OVERVIEW

The Shortlist OVERVIEW

Aimed at a broad audience of entertainment lovers, The Shortlist extensively covers the very best in movies, music and stage. The weekend planner also interviews some of the biggest stars and features the best gigs and shows in your city.

The Shortlist within Friday's The Sydney Morning Herald, is the entertainment guide to plan your weekend and beyond.

Film

With in-depth interviews with some of Hollywood's and Australia's biggest stars, reviews of the latest art house releases, comprehensive screening list of new and upcoming releases, and the latest film news in the 'Short Cuts' column, The Shortlist's 'Film' section has it all.

WHAT'S INSIDE

Stage

Theatregoers will love the 'Stage' section, where they can learn about up and coming comedy talent, discover new stage shows, read about the stars performing in the latest hit musicals, and find our experts' pick of the best shows around town in the 'What's On' section.

Music

The 'Music' section of The Shortlist delivers quality coverage of upcoming gigs and festivals, reviews the latest albums, interviews the world's biggest bands and upcoming talent, as well as keeping you up-to-date with the latest news.

20 Things Planner

Designed to help readers plan their weekend entertainment, the '20 Things Planner' is a curated list of 20 things to see, hear and do in Sydney. This much loved entertainment feature, has prime positioning as the opening spread each week.

EDITORIAL TEAM

Louise Rugendyke

Louise is a passionate consumer of pop culture in all its forms, and enjoys seeing bands, theatre productions and attending festivals. Louise has been with Fairfax Media for nine years in a variety of key production roles across news, magazines and sport. She has been the Editor of The Shortlist in the SMH since October 2013 and has recently also taken on the role of SMH Arts Editor.

Martin Boulton

Martin has been the Editor of The Shortlist in The Age since October 2013 - a section he's been reading every Friday for as long as he can remember. One of the earliest stories Martin worked on when he arrived at The Age 11 years ago, was the renaming of AC/DC Lane in the city. Since then he's been an award-winning news journalist, and spent five years covering sport in the town that loves footy as much as music.
