ADVANTAGES OF GOLD & SILVER IN AN IRA

The Traditional Security of Gold Meets the Modern Features of an IRA

For thousands of years, gold has been a trusted form of currency, and a safe way to store and protect wealth. In today's world, investors can add a wide range of gold, silver, and other precious metals products directly into their Precious Metals IRA. It's ideal for first-time investors seeking the security of physical gold and silver, as well as experienced individuals with existing IRAs, 401(k)s, and 403(b)s.

Portfolio Diversification Benefits of Silver with the Reliability of an IRA

Like gold, silver has been used as currency consistently across history. It has always been a secure way to store and protect wealth. Today, investors can add a wide range of gold, silver and other precious metals products directly into a Precious Metals IRA. First time investors and experienced individuals, with existing IRAs, 401(k)s, 403(b)s, annuities, can enjoy the peace of mind that comes with portfolio diversification into physical Gold & Silver.

Enjoy the Security of a Tangible Asset that You Can Hold in Your Hand

IRA accounts traditionally include stocks, bonds, and other paper currency-backed assets like US Treasury Bills and Mortgage-Backed Securities (MBS). But now, investors as well as retirees can have the security of an IRA account backed by physical gold and silver. We have an extensive list of IRS approved Gold & Silver coins that can be used to fund your account.

CUSTODIANS & DEPOSITORIES

With our Precious Metals IRA accounts, you own the actual physical metal!

However, taking physical possession of the metals in a Precious Metals IRA is considered a “distribution” by the IRS. For this reason the metals are held by a secure Precious Metals Depository like Brinks for example. Your metals are kept in your individual account, with your specific assets assigned directly to you. There are many advantages to using an approved storage facility such as Brinks, or our proffered storage partner, Delaware Depository Service Company.

Depository storage is safer and more secure than home storage. As well, with depository storage you do not have to maintain separate fire and theft insurance. Most importantly, depository storage is better than a safety deposit box in the event of a run on banks forcing them to lock the doors and thus preventing access to customers safety deposit boxes.

You still enjoy the freedom to visit your gold and silver assets at any time to physically see and touch them, but you cannot take them home until you make a qualified IRA withdrawal.

DO YOU HAVE ONE OR MORE 401(K)S FROM A PREVIOUS EMPLOYER?

The average American works just over 2 years at a job before moving on. Often times when changing employers you are faced with the decision of what to do with your 401(k) or other retirement plans.

We can easily convert your 401(k), 403(b), TSP, and other forms of qualified retirement plans from a previous employer, into a Precious Metals account. One of our precious metals experts will assist you in completing all of the required paperwork, and walk you step by step through the process of securing your retirement funds with physical gold and silver. It is possible that your current employer's plan will not allow assets to be moved to a Precious Metals IRA. However, our team will assist you with any of the required forms and in just about 5 days you will enjoy the ability to control the assets that you have accumulated in your plan, without penalty, while maintaining the tax deferred status of those funds.

Depository:

We strongly recommend using Brinks or the Delaware Depository Service Company (DDSC) for the storage of your metals. Both offer facilities that are extremely secure, and are well insured. You can rest easy knowing that your physical gold and silver are safe, secure and available.

The DDSC was established in 1999 to provide a full range of specialized precious metals custody, accounting, and shipping services. Their customers include investment banks, brokerage firms, refiners, manufacturers, commodities trading houses, major retailers, and coin dealers. DDSC is approved by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission as a licensed depository of the CME Group (COMEX and NYMEX Divisions) for the storage of gold, silver, platinum, and palladium.

Custodian:

The definition of an “IRA custodian” is “a trusted financial institution responsible for safeguarding the assets of a client’s IRA.” The IRA custodian executes transactions on behalf of the client, keeps all records, and files any reports, such as account statements and tax notices as required by the custodial agreement or by law.

The IRA custodian will not provide legal or investment advice. The custodian simply facilitates the investment process according to the client’s directions, and provides the necessary IRS reporting for the clients account.

OUR MOST FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Who is eligible for a Precious Metals IRA?

Our clients under age 70 1/2, with earned income, are eligible to fund their IRA's with precious metals. If you are over age 70 1/2, we have a number of excellent options to meet your Required Minimum Distributions (RMD).

Will I incur any penalties for rolling over my old IRA/401(k) into a Precious Metals IRA?

IRA rollovers are a common, tax-free process with no fees or penalties. Our clients can decide to roll over your current IRA to a new IRA at any time and as many times as they like, as long as the funds are deposited into their new IRA account within 60 days.

In what form can I receive distributions?

Clients may receive distributions from their Precious Metals IRA in the form of physical gold & silver, depending on what metals are in their account. If a client prefers to receive cash, a First National Bullion account manager will help you convert precious metals into cash.

When will I be eligible for distributions from my Precious Metals IRA?

At the age of 59 1/2, First National Bullion IRA clients may begin receiving penalty-free distributions from their account.

How safe are my precious metals while they are in my IRA?

First National Bullion will help you deposit your gold, silver, and/or other precious metals into a secure, IRS-approved, custodial vault. The IRS requires detailed tracking of all the physical metals funding a Precious Metals IRA. All metals will be accounted for by an authorized third party, ensuring the safety of the account owner's assets.

What other types of retirement accounts can rollover to a Precious Metals IRA?

401(k) and 403(b) retirement plans for public employees and tax-exempt organizations, 457 Deferred Compensation Plans, pension plans, Thrift Savings Plans, TIAA CREF, and non-traditional IRA's, may qualify.

First National Bullion advocates the ownership of precious metals primarily as a store of value and for asset preservation. That said, some investors own precious metals for market speculation with the hope of making a profit, necessitating the following disclosures of risk: All investments involve risk. All bullion, bullion coins and collectible coins including the European, United States, Latin American gold coins and numismatic coins offered by the firm, are no exception. Prior performance cannot be used to predict future performance. Investing in these items may not be suitable for everyone. Investors should have adequate cash reserves and disposable income before considering precious metals as an investment. An investment in bullion and coins provides no interest or yield. Bullion prices must rise sufficiently during the period that these items are held in order to cover the buy/sell spread and provide a return. Precious metals, coins, and bullion are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. First National Bullion is not liable directly or indirectly for market losses incurred by individuals as a result of their purchases from First National Bullion.
