

FILE UNDER LIVING DEATH

What happens in offices has nothing to do with human needs or desires. Bureaucracy may put food on the table, but it doesn't produce it—most of what we do every day is useless. It might be necessary to maintain corporate profits, but we could do just fine without it. Let's do something practical and meaningful with our lives, like overthrow capitalism.

