W. Lloyd Garrison, Editor.

Terms: Two Dollars per annum, payable in advance.

- List of agents and subscribers across various states including Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode-Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, and Upper Canada.

The last mentioned place is about twenty-five or thirty miles from the settlement...

No place, perhaps, in the northern or north-western portion of America presents a stronger and richer soil...

There are, at the time, thirty families residing in the settlement, which average about five individuals each...

Unimproved land has heretofore sold at $1.50 per acre.

We learn that there are several other settlements of colored people in various parts of Upper Canada...

But the settlement at Wilberforce will be, by far, the most important. There are now known in consequence, that probably will not, at least very long, be exceeded...

The following table, exhibiting the state of the weather at Wilberforce, from the 23d to the 25th of December, 1851.

Table with 4 columns: Days of the month, Degree below zero, Degree below zero, Prevailance of the wind. Rows for Dec 23, 24, 25.

Through the early part of the month of January, 1852, the mercury ranged at about one deg. below the freezing point...

AN APPEAL FOR THE SLAVES.

DEAR SIR:—In justice at the enlargement of your paper, at the commencement of the year...

Before I advance any further on this topic, I do earnestly call upon every man of color to subscribe to this valuable paper...

Such are the excellent regulations, and so high is the reputation of this school, that a number of the colored people send their children to it...

On a reference to the map, it will be perceived that the Wilberforce Settlement is very nearly in the same latitude as the city of New York...

The members of the Settlement have entered into an association for the purpose of accomplishing the object...

In justice to the great mass of the citizens of Ohio, it must be stated that, notwithstanding the political and moral fanaticism...

There is not in "the oracles of God" a doctrine of a false prophet, a pernicious agent, an imitative type, an appalling punishment, a colossal promise, a historical fact, or a prophetic testimony...

VENUE DEPARTMENT.

For the Liberator. AUNT MARGERY'S TALK WITH THE YOUNG FOLKS.

I am glad an evening has come at last, when this is nobody here; said Catharine. I believe it is almost a week, since you told us any thing about the slaves.

For the Liberator. LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

(And not a Woman and a Sister!) Scene. The Promenade—Lynn Common.

Helen. I understand there is to be meeting this evening, at Liberty Hall. Do you know what is the object of it?

Ruth. Yes, it is for an Anti-Slavery Society. Helen. And what good do people suppose that Anti-Slavery Societies can accomplish?

Ruth. I presume not. But they can do much toward accomplishing that object. Helen. The slaves at the south are regarded as honest property, by the laws of the particular States where they are held in bondage.

Ruth. We know well that such laws exist, and we know as well as they are unjust. The public mind may, however, be so enlightened as finally to repeal those laws.

Helen. But why do the people of Lynn trouble themselves at all about the slaves. In what are we engaged?

Ruth. They have manifested their opinion by the vote they gave in the election of 1852, in favor of the non-interference policy.

Ruth. Then the colonization society is taking a great deal of trouble in vain, in founding a new Liberia. Helen. Why do you manifest that opinion?

For the Liberator. FREE PRODUCE.

In the Liberator No. 15, in Aunt Margery's interesting conversation with the children, she observed that free sugar came from Java or Bauxin.

The article on our first page, descriptive of this Settlement in Upper Canada, (from the pen of our indefatigable and impressive Grand Lander), cannot fail to interest our colored readers, and we are to attract the attention of others.

SOUTHERN BILINGUATE. The editor of the Constitution (Vt.) Statesman having some time since inserted in his columns some strictures upon the conduct of southern oppressors, has received several anonymous letters from an individual in South Carolina, which are charged with indecent, passion and abuse.

For the Liberator. EDUCATION. No. II. A rational, intelligent and immortal mind is born, possessing certain elementary principles, which, as they come from God, must have been designed for improvement in true wisdom, virtue and holiness.

FOREIGN ITEMS. The existence of the Cholera at Paris, caused a great sensation in France, and in London, on the 23rd instant. It was first announced on the 30th.

THE TRUANT OF THE LONDON CONFERENCE for the separation of Holland and Belgium has been ratified by Austria. The ratification by Prussia was daily expected.

THE INTERESTING LETTER to President Humphrey, which is inserted on our last page, was written by one of the editors of the Contrivance (Indiana) Times, from which paper we copied it.
