- correspondence between Professor Tsunoda and language informants;
- teaching materials produced by Professor Tsunoda and his students in the Warrongo [Warungu] language revitalization project;
- a small number of tangential items such as newspaper clippings relating to his informants, correspondence relating to return of objects.

The languages Professor Tsunoda investigated or documented include: Warrongo [Warungu]; Djaru [Jarú] [Jarú] and the dialects of Djaru [Jarú] from Ruby Plains, Old Hall's Creek, Old Flora Valley, Turner River; Ngardi; Biri; Guringji; Gudjal [Gudyal]; Gugu-Badhun; Gugubara; Kalkatunga [Kalkatungu], Wanyjirra, Malngin and Gabilgara [Nhawalgaba].

For access to audiovisual material deposited by Professor Tsunoda and which is discoverable via finding aids or Mura®, contact the AIATSIS Audiovisual Archive.

Consult Trove, www.trove.nla.gov.au, for material by Professor Tsunoda which institutions (including AIATSIS) hold. (These materials will be publications as well as manuscripts.)

Archivist's note

Professor Tsunoda uses variant spellings for Warrongo. His preferred spelling is Warrongo. The preferred term in the AIATSIS Austlang database is 'Warungu'; the usage throughout this list is therefore 'Warrongo [Warungu].

In other instances where Professor Tsunoda uses spellings of language names that differ from Austlang thesauri, the same usage is adopted, e.g. Kalkatunga [Kalkatungu]

Item descriptions are drawn from item MS 5021/1/1, the box list Professor Tsunoda compiled to accompany his gift. Quotations are indicated by single quotes, e.g. 'Nyniny is the eastern dialect of Djaru [Jaru]'.

Professor Tsunoda refers throughout item MS 5021/1/ to computer files which are copies of items in this collection. Where AIATSIS has received these files, they have been processed as separate collections from this one.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Tasaku Tsunoda is a Japanese citizen, born in Japan in 1946. He was awarded the following degrees:

- (i) B.A., Linguistics, The University of Tokyo, 1970,
- (ii) M.A., Linguistics, Monash University, 1974, and
- (iii) Ph.D., Linguistics, Monash University, 1979.

He taught and/or worked at Griffith University, The University of Nagoya, The University of Tsukuba, The University of Tokyo, and The National Institute for Japanese Language and Linguistics (“NINJAL”). He retired in 2012 and is the first Professor Emeritus of NINJAL.

Tasaku Tsunoda’s research interests include:

- (i) Australian Aboriginal linguistics,
- (ii) language endangerment and language revitalization (cf. Tsunoda (2005)), and
- (iii) language typology.

In 1971, Tasaku Tsunoda started fieldwork on Palm Island and in the adjacent area in north Queensland. His main focus was on Warrongo [Warungu] (cf. Tsunoda 2011). In addition, he collected a small amount of information on languages such as Biri, Gabilgaba, Bologoyban [Buluguyban], Gojal [Gujal], and Warrgamay. (See Tsunoda (1996).)

In 1975, Tasaku Tsunoda started fieldwork in Halls Creek, Kimberley and its adjacent areas in Western Australia and Northern Territory. His main focus was on Djaru [Jarú] (cf. Tsunoda 1981) and also Wanyjirra. In addition, he collected some information on languages such as Malngin, Mudbura, Ngardi, Gardangarurru, Gugaja and Wangkajunga.

Tasaku Tsunoda’s work has generated returns for the communities with whom he conducted his research. He has been assisting the Kimberley Language Resource Centre since its inception in the mid-1980s. Their activities have included publications in the Djaru [Jarú] language.

In 2000, Tasaku Tsunoda started participating in the revitalization of Warrongo [Warungu], which had become extinct when the late Mr Alf Palmer died in 1981. Mr Palmer was Tasaku Tsunoda’s main consultant in his work on Warrong [Warungu]. In 2002, Tasaku Tsunoda began conducting Warrongo [Warungu] language lessons for Warrongo [Warungu] people. In 2011, with Australian Literacy and Numeracy Foundation, he started preparing Warrongo [Warungu] language materials for children. His participation in Warrongo [Warungu] revitalization activities has been widely reported by the media, both in Australia and Japan: (i) Australia: ABC radio and newspapers such as The Australian and Townsville Bulletin. (ii) Japan: NHK Radio International and newspapers such as The Japan Times.

In 2003, Tasaku Tsunoda presented an invited plenary paper at the 17th International Congress of Linguists, held in Prague. The paper describes Warrongo revitalization activities. It was published as Tsunoda (2004).

Series 7 Djaru [Jarú] and neighbouring language materials

MS 5021/7 Examples of grammar and vocabulary in the Djaru [Jarú] and neighbouring languages. Includes a list of Kimberley language informants.

The examples are typed or handwritten on slips of paper or on cards, organised into bundles. The slips are often re-used paper. Groups within the bundles are separated by coloured paper or card.

This series is organized into subseries, following Professor Tsunoda's description in MS 5021/1/1. However Professor Tsunoda sometimes maintained consecutive numbering of the bundles, across subseries; this numbering – (a), (b), or (i), (ii) etc – is maintained on the first piece of paper in each bundle and in the item descriptions.

Sometimes bundle numbers are repeated; in these instances, [bis] is written before the repeated number e.g. item 5021/7/1/6 and item 5021/7/1/7. The order of the bundles in which they were deposited is maintained.

Some of the slips of paper and cards have small pieces of paper attached, on which capital letters are written. These are part of Professor Tsunoda's system for classifying words. He suggests they be ignored by other researchers.

In these cards Professor Tsunoda used the letter /j/ for the semivowel /y/.
