

THE LAST SPEECH OF EDWARD EVERETT.

His voice raised in an appeal for Generosity and Justice to the South—He incalculates Loss of Neighbor, Charity to the Suffering, wherever they may be.

DEATH OF EDWARD EVERETT.

The death of this eminent statesman and admirable scholar is announced by our telegraphic dispatches to have taken place at his residence in Boston on Sunday, Jan. 25, after a brief and severe illness.

the dining-room. The tables certainly were not spread with damask table-cloths, nor set out with porcelain or cut glass, nor did I taste the food; but, judging from looks and the general appearance of the place, I ever wish to see on my own table, and in quantity and quality it was equal to that of the Union regiments that guarded the depot.

PROMOTION OF A COLORED OFFICER FOR GALLANTRY. Nearly a year ago it became known to some of those who were specially interested in the history and character of the 54th Regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers.

The Liberator.

No Union with Slaveholders!

BOSTON, FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1865.

I REPEAT THE DECLARATION MADE A YEAR AGO, THAT WHILE I REMAIN IN MY POSITION, I SHALL NOT ATTEMPT TO RETRACT.

"IN THE MAJORITY."

If we stood "solitary and alone," when we commenced the anti-slavery struggle upon the basis of immediate and unconditional emancipation, it was not because we sought conspicuity or desired isolation.

MEETING AT WORCESTER.

The Annual Meeting of the Worcester County (South Division) Anti-Slavery Society was held in (South Hall) Worcester, on Sunday, Jan. 16th, commencing at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and continuing after noon and evening sessions.

REFORM MOVEMENT IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The Pennsylvania Telegraph of the 20th Inst. contains an able and excellent speech delivered in the Senate of Pennsylvania, the previous day, by Hon. Morrow L. Lowry, of Erie, in support of a bill, introduced by himself, forbidding the exclusion of colored people from the passenger-cars of railroads in that State.

UPHOLD THE LIBERATOR.

DEAR MR. GARRISON.—Having been permitted to see the foregoing letter prior to its publication, I would like an opportunity to disclaim any thought or intention of rudeness to Mr. Foster, personally.

THE FREEDMEN OF WASHINGTON TO CHARLES SUMNER

On reading the anecdote of a black man who begged admittance to the Senate Chamber with "Boss, could you let a poor old man see Sumner?"

MARYLAND REDEMED

Hurrah! hurrah! let joyous shouts resound with deafening peal; The hills and rocks shall echo back the joy that you must feel!

FREE MISSOURI

O, stilly may the silver light, From all the round moon's eye bright, Shine o'er the sleeping town to-night.

GEORGE THOMPSON IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, 1st Mo. 17, 1865. Wm. Lloyd Garrison: Esteemed Friend—Last evening, your Convention Hall was crowded on the inauguration of a series of meetings by the Social, Civil and Statistical Association of Colored People of Pennsylvania.

MARYLAND ADVANCING

MY DEAR MR. GARRISON: Matters in Maryland are progressing finely since the emancipation of our good old State. Already we have been visited by quite a number of our Northern friends, while a great many natives of the State, who were forced by the influence of slavery to seek a refuge elsewhere, are (like the dove) again returning, and taking up their abode in the home of their earlier days.

CIRCULAR OF THE ASSOCIATION FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE COLORED RACE IN MARYLAND

SIR—Your attention is called to the Association formed in this city for the moral and educational improvement of the colored people. The address of the Association to the public is hereto appended, and your aid and countenance in furtherance of its charitable object is earnestly requested.

THE POPE'S ENCYCLICAL LETTER

WE give below the larger portion of the Pope's encyclical letter of the 8th ult. The London Times, in its remarks upon this extraordinary document, says, "of all the allocutions and other apostolic messages which he has yet launched against this evil world, none approaches in falacious presumption this last invective, and the Star declares that "so outspoken and thoroughgoing a denunciation of all the principles of enlightenment, liberty, and progress has not been delivered for centuries."

TREATMENT OF LUNATICS

WE mentioned last week the result of the trial in Miss Underhill's case. The Jury were doubtless satisfied that she was justly restrained of her liberty. But her case has led to the re-examination of the law, by which persons accused of insanity may be imprisoned, and the result is a very deep and wide-spread feeling that the law is grossly and dangerously defective, and inviting the most cruel abuse, with scarcely a chance for redress.

SHERMAN'S MARCH ACROSS GEORGIA

A Savannah correspondent thus sums up the events of the recent great march of our army: "No pen has yet adequately described the scenes of the great march through Georgia. It can only give you a few faint glimpses of what met the eye."

INTERESTING LETTER FROM PRESIDENT LINCOLN

The Philadelphia Press says the following letter from President Lincoln was written by the President prior to his reelection to Mrs. Elizabeth B. Barney, the widow of the late well-known Friend and philanthropist Joseph G. Barney, who was one of the wealthiest bankers of London. Mrs. Barney is an American lady, and since her husband's death has resided at Burlington, N. J.

INCIDENTS OF SHERMAN'S MARCH

The Milwaukee Wisconsin has accounts from Sherman's army, from which we copy the following: "Every town and plantation by which we passed was depopulated of negroes, who came to us in crowds, bringing women and children, and the maimed and blind, old and young; the octogenarian and the suckling babe swelled our ranks. It was amusing to see the maddened soldiers, who were in the habit of being drawn by their own mules, others in their best buggy; some on donkeys and mules, or horses; many on the old cast-off team mules, which they had picked up on the way; whilst the largest portion were on foot, looking filthy, bare, heavy iron pots and kettle, on old dead horses, containing the accumulated dirt of their lives. Even old split-bottomed chairs were loaded on the backs of some; and all the rubbish of a negro's quarters was to be encountered. One cart drawn by a pair of lean, broken-down oxen, contained no less than nineteen pig-killings; the oldest of these was a pig of three years' age, and about three feet long; everything to be found in a plantation negro's cabin. The anxious mothers walked in procession on each side of the cart, endeavoring to hush the squealing of the brood."

HOW THE NEGROES CAME IN

Every town and plantation by which we passed was depopulated of negroes, who came to us in crowds, bringing women and children, and the maimed and blind, old and young; the octogenarian and the suckling babe swelled our ranks. It was amusing to see the maddened soldiers, who were in the habit of being drawn by their own mules, others in their best buggy; some on donkeys and mules, or horses; many on the old cast-off team mules, which they had picked up on the way; whilst the largest portion were on foot, looking filthy, bare, heavy iron pots and kettle, on old dead horses, containing the accumulated dirt of their lives. Even old split-bottomed chairs were loaded on the backs of some; and all the rubbish of a negro's quarters was to be encountered. One cart drawn by a pair of lean, broken-down oxen, contained no less than nineteen pig-killings; the oldest of these was a pig of three years' age, and about three feet long; everything to be found in a plantation negro's cabin. The anxious mothers walked in procession on each side of the cart, endeavoring to hush the squealing of the brood."

THE BLOODHOUNDS KILLED

Dr. Benson, of Milwaukee, surgeon of the Fourteenth Wisconsin, has just returned from Savannah, having left that city on the 22d, the day after the capture. He accompanied Sherman's expedition through Georgia to Mobile, in the month of December last. He says that bloodhounds and dogs of various species were found in enormous numbers along the route, kept for the purpose of hunting Union men, deserters and negroes. These were slaughtered without mercy, not far from five hundred being killed daily.

SCANDINAVIAN CHEMIST

While tolerating these Lucifers, (clearly a child of evil), scientific chemists have, for more than a quarter of a century, been experimenting upon the difficult problem of the production of instantaneous lighted fire, in combination with two important requisites: First, Freedom from offensive and injurious odors. Second, The insuring of perfect safety in its daily use as a match composition. The honor of the discovery belongs to SCANDINAVIAN CHEMIST, who has produced, to bless mankind, the long-sought alchemy; and it is true that he who makes two kinds of grass grow where but one grew before is a public benefactor, will not the need of a world's gratitude be accorded to him whose persevering efforts have resulted in producing chemical combinations, the practical application of which in daily use will be the actual saving of thousands of lives and millions of treasure?

THE UNIVERSAL SAFETY MATCH CO.

who now offer to the citizens of the United States A DOMESTIC MATCH, INODOUROUS AND SAFE, and for out-door use. A Safety Flaming Fuse, or Wind-Defeat, which neither wind nor rain can extinguish. A fair trial will verify the truth of our statements. JOHN P. JEWETT, General Agent of the Universal Safety Match Company, NO. 18 TREMONT STREET, BOSTON. P. S. A beautiful feature of this arrangement is its adaptability to use compositions. Our arrangements are perfectly completed for the manufacture of the standard and most perfect wax tapers ever produced. Dec. 2nd-1864.

YOUNG

But if there are reasons why some uses of this class of practical financiers cannot be chosen, we do not know a better or more competent person for the position than the Governor of Massachusetts. His long experience in the administration of the State is his Union, his indomitable will and perseverance as a worker, his inflexible honesty, combined with a sense of insight and his moderation and practical judgment, would be a better asset than any one peculiarly called Department for some other, in which his skill and ability would be of the broadest service to the State.

LUCIFER MATCHES

THESE philanthropic signs over the fearful list of human ills, incurable diseases, and premature deaths, which have been caused by inhaling the fumes of phosphorus sulphur in the manufacture of common Lucifers or Friction Matches. The most ghastly of these diseases is cancer, the decay of the lower jaw bone. Thirteen of these, mostly young women, have been treated in the New York hospitals, within a few months; what then must be the aggregate of human suffering from cancer?

MR. GARRISON'S PORTRAIT

THE Portrait of Mr. Garrison, the publication of which has been delayed in consequence of the severe and protracted illness of the artist, will be finished in a few days. Orders may be addressed to J. WALLACE, Esq., Liberator's Office, or to the Publisher. Price $1.50 per copy. It is a portrait which, as a work of art and as a likeness, gives great satisfaction. C. H. BRAINARD, Publisher. Boston, Dec. 20th 1864.

WANTED

A MAN and a boy to take charge of a small farm and to take care of stock and manage the place. Such an one may find a good situation in West Gloucester, Mass., Jan. 1.
