

IMMIGRANTS WELCOME

The border is not a wall—it's a system of control.
It doesn't protect people; it pits them against each other.
It doesn't foster togetherness; it breeds resentment.
It doesn't keep out predators; it gives them badges and guns.

The border does not divide one world from another.

There is only one world, and the border is tearing it apart.
