

BLACK BLOCS AND REBELLION IN BRAZIL

UNCONTROLLABLES
GLOBAL RESISTANCE
SERIES NO. ONE

THURSDAY NOV. 7 AT 6 PM
HANES ART AUDITORIUM - ROOM 121 - UNC CHAPEL HILL

SINCE JUNE OF 2013, rebellion has been sweeping across Brazil. Inspired by uprisings in Turkey and Northern Africa, the teachers' union, the anti-fare hike movement, and the black bloc have continued to innovate new forms of struggle. Three participants in the Brazilian uprisings will share video, eye-witness testimony, and lessons from the front lines of resistance.

Sponsored by the UNControllables
Cosponsored by the Institute for the Study of the Americas and the Center for Global Initiatives
This event funded in part by Student Fees appropriated and disbursed by the Student Government at UNC Chapel Hill. Haters can hate.
Questions? Contact CarolinaUNControllables@gmail.com