

Have you considered making a bequest to Green Left?

Green Left Weekly's continued existence depends on the generous support of those who believe in it and appreciate the indispensable role it plays in progressive politics. Each year, it is only the generous donations and tireless fundraising efforts of our supporters that enable the paper to cover the gap between its operating expenses and the income it receives from sales and subscriptions.

Thank you for all the support you have given this project so far.

However, there is another way you can help make sure the Green Left Weekly project continues. An independent incorporated body, Green Left Inc, has been established to accept bequests to support the work of the paper. Through Green Left Inc. you can make a safe provision for Green Left Weekly in your Will.

You may wish to consult a solicitor when drawing up your will.

If you do put Green Left in your will we would appreciate it if you let us know. It isn't necessary, but we'd love to know about your support and to thank you for it.

There are several ways in which you can leave a bequest. It can be for: the whole estate; for a percentage of an estate; for a fixed amount; for the residue of an estate after provisions have been made for others; or for a percentage of that residue.

Some suggested wording for these options might be:

"I give to Green Left Incorporated (INC9882262) of Suite C1.07 22-36 Mountain Street, Ultimo NSW 2007 (or its successor) ..."

[choose one option of:]

- a.) "the whole of my estate" or*
- b.) "..... percent of my estate" or*
- c.) "the amount of $....." or*
- d.) "the residue of my estate" or*
- e.) "..... percent of the residue of my estate"*

"... to be used for its purposes after the payment of all my just debts, funeral and testamentary expenses and all duties, taxes and charges payable on my Estate. The receipt of this bequest by any authorised officer of Green Left Incorporated (or its successor) shall form valid discharge to my executor."
