

ward, and shall not be... AN ABOLITIONIST.

Course of the Emancipator. NEW-HAVEN, Ct. March 2, 1840.

Dear Mr. Garrison: I received your kind letter of the 26th inst. in relation to the African prisoners in this city, a communication to the Liberator, in answer to one of your articles...

I inquired of myself, why my article was excluded from the Emancipator. The most natural reply seemed to be, that it was not sufficiently well written.

Leaving this therefore as a mere matter of individual opinion, in no way essential to a practical determination of the main point, I have not deemed it worth my while to attempt to prove the point...

Where, then, is situated the question of abolition policy, which is to be decided in the Emancipator, and it should be remembered, is the side in opposition to the established doctrines of the Society...

It is a Levitt's free and generous bearing, 'were the words of Whittier, and all admired the aptness of the metaphor.

Would it not be well to inquire, through the Liberator, whether the Committee on New York have formally approved the articles mentioned by the editor of the Emancipator?

Forwarded the communication I have mentioned, without copying, retaining a sketch of the argument, so that I cannot give it to your readers.

I wonder, that you should so state the question at issue between those who support the formation of an abolition political party.

It is not a correct statement of the question upon which I am one of the opponents of that measure, and which will make its abolition their first object...

Why suppose a course that will take us down from our religious bearings in the eyes of the community... The Liberator may give our little aid through the press, in the prayer of Yours, &c.

The following communication from Mr. Child is a specimen of his excellent mind. To the Members of the Boston Female Anti-Slavery Society.

At the time of our Quarterly meeting approaches, I feel more and more how vital is the duty of our Society to avoid a recurrence of such disagreeable, mortifying, and discreditable collisions.

In the first place, the minority are dissatisfied, because they do not see the present Board of Officers as being officers of equal talents.

Seventeen is a large mistake to make, unless it were by a child just beginning to learn to count. I feel more and more how vital is the duty of our Society to avoid a recurrence of such disagreeable, mortifying, and discreditable collisions.

Do you ask why we voted against the old Board? I address to you, friends of the New Organization, and I would like to have the influence and funds of the Boston Female Society go to support the new organization.

My own opinion is, that the new organization is destructive to the vital interests of the anti-slavery cause. They are convinced that the new organization is destructive to the vital interests of the anti-slavery cause.

Do you ask whether the Board, or a majority of the members, have a right to the friends of the Society? They have, and for my right hand, I would not conceal, or suppress the vote of any person to that effect.

We did not object to the reading of the letter from our sister in Philadelphia, because we were deficient in affectionate respect for them, or wished to make trouble in the meeting.

The minutes, which declare the old Board to have been re-elected, are proved untrue by a weight of evidence, that I cannot conceive how any honest candid mind can vote to accept them.

The Emancipator. Within the last few weeks, the course of the Emancipator has been extremely reprehensible, and openly and avowedly hostile to the anti-slavery organization.

We are sorry to find that the Emancipator is not only a hostile, but a malicious and unscrupulous organ. It is a shame that a paper which professes to be an organ of the anti-slavery cause should be so grossly and so wantonly abused.

Beet Sugar.

The invaluable work of our corresponding follow-up, DAVID LEE CHILD, on the Cultivation of the Beet and the Manufacture of Beet Sugar, has been very favorably noticed by the newspaper press.

It is a remarkable fact, that the introduction of the beet root into France, and the subsequent success of its cultivation, is just about as much as the emancipation of the slaves has in the British West India Colonies.

REMARKABLE CONVERSION.

The Rev. William H. Briabane, D.D., lately a slaveholder in South Carolina, and the editor of a religious newspaper in Charleston, in 1833, who zealously defended the slave-trade, and now settled in Cincinnati, has openly avowed his conversion.

Right and Wrong in the Slave Trade.

A new and cheap edition of this interesting work has just been printed, in order to meet the demand for it.
