About State Library Victoria

Join a network of leaders

Become part of our dynamic corporate membership network, meet with like-minded organisations and thought leaders in business, culture and the sciences. Corporate members have reserved seats at some of the Library's most inspiring events throughout the year, including the Big Ideas under the Dome lecture series, and also have access to exclusive advance bookings to the prestigious Keith Murdoch Oration.

Friends of the Library membership

Every corporate membership includes a number of complimentary Friends of the Library memberships.

Our Friends receive access to a private lounge, invitations to member-only events, curator-led exhibition tours, and subscription to the highly regarded La Trobe Journal.

Since we opened in 1856, the State Library has been Victoria's intellectual and cultural centre. We are a place of discovery and learning for all Victorians, and a catalyst for fresh knowledge and ideas.

Our founders' vision was to make the Library 'the people's university' – a place where the world's knowledge and information would be freely available to all. They also charged the Library with preserving Victoria's heritage by collecting items of historical and cultural significance for future generations.

Our corporate members help us carry out this mission, enabling the generation of knowledge and ideas now and into the future. Thanks to the generous support of members, each year we add more than 70,000 items to the State Collection and lead public libraries in community engagement and digital innovation.
