

Form GATT

Read these instructions before completing this form.
Make sure all applicable spaces have been filled in before you return this form.

BASIC INFORMATION

Form GATT is for registration of a copyright claim in a work in which U.S. copyright was restored under the 1994 Uruguay Round Agreements Act (URAA). You can use this form to register a single work.

Restoration of Copyright

To be eligible for copyright restoration under the URAA, a work must meet all the following requirements:

- 1 The work is not in the public domain in its source country through expiration of the term of protection.
- 2 The work is in the public domain in the United States because of
 - a noncompliance with U.S. copyright formalities;
 - b lack of subject matter protection in the case of sound recordings fixed before February 15, 1972; or
 - c lack of national eligibility.
- 3 The work has at least one author (or rightholder in the case of sound recordings) who was, at the time the work was created, a national or domiciliary of an eligible country.
- 4 If published, the work was first published in an eligible country and was not published in the United States during the 30-day period following publication in the eligible country.

Note: Restoration of U.S. copyright for architectural works is available only to architectural works published or constructed on or after December 1, 1990.

Definitions

Eligible country: A nation other than the United States that is a member of the Berne Convention, a member of the World Trade Organization, or subject to a presidential proclamation restoring the U.S. copyright to works of that nation on the basis of reciprocal treatment.

Source country: For an unpublished work, the source country is the eligible country of which the author is a national or domiciliary. If a restored work has more than one author, the source country is the country of which the majority of foreign authors are nationals or domiciliaries. If the majority of authors are not foreign, the source country is the nation other than the United States that has the most significant contacts with the work.

For a published work, the source country is the eligible country in which the work was first published. If the restored work was published simultaneously in two or more eligible countries, the source country is the eligible country that has the most significant contacts with the work.

Owner of U.S. copyright: A claim in a restored work can be registered only in the name of the owner(s) of the U.S. copyright, that is, in the name of the owner(s) of all U.S. rights in that work. A licensee or other owner of only certain exclusive rights in a work is not permitted to register a claim in a restored work in his or her name.

Fee

Copyright Office fees are subject to change. For current fees, check the Copyright Office website at www.copyright.gov, write the Copyright Office, or call (202) 707-3000 or 1-877-476-0778 (toll free).

Fees can be paid by check, money order, or bank draft payable to the Register of Copyrights. Postal money orders and international money orders that are negotiable only at a post office are not acceptable.

The Copyright Office also accepts American Express, Visa, and MasterCard for filings under the URAA. Debit cards are not accepted.

To charge a filing fee on a credit card, include in a separate letter the type of card, the name of the individual or firm as it appears on the card, the account number, the expiration date, the total amount due, and the signature of the card holder authorizing the Office to charge the fee to the account. Do not give credit card information anywhere on the application form itself.

Fees can also be paid by deposit account, whereby applicants deposit money in advance for use in paying copyright fees. For details, see Circular 5, How to Open and Maintain a Deposit Account in the Copyright Office.
