What is the Norman Tindale Collection?

Norman Tindale (b. 12 October 1900 – d. 19 November 1993).

In 1928, Norman Tindale, an anthropologist and entomologist with the South Australian Museum, began visiting Aboriginal peoples living on missions and government stations. By the end of the 1950's he had photographed numerous Aboriginal people, collected cultural material and recorded a significant number of family trees (genealogies).

In the late 1980s the State Library of Queensland obtained copies of the Queensland genealogical and photographic components of this collection.

For more information on the Norman Tindale Collection and to view his Tribal Boundary Map, visit <http://www.samuseum.sa.gov.au/page/default.asp?site=2&page=tindale>

Family Tree sheets (Genealogies)

Norman Tindale wrote family trees as a result for interviews with Indigenous people while visiting Aboriginal missions or reserves, during 1938. Note that no additional information has been added since that time, therefore any births, marriages or deaths that occurred after that time would not be recorded on the sheets.

Some sheets may contain inappropriate information and inaccurate information. Inaccuracy occurred due to a number of reasons, such as limited time to crosscheck, memories of participants, deliberate provision of incorrect information, oral or spelling misinterpretations and more.

Tindale Access Conditions

3. No copies of the material are to be reproduced in any form of published without prior written consent from appropriate Aboriginal families, communities and the South Australian Museum.
