

WHAT IS CICD?

- CICD stands for the Congress for International Co-operation & Disarmament.
- CICD was founded in 1959, and has been active in campaigns against the Vietnam War, conscription, French nuclear tests, "ban the bomb", and against the Indonesian invasion of the Democratic Republic of East Timor.
- CICD has a membership of 525-550 people with over twenty organizations affiliated including over 15 trade unions.
- CICD is presently actively involved in the campaign against the mining and export of Australia's uranium, and against the establishment of the United States OMEGA military base in Gippsland.
- CICD believes that Australia should adopt an independent, non-aligned foreign policy and not be a member of ANZUS pact.
- CICD believes that ending the arms race is the most urgent task facing the world's people. We believe that the arms race diverts vital resources from useful to destructive purposes.
- CICD is organizing an Australian People's Disarmament Conference on April 21-23 in Melbourne. International and national speakers will participate in discussions on the nature of the arms race; its effect on unemployment and inflation; foreign military bases; uranium; zones of peace, etc.
- CICD needs your support. Membership costs $10 ($3 for full-time students, welfare recipients) and entitles you to a regular newsletter and participation in members meetings etc.
