IBIZA 55+

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR THE IDEAL PLACE TO RELAX AND ENJOY YOURSELF?

Ibiza has an endless range of possibilities for anyone who needs to relax but wants to discover new places at the same time while exploring hidden corners, playing sport or discovering ancient customs.

In Ibiza you can discover ancient civilisations (Phoenicians, Romans, Arabs, Christians...) or more recent ones; take part in sporting or cultural events; make purchases at unique markets; tour the island by bicycle or on horseback; travel by train or by pleasure craft; or just relax in a spa at one of the innumerable beaches with crystalline waters which surround the island.

All of this and much more, in summer and all-year round.

IBIZA, open 365 days of the year...

WORLD HERITAGE SITE

our heritage...

Ibiza was chosen by UNESCO in 1999 as worthy of preservation for future generations for both cultural and environmental reasons.

The international distinction as a World Heritage Site is recognition of the historic, cultural and architectural value of the best preserved coastal fortress in the Mediterranean.

The acropolis at Dalt Vila in the municipality of Ibiza with its imposing, walled, renaissance quarter is full of alleyways and monuments including the castle and the cathedral. A crossroads of cultures for many centuries, the fortress is home to concerts, poetry readings, exhibitions and cultural activities throughout the year.

The area covered by the World Heritage Site also covers the districts located outside the walls: la Marina, sa Penya and es Soto, where sailors, adventurers and artists from around the world have made their home for centuries.

PHOENICIAN SETTLEMENT SA CALETA

Sa Caleta. Entry is free. Open all year round.

- The Phoenician excavations at Sa Caleta on the southern coast of the island, in Sant Josep, was an urban settlement dating back to the 8th century B.C. and abandoned about 600 B.C. when the inhabitants moved to the bay of Ibiza to found the city of today. Unesco considers this to be an outstanding testimony to the urbanisation and social life of the Phoenician settlements in the western Mediterranean.

POSIDONIA OCEANICA (MEDITERRANEAN TAPEWEED)

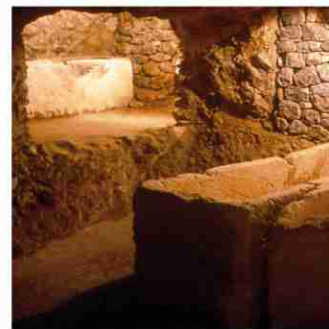

- The Unesco described Ibiza as a site of outstanding biodiversity due to the posidonia beds which are the best kept in the Mediterranean and are located in a Protected Area. The fields cover some 220 different species and are the reason for the purity and transparency of the waters which surround the island.

PUIG DES MOLINS NECROPOLIS

Via Romana, 31 - 07800 Ibiza

· From April 1st to September 30th: from Tuesday to Saturday, between 10am and 2pm and between 6pm and 8pm. On Sundays, between 10am and 2pm. Closed on Mondays and bank holidays.
· From October 1st to March 31st: from Tuesday to Saturday, between 9am and 3pm. On Sundays, between 10am and 2pm. Closed on Mondays and bank holidays.

• At the end of the 7th century B. C. the Phoenicians settled on the bay which today is still the home to the principal settlement on the island. As the Punic establishment was extended, the lower part of the Puig des Molins hill was used as a burial ground with an extension of almost 10,000 m². This perfectly preserved necropolis close to the adjacent Archeological Museum is the sole source of the discoveries and the origin of both Phoenician and Carthaginian cultures in both size and importance.

SES TAULES DOORWAY

The main entrance to Dalt Vila. Its name refers to the "taules" which are timbers which served as a drawbridge which was used to defend the city.

PARADE GROUND

A unique site with ten semi-circular arches which for years was the site of the first hippy market on the island of Ibiza.

SANTA LLÚCIA BASTION

This is a major bastion where the Marina and the Port of Ibiza can be observed from its embankment.

CHURCH OF SANTO DOMINGO

A baroque church which was once the convent of the Dominican Fathers and was built between the 16th and 18th centuries. Begun in 1592, it was completed a hundred years later.

PUGET MUSEUM

The museum is to be found at Can Comasema, a mansion from the 15th century and which is home to a collection of paintings by the local painters Narciso Puget Viñas and his son Narciso Puget Riquer.

CATHEDRAL

Its initial gothic construction from the 14th century was reformed in the 18th century, adopting a baroque style. Its exterior is severe and sober with robust buttresses.

OUR TRADITIONS

The arrival of visitors from around the world and the mingling of cultures that the island represents today have not weakened the strength of tradition but rather has served to boost and reinvigorate them.

In Ibiza, craftsmen have a place to leave their wisdom and knowledge and where popular songs are passed down through the generations. Similarly, the “ball pagès”, the traditional dance of the island evokes the Ibiza of centuries past and can be experienced in the church squares on any feast day or at the ancient communal wells and make clear how important it is for the natives of Ibiza to maintain their customs.

Historical research has allowed the ancestral nature of these dances to be documented. The difference between the male and female dance, the costumes (the oldest date back to the 18th century) and the value of their jewellery are notable: the “emprendades” of gold, silver and coral are genuine works of art.

TRADITIONAL ARCHITECTURE

The churches, the wells or the houses which are scattered across the area comprise an example of popular wisdom and capacity for adapting to the terrain.

In every village on Ibiza the imposing, whitewashed figure of the church stands out. Its singular architecture derives from their having been designed to serve as fortresses where the population could take refuge during the pirate attacks which the island suffered. A further feature of these churches is the porch which sheltered meetings of believers after attending mass from their distant homes.

The feeling of protection and spirituality which is perceived in places such as Puig de Missa in Santa Eulària, where time seems to have stood still thanks to the splendor of the temple and the whitewashed houses borne high on the hill facing the sea. At Puig de Missa in Sant Miquel stands one of the island's oldest churches which once also served as a place of worship with a patio where demonstrations of ball pagés (traditional dance) are held every Thursday from May to October.

A visit to the island's fortress churches - all of them different - with their dazzling white walls such as Sant Carles, Sant Jordi, Sant Agustí or Sant Antoni which housed cannon in its stone tower, recreates legendary Ibiza and helps to better understand the vigour and essence of a people who are not very conventional.

The people created their own style of housing - the "casa payesa" - which survives still despite the advance of modernity. These are centenarian constructions which constitute the origin of deep-rooted traditions such as the gatherings under the traditional porch or the use of the ancient "almazara" (mill) to make oil. The Ibiza landscape is dotted with these pretty, whitewashed dwellings formed from cubes of varying dimensions and which grow by adding new areas as the family increases in size and always oriented towards the sun. These characteristic constructions were the inspiration for architects such as Le Corbusier, Josep Lluís Sert or Erwin Broner.

GET TO KNOW OUR GASTRONOMY

Our recommendations...

Enjoy the pleasure of natural products at their peak of maturity while recalling the flavours of infancy. Relax in the island's environment of peace and freedom just as you're being served seafood rice looking out over the sea, savouring the freshly caught fish or enjoying some of the traditional dishes of lamb or pork in one of the typical farmhouses ("casa payesa"), home to some of the restaurants .

Ibiza is a journey of emotions. The excellent quality of the ingredients is mixed with tradition in recipes which come to us with customary originality: "sofrit pages", "arroz de matanzas", "guisat de peix", "greixonera" or "flaó" are all centenarian preparations which transmit a culture and a way of life where family gatherings or meetings with friends, respect for the legacy of previous generations, the conservation of the natural environment and the products of the earth are essential elements of life.

In most restaurants you can also order local wines from one of the island's wine-cellars. Sa Cova in Sant Mateu d'Aubarca is the leading producer of wines. Can Maymó in Sant Mateu brews a red wine with thyme. The Can Rich cellar in Buscatell is to be found on an extensive estate dedicated to ecological vine cultivation using French varieties combined with the typical grapes of Ibiza. Totem Wines in Sant Josep produces a wine using the monastrel grape which is a traditional Ibiza variety.

And for dessert, Ibiza herbs, aniseed liqueur which brings together the fragrances of the aromatic plants from the island's forests and fields.

* If you would like any of the recipes for any of our traditional dishes check out our digital gastronomic brochure at www.ibiza.travel.

ENSALADA PAYESA (PEASANT SALAD)

A traditional salad using the finest summer products in a refreshing dish. Boiled potatoes and roast peppers, tomatoes, hard-boiled eggs, garlic and onion, drizzled with olive oil, makes for the perfect combination of simplicity and flavour.

BULLIT DE PEIX AND ARROZ A BANDA (FISH RICE)

A typical dish prepared by fishing communities and which is now available in the majority of the island's restaurants. Freshly caught fish boiled with Ibiza potatoes followed by rice cooked in the fish stew. A delight for the palate.

SOFRIT PAGÈS

A dish from the countryside made from chicken, lamb and cooked meat with potatoes and garlic. This is a tasty dish which will satisfy any meat lover.

FLAÓ, GREIXONERA, ORELLETES

"Flaó", with fresh goat and sheep cheese with mint, "greixonera", with 'ensaimadas' and cinnamon, are the two required desserts in any Ibiza restaurant. The "orelletes", cakes in the form of an ear, are to be found in all of the island's cake shops.

taste them...

Sabors d'Eivissa is a brand which was created to identify those catering establishments which support traditional Ibiza products and flavours as a basis for their cuisine regardless of whether or not they follow traditional recipes or go for an innovative cuisine.

This is an opportunity to enjoy the unique flavours of Ibiza. From the traditional “payés” bread with olive oil produced on the island followed by traditional or innovative dishes with local products of the earth or from the sea and “flaó”, a dessert rooted in medieval times. And a glass of local wine or a glass of Ibiza herbs is an essential part.

UNIQUE SHOPPING

Ibiza is famous for its markets, its handicrafts and its Cosmopolitan and multi-cultural nature. Ibiza's markets attract both the curious and celebrities from all over the world and there are people who claim that their stalls are small laboratories where trends are developed, where designs, products and objects can be found which later on make the leap into the window displays of the great cities of Europe.

Handicrafts, ceramic products, Adlib fashion, exotic musical instruments, classic and fashion jewellery, books, mementoes of the island may all be purchased or the magical nature of the market environment enjoyed.

There are two handicraft fairs: the "Plaça d'Art", during Holy Week and "Sa Tardor", at the end of September, both held in the centrally-located Paseo de Vara de Rey in the town of Ibiza.

Anyone interested in discovering the work of the island's ceramists will find some of the finest craftsmen in Sant Rafel, in the heart of Ibiza, who have created a school with items of Punic inspiration. Their workshops are open to the public. Sant Rafel is the only village on the island which has been declared to be an "Area of Handcrafted Interest".

Ibiza is a source of inspiration and the cradle of the most innovative ideas, a great example of which is the music which is created on the island and is influential globally. The spectacle of the setting of the sun makes every summer into a test-bed where DJs from all over experiment with new rhythms. The music industry and some of the world's best known composers come to Ibiza to seek the stimulus that they need for the creative process.

The handicrafts industry provides the visitor with the best mementoes of the island including virgin olive oil, Ibiza herbs liqueur, "flaó" (a traditional cake using cheese and mint) not forgetting other products such as cheese, "sobrasada" (local sausage), cold meats, almonds and dried figs. Ibizan cuisine is another of the undoubted pleasures which can be enjoyed even after leaving the island.

ADLIB FASHION

Since the 1960s, both North Americans and Europeans have discovered somewhere in the Mediterranean which was previously unknown: Ibiza. Gradually, the island became one of the international refuges for the hippy movement. It was in this environment of freedom that Ad-lib Fashion was born (from the Latin "ad -libitum": "at will"), a comfortable and simple aesthetic which exported the renown of Ibiza to the four corners of the world.

Inspired by the typical dress of Ibiza and Formentera and with influence from the hippy movement, Adlib fashion was born in the early 1970s and continues to this day.

The brand's original creations continue to maintain their artisanal nature together with its identity marks: white as the predominant colour, 100% natural fabric in both linen and cotton with hook binding and traditional lacework.

NATURE IN ITS PUREST FORM

Nature on Ibiza is its most important attraction. Its leafy Mediterranean pine forests are undoubtedly eye-catching. In fact the Greeks called the islands of Ibiza and Formentera "Pitiusas" or "Islands of pines" due to the green mantle which extends over fields and mountains throughout the year.

The majority of Ibiza's territory remains virgin and is home to a wealth of botanic and animal life with millenarian olive trees, spectacular sabine trees, multicoloured flora, hawks, hares, "podencos" (a local breed of hunting dogs), green and blue lizards, flocks of partridges...

NATURAL TRAILS

Ibiza has a great deal to offer for nature lovers with beautiful landscapes which can be discovered by bicycle, on horseback or on foot which are the best way to get to know the island in a different way. Ibiza has pathways which lead through leafy pine forests along the length of a coast where sandy beaches alternate with cliffides between millenarian salt pans... innumerable and varied settings where nature can be enjoyed.

CRYSTALLINE BEACHES

Ibiza offers numerous beaches with crystal clear water which are shallow and do not cover you completely until far out. There are also rocky areas with a lot of sea fauna where you can do some snorkeling as well as sandy areas, ideal for taking a break or going for a walk.

Here you will find a selection of beaches which offer the following facilities: lifeguard, pedalos for hire, etc. which are simply ideal to enjoy the day at the beach.
