Interview With Lt. Buckney of the Gang Intelligence Unit (GIU) (reported in Presbyterian Life)

Reporter: If First (Presbyterian) Church is doing the wrong thing, then how can concerned churches

work with gangs?

They can't. Buckney:

Reporter: How can other social agencies and groups work with gangs? They can't Buckney:

Reporter: Then who can work with gangs?

Buckney: The police.

Reporter: How can churches and other groups help the police work with gangs?

They can't Buckney:

Reporter: Of the many different efforts now being made in Chicago to deal with gangs, which have been the most helpful to the police?

The formation of the Gang Intelligence Unit. Buckney:

Reporter: What can be done about gangs?

They must be broken up. Buckney:

Reporter: What can a church do if it should find itself with a gang on its doorstep?

Call the police. Buckney:

Reporter: What should First Church do for the youth of Woodlawn?

Organize a youth fellowship. Buckney:

Reporter: What should it do about the Rangers?

Nothing. Buckney:

Reporter: Who will do something about them?

The police. Buckney:

Reporter: What will they do? Break them up. Buckney:

Y.L.O., newspaper of The Young Lords in Chicago, July 1969

Ed. Note: Hanrahan, the State's Attorney, is the man who ordered the raid that resulted in the

A revolution is a force against which no power, divine or human, can prevail, and whose nature it is to grow by the very resistance it encounters...the more you repress it, the more you increase its rebound and render its action irresistible, so that it is precisely the same for the triumph of an idea whether it is persecuted, harassed, beaten down from the start, or whether it grows and develops unobstructed. Like the Nemesis of the ancients, whom neither prayers nor threats could move, the revolution advances, with sombre and predestined tread, over the flowers strewn by its friends, through the blood of its defenders, over the bodies of its enemies.

PROUDHON

Press conference held by Black Panthers, Young Patriots, Young Lords, Black Disciples and Rising Up Angry.