October 2012

I am proud to present the GPO's FY2013-2017 Strategic Plan. This plan provides the blueprint for how GPO will continue to achieve its mission of Keeping America Informed with an emphasis on being Official, Digital, and Secure. GPO is the official link between the Government and the public.

During a time in which information is increasingly created, disseminated, and stored electronically, GPO will continue to leverage its historical strengths to sustain and advance openness in Government. As the information needs of Congress, Federal agencies, and the public have changed, GPO has embraced technological innovations to meet those needs as efficiently and economically as possible. We will continue to adapt to and overcome these challenges as we transform ourselves into the Official, Digital Information Platform for the Federal Government and Provider of Secure Credentials. The public trusts that information published by GPO is the official word of the Government. GPO uses the latest technologies to make information available in digital formats. Federal agencies seek GPO's expertise and services for their secure credential needs.

GPO's program to reduce costs while expanding critically important information services has resulted in real and measurable benefits. As a result of our FY13 Strategic Planning Meeting, held in early October, management re-affirmed its commitment to the following strategic goals which constitute our continued commitment to provide the best possible service to our customers.

Mission Statement

Keeping America Informed as the Official, Digital, and Secure source for producing, protecting, preserving, and distributing the official publications and information products of the Federal Government.

Vision

Continue to Transform Ourselves into a Digital Information Platform and Provider of Secure Credentials.

About GPO

Established in 1861, GPO's mission can be traced to the requirement in Article I of the Constitution that Congress keep a journal of its proceedings and from time to time publish the same. GPO's inplant production and printing procurement operations produce the official publications of Congress, the White House, and Federal agencies. GPO's information dissemination programs provide public access to the official publications and information of the Government in both digital and printed formats through an official Web site (www.fdsys.gov), a partnership with Federal depository libraries nationwide, and both online and bookstore sales. Total GPO employment today is approximately 1,900.

Congressional printing and information services are the primary function of GPO's inplant facility in Washington, DC. In addition to the Congressional Record containing the daily proceedings of Congress, GPO produces bills, hearings, reports, and other legislative documents, in digital and print formats, as required by the Senate and House of Representatives and their committees. GPO's inplant facility also produces the daily Federal Register and Code of Federal Regulations, and the annual Budget of the U.S. Government, as well as U.S. passports and other secure Federal credentials. GPO has an additional facility in Mississippi for passport production.

GPO provides centralized operations for the procurement of information products for the entire Government, purchasing approximately $400 million annually from private sector vendors nationwide for Federal agency customers. About 75% of all the products ordered annually from GPO (other than passports and secure credentials) are procured from the private sector, including Social Security cards, census and tax forms, and Medicaid and Medicare materials. GPO's procurement program provides great economic opportunity for the private sector. The majority of the firms GPO deals with are small businesses of 20 employees or less. The total number of contractors registered to do business with GPO is approximately 16,000.

GPO's primary information dissemination program involves a partnership with 1,200 Federal depository libraries nationwide, or about three (3) per congressional district. Today, the partnership is predominantly electronic, but tangible formats are distributed where online equivalents are not available. GPO's Federal Digital System (FDSys) Web site provides access to approximately 680,000 documents online, with more than 13 million documents downloaded every month. GPO also provides for public sale of Government publications via its traditional and online bookstores, and offers eBooks through partnerships with multiple vendors, and has recently introduced a variety of mobile apps of key Federal documents.

GPO operates on a revolving fund basis, like a business. Only 6% of GPO's funding comes from direct appropriation to cover the cost of congressional work and the depository library program and supporting distribution programs. All other revenues to GPO are reimbursements from agencies for work performed or sales of publications to the public. For more information, please visit www.gpo.gov. Core Values

GPO's core values define our character. These values transcend product and market cycles, management trends, technological change, and individual leaders. Over the years, GPO has developed new product lines, employed new strategies, reengineered processes, and significantly restructured the organization yet the core values have remained intact.

Commitment

GPO has had the privilege of Keeping America Informed for over 150 years. It continues that long tradition by providing an uncompromised dedication to authentic, fast, and reliable service.

Customer Service

GPO has a customer-centric approach and has agency-wide procedures, policies, and activities in place to ensure we are meeting customers' needs and exceeding their expectations.

Dependability

GPO is a trusted source of Federal information and works to deliver quality goods and services on time.

Diversity

GPO is dedicated to diversity in every aspect of the business. Our commitment to diversity helps serve customers better and provides a positive work environment for employees. GPO is committed to promoting and supporting an inclusive environment that provides to all employees the chance to work to their full potential.

Integrity

GPO's employees believe that honesty and the highest ethics form the cornerstone of the organization and create an environment of trust.

Teamwork

GPO employees treat one another with dignity and respect and communicate openly. GPO's environment fosters collaboration and innovation while maintaining individual accountability. The agency partners with the Government and the private sector to provide the best value to customers.

Situational Analysis

GPO continues to transform itself into a digital information platform and provider of secure credentials in an environment of constantly changing technology and fiscal constraints. GPO's customers are involved in the digital world and understand technological change. It is important that GPO fosters an environment that embraces change and innovation which leads to new products and services, new methods, and new ways of thinking.

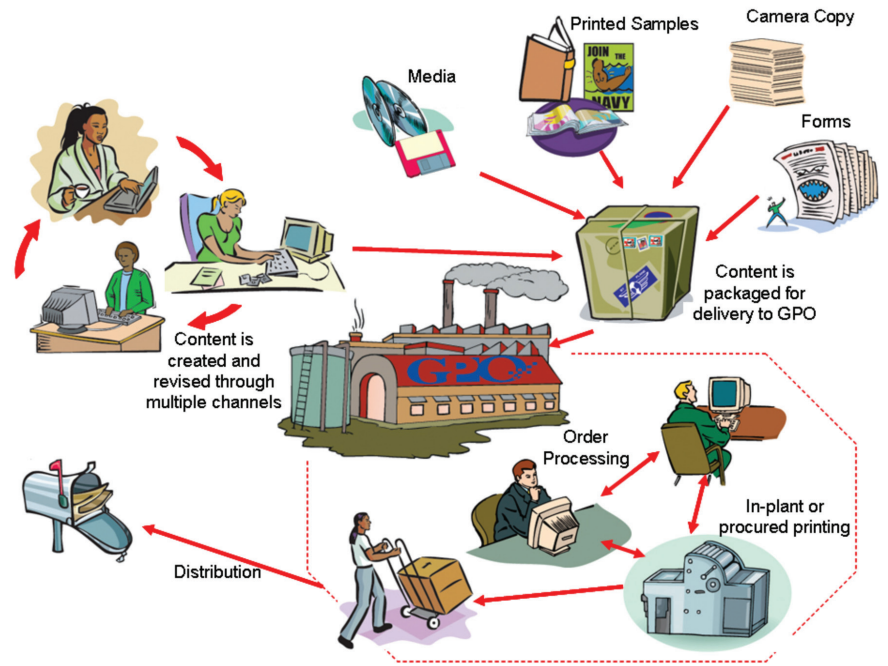

For much of GPO's history, the mission of Keeping America Informed was accomplished through the production of conventional ink-on-paper. GPO would receive content in multiple formats from multiple channels, print or procure the work, and deliver it to customers in a timely and cost-effective manner. This process continues today, but the demand for printed publications has declined while there has been exponential growth in digital requirements. GPO has changed to anticipate and accommodate those requirements.

Today, we estimate that approximately 97% of all Federal Government documents are born digital. Many of these documents are published to the Web and not printed.

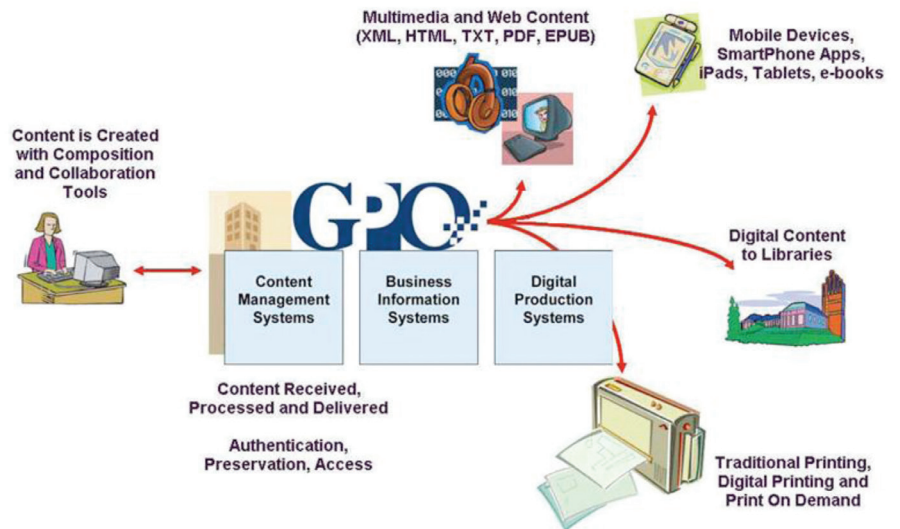

As a result, the content received from Congress and Federal agencies needs to be managed through a life cycle process that supports the primary requirement to make the digital version of publications permanently available online, and to print only when required or otherwise necessary.

Today, GPO is transforming its business model to a content-centric model, focusing on managing content for customer and public use today and tomorrow. GPO uses its extensive experience and expertise with digital systems to provide both permanent public access to Government information in a variety of formats and the most efficient and effective means for printing when required, all within a secure setting that is responsive to its customers' needs.
