

Charlottesville: FASCISTS ARE MURDERING US NOW

On August 12, an alt-right fascist murdered a person and injured dozens by driving a vehicle into a crowd of anti-racist protestors in Charlottesville, Virginia.

If we allow the alt-right and neo-Nazis to organize, the consequences will be fatal. Charlottesville is just the beginning. If the alt-right can get away with murder there, none of us will be safe. We have to stand up to white supremacists, we have to shut down and chase out these bigots every time they try to organize, or else they will kill more people.

You are a target. These bigots target people of color, women, Muslims, Jews, LGBTQ people, immigrants, radicals, liberals, and anyone who doesn't agree with them—not just with words, but with violence. Emboldened by Trump's election, alt-right and fascist bigots have already shot and wounded anti-racist protestors in Minneapolis and Seattle, stabbed bystanders to death in Portland for intervening against Islamophobia, and sowed hatred and discord across the country. We are betraying our friends and neighbors if we don't take a stand.

The police will not protect us. They murder over a thousand people every year in this country, and infiltrate and attack our demonstrations when we stand up against alt-right terror. We have to organize to defend ourselves.
