

Introduction	7
Looking back	9
Belt-tightening as a permanent way of life	12
Latin America: from dictatorship to "free trade"	13
Imperialism, war and Bonapartism The invasion and occupation of Iraq Fractured antiwar movement Bonapartism in the state	15 16 18 19
A smaller world, a global class consciousness	20
Permanent Revolution in our time	21
The rise of neoliberalism in our hemisphere	25
Latin America: ruin and resistance	28
Going to hell in a handbasket	28
Antagonisms sharpen, protests mount Uruguay Ecuador Peru Bolivia EI Salvador Guatemala	29 32 32 33 34 35 35
Elections put new regimes in power	35
Revolution on the agenda to the south Bolivia: a radical tradition Venezuela and the Bolivarian Revolution Central America: civil wars end, but no peace	38 38 41 45
Mexico: in the sinister shadow of Tío Sam	48

© 2006 by Red Letter Press 4710 University Way NE, #100 Seattle, WA 98105 • (206) 985-4621

RedLetterPress@juno.com www.RedLetterPress.org

Printed in the United States of America

All rights reserved

ISBN 0-932323-27-8

Latin American women: the unsung
leadership of the most oppressed	51
Taking on the dictators	52
The impact of neoliberalism on women	53
NGOs: an arm of free trade	54
Reproductive rights	57
Latin American feminism and Radical Women	57
Leon Trotsky lives!	59
What the "American Century" meant for the U.S. working class	62
The Progressive Era	62
The New Deal	63
The Great Society and the War on Poverty	64
New front opens in the offensive against workers and the poor	65
The theft of public wealth to boost corporate profits	67
Making a killing in education and Social Security	68
Capitalist punishment	69
What quality of life?	71
Split in the AFL-CIO: a window of opportunity for labor's ranks	71
Nomen, people of color and immigrants: firing up labor	75
The "second sex" moves to the fore	75
African Americans: a living legacy of struggle	76
Immigrant warriors	77
Capitalism: an ecologically
unsustainable system	80
Global warming	81
Water is a feminist issue	83
Oil, the diminishing resource	85
Beautiful planet, destructive system	86
r

The Party's tasks	88
Defend workers' movements in Latin America	89
Strengthen relations with Latin American revolutionaries and feminists	90
For a political exchange with Central and South Americans	91
Spark a union revival	92
For a multi-issue, anti-capitalist movement to end the occupation of Iraq	93
Build the Party	95
More socialist feminist election campaigns	96
Create a Leadership Training School	97
Back to basics in Marxist education	97
Support Radical Women	98
Conclusion	99
	•
Notes	101
About the author	106
What is the FSP?	107
Introducing Radical Women	110