

Obama-Mania
February 21, 2009

I am not ashamed of you or hating you for your affection for the 44th President, it is obvious in retrospect it is a universal affliction without contrition to the reality of socio-economic restrictions of the poor and oppressed. The situation requires an address to impress that change will not manifest by simply being professed at press conferences or a cabinet meeting when the greedy continues exploit in capitalist elation void any hesitation since CEO's have no fear of incrimination.

You say give him time to unwind a stimulus plan while the Republican's continue to make demands to undermine retooling of America. Yet, those in the know knows this is no time to repose when economic woes cascades like Niagara falls leaving the lower classes under black and white kaffiyeh shawls of malnutrition. They starving for relief that welfare and food stamps can't ease the lack of funds that has undone middle class dreams of prosperity. For clarity it should be reiterated the stimulus package will result in denial of Barak's dreams, prompt the implementation of new economic schemes, to ensure the plutocrats continue to govern with Obama as the leader of their team.

I only ask that you take note of the pathology of a polymorphous pertinacious politician, a chameleon of kaleidoscopic proportion posturing as a people person whose policies are dictated by the highest bidder. A transmitter of the ideals of homogeneity with the proclivity to speak with a silver fork tongue, when all is said and done, the plutocrats will have gotten more money and run. Another multi-billion dollar bailout from one who may not epitomize the proverbial sellout with a charismatic smile. I'm just proclaiming progressive folks need to keep a watch-out all the while, since poor people are hanging on to his words as he gesticulate like a puppeteer with a messiah complex having no fear, urging genuflection to enhance his Presidential career, steering the masses to support him for another 4 years.

As this seemingly ubiquitous incestuous system of avarice carnivorously nourish on its own people at the putrid Temple of the Federal Reserve Bank. Globalization has taken its toll, manufacturing has slowed, the stock market has foretold that conspicuous consumption has closed. Common folks produce the wealth, but have no say in how it is shared, their lives in disrepair full of despair with foreclosures, pink slips and no way to spare a dime in this clime void a collective survival mode there is no extol of a humanitarian code that we are all suffering together.

So, how can I blame you for falling for a White House color change. Even though the name of the game remain the same, class struggle should now be claimed if progressive folks take the reins and forge a mass and popular movement including a national agenda to upend the capitalist-imperialist reign. To demand reparations and redistribution of the wealth, that is a stimulus plan without the stealth, can it be said such notion is like magic potion that only a social revolution can dispense without suspense by applying a little common sense. Putting the money directly in the hands of the oppressed masses, unfortunately, such ideas passes as socialist. But it is often said if common sense was common all of these Fools would have it.

Obama-mania has claimed you, but can you see the forest beyond the tree, “We The People” must take a stand to free the land of political leeches with their speeches blinding us with rhetoric about unity. I am not splitting hairs its just that I care that we learn to share when it comes to our socio-economic affairs. Damn the politicians with their flair, because it makes no difference when they don’t dare to hold capitalist institutions accountable. Mass mobilization, general strikes, taking the fight to D.C., demanding the ending of imperialist wars from sea to shining seas, for public ownership of the means of production, that will cause a reduction in capitalist greed. For big agri-businesses the building of cooperative farming like Victory Gardens would be alarming, bartering and trading no longer delaying our collective voices must be heard. If market forces and consumer spending is the engine of this machine, then the People must take control and reclaim their revolutionary souls like in the laws of the natural order of things.
