NEW!

LURRIE BELL

Can't Shake This Feeling (DELMARK 847)

Lurrie Bell's new CD showcases all the passion, depth, rawness and uniqueness that keeps Lurrie at the top of many Real Deal Chicago Blues lists. His ace working band and frequent collaborator Matthew Skoller (on harp) provide the drive and the safety net while Lurrie walks the tightrope vocally and instrumentally. Motivated by his 2013 Blues Music Award for "Song Of The Year" for the title track from Blues In My Soul (Delmark 830), Lurrie had a hand in writing five of the thirteen tracks. "Driftin'", "One Eyed Woman", "Hold Me Tight", "Sinner's Prayer", "Do You Hear", "Born With The Blues", "Hidden Charms" and more.

MORE GREAT NEW BLUES FOR EVERY COLLECTION!

MISSISSIPPI HEAT

Cab Driving Man (DELMARK 848)

With 15 new songs with Inetta Visor and Michael Dotson as lead vocalists — A wonderful blend of Mississippi, Chicago, boogie, swing and south of the border.

OMAR COLEMAN

Live! (DELMARK 846)

Coleman is "steeped in the classic blues sounds of his home city yet unafraid to take them in a more contemporary direction" — Roger Gatch, Living Blues

MIKE WHEELER BAND

Turn Up! (DELMARK 845)

Powerful new mix of blues, soul and funk featuring 12 new originals including "Brand New Cadillac" and the burning title track, "Turn Up!"

Delmark Doings

Well, it has been quite a long time since our last RHYTHM & NEWS, so where to start?! Well, the big exciting news is while the Jazz Record Mart has since closed unfortunately, as most of you know (sold to the music behemoth Wolfgang's Vault), Bob Koester, the inspirational, tireless octogenarian and heart and soul of Delmark and JRM, has opened Bob's Blues & Jazz Mart. It has been temporarily located at Delmark's office for awhile now, but starting October 1st, the new home base for all of your blues and jazz CDs, LPs, 45s, 78s, DVDs, etc will be located 3419 W. Irving Park Rd, just down the street from Delmark!!

We are so fortunate that Delmark hasn't slowed down one note even in these difficult to survive blues/jazz business times! We've managed to release a steady stream of outstanding releases from our predominantly Chicago based stellar roster of blues and jazz talent. We also continue to expand on the fascinating Delmark's vinyl LP series, with new reissues and/or back in print classic recordings from J.B. Hutto (Hawk Squat), Junior Wells (Blues Hit Big Town with Muddy Waters, Elmore James, Otis Spann), & Robert Nighthawk (Bricks In My Pillow on Pearl.) Two of our favorite modern jazz improvisers, reedist Keefe Jackson and vibraphonist Jason Adasiewicz have teamed up for a recently released recording available on glorious LP and CD. This killer duet recording is called Rows & Rows and has been receiving rave reviews. Here is a quote from esteemed jazz critic Peter Margasak in DownBeat... "Patience, empathy and a deep affinity radiate from every track, like 2 good friends getting together to shoot the breeze. Most pals don't speak with such Shakespearean elegance."

Our latest blues release is from one of the world's most well respected real deal bluesman, the one and only Lurrie C. Bell with the Dick Shurman produced Can't Shake This Feeling. This award winning legend and dear friend to all, deservedly keeps on winning more and more awards for his head turning guitar playing, recently receiving the prestigious guitarist of the year award from LIVING BLUES Magazine. Speaking of awards, the annual Blues Blast Award winners were just announced, and although no Delmark artist won surprisingly, we had an outstanding list of nominations. Corey Dennison (New Artist Debut Album & Rising Star,) Guy King (Contemporary Blues Album & Rising Star,) Jimmy Burns (Traditional Blues Album,) Dave Weld & Imperial Flames (Rock Blues Album,) Mike Wheeler (Rock Blues Album,) & Magic Sam (Historical Album for reissue of Black Magic) were all winners in our hearts. We are very excited for upcoming blues releases from Mississippi Heat (Pierre, Inetta and crew keep on getting better and better, along with guitarists/vocalists Giles Corey and Michael Dotson, and guest sax stud Sax Gordon!) along with the much anticipated new recording from the wildly popular Chicago blues singer/entertainer supreme, Sharon Lewis!

Our favorite "young" Chicago Hot Jazz Band, The Fat Babies, are back with a hot new release called Solid Gassuh, recorded live at Pilsen's Honky Tonk BBQ, homebase to one of their long time regular weekly gigs. You can catch them swingin' their unique brand of vintage jazz every Sunday night at the HonkyTonk, and every Tuesday night at the world famous Green Mill in Uptown. The Fat Babies will be celebrating this new release on Wednesday, November 23rd at one of our favorite music venues, Fitzgerald's Roadhouse in Berwyn. Opening that show will be fellow Delmark recording artist, the ragtime piano whiz, Reginald Robinson!

On a sad note, the world lost one of the most passionate and dedicated blues fans of all, our dear friend Amy van Singel. Amy, along with her then husband, Jim O'Neal, were 2 of the main originators of Living Blues Magazine, and Amy was one of the most knowledgeable blues journalists around. We are forever grateful for her life long dedication to the blues, as she has documented so much in her writing, photography, and radio shows. We will miss you dearly, Amy, aka Atomic Mama!!

Bob's Blues & Jazz Mart – How I Got Here

I guess I sneaked into the record business when I was in high school in my hometown of Wichita, selling off some Glenn Miller 78's by mail via a mimeo'd Canadian rag.

During my first year of college at St. Louis U. some nice people called a meeting to start a jazz organization in St. Louis. I recall that Clark Terry was among those attending. They decided to make it a hot jazz club. (The gap between traditional and be-bop jazz fans was enormous in those days.) Too bad they didn't unite under their joint liking of big band jazz - but of course they differed about Boyd Raeburn and Stan Kenton.

I had bought by mail some Paramount 78's – not the originals but the 32 records John Steiner issued after buying the rights and trademark from Wisconsin Chair Co. John ran Paramount from a 2nd floor lab at 1637 N. Ashland in Chicago which was also occupied by William Russell and his American Music label. (He also had re-issued some Paramounts.) When he gave me a very slightly damaged copy of one of his LP's, my interest in Bunk Johnson that I got when I picked up the Bunk RCA album deepened because Bill's stuff was better ... partly because you could hear what Baby Dodds was doing on the drums.

The stores in St. Louis didn't carry AM and Paramount so my sales at St Louis Jazz Club meetings turned out to be a good investment of my monthly allowance from Mom and Dad. (I would live from the sales income.)

At the SLJC meetings I met Jerry Gilbert who liked trad jazz but mainly collected Glenn Miller. He worked at a local music shop but wanted to start a business of his own so we jointly rented a small space at 3549 Laclède about a half-block from my dorm room.

Just north of downtown St Louis there had been a record shop that had closed long ago but was used as a storage area for the 78's that the owner had from distress purchases. He didn't operate a store anymore and wasn't easy to do business with. A dealer in vintage 78's named Ed Crowder had pretty thoroughly mined the old Okeh's, Paramounts, etc. etc. and decided to retire from his home-based business so he sold us his remaining inventory and that, plus AM's and Paramount's, became our basic inventory, tho I was soon buying Blues Notes, Commodores, Good Time Jazz, etc, from local distributors and more exotic stuff from K.O.Asher, Inc. in Chicago.

I called the place the Bluenote Record Shop and I did OK locally and usually better by mail with ads in the Record Changer, a jazz collector's monthly operated by Bill Grauer and Orrin Keepnews. When Bill and Orrin started the Riverside label and hadn't a St Louis distributor, I bought stuff from them at a good price.

A club called the Pin-Up room was a block off the St Louis Univ campus and featured a band called the Windy City Six. I spent a lot of time there.

Tho I preferred bourbon. I drank and nursed beer — I could make one beer last two or three sets) in a jazz club. Before I was 21 George Hocutt and other friends would surround me when we went to hear the local groups. (Later George was my west coast distributor.)

I had a jazz show on the SLU student station (which you could hear all the way across the street in the dorms) but I was too embarrassed to be the announcer so a friend who worked for the Sacred Heart Hour (or some such) did the talking.

Former St. Louis trombonist Sid Dawson brought in Lee Collins (to replace Miles Davis) at the Barrel on Delmar Blvd, I borrowed a professional tape recorder and mike from the Sacred Heart people to tape Lee. But Lee had become ill and returned to Chicago. He was eventually replaced by veteran trumpeter Dewey Jackson who filled out the booking. Dewey was the idol of all the St.L. jazzmen.

Among his students were Harold Baker, Clark Terry, Miles Davis (whom I heard at the Barrel for 50-cent beer and no cover charge). The tape was passed around a bit and got damaged but when digital recording came in we were able to issue it. Sales were disappointing, probably because it got almost totally ignored by the jazz press. Hell, it quintupled the amount of Dewey Jackson ever issued!!

The Barrel wasn't the only jazz spot on Delmar. The Windemere Bar was where you went to hear Norman Mason with Joe Smith's band. The Top Hat eventually featured various trad groups. Both were off Clara street. Closer to deBalivere was a place that changed owners and names periodically but always featured trad jazz. A mile east of the Barrel Jimmy Forrest was featured when he was in town.

The 10" LP was the format for nearly all pop and jazz albums back then. I decided that some of the guys should be recorded and started Delmar Records, named after the street that had so many jazz spots. My first was by the Windy City Six (Delmar 101). (They changed their name to the Mound City 6 not long after its release c.1951.

One of the SLJC members, Charlie O'Brien was promoted from a uniform cop to a suited lieutenant/detective. He asked us to give him the names of some elder jazzmen who might still be around town...to test his investigative chops. The SLJC had done this already so I gave him the names of some blues artists whose lyrics seemed to indicate that they had lived in St.Louis: Edith, Mary and Stump Johnson, Henry Brown, Ike Rogers, Alice Moore, etc. He found all who were still alive and details of those who had passed. I wanted to record them all but, of course, whitey hadn't discovered the blues then.

A very pleasant surprise was when Speckled Red turned up. He was well known among boogie woogie fans for the three sides reissued by Decca's Brunswick label in a boogie woogie 78 album that was eventually a 10" LP. I was very interested in the blues but felt he would sell better than the above-mentioned blues artists so he was my first blues project. After several unsuccessful sessions he finally reeled off a lot of blues at the home of John Phillips, local 78's collector who liked boogie woogie. He made a woman leave the room when he did two cuts of the REAL dirty dozens (which we could issue in those days but could include on his CD.) (601)

But the word got around that there was this guy at the Blue Note Record Shop (by now at Delmar at DeBalivere) who was interested in the blues so Big Joe Williams discovered Bob Koester. He got money weekly toward a recording project and we tried to present him in the clubs but drew no crowds so we presented him and Red in an art studio across the hall from our shop and passed the hat. He usually brought J.D.Short. (602)

I wanted to record an album with J.D.Short but he insisted on full payment for each track so that album never got completed but he appeared eventually on one of Big Joe's (609).

I was a big fan of the George Lewis New Orleans band and, with several fellow students managed to bring them into St. Louis for some shows at an American Legion Hall a half-block off-campus. They had recorded for a Standard Oil Co. school transcription service and a vice pres. issued two 10" LP's (packaged in clear plastic covers) on the Antone label, named after his kids. They were not widely distributed and after he sold 500 of each, he offered me the masters at a reasonable price. Later he sold me an equal amount of material so I planned on issuing four 10" LP's on Delmar (#'105,106,107,108)

Sid Dawson toured with a quartet and we did an LP with him (109).

Pianist John Chapman had attended the George Lewis concerts and wanted to form a band to play the New Orleans style. We introduced him to very young trombonist Jim Haislip and he filled out the band and the Dixie Stompers was born, They got a weekend gig in a party room at a relatively remote club called Jakovic's a good distance south of the Delmar area but managed to draw a good crowd. I made extra money waiting tables there and got busted when the other waiter failed to show up and I got busted for serving minors (who turned out to be police cadets who had shown me phoney ID's). I spent a night in jail with Nick Jakovic. I had migraine headaches occasionally since late grade school

But had to suffer through it when I got one on the way to court. I haven't had one since.

We did two 10"LPs with the Dixie Stompers (112 and 113)

Every year, John Randolph, a professor at Westminster College in Fulton, Mo. got the college to bring in a jazz group. Alternating between trad on year and modern the next.

Since they didn't charge admission, the union let the band's fee be used toward a recording payment so we did one each with the Dixie Stompers (204) and our first modern jazz album

Then our first crash happened. Seemingly overnight the 10" LP was history – only 12" LP's could be wholesaled. (Don't ask me why!)

So Delmar Records was dead. But I did well because collectors still wanted the 10" LP's that had yet to be expanded (if ever) to 12" and the fact that most stores didn't stock them brought people to the Bluenote Record Shop. We bought tons of Riverside, Blue Note, Commodore, Stinson, Good Time Jazz, etc. sometimes picking up entire inventories. It helped put my mail order business and shop on the map and get Delmar Records back in the game.

In addition to monthly ads in the Record Changer I put out mimeo'd lists and, eventually, Jazz Report. It was very nice that quite a few writers gave us material to make the issues something more than a mere catalog. In each issue we'd list all the jazz gigs that we knew about in the St.Louis area.

I wasn't very hip to modern jazz but believed in it (as I later did avant garde). Bob Graf had recorded with Woody Herman and played with Count Basie (sadly during a recording ban). He was a last-minute addition to the modern group we were to record at Westminster. A further recording was done live to fill out the record. (401)

One day I received a letter from John Steiner offering to sell me his Paramount properties. He urged me to move to Chicago and the last words of his letter were my motto:

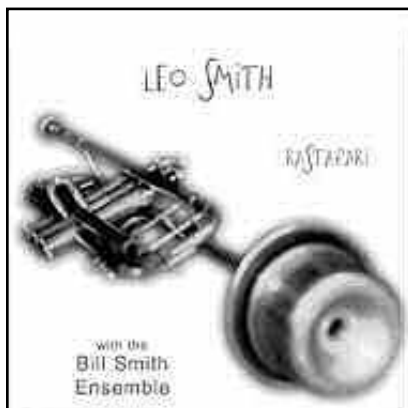

"Get going young fellow."

When I got to Chicago I discovered that there was already a Blue Note Record Shop so I had to find a different name. I rented a commercial apartment at Wabash and Chicago Avenue. One Friday night John Steiner suggested that I talk to Seymour Schwartz about buying his business at 439 South Wabash, in the famous Auditorium Bldg. Which houses De Paul U. Perhaps it is a coincidence that on the following Sunday, Seymour appeared at my apartment offering to sell me his business. Since his LP inventory was all on consignment all I had to pay for were the 78's, used LP's, fixtures, etc. Steiner loaned me the money and I was soon surprised at how much business we did in what I thought was a dead store.

In February of this year, because the rent was wrecking our margin, we closed the Jazz Record Mart downtown when we had a tempting offer for the inventory and the name.

From various recent buys, including some large collections, we have a new inventory of 78's. 45's. LP's (including a lot of 10" on Riverside, Blue Note, Commodore, Stinson. Good Time Jazz, Contemporary, etc.) and CD's which we had been selling at Delmark's front room at 4121 N. Rockwell. It was soon crowded with every kind of jazz and blues plus an acquired inventory of Brazilian music.

So we have opened a new shop, Bob's Blues & Jazz Mart, at 3419 West Irving Park Road recently and hope to see you here. Our hours are 10 AM to 6 PM Monday thru Saturday. - Bob Koester

Limited Edition Boxholder Jazz CDs

Leo Smith Rastafari

Boxholder 035

This 1983 recording, originally issued on Sackville LP, features jazz trumpeter Leo Smith with the Bill Smith Ensemble. "The playing by these adventurous musicians is advanced and quite free on the four group originals, and all five players share equally in the creation of these fresh explorations." – Scott Yanow, Allmusic. "An inspired Leo Smith is to be heard throughout Rastafari, ruminating about the spaces of the title piece; singing in the shimmering light of Prentice's "Madder Lake"; exhorting the madness of war in Bill Smith's anti-war statement, "Rituals"; and bantering throughout "Little Bits", the saxophonist's portrait of his daughters. In turn, Rastafari is an inspiring album. This should not be surprising, as inspiration is the function of the hero; and Leo Smith is a hero of American music." – Bill Shoemaker from the original LP descriptive notes. CD: $15.99

Joe McPhee Visitation

Boxholder 034

This 1983 recording, originally issued on Sackville LP, features jazz trumpeter Joe McPhee with the Bill Smith Ensemble. "...a stimulating set of avant-garde music. The interplay between these masterful improvisors on group originals and Albert Ayler's classic "Ghosts" is consistently impressive and worthy of a close investigation by the more open-eared segment of the jazz audience." – Scott Yanow, Allmusic "Visitation breathes as if it were music that was recorded yesterday. Joe McPhee and the Bill Smith Ensemble play music that has no history assigned to it that is evident in the listening. It is the underground vein of music that came up to visit its public." ★★★★★ -Lyn Horton, Jazz Review. CD: $15.99

JAZZ FROM DELMARK & SACKVILLE

The Fat Babies Solid Gassuh

Delmark DE 257

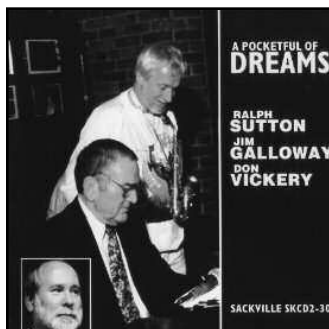

18th & Racine (Delmark 255) was the name of the previous Fat Babies album and it's also the location of Honky Tonk BBQ where they play Sundays and recorded this new album, after-hours. The JazzTimes review of 18th said "The young, Chicago septet is steeped in the music's earliest moments, performing 1920's jazz not only faithfully but perfectly in every way. The interlocking lines, the dazzling piano runs, the cornet blasts and clarinet squiggles and lockstep banjo-it all feels so exciting, so immediate. The Fat Babies are stuck in the past, and hopefully they won't get out." Solid Gassuh features 15 songs including "Doctor Blues", "Alabama Bound", "Delirium", "Egyptian Ella", "Pencil Papa" and "China Girl". CD: $15.99

Keefe Jackson & Jason Adasiewicz Rows & Rows

Delmark5024

Shaping their musical heritage together for 15 years, saxophonist Keefe Jackson and vibist Jason Adasiewicz have been vital in defining and refining "The Chicago Sound". Their relationship with Delmark has spanned over a decade; combined they have 20 albums on the label. On Rows And Rows, six of the nine original compositions were composed specifically for the session, while the remaining three are older tunes re-imagined for duo. The atmosphere of a jazz duet can paint one of the most personal and intimate musical conversations. This one brings the listener into their world, creating a social environment that you may want to tap your foot to, or even go a little further. CD: $15.99 LP: $19.99

Ralph Sutton / Jim Galloway Pocketful of Dreams

Sackville SKCD2-3062

Recorded live at the Montreal Bistro, Toronto here's the powerful stride pianist Ralph Sutton collaborating with Jim Galloway on soprano sax and Don Vickery on drums from three nights on January 15-17, 1997. While Sutton worked with Jack Teagarden, Bob Scobey and The World's Greatest Jazz Band he was predominantly on his own throughout his long career. Originally from Scotland Galloway emigrated to Canada in the mid-60s, became a fixture on the Toronto jazz scene and appears on many Sackville albums. Ten selections include "Blue Skies", "Baby Won't You Please Come Home", "Poor Butterfly", "If Dreams Come True", "She's Funny That Way" and more. CD: $16.99

Sackville All Stars A Tribute to Louis Armstrong

Sackville 3042

"The musicianship of Jim Galloway, Ralph Sutton, Milt Hinton and Gus Johnson during these 1988 sessions is a joy throughout... although they chose tunes affiliated with Armstrong, they avoided many of the obvious choices, and included material from different periods throughout his long career. Galloway, who is mostly heard on soprano sax, shines in less commonly recorded compositions such as "Song of the Islands" and "You Rascal You"... Sutton easily switches between utilizing a very light touch and powering the band with his style of driving stride piano that can be mistaken for no one else's... Milt Hinton was one of the first call bassists for decades for many reasons, his thoughtful accompaniment always sounded fresh and his solos are a joy. Gus Johnson, a very dependable drummer, provides just the right touch on every track." ★★★★★ -Ken Dryden, allmusic. CD: $16.99

Andy Brown Quartet Direct Call

Delmark DE 5023

Andy Brown's previous album, Soloist (Delmark 5019), received outstanding reviews in JazzTimes, Jazziz, Vintage Guitar and in Down Beat where Scott Yanow described Andy as "a fixture on the Chicago jazz scene since 2003 ... a superior mainstream guitarist". Direct Call features a rarity in jazz today - a working band. Several years of performing weekly at Andy's Jazz Club has given this quartet a cohesive and tight-knit sound that can only be gained through countless gigs together. With Jeremy Kahn, piano, Joe Policastro, bass and Phil Gratteau, drums, the album features an eclectic mix of standards, Brazilian music and jazz compositions. CD: $15.99

BOB KOESTER MOVES STORE TO NEW LOCATION

I sold the Jazz Record Mart inventory and name last February because the near-loop rents were exorbitant.

After 63 plus years in the record business, I'm too stubborn to quit. People keep offering me wonderful record collections so I've gradually stocked-up the front reception-area of Delmark Records with every kind of blues and jazz 78's, 45's, LP's and CD's. Plus some show albums, classical, pop, etc. have also also come in. As it turns out we've built a large, well-rounded inventory. We've been surprised how many of our old customers have found us from around the US and countries across the globe. Great to see familiar faces!!

So to accommodate the ever-expanding stock, we've opened BOB'S BLUES & JAZZ MART at 3419 West Irving Park Road, six blocks east of Pulaski and west (a block and a half) from Kimball Ave., not too far west of the brown line. Lots of street parking is available in front of the store.

We're open Monday thru Saturday from 10 AM to 6 PM and, of course, by mail.

- Bob Koester

"The great Milton Campbell always renders the stylistic dividing line between blues and soul irrelevant. Performing for 2,000 Indiana jailbirds at the beginning of 1983, he acts out song lyrics with tremendously believable emotion, using his steel-sturdy, low singing voice to plead for fair play and happiness in the midst of adversity."
