

Can't Jail the Spirit

Opening Reception
Monday, May 14, 2007
6 to 10 p.m.

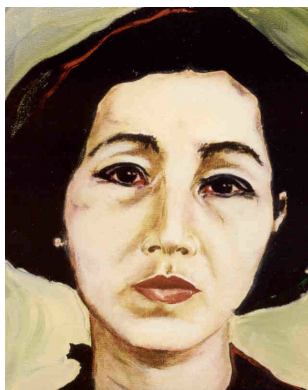

Art by Political Prisoner Tom Manning

at The Brecht Forum

451 West Street (West Side Highway, between Bank & Bethune Streets)

Can't Jail the Spirit: Art by Political Prisoner Tom Manning exhibits Manning's paintings of political prisoners, freedom fighters, the earth and people struggling against oppression. Alongside the paintings is a media collage documenting radical struggles Tom Manning was connected with from anti-prison work in Portland, Maine to actions he took against the US government's role in the apartheid regime in South Africa and genocide in Central America. For his actions, Tom Manning became a political prisoner and has taught himself to paint inside the prison walls. Tom's paintings transcend concrete and razor wire, and show that they still can't jail the spirit!

Friends & Comrades:

Susan Rosenberg
Luis Rosa
Atty. Bob Boyle
& Other Comrades
to be announced

Interview with Tom Manning

For more information, call the Brecht Forum at (212) 242-4201 or NYC Jericho at (718) 853-0893

Sponsored by New York City Jericho

Paintings donated by the Can't Jail the Spirit Portland Victory Gardens Project

A, C, E or L to 14th Street & 8th Ave, walk down 8th Ave. to Bethune, turn right, walk west to the river, turn left. 1, 2, 3 or 9 to 14th Street & 7th Ave, get off at south end of station, walk west on 12th Street to 8th Ave, left to Bethune, turn right, walk west to the river, turn left. PATH Train to Christopher Street, north on Greenwich St to Bank Street, left to the river.