

The

UNCONTROLLABLES*

* Come to our first meeting. We're anarchists, anti-authoritarians, anti-capitalists, and up-to-no-good do-gooders. We seek out a world without rulers and rules, where we can live freely without having to compete against each other. We seek out a movement of uncontrollable dreamers who don't believe in authority for its own sake. We want to seduce YOU.

“You have not been able to destroy anarchy. Its roots go deep: it spouts from the bosom of a rotten society that is falling apart; it is a violent backlash against the established order; it stands for the aspirations to equality and liberty which have entered the lists against the current authoritarianism. It is everywhere. That is what makes it indomitable.”

-Emile Henry
