

Opta Adjudicator

Product Overview

Opta's collection systems and methodologies capture every match action from all major football leagues and competitions globally. The resulting high definition data is analysed, interrogated and accumulated live to produce the most comprehensive tools and applications available to the industry.

The Opta Adjudicator is a modular application, accessed online, providing users with direct and easy access to reliable and authoritative football data both live and post-match. The Adjudicator is an off the shelf tool suitable for use in business critical functions within sportsbook operations, such as trading and customer support.

Detailed commentary supplements a market leading high granularity live match centre. All major betting markets are listed and accurately settled live once confirmed and verified. Supporting information, relevant to the market in question, such as players and times is also supplied.

The application also provides users with direct access to the Opta helpdesk for the additional timely verification and confirmation of settlement data and results. This functionality is of particular interest for customer support in cases of settlement dispute and its subsequent resolution.
