

Iraq Is A Graveyard For America

Before we ask who's being wounded and killed<sup>1</sup> and who's profiting<sup>2</sup> in the war on terrorism, our first question should be—does the U.S. government have any strategy for how to win this war in the first place?

Do they really think it's possible to hunt down every single terrorist, occupy every last rogue nation, suppress every uprising without provoking even more resentment and resistance?

Or is that part of the strategy, to create more and more terrorists in the name of liberation, to keep those of us who will die in future attacks running blindly for protection to the leaders who put us in harm's way?

<sup>1</sup> Over 3,000 U.S. soldiers since the war began—none of them from the Bush, Cheney, Kerry, or Rumsfeld families; and over 20,000 Iraqis, many of them civilians

<sup>2</sup> $4,000,000,000 to Halliburton, $6,000 each to the families of the U.S. dead

www.crimethinc.com | www.infoshop.org

THERE ARE BETTER WAYS TO LEAVE IRAQ