At the beginning of the term they 'worried' and 'were thinking of Maningrida' and then as they made new friends they 'forgot'. Now 'we like Darwin same as Maningrida'. The food at the hostel is good. 'We eat more and more' sometimes '5 plates of desert', because it 'makes us strong' to run to football practice at Fanny Bay Oval. 'We have a lot of friends at the Hostel' and sometimes we sing songs with the guitar or didjeridoo.

One Hostel mate who is getting married soon, says that he will have them to his home in Nightcliffe for an evening.

Their working day gets them cut of bed at 6am. and by 7.30 am they are at work. The motor mechanics spend all day at the High School while the carpenters have most of their instruction at the Adult Education Centre. The carpenters learn the art of brick laying - 'lime burns our fingers' - and woodwork. They have made small items such as a mirror frame and tool cupboard and nextterm will erect a garage.. Work finishes at 4.30 pm and the boys go home to wash their clothes and other odd jobs.

The boys seem to have plenty of liesure time activities. They were playing football with Wanderers B grade team and practices took them out on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Their basketball team Y.M.C.A. Won the B Grade competition and now they move up into A. Grade. Other activities include outings with Muropean friends to Howard and Berry Springs and Darwin River swimming and sailing.

General Meeting og Che Maningrida Co-Op

The following business was carried.

- 1. The present Board members were all re-elected.
- 2. The vacancy caused by the departure of Hiss Strong was filled by an Aboriginal member, Hrs. Mancy Clark.
- 3. The Constitution was altered to allow the Manager to be a Board member ex-officia with full voting rights.

It is hoped that the liquidation will be completed this year, and when that is done, there will have to be a new committee.

SEE HOW THEY RUN

An extract from a report by Jimmy Matjiri Pascoe.

On Saturday April 11th, we put on our N.T. red and white striped singlets and shorts and went to Narrabeen Sports Ground near Sydney. Lots of people from Queensland, South Australia and Victoriawere there for the Australian Teachers Athletic Championships. I ran fourth in the first heat of the 200 metres and third in the first heat of the 100 metres. We tried our best to win but we couldn't because we didn't have much time to train.

After the sports, we had a barbecue at Narrabeen Fitness Camp. After the feast, we had music from the A.S.O.P.A. Teachers College. I went inside and sat on the chair and watched the dancing. Some gorgeous ladies came up and asked me for a dance but I was too tired from sprinting.

The finals of the events were run next day. Then we left for Canberra where Commonwealth cars waited to take us to our motel. We went to see Mr MCKenzie,

Secretary of the N.T. Division and after a yarn with him went on to the Royal Australian Mint to see how the silver (money coins) were being made. It was tremendous! This was followed by a visit to the Australian War Memorial.

The next morning, Tuesday 14th, was very cold and foggy, and we couldn't see much of the streets and houses. During the morning we saw Mr Poter Nixon, Minister for the Interior, at Parliament house, then Mr Paine head of the Dept. of Interior at Moresby House. Mr Kings Laine the Director and Miss Margaret liason officer, and some other members. These are the bosses of Aboriginal Affairs.

In the afternoon we visited the House of Representatives where Federal Parliament meets, and then on up to Mount Ainslee, 2,762 feet high above sea level where we had a good view of the city.

This interesting journey had began on Tuesday April 7th when we left Darwin in the afternoon and travelled through Adelaide to Sydney where student teachers from A.S.O.P.A. College met and took us to their homes at Manly and Mosman. These teachers like Miss Gaye and Miss Lydia, are training and learning the facts about going out to the N.T. to teach at settlement and mission schools. During the next few days we attended demonstrations in teaching at the College and primary schools during the mornings, and in the afternoons we saw Marineland (killer sharks, turtles sting ray, red snapper etc) the zoo (all kinds of animals and reptiles.)

On Thursday night, we were invited to a party by " student teachers femnles" at Manly. It was a tremendous party. We sang a few songs to them after the feast. Burnug of Goulburn Island gave a speech of thanks to the teachers at A.S.O.P.A. teachers College for their hospitality and friendship.

BIRTHS:

ALVIN

son of Ganang-gai and Paddy Guningbal (Burada)

DEAN COOPER - Son of Jill BaranBarang and Jimmy Cooper (Burada) 15.5.70

DEATH:

BRADY - baby son of Nancy Nambianga and Frank at Darwin Hospital (prem)

BRING PREPARED:

A well known family were off along the track in the general direction of the old jetty. Mother was carrying the new baby and ten yards in front father had the little girl on his shoulder, an axe in one hand and big frozen fish under the other. Some builders were highly amused by the sight and one called out

" Going for a picnic?"

Father probably a bit selfconscious about his fish replied "Fishwires broken".

A NEW TYPE OF CARVING:

The two men in the craft room looked out to see a well known No. 1 bark painter vigorously backing into something with his tomahawk. The older of the two was alarmed to think it might be a piece of good didjeridoo which had been given out to paint. The younger men reassured him "No, its alright he's cutting fish (frozen one)".

THE OTHER SIDE

By Peter Williams

During the recent visit of Mr Bob Kingsbury of the Commonwealth Film Unit, Finity, aged 11, was interviewed and spoke outwardly on his feelings towards education, Europeans and their culture, and his future hopes and desires.

It was a depressing half hour for all present. Finity expressed his dislike for the school, the settlement staff and all "white man's things". As his confidence rose his bitterness intensified. His face contorted with hatred as he said, "I would like to kill all the school-teachers —— no, not hurt them — finish them up for good".

He wants to go 'bush' - never to return. All "white man's things" will be discarded. For food he intends 'singing' buffaloes and crocodiles - "An old man told me how". He said he has no need for Haningrida, its people or its material things.

Yet although Finity has spent half of his time away from school he has stayed at lianingrida - never returning to his beloved 'bush' other than for a few hours. When he goes fishing he uses a line instead of a spear. Host of his day is spent either sitting with the non-working women or listening to records. Finity's knowledge of bushcraft is so limited that he realises he couldn't survive yet can't admit this even to himself.

The basic conflict is - the stress of social change together with a lack of parental guidance and discipline has caused stressm the scapegoat being the supposed shunning of white people and all aspects of their culture and the glorification of Aborigines and their culture. Yet Finity lacks the knowledge and determination required for the traditional existence.

Unless you can 'save' him from the choking imprisonment of his own misunderstanding he is destined for a future filled with frustration and overall hopelessness.
