

Greetings,

The Earth First! Journal Collective is extending an invitation to your organization to advertise in a new directory listing environmental, social justice and animal rights contacts that we would like to promote to our readership. We are very thankful for the work that your organization does and consider you an ally in our efforts to defend our planet and the communities that rely on healthy ecosystems. The award-winning, internationally circulated Earth First! Journal has been in print for 32 years. It is produced independently by a small collective of dedicated people from the Earth First! movement.

At a sliding-scale rate, for as low as the cost of a one-year subscription to the Earth First! Journal, we are offering to include a business card-sized space for your organization that can include: your logo, tagline and website. If you are interested in being listed in our directory, please contact us as soon as possible to be listed in the next print edition of the EF! Journal. Listing prices range from $30-100 per two issues of the EF! Journal and $50-200 for four issues. This offer includes a year subscription to the Earth First! Journal. We are also sending you our advertising rates as an alternative to the directory listing for your consideration. A business card size ad space is normally $150, we hope that you can take advantage of these low rates in support of the Earth First! Journal!

The EF! Journal Collective is always accepting article submissions from those involved in the work of eco-defense. Please contact us if you are interested in submitting work for print and/or the newswire. Send questions to: nettle@earthfirstjournal.org. Thank you for your support!

For the Wild,
—the Earth First! Journal Collective

We would like to be included in your directory page; enclosed is our payment.

We are not interested in your offer at this time. You can add our e-mail to your mailing list to receive newsletters and updates.
