

TERMS - Two dollars and fifty cents per an... Five copies will be sent to one address for the...

THE LIBERATOR. Our Country is the World, our Countrymen are all Mankind.

WM. LLOYD GARRISON, Editor. VOL. XXX. NO. 12.

NO UNION WITH SLAVEHOLDERS.

The United States Constitution is a covenant with death, and an agreement with hell... The free States are the guardians and essential supports of slavery...

J. B. YERRINGTON & SON, Printers.

REFUGE OF OPPRESSION.

BLACK REPUBLICAN INTOLERANCE.

The great strike now going on among the operatives in the shoe factories in Massachusetts, has brought to light some important developments...

The grand bulwark of Black Republicanism, of 'free thought,' 'free speech,' and 'free everything else,' has also been proved by the 'strike' to be a mere sham...

In consequence of the active part taken by the Rev. W. G. Babcock in behalf of the strikers, he has been dismissed from his pastoral office...

Thus do the loud-mouthed speakers for 'free thought,' 'free speech,' 'free men,' illustrate their professions by their conduct...

AGENCY TO ASSIST FUGITIVE SLAVES TO RETURN TO THEIR MASTERS.

From the Detroit Free Press, Feb. 25th.

Mr. C. J. Brown, an enterprising Southerner who has been journeying for some weeks in Canada on a special mission, has opened an office in Deserres Block...

SLAVERY TO BE ESTABLISHED IN NEW ENGLAND.

President Lord, of Dartmouth College, has written a long letter concerning the recent foray of John Brown...

Without a miracle, I see not but that slaves will be called for in New England, and by New England men; slaves having the attributes...

Without a miracle, I see not but that slaves will be called for in New England, and by New England men; slaves having the attributes...

SELECTIONS.

[TRANSLATED FOR THE LIBERATOR.]

From the Boston (German) Pioneer, of March 8.

MR. SEWARD.

Motto: What honest and decided friend of freedom will say, 'Down with Brown! Hurrah for Seward!'

On the 20th of February, in the Senate, Mr. Seward moved the admission of Kansas in a speech which must be regarded as an authentic exposition of the policy of the Republican party...

Mr. Seward, with manifest solicitude, avoids representing slavery as an absolute wrong, or even as a barbarism and a crime, conformably, of course, to his own individual conviction...

To be sure, Mr. Seward gives us sufficiently to understand that he is not friend to slavery, and also enlarges upon the fact that the 'Fathers of the Republic' condemned it, and that, through the Constitution, they had made a slave a person...

This new discrimination, which is retained throughout the entire speech, not only bears no mark of statesmanlike wisdom in itself, but is based intrinsically so unauthorized, that it at once becomes absurd...

On the other hand, the designation of the Free States as 'labor States' corresponds as little with the truth as the new invention of capital States...

Of Webster, Mr. Seward says, that this distinguished citizen whose unquestionable devotion to the Union was manifested by his acquiescence in the compromise of 1850, had gone down into his honored grave...

persons, it cannot establish that they must be delivered back as property; if they are so delivered, the North thereby acknowledges slavery in its own jurisdiction...

It might be objected to this reasoning, that the claimant can prove the obligation to labor on the part of the fugitive only by protesting that same is a slave, that is, a thing...

While Mr. Seward allows the notable infamy of Webster to become his honor, he exposes to shame the infamy of the Democratic party with its Kansas policy, its subservience to Slavery, its Supreme Court swindle, &c., in a proper and forcible manner...

That the Republican party will also stand by freedom of speech and of the press, will pass a homestead law, &c., Mr. Seward, it is true, gives us likewise to understand; but since he himself acknowledges that, in the Senate, the slaveholders...

Mr. Seward, instead of recognizing a right of self-help, at least here where not only the lawless mob, but also the 'legal' power, strikes down freedom of speech and of the press...

'Conspiracy, ambush, invasion, force, sedition, treason, crime, disturbance of the public peace, death-stroke,' &c., - these are the terms with which the panegyrist of the traitor, Webster, describes the deed of Freedom's hero, Brown...

Here we have the chief substance of Seward's speech. It is a 'speech for the house,' the White House, delivered for the threatening slave-dealers and the agitated conservatives...

strongly by the success of every Republican candidate, could be only these: 1st. A decent foreign policy; and, 2d. A weakening and ebbing of the anti-slavery tendencies of the North...

We confess that Seward's speech has caused us to lose much of the esteem which we formerly entertained for him. We have been through it twice, and have read it, too, with the calm inquiry of the politician, rather than the impassioned prejudice of a revolutionist...

How far Mr. Seward has satisfied these claims will be clear to every one who reads his speech without party prejudice, and with a distinct love of the truth...

The speaker then gave an insight into the various modes of opposition in the United States. Some said 'The anti-slavery forces were unfortunately divided. He would not say they were unfortunately divided, any more than he would say that the Christian Churches were divided...

There was another, called 'The Compensationists.' A prominent man amongst these was Elihu Burritt. He advocated the sale of public lands, so as to create a fund to redeem all men in the Union from slavery...

There were also the Garrisonian Abolitionists. Their programme was the dissolution of the Union. They could see no other way of relieving the North from that responsibility, than by having recourse to this means...

There was also the Church Anti-Slavery Society. It was made up of the members of churches alone, and those who did not wish to go into the organization of others. This society was doing good work...

We think Mr. Douglass will not deny that all these anti-slavery means to which he refers, except the third and fifth, are virtually unknown to more than one in fifty thousands of the population of the States...

Therefore we must, from a higher than the present party standpoint, to wit, - the revolutionary standpoint of the future, - hold fast to the opinion that a successful Douglas, the unconsenting representative of a destructive brutality, will be of more permanent service to freedom than a successful Seward, the diplomatic representative of conservatism...

We think Mr. Douglass will not deny that all these anti-slavery means to which he refers, except the third and fifth, are virtually unknown to more than one in fifty thousands of the population of the States...

There was another, called 'The Compensationists.' A prominent man amongst these was Elihu Burritt. He advocated the sale of public lands, so as to create a fund to redeem all men in the Union from slavery...

There were also the Garrisonian Abolitionists. Their programme was the dissolution of the Union. They could see no other way of relieving the North from that responsibility, than by having recourse to this means...

There was also the Church Anti-Slavery Society. It was made up of the members of churches alone, and those who did not wish to go into the organization of others. This society was doing good work...

There was also the Church Anti-Slavery Society. It was made up of the members of churches alone, and those who did not wish to go into the organization of others. This society was doing good work...

prems Court of the United States, both Houses of Congress, the State Judiciary, the State Legislatures, the great political parties, and the vast majority of the people, all agree with the American Anti-Slavery Society in this view of the subject...

We believe that all political efforts against slavery, founded on an anti-slavery rendering of the Constitution, have hitherto come to nothing in the United States, simply because the individuals who hold such views are extremely few...

When our friend the Rev. Samuel J. May was in Great Britain last year, he was grieved and annoyed by the frequent expression of pro-slavery opinions, particularly in the great centres of commerce and manufactures...

When our friend the Rev. Samuel J. May was in Great Britain last year, he was grieved and annoyed by the frequent expression of pro-slavery opinions, particularly in the great centres of commerce and manufactures...

When our friend the Rev. Samuel J. May was in Great Britain last year, he was grieved and annoyed by the frequent expression of pro-slavery opinions, particularly in the great centres of commerce and manufactures...

When our friend the Rev. Samuel J. May was in Great Britain last year, he was grieved and annoyed by the frequent expression of pro-slavery opinions, particularly in the great centres of commerce and manufactures...

When our friend the Rev. Samuel J. May was in Great Britain last year, he was grieved and annoyed by the frequent expression of pro-slavery opinions, particularly in the great centres of commerce and manufactures...

LETTER FROM WILLIAM S. BAILEY.

Mr. Bailey, the devoted and intrepid advocate of emancipation in Kentucky, whose press has been repeatedly destroyed by mob violence...

Newport, (Ky.), March 13, 1860.

My dear friend Garrison: I find you a Cincinnati Commercial newspaper by this mail, containing a notice of some of my persecutions...

depart in peace, for our eyes have seen thy salvation. Taught by much past experience, we may not look for any miraculous spread of this divine light...

DEAR FRIEND MAY—Yesterday I held two good meetings in Union Hall in this place. In the afternoon the hall was well filled, with an attentive and appreciative audience.

HONORS PAID TO JOHN BROWN IN HAYTI.

MUNSELL.—In accordance with the desire of the people of Cayes, the Communal Council notifies you that a funeral mass will be performed, at the parish church of that city, on Thursday, at the present month, at eight o'clock in the morning...

Let us repeat the cry which humanity has uttered by the voice of one of her champions, Hugo! Let us second the energetic appeal of one journalist, HEUBERT!

large as a world, and of which the name of republic (the only constitutional form capable of governing it) forms a striking contrast to the deadly system which it conceals in its bosom—Slavery—a system contrary to all just laws...

To our fellow-citizens: Let us repeat the cry which humanity has uttered by the voice of one of her champions, Hugo! Let us second the energetic appeal of one journalist, HEUBERT!

THE HUMAN VOICE: its Right Management in Speaking, Reading, and Debating, including the Principles of True Eloquence; together with the Functions of the Vocal Organs—the Motion of the Letters of the Alphabet—the Cultivation of the Ear—the Disorders of the Vocal and Articulating Organs—Origin and Construction of the English Language—Proper Methods of Delivery—Remedial Effects of Reading and Speaking, &c. By Rev. W. W. Cazalet, A. M. Cantab. New York: Fowler & Wells, Publishers, Broadway.

It is the long and pretentious title of a small pamphlet, which is without merit or value, and indicative of nothing but presumption on the part of its author, even though (as he asserts) it is the result of much thought and study over a period of more than fifteen years.

IT IS NOT A DYE. MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S HAIR RESTORER.

The only preparation that has a EUROPEAN REPUTATION. Warranted not to contain deleterious substances.

This pleasant and valuable preparation has been used for many years by hundreds of the most distinguished and wealthy persons, who have previously tried all the nostrums of the day without success...

Another objection to dyes is the unlike color and appearance they cause the hair to assume, and the only way to avoid this is to use Mrs. S. A. Allen's Hair Restorer.

Another objection to dyes is the unlike color and appearance they cause the hair to assume, and the only way to avoid this is to use Mrs. S. A. Allen's Hair Restorer.

DISQUISITIONS AND NOTES ON THE GOSPELS.

Matthew. By John H. Morison. Boston: Walker, Wise & Co., 245 Washington Street. 1860.

This is a volume of 540 pages, very legibly printed, and therefore easily read. Its author is a Unitarian clergyman of learning and ability, and its preparation must have required no small amount of labor and trouble.

THE REEDS AND THE OAK.

It appears that Dr. Howe and John A. Andrew were quite correct in assuming that their rights as citizens would be protected neither by their State nor their party.

REPORT.

The twenty-sixth of this month, the day fixed to celebrate the memory of John Brown, the immortal warrior, who sacrificed himself for the welfare of our enslaved brethren, was impressive.

ADDRESS OF CITIZEN S. RAMBAU.

To the Memory of the Immortal JOHN BROWN, Martyr of Liberty: Since thy love of liberty has rent asunder the veil of lies, and thy mighty voice has proclaimed an eternal truth which thy courage has bravely defended...

ADDRESS OF CITIZEN S. RAMBAU.

Since thy love of liberty has rent asunder the veil of lies, and thy mighty voice has proclaimed an eternal truth which thy courage has bravely defended; since universal enthusiasm offers to thee, every where, ovations; since the lamentable cry of thy defeat and of thy tragic end, from across the seas, finds an echo in the bosom of the Haytian people...

ADDRESS OF CITIZEN S. RAMBAU.

To the Memory of the Immortal JOHN BROWN, Martyr of Liberty: Since thy love of liberty has rent asunder the veil of lies, and thy mighty voice has proclaimed an eternal truth which thy courage has bravely defended...

ADDRESS OF CITIZEN S. RAMBAU.

To the Memory of the Immortal JOHN BROWN, Martyr of Liberty: Since thy love of liberty has rent asunder the veil of lies, and thy mighty voice has proclaimed an eternal truth which thy courage has bravely defended...

ADDRESS OF CITIZEN S. RAMBAU.

To the Memory of the Immortal JOHN BROWN, Martyr of Liberty: Since thy love of liberty has rent asunder the veil of lies, and thy mighty voice has proclaimed an eternal truth which thy courage has bravely defended...

LETTER FROM A TRIED A. S. FRIEND.

I am happy to see the contributions which have been thus far acknowledged for the family of one of the most unselfish and devoted men who have lived in this age.

NEW SERIES OF ANTI-SLAVERY TRACTS.

We announce with much pleasure the issue of three new and valuable Anti-Slavery Tracts. They consist of the freshest and most interesting matter, and we invite to them the attention of all our readers.

READ THIS.

The subscriber can now furnish copies of the Photograph of LYDIA MARIA CHILD, with autographic fac simile, executed by Ormsbee, at the low price of 50 cents.

PAST DAY.

OLD COLONY.—A regular quarterly meeting of the Old Colony Anti-Slavery Society will be held on Past Day, April 6th, at Duxbury, in the Universalist Meeting-house, commencing at half-past 10 o'clock, A. M.

DEATH OF THE WIFE OF OLIVER BROWN.

A correspondent furnishes the following:—The young wife of Oliver Brown, slain at Harper's Ferry, passed away on earth on the second of this month, at North Adams. She died in child-birth; the infant died soon after.

THAYER & ELDRIDGE, PUBLISHERS.

Wholesale Booksellers, 114 & 116 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON, MASS.

POETRY.

From the New York Independent. WHITE SLAVES. BY EDNA DEAN PROCTOR. The household of a Roman, in Rome's luxurious time, Was filled with slaves in waiting, from every conquered clime...

THE LIBERATOR.

SPEECH OF MR. SEWARD. The eagerly expected speech of the Hon. Wm. H. Seward, in the United States Senate, upon the admission of Kansas into the Union, has appeared, and expectation has yielded to realization...

thoroughly that it cannot cease shaking until slavery shall die? It cannot be the result of the blood that was shed in the tragedy; for that was but a flea-bite. More violence has often been exhibited, and more human lives sacrificed, without causing any sensation...

From his wings before the warmth of our blushes for his imperfection. The successor of Humboldt and the loafer in the streets of Cambridge arc wide enough apart, you would think; but we have seen them both cross the College yard with cigars in their mouths, and have thought, of the two the loafer was justified.

clothes, even to the skin, smell of the abominable weed whose use was learned from the wretched, beastly savages; and I shun all female society, as if I were a monster. And why all this? Because, contrary to my principles, I was obliged to be with a company which calls itself a social and radical, but which is neither so free for itself as to be able, even for an hour, to do without the smoking, stinking weed...

DR. CHEEVER'S GREAT WORK. The Guilt of Slavery, AND THE CRIME OF SLAVEHOLDING, DEMONSTRATED FROM THE HEBREW AND GREEK SCRIPTURES. BY REV. GEO. B. CHEEVER, D. D. THIS work embraces an examination of all the passages in the Bible on the subject of Slavery and Slaveholding as a sin against God and man...