Thank you for participating in Left Forum 2016. The conference has steadily grown over the years. It has been transformed by a myriad of political perspectives, and the influence of thousands of participants from six continents. We are proud of this year's gathering, humbled by the diversity of voices included, and honored that you can join us. The Left Forum Board of Directors would like to express our deep appreciation to John Jay College of Criminal Justice, particularly President Jeremy Travis, Jeff Brown, Cheryl D'Antonio, and so many people in the John Jay community who have been instrumental to bringing this conference to fruition. We are pleased to have our annual conference once again at a CUNY institution—as it was, and also remains our roots. And we are all the more pleased that we are at an institution that, by definition, “educates for justice.” We also want to express our abiding appreciation to the hundreds of volunteers who help before, during, and after the event to make this weekend possible.

This program guide includes the full conference schedule, and will help you navigate through the 400 panels, workshops, and events that are happening this weekend. Please look through it carefully. The accompanying map should help you find your panels and get you there on time, but feel free to ask a staff member or volunteer for assistance. This year we are devoting several rooms to specific panel topics. Signs will be posted in the room areas as to these topics. This will enable anyone interested in similar issues and activism to more easily network and develop familiarity with people and issues engaged within a common area of interest. We also heartily invite you to participate in the Left

Forum Exhibition, held in the First Floor Commons, the Hallway, the Second Floor Overlook, the Café, and the registration entry areas of the conference center.

The Exhibition, which includes book publishers, publications, and movement organizers, is one of several meeting and networking spaces for the conference. With so much happening at once, we ask that you help us keep things running smoothly. Please keep your conference badge/necklace visible. If you lose your badge/necklace, you will have to purchase another one. Additionally, we ask you not to overcrowd the rooms; anyone who cannot find a seat is kindly requested to select another panel to attend. Please note that the plenary sessions and all stand-alone events operate on a first come, first serve basis (for all ticketed plenary sessions, one ticket will be handed out per person at the registration desks, starting on the morning of the evening's plenary session). Please also note that two cafes will be open, on Saturday and Sunday afternoon through early evening, starting at 1:30. They are located on the first floor near the exhibit tables and on the lower lobby level near the registration tables. Finally, we encourage you to take the opportunity to share and discuss ideas with each other, and take advantage of the rare occasion for such rich public debate. We organize the Left Forum with the intention of opening an arena for dialogue on the most pressing matters of our world, with an ardent belief that this will help to change it. To this end, we thank you once again for your participation, and look forward to seeing you in the future.

In Solidarity,
The Board of Directors
and Staff of Left Forum

RAGE, REBELLION, REVOLUTION

ORGANIZING OUR POWER

Today's left generates an increasingly bold and resonant criticism of contemporary capitalism and the severely compromised everyday life that it produces. From Occupy Wall Street to Black Lives Matter and the Fight for $15; from escalating climate justice and gender freedom demands and the movement against mass incarceration to the massive national support for Bernie — not despite but because he wears the socialist label: left critique is going big. Something profound is shaking.

The fuel for radical social transformation is all around us. From the streets and from offices; from campuses, factories, and stores, we see a growing rage against the system coming from those left behind and left out. People have had it. But we know too well that rage can easily feed the dangers of right wing populism, fascism, militarism, and gun violence in the U.S. and around the world.

Rebellion, too, stalks the institutions that perpetuate a ruthless and violent system. Rebellion is inevitable when people live in a dehumanizing and contradictory society. But rebellion can fuel the right as well as the left — from “Know-Nothing” style populism to positive reforms like higher wages, and from movements to end the racist dimensions - and transform the institutional purposes - of policing in our country, all the way up to a revolutionary alternative. The future depends on what we envision and build today, and on how we ride this wave.

We know that we can do better than capitalism and its state violence and endless bullshit. We reject the corporate dominance that corrupts our politics while delivering depressions, unemployment, and austerity. Folks all around the world share our disgust at the grotesque inequalities of today's corporate system: its discriminations against and oppressions of vast populations, and its destruction of our environment. They sense that there are better alternatives. At Left Forum, we come together to imagine and hash out these alternatives, and to organize our power to make them real.

There is a lot to build on, and a lot to build.

RADICALLY REFRAMING UNITED STATES HISTORY

“The most important US history book you will read in your lifetime. . . . Spoiler alert: the colonial era is still here, and so are the Indians.” —ROBIN D. G. KELLEY

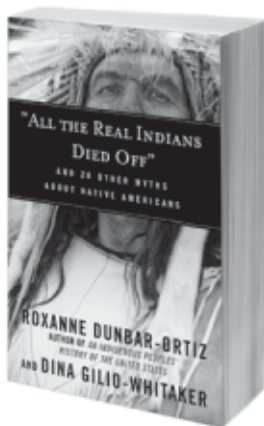

“Justice-seekers everywhere will celebrate Dunbar-Ortiz’s unflinching commitment to truth—a truth that places settler-colonialism and genocide exactly where they belong: as foundational to the existence of the United States.” —WAZIYATAWIN, PHD, activist and author of For Indigenous Minds Only

“A must-read for anyone interested in the truth behind this nation’s founding.” —VERONICA E. VELARDE TILLER, PHD, Jicarilla Apache author, historian, and publisher of Tiller’s Guide to Indian Country

“Pulls up the paving stones and lays bare the deep history of the United States, from the corn to the reservations. . . . A sobering look at a grave history.” —VIJAY PRASHAD, author of The Poorer Nations

ON SALE OCTOBER 4, 2016

“All the Real Indians Died Off” unpacks the twenty-one most common myths and misconceptions about Native Americans including:

- Indians were savage and warlike
- The United States did not have a policy of genocide
- US presidents were benevolent or at least fair-minded
- Most Indians are on government welfare
- Indians are naturally predisposed to alcohol

SOCIAL STRUCTURES OF DIRECT DEMOCRACY

ON THE POLITICAL ECONOMY OF EQUALITY

By John Asimakopoulos

“A lucid and powerful analysis of the threat that inequality poses to any viable democracy while also providing a brilliant analysis of the mechanisms that make it so savage and unsustainable. [It] offers a stirring program for change at a time when democracy is under dire siege. A must read for anyone concerned about the fate of democracy ...”

—Henry Giroux, Center for Research in the Public Interest, McMaster University, Canada

“[A] significant and lasting contribution to democratic theory and political economy. The book deserves praise for its interdisciplinary breadth and critical depth.”

—Nathan Jun, Associate Professor of Philosophy, Midwestern State University, US

“Anyone with an interest in new, wonderfully alternative responses to address the current political and economic crisis should buy this book now!”

—Richard J White, Senior Lecturer Economic Geography, Sheffield Hallam University, UK

Paperback, $28

ISBN: 978-1604864920

ABOUT THE BOOK: Neoliberalism has pushed capitalism to its limits, hollowing out global economies and lives in the process, while people are left with no voice. Asimakopoulos addresses this problem with a theory-to-practice model that reconciles Marxism and anarchism with democratic theory, offering a practical vision of an egalitarian society.

WE PREPARE OUR STUDENTS TO CREATE A JUST AND SUSTAINABLE WORLD.

The Master of Science program in Environmental Policy and Sustainability Management (EPSM) is designed to turn passion for environmental change and sustainability into careers with impact.

Our students benefit from small, customized classes; a rigorous program of theory and practice; and close attention from a faculty engaged in research, scholarship, and cutting-edge professions in the heart of NYC.

For more information about the program, contact Chair Ana Baptista at baptista@newschool.edu or visit newschool.edu/epsm.

Bully Nation

How the American Establishment Creates a Bullying Society

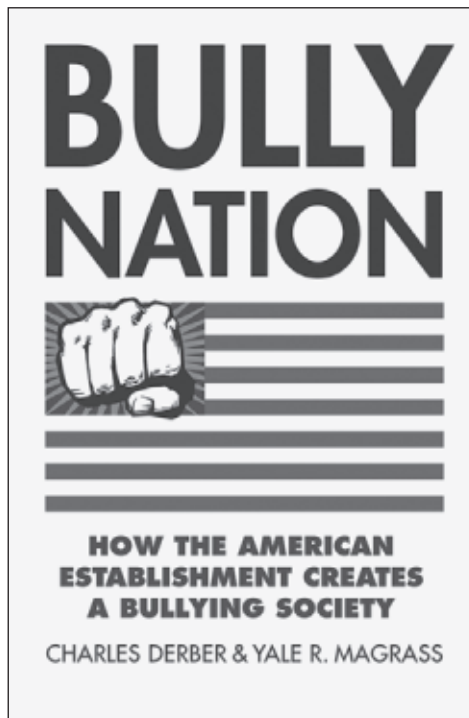

Charles Derber and Yale Magrass

“This thoughtful study expertly dissects the ‘bullying scourge’ that poisons lives and society, exposing its roots in the institutional structure of a ‘militaristic capitalist culture’ that it reflects and nurtures, while also revealing the encouraging reactions that may offer cures for the malady and the factors that engender it.”

—Noam Chomsky

“A canny and sobering look at bullying behavior and how it permeates our nation’s major institutions. When children do it, we abhor it. When our leaders do it, we usually applaud it. The authors remind us.”—Oliver Stone

“Bully Nation is the most comprehensive analysis of bullying yet published. It is a brilliant book that refuses to define bullying as merely a psychological concept. Instead, it addresses in great detail the interplay of bullying as having its roots in a range of historical, economic, political, and social conditions. This is a powerful and compelling book that addresses one of the most important social problems of our time. It should be read by all educators, parents, and anyone else interested in a world free of aggression and violence. Bully Nation deserves widespread attention.”—Henry Giroux, author of Zombie Politics and Culture in the Age of Casino Capitalism

“Clear and compelling. Its case for shifting our focus from individual schoolyard bullies to power imbalances in American society is badly needed in current discussions of bullying. A brilliant example of the sociological imagination at work.”—Daniel Geary, author of Beyond Civil Rights: The Moynihan Report and Its Legacy

WEA BOOKS PRESENTS

Richard Smith contends that there is no possible solution to our global ecological crisis within the framework of any conceivable capitalism. The only alternative to market-driven planetary collapse is to transition to a largely planned, mostly publicly-owned economy based production for need, on democratic governance and rough socio-economic equality, and on contraction and convergence between the global North and South.

“Smith brings an impressive command of economics and an engaging conversational style of writing. He explains and illustrates with devastating clarity the key mechanisms of capitalism that force it to grow unendingly ... In the final two chapters, Smith outlines ecological constraints necessary for any post-capitalist economy and describes ecosocialist alternatives to capitalism. The necessary changes are staggering ... To that end he outlines a number of attractive and attainable features of an ecosocialist society.

– David Klein director of the Climate Science Program at California State University and author of Capitalism and Climate Change

“Everyone who cares about the future of our children and grandchildren must read Smith’s book.”

– David Suzuki

“If you never read another book, read this one.”

Few people today are aware that the movement to create the state of Israel was active in the U.S. since the late 1800s, that by the 1940s it had close to $1 billion in today's dollars, and that it was opposed by the State Department, the Pentagon, intelligence agencies and numerous Christian and Jewish leaders.

American politicians were bombarded by a massive pro-Israel lobbying effort that ranged from well-funded and very public Zionist organizations to an “elitist secret society” whose members included Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis. The result was the establishment of a Jewish state in on land primarily inhabited by Muslims and Christians.

“Against Our Better Judgment is a brilliant introduction to Zionism, the Lobby, and Israel/Palestine.”

—KIM PETERSEN, co-editor of Dissident Voice

“Ms. Weir’s text is revelatory and articulate... Even those who are well read on the Israeli-Palestinian relationship have much to learn from this slender volume.”

The Theater of the Oppressed Laboratory (TOPLAB) at Left Forum

Theater of the Oppressed for Self-Organizing and Building Community: A Panel Discussion and Workshop in two back-to-back sessions

(Sunday 10 am and 12 noon room 3.80)

Facilitated by Leonie Ettinger (The Living Theatre), Janet Gerson (TOPLAB),
Lupe Family (TOPLAB), and Marie-Claire Picher (TOPLAB)

Theater of the Oppressed (TO) is a methodology and set of techniques that has its origins in the popular education movement that developed in Brazil during the 1950s and 1960s. It was founded by the late Augusto Boal (1931-2009) in the early 1970s, and since then has been used around the world by activists and organizers fighting against oppression in all its forms as a tool to help mobilize communities in struggle. The Theater of the Oppressed Laboratory (TOPLAB), founded in 1990, is the oldest group in the US offering TO facilitation training. In this panel/workshop, the presenters will teach some of the basic TO games and exercises and will talk about how they and the communities and constituencies with whom they work apply TO techniques to build solidarity, a sense of community, and a greater level of engagement with people who are actively working for social justice and transformation.

Socialism and Democracy has a venerable reputation of uniquely providing socialists and leftists of all perspectives with consistently rigorous analytic and historical essays on the most urgent questions of our time. In this period of capitalist repression and upheaval, I strongly recommend Socialism and Democracy as essential reading for all leftists who seek to unify theory and praxis on the most pressing issues that face humanity.

By

Jamala Rogers

Organizer, Author

Jamala Rogers offers badly needed insight into the mass rising against police lynchings and racist terror in her outstanding book 'Ferguson is America: Roots of Rebellion.' This work destroys any notion of the USA being in a post racial era and reaffirms that race remains the trip wire of US political life."

–Bill a Fletcher, Jr., writer/activist/media commentator

New from Haymarket Books

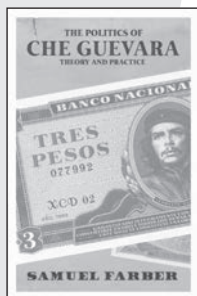

From #BlackLivesMatter to Black Liberation
Keeanga-Yamahtta Taylor

In this stirring and insightful analysis, activist and scholar Keeanga-Yamahtta Taylor surveys the historical and contemporary ravages of racism and persistence of structural inequality such as mass incarceration and Black unemployment. In this context, she argues that this new struggle against police violence holds the potential to reignite a broader push for Black liberation.

Socialism . . . Seriously
A Brief Guide to Human Liberation
Danny Katch

Danny Katch brings together the two great Marxist traditions of Karl and Groucho to provide an entertaining and insightful introduction to what the socialist tradition has to say about democracy, economics and the potential of human beings to be something more than being bomb-dropping, planet-destroying racist fools.

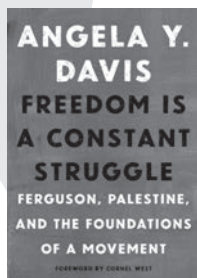

The Politics of Che Guevara
Theory and Practice
Samuel Farber

This volume examines Guevara's views on socialism, democracy, and revolution and asks what lessons can be learned by today's activists and social movements. It also analyzes Guevara's conduct as guerrilla commander and government administrator in Cuba, his political perspectives on revolutionary agency and his attempts to implement them in Cuba, Africa and Bolivia, as well as Guevara's economic views.

Capitalism's Crisis Deepens
Essays on the Global Economic Meltdown
Richard Wolff

While most mainstream commentators view the crisis that provoked the Great Recession as having passed, these essays from Richard Wolff paint a far less rosy picture. Drawing attention to the extreme downturn in most of capitalism's old centers, the unequal growth in its new centers, and the resurgence of a global speculative bubble, Wolff makes the case that the crisis should be grasped as an evolving stage in capitalism's history.

Freedom Is a Constant Struggle
Ferguson, Palestine, and the Foundations of a Movement
By Angela Y. Davis, Edited by Frank Barat,
Foreword by Dr. Cornel West

In these newly collected essays, interviews, and speeches, world-renowned activist and scholar Angela Y. Davis illuminates the connections between struggles against state violence and oppression throughout history and around the world.

China on Strike
Narratives of Workers' Resistance
Edited by Hao Ren, Eli Friedman
and Zhongjin Li

China on Strike provides an intimate and revealing window into the lives of workers organizing in some of China's most profitable factories, which supply Apple, Nike, Hewlett Packard, and other multinationals. The interviews collected here document the processes of migration, changing employment relations, worker culture, and other issues related to China's explosive growth.

Capitalism at a Dead End
 Job destruction, Overproduction and Crisis in the High-Tech Era
 By Fred Goldstein

Available at amazon.com and barnesandnoble.com. Also go to lowwagecapitalism.com for more writings by Goldstein.

Capitalism at a Dead End explains that the economic crisis, which began in August 2007, marked a turning point in the history of capitalism. The author contends that the system will not return to the normal capitalist boom-and-bust cycle. Unlike Thomas Piketty’s Capital in the 21st Century, Goldstein’s work points to socialism, not reformed capitalism, as the solution.

For decades the capitalist class has used the revolution in digital technology to increase productivity of labor at record rates. Fewer workers are needed to produce more goods and services in less time at lower wages, resulting in a race to the bottom for the working class and oppressed. Repeated crises of overproduction lead to economic contraction and persistent mass unemployment.

Goldstein uses Marx’s laws to show how productivity is strangling production and capitalism has out-grown the planet. The work includes an important chapter, “Historical materialism: robots and revolution.”
