVEY THE DEVELOPMENT OF THESE ORGANIZATIONS.

THANK YOU

- It's great having knowledgeable folks speak to us about Islam and the Middle East in general. I suggest that this course gets offered to some of our national security instructors (hint, hint)
- went through colonialism in the ME and the creation of Israel too fast given how central these two topics are to modern day terrorism.
- [Redacted] is a little bit all over the place. He forcefully tries to insert humor in a serious matter leading to lack of focus.
- [Redacted] is too Israeli biased, too emotional, even mis-stated facts. He failed to be objective in explaining the origination of Hizballah, the Lebanese civil war, the Israeli invasion, and the after-math of the Israeli invasion. WAY TOO EMOTIONAL MANY factual errors.

All of the information is interesting and seems highly relevant to our training. However, it seems like too much is crammed into each block and the presentations seemed rushed towards the end of each block.

FBI-CTC Collaborative
After Action Report
NAC 10-18

Date of Report: January 3, 2011
Class: 10-18
Training Dates: December 10-December 16
Class Supervisor: [redacted]
Class Size: 46
CTC Operations Officer/Author: [redacted]
Summary:

b6
b7C

On a scale from 1 to 5, where 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for NAC 10-18 was 1.32. As with class 10-17, class 10-18 was distributed across 5 days as 4-hour blocks. Classes are generally more receptive to the 5-day schedule. The schedule for 10-18 was primarily composed of CTC "regular" instructors who frequently teach at Quantico. [redacted] again taught the Afghanistan/Pakistan and South Asian Terror Group blocks and was again quite well received. The CTC plans to utilize him for the Day One Origins of Islam material in the near future.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Training was very informative. More videos/pictures relating to topics would be nice to prevent the 4 hour blocks from being drawn out. More real life investigations dealing with radical networks.
2. The training was very informative and interesting. The suggestion I have is to make this more engaging, if there is any way to make each block more interactive, it would be helpful.

3. Tons of great, informative, helpful and downright interesting information. The only thing that was a little difficult for me was that the first two days were very academic in nature. Because of this, it was almost too much information to absorb. However, that said, the content was excellent, I just wish I could retain more of the historical information. I also think the last day of cases and stories are most relevant to us immediately as new agents and because they are more (and I say this with respect to all lecturers) entertaining and less monotone in presentation. Overall, this/these courses were superb. I will definitely look forward to the CTC emails.
4. [redacted] was the most engaging and energetic, and seemed most effective in conveying material to our class. I thoroughly enjoyed his lectures and appreciated the way he made it so interactive. It was nice to have the perspective of [redacted] although I learned a good bit, I found him to be a little less engaging than some of the others. Bob Fromme was amazing!!
5. Great Training! The only suggestion I have is to possibly utilize the final block of time to review key takeaways from each block as well as talk about current threats to U.S. and potential intelligence trends to be aware of.
6. Great training—our best yet. Thanks.
7. Excellent training. Definitely the top instructors and subject matter experts on these topics.
8. Mr. Fromme was excellent!
9. Some of the lecturers on Islam went too in depth for our purposes. Please keep in mind that about 2/3 of the class will not be involved – primarily that is – in terrorism cases. Therefore, having to sit through 15 plus hours of Islam/terrorism is not too relevant for what most of the class will be doing. Moreover, even if the materials were somewhat helpful, there is so much detail given that is highly unlikely that a student would remember the information five or six months from now. What would be most helpful is tying actual investigative techniques to the theoretical lectures. We need to learn how to investigate Islam as it relates to terrorism, not to become scholars. Mr. Fromme was an excellent presenter.
10. [redacted] was great, he was engaging and kept my interest in learning about this topic. Mr. Fromme was a great speaker!
11. The Radicalization class was redundant and a bit patronizing – not to mention very poorly managed by way of time.
12. Overall, good instruction, good information.
13. Overall, the CTC training was densely packed with great information and taught by people who really know what they're talking about. Some of the presenters were dry and after 30 minutes, hard to follow. [redacted] was a really good presenter. He was able to pass a large amount of information without being dry – managed to keep everyone engaged. [redacted] is also a great presenter as was Fromme.
14. [redacted] – great speaker with high energy and deep knowledge of subject. Bob Fromme – excellent briefing/speaker.

Tons of great, informative, helpful and downright interesting information. The only thing that was a little difficult for me was that the first two days were very academic in nature. Because of this, it was almost too much information to absorb. However, that said, the content was excellent, I just wish I could retain more of the historical information. I also think the last day of cases and stories are most relevant to us immediately as new agents and because they are more... (and I say this with respect to all lecturers) entertaining and less monotonous in presentation. Overall, this/these courses were superb. I will definitely look forward to the CTC emails.

[redacted] was the most engaging + energetic, & seemed most effective in conveying material to our class. I thoroughly enjoyed his lectures, + appreciated the way he made it so interactive.

- It was nice to have the perspective of [redacted] although I learned a good bit, I found him to be a little less engaging than some of the others.
- Bob Fromme was amazing!!

Great training! The only suggestion I have is to possibly utilize the final block of time to review key takeaways from each block as well as talk about ~~current~~ current threats to US and potential intelligence trends to be aware of.

- Some of the lectures on Islam went too in depth for our purposes. Please keep in mind that about 2/3 of the class will not be involved—primarily, that is—in terrorism cases. Therefore, having to sit through 15 plus hours of Islam/terrorism is not too relevant for what most of the class will be doing.
- Moreover, even if the materials were somewhat helpful, there is so much detail given that it is highly unlikely that a student would remember the information in five or six months from now.
- What would be most helpful is tying actual investigative techniques to the theoretical lectures. We need to learn how to investigate Islam as it relates to terrorism, not to become Islam scholars.
- Mr. Fromme was an excellent presenter.

Overall, the CTC training was densely packed with great information and taught by people who really know what they're talking about. Some of the presentations were dry and after 30 minutes, hard to follow. [redacted] was a really good presenter. He was able to pass a large amount of information who being dry - managed to keep everyone engaged. [redacted] is also a great presenter, as was Fromme.

FBI-CTC Collaborative
After Action Report
NAC 10-19

Date of Report: January 3, 2011
Class: 10-19
Training Dates: December 27-January 3
Class Supervisor: [redacted]
Class Size: 45
CTC Operations Officer/Author: [redacted]
Summary:

b6
b7c

On a scale from 1 to 5, where 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for NAC 10-19 was 1.22. NAC 10-19 was quite busy this week – in addition to the course falling in between the Christmas and New Year’s holidays, the class was in the midst of moving from campus to hotel housing and had many logistical matters to cover with announcements, etc. throughout the week. In spite of this, NAC 10-19 engaged with each instructor to a very high degree, asking many informed questions both during lectures and at each break. The class was attentive and helped foster a positive learning environment with their interaction. The schedule included many of the CTC’s “regular” instructors who frequently teach at Quantico. [redacted] instructed for the second time, again covering the Hizballah material. [redacted] offers a unique background and first-hand experience, and his ability to relate to the class will develop over time, should he teach this block in the future.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Excellent information. This is the 1st time exposed to this subject. Very good!! Keep up the good work.

2. [redacted] had a lot of information, but was harder to understand without more of a base understanding. A lot of Arabic terms were used that we did not understand. You could tell [redacted] was very knowledgeable, but it was presented at a more sophisticated level than we were able to understand without more understanding of the key fundamentals. [redacted] did a fantastic job of explaining the ideas and concepts at a level we could understand before going into more of the complex topics.
3. [redacted] is a fantastic instructor that is energetic, knows his material, and keeps the attention of the class. He can answer basically any question on his topic of instruction and is definitely a subject matter expert. [redacted] is also a master of her field and talks very intelligently on the subjects that she covers. [redacted] brought a lot to the table with his personal experiences from Iraq. Having everything as an open forum for discussion was great too. Coleman provided a lot of good information, but not what I expected from how to Investigate Al-Qaida. Fromme was excellent. The case study was excellent. Probably learned the most in those 2 hours.
4. Overall, the course was excellent. Most of the lecturers seemed to be very knowledgeable and unbiased – although maybe not having someone from WINEP teach on Hamas and someone who has served in the IDF on Hizballah.
5. All the instructors are very smart – some can present the material a great deal better than others. Good training. I feel it needs to continue. I learned a lot, although, I'm not entirely sure why some instructors were here.
6. Great instruction and instructors! My only suggestion is that the course should be longer. There is so much more that your unit could offer us as new agents regarding Middle Eastern studies, culture, history and how this relates to terrorism. Thank you all for your time.
7. Mr. Coleman had great information, but I wish it had been more specific to one "story" rather than bits of information on a variety of case/threat areas. Mr. Fromme's presentation was excellent and I learned the most from his investigation. Overall, I wish we could have the information over several more days. The 4 hour blocks contained a lot of information. A movie or 2 would help break up the lecture. This is one of the best blocks of instruction at the Academy.
8. Outstanding with the exception of [redacted] who showed clear Israeli bias. Operation Smokescreen case study was great!
9. [redacted] had great information, but does not need to read slide by slide. [redacted] was very informative and engaging. A lot of instructors just read right down slides and took a lot of time reiterating points already made.
10. Best block of classroom training at the Academy. Thank you.
11. This has been the best block of training we have received at the Academy to date. Thank you for an excellent curriculum.
12. I really enjoyed the briefing presented by [redacted] Coleman, and Fromme. I would say this has been some of the best CT training I have received to date. Thank you!
13. Very good insight into the past and current CT environment. Thanks.
14. Instructors are amazing! Very thorough in their instruction and how it applies to us. Great examples.

15. Good training. A lot of PowerPoint could be made more interesting with additional hands-on training and more videos.
16. I really enjoyed the history of Islam, and the history of the Middle East. The case studies were great! The naming really helped me because I did not know how the names were structured.

Overall, the course was excellent. Most of the lecturers seemed to be very knowledgeable & unbiased - although maybe not having someone from WINEP teach on Hamas & someone who has served in the IDF on Hizballah.

All of the instructors are very smart - some can present the material a great deal better than others.

Good training - I feel it needs to continue - I learned a lot, although I'm not entirely sure why some instructors were here.

Great instruction and instructors!
 My only suggestion is that the course should be longer. There is so much more that your unit could offer us as new agents, regarding middle eastern studies, culture, history and how this relates to terrorism. Thank you all for your time.

Mr. Coleman had great information, but I wish it had been more specific to one "story" rather than bits of information on a variety of case/threat areas.

Mr. Fromme's presentation was excellent and I learned the most from his investigation.

Overall, I wish we could have the information over several more days. The 4th blocks contained a lot of information! A movie or 2 would help to break up the lecture.

This is one of the best blocks of instruction at the academy.

1. The last session was very helpful towards how to conduct an investigation and very energetic presenter.

2. [] is very good and informative, but he says the word "right" too much.
3. Incorporate more lectures on closed cases. Go more in-depth of investigative techniques used. Overall good and informative course.
4. I thought it was great training regardless of what track (CT, Criminal, etc.) you've been designated. It provides a very good backdrop of the history/thinking of terrorism.
5. Some of the material was redundant.
6. Having the reference materials prior to class to review would have helped understand the material better. This is a lot of info (very good info) but a bit confusing due to the amount of info.
7. I enjoyed the historical value of the presentations, but the instructors should make the material more applicable to a case agent's investigation. []
[] The presenter who received a higher rating did a better job at this. Thank you.
8. The number of slides limited the interaction of the group. There were not a ton of slides, but each slide was talked in depth, and kept the class from participating. The class on Islam in North America was ok, but the speaker spoke very softly. Operation Smokescreen was excellent. Best class of the presentation.
9. I really enjoyed the training. If anything because counterterrorism is the #1 priority, I think we should have more training on this.
10. Some of the information was repeated over and over again by different presenters making it somewhat redundant. Overall, a lot of information to try and absorb in a small amount of time.
11. The training was very professional.
12. The second half of day 2 was a repetition of the elements and ideas presented on day 1. Day 1-3 had a lot of overlap and repetition of the same information provided. This made the classes difficult to maintain an interest in.
13. Day 1, amazingly smart, but presentation could be improved. Day 2, much better at time management and presentation. Still amazingly smart. Day 3, great. Day 4, very good.
14. [] was informative and information was interesting to learn. Varieties of Sunni Activism was taught too fast, others were too long. Day 1 was long. 8 hrs of straight lecture was a little much. Muslim Brotherhood and Tenets of Hamas was very boring and too many names, definitions, and dates. [] was very knowledgeable and kept everyone on track. Really good presenter. Went long on time. Getting out late from class is very unpopular. Day 2 was good information, but could have been condensed. A lot of info to absorb. Enterprise block was confusing and dry. A day and a half of straight lectures is way too much, you need to re-look at material, cut out, and get more engagement from class. Very informative day 3, however, not much class interaction. Monotone AQ Case Study. Interesting last class, good instructor.
15. Although you may have no control over this, but 4 hour blocks are too much for this subject, especially for those with no knowledge of this subject. 2 hour blocks each day would be perfect.

16. Excellent training. I understood basics of Arabic/Middle Eastern culture, but this was in-depth and gave me a far more comfortable feel of Islam.
17. Great training. Speakers had a wealth of knowledge and experience.
18. Fromme was great!
19. Afternoon of Day 1, almost all monologue. Very difficult without some forced (or requested) dialogue, video, etc. All speakers are very knowledgeable with great experience. Being effective doesn't always mean talking only "to" versus "with" the audience. Just getting through the material/slides seemed to trump facilitating discussion. I liked [redacted] He has on the ground recent Iraq experience. It was frustrating to have [redacted] stop questions she deemed political when it felt very relevant and [redacted] was engaged. Really liked Mr. Coleman and Mr. Fromme.
20. The course would benefit by assuming people in class know little to nothing about Islam. Overall, the course was very good and extremely helpful/important. Thank you.
21. Mr. Coleman was a nice man, but there are so many smart people with knowledge of UBL you should get a "teacher." Pick a person or 2 from [redacted] ops and analytical side and do a good job with this topic because it is important. [redacted] might be a reach but worth asking. Overall, good topics, but you need some new instructors, improve PP slides, add more pictures/videos [redacted] who have done it and have good stories/experience.
22. Information very involved. Instructors are highly educated and qualified. Too many PPT slides.
23. The history helped, but a little more interaction in many lectures would've helped greatly. How everything relates to investigations also would've helped. Operation Smokescreen was excellent and informative.
24. Having traveled extensively in the Middle East and working various CT missions, I considered this to be a great period of instruction for new agents. Great stuff!
25. AQ and Salafi Jihad felt like a TV on a difficult language channel with the volume set on high.

- The number of slides limited the interaction of the group. There were not a ton of slides, but each slide was talked in depth, and kept the class from participating.
- The class on Islam in North America was OK, but the speaker spoke very softly.
- Operation Smokescreen was excellent. Best class of the presentation.

- [redacted] very informative and information was interesting to learn. b6 b7C
- varieties of sunni Activism was taught too fast, others were too long.
- Day 1 was too long, 8 hours of straight lecture was a little much.
- Muslim Brotherhood & tenets of Hamas was very boring and too many name/definitions/dates
- [redacted] very knowledgeable and kept everyone on track, really good presenter, went long on time
- getting out late from class is very unpopular
- Day 2 was good information, but could have been condensed, a lot of info to absorb
- Enterprise block was confusing + dry
- A day and a half of straight lectures is way too much, you need to relook at material, cut out, and get more engagement from class.
- very informative day 3, however not much class interaction
- monotonous AQ case study
- interesting last class, good instructor

- Afternoon of Day 2 ... almost all monologue. Very difficult w/out some forced (or requested) dialogue, video, etc.
- All speakers are very knowledgeable w/great experience. Being effective doesn't always mean talking only "to" versus "with" the audience. Just getting through the material/slides seemed to trump facilitating discussion.
- I liked [redacted] he has on-the-ground recent Iraq experience. It was frustrating to have [redacted] stop questions she deemed political when it felt very relevant & [redacted] was engaged.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5, in which 1 is "excellent" and 5 is "poor," the overall CTC training score was 1.41 and the average instructor rating was 1.53. New Agent Class 10-14 was a quiet group, but responded well to a two-hour question and answer session which occurred on Day 5. The change occurred due to a last-minute cancellation by one instructor (Dan Coleman), who had to teach at another FBI venue not run by the CTC due to a schedule change. Students asked question for the entire first hour of the block, and the CTC operations officer facilitated discussion during the second half of the block using a jihadist video featuring Americans fighting in Somalia with a designated terrorist organization known as al-Shabaab. The most significant and consistent critique of the course is the 4 or 8 hours sessions coupled with use of power point. One student made an interesting suggestion of breaking the four hour sections over the lunch hour so that the CTC taught from 1000-1150 and from 1300-1500.

Class Survey Comments:

1. The instructors were excellent. It is a lot of information to absorb in four hour blocks.
2. Extremely helpful, whether you have knowledge on the subject or a vast background. Best classes were less PowerPoint and more discussion. I plan on using as a research tool in the future. Thanks.
3. Reference materials were helpful.
4. The training was excellent. The presenters were very knowledgeable. Mr. Braniff was superb!!! What really damaged the training was the "PowerPoint Jihad." PowerPoint presentations turn students off and stiffen the presenters. Plus presenters use them as a crutch unnecessarily. Mr. Braniff didn't use a single PowerPoint and was the best presenter. Also, too much time was spent on covering history. It was tedious and too detailed. It's more useful to us to learn about practical/tactical topics, just like the topics Mr. Braniff covered. Mr. Fromme's presentation was also excellent. Thank you so much!!! I enjoyed it and I learned a lot (just please no more PowerPoint!)
5. I really enjoyed day 5. Days 1-3 involved a lot of PowerPoint.
6. Really good training. The only drawback would be the presenter's use of PowerPoint. The instructors that didn't utilize the PowerPoint's were much more engaging and easier to learn from. While the instructors who utilized the PowerPoint's for their entire presentation were dry and more difficult to learn from. Overall, the instructors were very knowledgeable on their topics and it was a good course.
7. Level of instruction and quality of the instructors was extremely high.
8. Mr. Fromme is a great presenter. Please include him in more segments.
9. Operation Smokescreen was great, beneficial, and relevant. For someone going into a criminal career path like me, it was also the easiest to grasp. All instructors were extremely knowledgeable.
10. I was just assigned to work CT and was looking for a course just like this. I thought it gave an excellent overview.
11. A couple of suggestions would be to divide the 4 hour blocks into two 2 hour blocks. It seems that our attention becomes saturated after 2 hours. Also, in the history segments, flow charts and/or timelines would greatly facilitate the presentation of the material. As most names, organizations, etc were new and foreign, it was very difficult to keep track of it.
12. I thought all the staff had a very thorough knowledge of each subject. They also had a lot of energy while teaching which is a definite plus.
13. I thought this was great training. I learned an enormous amount of information. I think it would be more effective if it was broken up a little. Even though I loved it, I had a hard time maintaining focus.
14. Some classes go into extreme detail about history and culture that is useful, but often very dry and difficult to follow. Braniff did a good job of contextualizing information and making it actionable. Operation Smokescreen was excellent! Fromme is a very good presenter. Give more time to Operation Smokescreen.

15. This was very valuable training, but it was a ton of information in a short period of time. It would be helpful to perhaps break up the sessions to 2 hrs in the morning and 2 in the afternoon. It is clear that the presenters know their material.

Extremely helpful, whether you have no knowledge on the subject or a vast background. Best classes were less power point & more discussion. I plan on using as a research tool in the future. Thanks.

The training was excellent. The presenters were very knowledgeable. Mr. Braniff was superb!! What really damaged the training was the "Power Point Jihad". Power Point presentations turn students off & stiffen the presenters. Plus presenters use them as a crutch unnecessarily. Mr. Braniff didn't use a single PPP & ~~did~~ was the best presenter. Also, too much time was spent on covering history. It was tedious & too detailed. It's more useful to us to learn about practical/tactical topics, just like the topics Mr. Braniff covered. Mr. Fromme's presentation was also excellent.

Thank you so much!!!

I enjoyed it & I learned a lot. (just please no more Power Point!!)

Really good training. The only drawback would be the presentors use of powerpoint. The instructors that didnt utilize the powerpoints were much more engaging & easier to learn from. While the instructors who utilized the powerpoints for their entire presentation were dry & more difficult to learn from. Overall, The instructors were very knowledgeable on their topics & it was a good course.

I was just assigned to work CT and was looking for a course just like this. I thought it gave an excellent overview

A couple of suggestions would be to divide the 4 hour blocks into 2 2 hour blocks. It seems that our ~~attention~~ attention becomes saturated after two hours.

Also, in the history segments, flow charts and/or timelines would greatly facilitate the presentation of the material. As most names, organizations, etc were new and foreign, it was very difficult to keep track of it.

Some classes go into extreme detail about history and culture that is useful but often very dry and difficult to follow. Braniff did a good job of contextualizing information and making it actionable. Operation Smokescreen was excellent! Fromme is a very good presenter. Give more time to Operation Smokescreen.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5 in which 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for the 20 hours of instruction was 1.86. Training was held in the Tall Pines trailer due to repairs in the regular classrooms. No new instructors were introduced during the week, nor were there any significant curriculum revisions. Instructor Brown presented his blocks with minimal use of PowerPoint – this structure seemed well received by the class. Operations officer responsibilities were divided during the week, with [Redacted] attending days 1-3 and [Redacted] covering days 4-5.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Final day was great.

2. Islam in North America didn't seem to be focused on Islam in N. America. More clear focus on customs/traditions would be helpful. Best to keep presentation unbiased. Seemed like [redacted] was speaking badly of the FBI and what we do/have to do. Someone that has a lot of cultural background from different countries are able to look over the presented biases, but those without that background leave with mixed feelings.
3. We always got out late for lunch. I prefer a full lunch break.
4. If there is any way to spread out, 4 hrs is a little too much.
5. Some of the terrorist groups are difficult to understand if you don't know a little more about Palestinian history which was glossed over. A little more on that subject would have been helpful. The class on the Origins of Islam was very good when you consider how much history has to be discussed in so little time. The historical briefings were extremely helpful. Most of the classes seemed as if they didn't have enough class time allotted to them.
6. Mr. Brown utilizing the white board and providing a break-down of AQ operations and Nairobi US Embassy attack was helpful. Mr. Fromme's lecture was the best.
7. Please give us breaks every 45-50 min, not every 1 hr.
8. Overall, instruction was great. Tons of information in a short period of time make some hard to follow. Breaking the classes up more may help info retention.
9. Personal stories/experiences are helpful in illustrating different important key points. On day 3, the diversion from the PPT and focus on discussion (and use of multi-media) significantly helped the learning process (Brown). [redacted] seemed angry and did not encourage questions (given his attitude while responding to the few questions that were raised). This made it difficult to learn from him.
10. The slides need a little more info so that the verbal info provided can be recalled. In addition, the names and locations and/or individuals should be included on the printed slides. Real experience played a very important part of understanding the relevance of this block of instruction.
11. Excellent training. Vahid Brown was outstanding. LT. Fromme's case study was an excellent way to end the training. It was extremely beneficial to tie the training together. Thank you for the training.
12. It's a good block of instruction, just a lot of material to take in and retain over the course of just a couple of days.
13. Please include more videos and/or real life information/stories. It makes things more interesting, and relatable. The PPT's and straight lectures are very hard to concentrate for 4 hrs straight.
14. Day 1: lecture was informative, but a bit too academic. Instructors obviously very knowledgeable but I feel we were bogged down with too much detail. Day 2: Instructor is very good, but again, maybe too academic/detailed for what we need to know. Day 3: Second instructor (Brown) was very good – thanks for ditching the PPT and making the material interesting and interactive. Day 4: The info on Islam in N. America was very valuable, but the instructor seems to really dislike FBI Agents and sometimes appeared condescending when asked questions. Day 5: Operation Smokescreen is a great case study. Fromme is a dynamic speaker.

15. Do not ask to start class before 0800 and hold us over our lunch time. Also, don't ask to start early so we can go to lunch early and hold us late. If more time is needed, then work to get an extra day. Mr. Fromme was excellent.

16. [] is very enthusiastic. [] is very knowledgeable, but a very uninteresting, passive presenter. Says "like" too much. Nye is very informative. Nye is energetic and keeps our attention – very good. [] was very good. Says "um, ah" too much. [] is very suggestive of his personal views in how FBI Agents should and should not interact with Muslims. Told us not to be professional or ask direct questions. We may come across as having an agenda. Muslims, in his opinion, are already leery of FBI Agents. He did not like that he was interviewed by Agents two times and they took notes. He told us he told his wife not to drop his children off at the bus stop because people are looking at her funny. He said US is not accepting of him as an immigrant, and he does not like that. [] is jaded.

Some of the terrorist groups are difficult to understand if you don't know a little more about Palestine history which was glossed over. A little more time on that subject would have been helpful.

The class on the origins of Islam was very good when you consider how much history had to be discussed in so little time.

The historical briefings were extremely helpful.

Most of the classes seemed as if they didn't have enough class time allotted to them.

Day 1: Lecture was informative but a bit too academic. Instructor is obviously very knowledgeable but feel we were bogged down with too much detail.

Day 2: Instructor is very good, but again, maybe too academic/detailed for what we need to know.

Day 3: Second instructor [Redacted] was very good - thanks for ditching the PPT + making the material interesting & interactive.

Day 4: The info on Islam in North America was very valuable. But, the instructor seems to really dislike FBI Agents & sometimes appeared condescending when asked questions.

Day 5: Operation Smokescreen is great case study. Fromme is a dynamic speaker.

[] is very enthusiastic. [] is very knowledgeable, but a very uninteresting, passive presenter. Says "like" too much. Nye is very informative. Nye is energetic and kept our attention - very good. [] was very good. Says "um, ah" too much. [] is very suggestive of his personal views in how FBI Agents should and should not interact with Muslims. Told us not to be professional or ask direct questions. We may come across as having an agenda. Muslims, in his opinion, are already leary of FBI Agents. He did not like that he was interviewed by Agents two times, and they took notes. He told us he told his wife not to drop his children off at the bus stop because any longer because people are looking at her funny. He said US are not accepting of him as an immigrant, and he does not like that. [] is jaded.

Summary:

On a scale from 1 to 5, where 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for NAC 10-16 was 1.44. This class engaged the instructors with challenging questions and responded well to the more interactive portions of the curriculum. Specifically, during the Domestic Cases discussion, the Islam in North America question and answer session and Arabic naming convention blocks. CTC intends to incorporate a greater degree of discussion by departing from the power-point based lecture model when appropriate.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Every instructor was extremely knowledgeable. Great topics and instruction. This is a lot of information to cover in these short blocks, but the training material provided helps as an aid to remember the topics covered.

2. Best instruction we have had yet. Thanks!
3. Day 1: the information is so much and so detailed. Would have been better to give presentation. Give us info so we can ask questions. Being told to ask questions is frustrating. The presenters are very well versed in their subjects, but overall, just too in the weeds for what we need. A macro version would be so much more helpful. Videos help break things up and explain in a different way. Too much of a focus on academic point-of-view.
4. Everything was excellent. 8 hrs in 1 day was a little too much because it's hard to stay focused all day.
5. Operation Smokescreen was an outstanding case. Ties everything together.
6. The training was excellent. I really enjoyed the use of the dry erase board vs. PowerPoint.
7. Make sure the PowerPoint is fully functional. Videos did not work. Q&A session with [redacted] very helpful.
8. Operation Smokescreen was very interesting and beneficial.
9. Everything was excellent!! Lectures that don't involve reading from the PowerPoint are the best. The Domestic Cases could have had more information. I did not learn about any new groups, but I understand more about how domestic terrorists think and operate.
10. I think more case studies on terrorist cases would be very beneficial.
11. Though the PowerPoint's were very informative, I enjoyed the Q&A sessions the best.
12. The reference section is very helpful. I enjoyed the class discussion and white board notation vs. the PPT only. Fromme is a great presenter.
13. The discussion type lectures were great. PPT's with endless words in them are highly counter-productive. The last PPT on day 4 was the best of them all. Lots of pictures and videos work very well when discussing new topics. When videos are included, please make sure they work. The history lessons were great. I now better understand the Islamic culture and the terrorist's mindset. Thank you for bringing [redacted] in the presentation. Operation Smokescreen was excellent. Great Speaker. Great case. Great finish to the briefing.
14. I learned a great deal of material thanks to the expertise of the instructors.
15. Very well done! Learned a tremendous amount of information.
16. Absolutely one of the best classes at this Academy.
17. The use of more slides would help this presentation. Staying on one slide for 10 minutes made it difficult to stay engaged.

Everything was excellent!! Lectures that don't involve reading from the powerpoint are the best. The domestic cases could have had more information. I did not learn about any new groups, but I understand more about how domestic terrorist think and operate.

- The discussion type lectures were great. Power Points with endless words in them are highly counter-productive. The last power point on day 4 was the best of them all. Lots of pictures and videos work very well when discussing ~~top~~ new topics. When videos are included, please make sure they work.
 - The history lessons were great. I now better understand the islamic culture and the terrorists' mindset.
 - Thank you for bringing in the presentation.
 - Operation Smokescreen was excellent. Great speaker. Great case.

THIS WAS ONE OF THE BEST OVERALL INSTRUCTIONAL BLOCKS AT THE ACADEMY. THE INSTRUCTORS PROVIDED TONS OF USEFUL INFORMATION.

THE ONLY REMAINING SUGGESTION IS FOR SOME OF THE INSTRUCTORS TO SPEND LESS TIME ON THE ENTIRE HISTORY OF TERRORIST ORGANIZATIONS, ESPECIALLY THE 1980'S, AND MORE TIME ON PRESENT DAY ACTIVITIES. HITTING THE "WAVE TOPS" OF EARLY HISTORY WOULD BE ENOUGH TO CONVEY THE DEVELOPMENT OF THESE ORGANIZATIONS.

THANK YOU

Absolutely excellent! However, preloading of info needs to be better - always putting too much into too little time. Always going over time limits.

This was great training. I enjoyed learning the history, the culture and the different organizations. I think it would be great to get more of this type of training throughout our 20 weeks here.

Great presentation by Mr. Fromme.

- It's great having knowledgeable folks speak to us about Islam and the Middle East in general. I suggest that this course gets offered to some of our national security instructors (hint, hint)
- went through colonialism in the ME and the creation of Israel too fast given how central these two topics are to modern day terrorism.
- [Redacted] is a little bit all over the place. He forcefully tries to insert humor in a serious matter leading to lack of focus.
- [Redacted] is too Israeli biased, too emotional, even mis-stated facts. He failed to be objective in explaining the origination of Hizballah, the Lebanese civil war, the Israeli invasion, and the after-math of the Israeli invasion. WAY TOO EMOTIONAL MANY factual errors.

NAC 10-18

Date of Report: January 3, 2011
Class: 10-18
Training Dates: December 10-December 16
Class Supervisor: [redacted]
Class Size: 46
CTC Operations Officer/Author: [redacted]
Summary:

b6
b7C

On a scale from 1 to 5, where 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for NAC 10-18 was 1.32. As with class 10-17, class 10-18 was distributed across 5 days as 4-hour blocks. Classes are generally more receptive to the 5-day schedule. The schedule for 10-18 was primarily composed of CTC "regular" instructors who frequently teach at Quantico. [redacted] again taught the Afghanistan/Pakistan and South Asian Terror Group blocks and was again quite well received. The CTC plans to utilize him for the Day One Origins of Islam material in the near future.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Training was very informative. More videos/pictures relating to topics would be nice to prevent the 4 hour blocks from being drawn out. More real life investigations dealing with radical networks.
2. The training was very informative and interesting. The suggestion I have is to make this more engaging, if there is any way to make each block more interactive, it would be helpful.

3. Tons of great, informative, helpful and downright interesting information. The only thing that was a little difficult for me was that the first two days were very academic in nature. Because of this, it was almost too much information to absorb. However, that said, the content was excellent, I just wish I could retain more of the historical information. I also think the last day of cases and stories are most relevant to us immediately as new agents and because they are more (and I say this with respect to all lecturers) entertaining and less monotone in presentation. Overall, this/these courses were superb. I will definitely look forward to the CTC emails.
4. [redacted] was the most engaging and energetic, and seemed most effective in conveying material to our class. I thoroughly enjoyed his lectures and appreciated the way he made it so interactive. It was nice to have the perspective of [redacted] although I learned a good bit, I found him to be a little less engaging than some of the others. Bob Fromme was amazing!!
5. Great Training! The only suggestion I have is to possibly utilize the final block of time to review key takeaways from each block as well as talk about current threats to U.S. and potential intelligence trends to be aware of.
6. Great training—our best yet. Thanks.
7. Excellent training. Definitely the top instructors and subject matter experts on these topics.
8. Mr. Fromme was excellent!
9. Some of the lecturers on Islam went too in depth for our purposes. Please keep in mind that about 2/3 of the class will not be involved – primarily that is – in terrorism cases. Therefore, having to sit through 15 plus hours of Islam/terrorism is not too relevant for what most of the class will be doing. Moreover, even if the materials were somewhat helpful, there is so much detail given that is highly unlikely that a student would remember the information five or six months from now. What would be most helpful is tying actual investigative techniques to the theoretical lectures. We need to learn how to investigate Islam as it relates to terrorism, not to become scholars. Mr. Fromme was an excellent presenter.
10. [redacted] was great, he was engaging and kept my interest in learning about this topic. Mr. Fromme was a great speaker!
11. The Radicalization class was redundant and a bit patronizing – not to mention very poorly managed by way of time.
12. Overall, good instruction, good information.
13. Overall, the CTC training was densely packed with great information and taught by people who really know what they're talking about. Some of the presenters were dry and after 30 minutes, hard to follow. [redacted] was a really good presenter. He was able to pass a large amount of information without being dry – managed to keep everyone engaged. [redacted] is also a great presenter as was Fromme.
14. [redacted] – great speaker with high energy and deep knowledge of subject. Bob Fromme – excellent briefing/speaker.

Overall, the CTC training was densely packed with great information and taught by people who really know what they're talking about. Some of the presentations were dry and after 30 minutes, hard to follow. [redacted] was a really good presenter. He was able to pass a large amount of information who being dry - managed to keep everyone engaged. [redacted] is also a great presenter, as was Fromme.

FBI-CTC Collaborative
After Action Report
NAC 10-19

Date of Report: January 3, 2011
Class: 10-19
Training Dates: December 27-January 3
Class Supervisor: [redacted]
Class Size: 45
CTC Operations Officer/Author: [redacted]
Summary:

b6
b7c

On a scale from 1 to 5, where 1 is Excellent and 5 is Poor, the overall CTC rating for NAC 10-19 was 1.22. NAC 10-19 was quite busy this week – in addition to the course falling in between the Christmas and New Year’s holidays, the class was in the midst of moving from campus to hotel housing and had many logistical matters to cover with announcements, etc. throughout the week. In spite of this, NAC 10-19 engaged with each instructor to a very high degree, asking many informed questions both during lectures and at each break. The class was attentive and helped foster a positive learning environment with their interaction. The schedule included many of the CTC’s “regular” instructors who frequently teach at Quantico. [redacted] instructed for the second time, again covering the Hizballah material. [redacted] offers a unique background and first-hand experience, and his ability to relate to the class will develop over time, should he teach this block in the future.

Class Survey Comments:

1. Excellent information. This is the 1st time exposed to this subject. Very good!! Keep up the good work.

2. [redacted] had a lot of information, but was harder to understand without more of a base understanding. A lot of Arabic terms were used that we did not understand. You could tell [redacted] was very knowledgeable, but it was presented at a more sophisticated level than we were able to understand without more understanding of the key fundamentals. [redacted] did a fantastic job of explaining the ideas and concepts at a level we could understand before going into more of the complex topics.
3. [redacted] is a fantastic instructor that is energetic, knows his material, and keeps the attention of the class. He can answer basically any question on his topic of instruction and is definitely a subject matter expert. [redacted] is also a master of her field and talks very intelligently on the subjects that she covers. [redacted] brought a lot to the table with his personal experiences from Iraq. Having everything as an open forum for discussion was great too. Coleman provided a lot of good information, but not what I expected from how to Investigate Al-Qaida. Fromme was excellent. The case study was excellent. Probably learned the most in those 2 hours.
4. Overall, the course was excellent. Most of the lecturers seemed to be very knowledgeable and unbiased – although maybe not having someone from WINEP teach on Hamas and someone who has served in the IDF on Hizballah.
5. All the instructors are very smart – some can present the material a great deal better than others. Good training. I feel it needs to continue. I learned a lot, although, I'm not entirely sure why some instructors were here.
6. Great instruction and instructors! My only suggestion is that the course should be longer. There is so much more that your unit could offer us as new agents regarding Middle Eastern studies, culture, history and how this relates to terrorism. Thank you all for your time.
7. Mr. Coleman had great information, but I wish it had been more specific to one "story" rather than bits of information on a variety of case/threat areas. Mr. Fromme's presentation was excellent and I learned the most from his investigation. Overall, I wish we could have the information over several more days. The 4 hour blocks contained a lot of information. A movie or 2 would help break up the lecture. This is one of the best blocks of instruction at the Academy.
8. Outstanding with the exception of [redacted] who showed clear Israeli bias. Operation Smokescreen case study was great!
9. [redacted] had great information, but does not need to read slide by slide. [redacted] was very informative and engaging. A lot of instructors just read right down slides and took a lot of time reiterating points already made.
10. Best block of classroom training at the Academy. Thank you.
11. This has been the best block of training we have received at the Academy to date. Thank you for an excellent curriculum.
12. I really enjoyed the briefing presented by [redacted] Coleman, and Fromme. I would say this has been some of the best CT training I have received to date. Thank you!
13. Very good insight into the past and current CT environment. Thanks.
14. Instructors are amazing! Very thorough in their instruction and how it applies to us. Great examples.

15. Good training. A lot of PowerPoint could be made more interesting with additional hands-on training and more videos.
16. I really enjoyed the history of Islam, and the history of the Middle East. The case studies were great! The naming really helped me because I did not know how the names were structured.
