

The Radical Americas Network and the LSE Department of International History wish to announce the following event:

‘In Conversation with George Ciccariello-Maher’ chaired by William Booth

Author of 'We Created Chavez: A People's History of the Venezuelan Revolution' (Duke University Press, 2013), 'Building the Commune: Radical Democracy in Venezuela' (Verso, 2016) and 'Decolonizing Dialectics' (Duke University Press, 2017), George Ciccariello-Maher is Assistant Professor in the Department of Politics at Drexel University. In conversation with Dr. William Booth (Radical Americas Network and LSE), Dr. Ciccariello-Maher will discuss the current state of the Bolivarian revolution in Venezuela, as well as his new book - which brings the theories of Sorel, Fanon and Dussel to a Venezuelan context - and the challenges for radical academics in the current conjuncture.

Monday 6th March at 17.00

Vera Anstey Room, LSE Old Building, Houghton Street, WC2A 2AE

This event is free, but please RSVP to radicalamericas@gmail.com so that we can monitor numbers. This event is facilitated by the Radical Americas Network and the LSE Department of International History.

W: radicalamericas.org / lse.ac.uk/internationalhistory
T: @radicalamericas / @lsehistory
E: radicalamericas@gmail.com / ih.ug.admin@lse.ac.uk