

Publisher Members of the Council

The publishers and other media industry organisations which have agreed to fund the Press Council and be subject to its jurisdiction are known as “constituent bodies”.

The constituent bodies include News Limited, Fairfax Media, Bauer Media, APN and almost all other publishers of Australian newspapers and magazines, as well as most of the major news websites. The principal union for employees in the media industry, the MEAA, is also a constituent body. The full list is shown below:
