RALLY FOR OUR FORESTS

Momentum is gathering for an end to logging in old growth forests. In the lead up to the next Victorian election, the Bracks government will be making critical decisions on whether to protect or destroy old growth, box ironbark, and redgum forests as well as water catchments such as Goolengook, the Otways, Melbourne's water catchments and the Wombat forests. There has never been a more critical time for Victoria's forests.

The rally has been organised by The Wilderness Society, Environment Victoria, Australian Conservation Foundation, Victorian National Parks Association, Friends of the Earth and 15 rural environment groups.
