

NEIGHBORHOOD ALERT:

Neo-Nazi Leader Operating from Your Area

John Michael Estes

Jennette Bayly Estes

Meet John Michael Estes, who lives at 3247 North Fulton Avenue in Hapeville, GA with his wife Jennette Bayly Estes.

John Michael Estes is a fanatical neo-Nazi who organizes with Ku Klux Klan leaders and celebrates white supremacist terrorism. Estes was the main organizer of the white supremacist rally at Stone Mountain Park in April 2016. He is now planning another rally with his Klan pals early this February. Estes' wife Jenny is also a white supremacist who supports his organizing.

Some Facts about John Michael Estes and the Neo-Nazi Movement

- Estes was radicalized by ordering books from the notorious Aryan Nations while in prison.
- One of Estes' key political partners is Greg Calhoun, who is the Grand Dragon (state leader) for the International Keystone Knights of the KKK.
- Estes also is also close with members of the Hammerskins, a bonehead (racist "skinhead") gang responsible for thirty years of violence and intimidation. Estes promoted the 2016 "Hammerfest" gathering for this gang, which was held outside Atlanta.
- John Michael Estes is the main organizer of the upcoming white supremacist "Rock Stone Mountain II" rally, scheduled for February 2nd.
- On his "Rock Stone Mountain" Facebook page, Estes celebrates a white supremacist terrorist group named The Order, which committed bombings and the murder of a Jewish talk show host in the 1980s. Estes proclaims the leader of The Order to be "the perfect rebel" and paid a pilgrimage to where this leader died.

- Estes also uses the "Rock Stone Mountain" page to attack Black people using long-discredited pseudoscience: "The average I.Q. of a White individual in America is 100 while the average Black I.Q. is 85, and it is this high only because of the White genetics they have absorbed through race mixing." He makes it clear that his rally is about hate, not heritage, and that "Black Confederates" will be unwelcome.

- On social media, Estes circulated a picture glorifying sniper attacks against Jewish people. Estes believes that "There is not one vile thing, or 'symptom', that has infested this country that cannot be traced back to a Jewish origin."

Warn your friends and neighbors about the race war organizers in your area. Keep each other safe. Please contact us if you have further information on Estes or other white supremacists.
