1st.—Burn in your kitchen fires daily, all animal and vegetable refuse, such as parings of fruits and vegetables, scraps left on plates—put them in the stove when your cooking is finished, there will be no bad smell, and they will keep your fire alight.

2nd.—Cut up small, all ends of mutton chops, pieces of suet or fat, and boil them in a saucepan of water till all the water has evaporated—strain this fat—you can use it instead of butter in cooking.

3rd.—Boil down all bones (except those left on plates), and when the water is cold, take off the fat; add vegetables, rice, lentils, &c., and this will make good soup. If you have a gas stove only, burn all refuse daily in your copper fire, or in a little enclosure in your yard, made out of a few bricks, or keep a large cake tin for scraps, and place daily in the oven. Pour off all melted fat into a kerosene tin, and get a man to call from the soap works and exchange it for soap.

4th.—If you have fowls, keep all scraps for them in a covered tin and give them the scraps on an old tray, so that all they cannot eat may be covered up again till next time, leaving no food about for Rats.

5th.—Keep your dust box free from bad smells and food for Rats, let it contain if possible only clean ashes. Remember! Chloride of Lime and Tar will also help to keep Rats away.

6th.—In trains, trams, omnibuses, and in your own homes, open windows, pull up blinds; air and sunshine will protect you from Plague Germs.

Queensland Women's Electoral League,

No. 3, First Floor, Commercial Union Chambers,

MISS M. A. OGG,

Secretary.

EAGLE STREET, BRISBANE,

Opposite Wharf Street.

TO THE WOMEN OF QUEENSLAND.

This League has been formed, in view of the part women are called upon to take in connection with the approaching Federal Elections, by the Exercise of their right to vote.

Its object is, mutual education in regard to the principles on which candidates should be selected, and the manner in which votes should be recorded.

The League was formed at a public meeting convened by the Mayoress of Brisbane, and is meant to include all the women of Queensland, without any distinction of creed, class, or occupation.

It is believed that the women's vote will exert a powerful influence for good, not only in excluding persons of undesirable character from a share in the Government of the country, but also in raising the standard of public and national life.

To obtain these desirable results, and obviate the possible waste of voting power, it is necessary there should be the most thorough organisation of the women's vote, and a branch of the League should immediately be formed in each State Electorate.

The Council of this League feel that, in view of the intense importance of the questions at
